Announcement has been made that the following resolution was adopted by the Central Labor Union:

Whereas, For the past seven years the City of Boston has had for its Chief Executive, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor, who has always been a true friend of the working people; and

Resolved, That the Boston Central Labor Union unanimously indorses Mayor Maurice J. Tobin for the next Governor of Massachusetts, and will do everything possible to bring about his election to that office.

JOHN J. DELMONTE, President,
HARRY P. GRAGES, Secretary,
Central Labor Union of Boston
and Vicinity.

REPORT OF JOSEPH A. HENNESSEY, DIRECTOR OF VISUAL AND RADIO EDUCATION.

The sessions which related to FM for education stressed the desirability of providing ample and certain financial support for stations. Experience shows that lack of sufficient funds more than any other single factor impeded the development of school-owned stations. Certain university-owned stations recommended sponsorship of commercial program so that stations which were originally set up as non-profit agencies might be better able to improve their equipment inexpensively as improvements develop. More recently, the city-owned station in New York has been considering the advisability of permitting sponsorship of Mayor LaGuardia's Sunday talks. The actual expense of operating a station satisfactorily is likely to exceed estimates made by others than professional radio engineers.

RADIO CONTROL DANGER.

The panel discussion, "How Free is Radio?" showed that radio control is being centered in the networks. According to C. J. Durr of the Federal Communications Commission, about 600 of the 900 United States stations are now affiliated with the four major networks. They use 95 per cent of the nighttime broadcasting power of the entire country. Nearly one half of the revenue of these 600 stations comes to them because of network affiliation which is considered one of their most important economic assets. Moreover, almost three-fourths of the revenue of the networks comes from four national industries. All of these facts show the danger of complete commercialization of radio.

The common radio practice of permitting sponsorship of news was severely criticized. Stations were advised to present news factually and impartially, in the manner of most daily papers.

The aims and objectives of Radio Councils were critically examined. Listening Guides prepared by such groups will be unimportant if they merely aim to include the most popular programs. An effort should be made to improve the listening standards of the community. Rather generally it was felt that because radio is so powerful an educative medium, the public schools should cooperate with other community groups in promoting the radio council idea.

In addition to being an important clearing house for information relating to radio education because of the Institute, Columbus is the visual education center of Ohio. Without doubt, motion picture education has functioned more extensively in Ohio than in any other state. This expansion of visual education has been made possible because through a tax arrangement, all theater-shown motion pictures contribute to and finance the cost of the state's visual education service.

Because of the common school use of film and other projected materials throughout the state, the members of the faculty of Ohio State University have been more keenly aware of the power of visual aids than most educators. Demonstrations by C. J. Renshaw of the university showed how far the research conducted under him has advanced in the fields of seeing, identifying and reading. Many of the vice principals from the Boston schools received their training in airship recognition and related subjects from Renshaw; his illustrated lectures presented the theory and basis of his courses.

The Institute meetings were well planned and very valuable. However, the fact is that if the proportion of nationally known outstanding educators had been larger, real progress in radio education could more confidently be expected in the near future. The radio industry seems to have given convincing evidence of its willingness to cooperate with education.

RESOLUTION ON DEATH OF FORMER CITY PLANNING BOARD OFFICIAL.

The following resolution was adopted by the City Planning Board at its meeting on Friday, June 9, 1944:

Whereas, Almighty God, in His wisdom and mercy, has seen fit to remove from our midst by death our faithful and esteemed associate and friend, Frederic Harold Fay; and

Whereas, Mr. Fay, in his years of connection with the Boston City Planning Board, as a member for twenty years; as Chairman for seventeen years; and as Honorary Consultant for three years, has given generously of his time and outstanding abilities to the work of the Board; and

Whereas, His contribution to the professional and technical activities of the Board has been comparable only to his deep personal interest in and friendship for his fellow members and for the members of the staff; and

Whereas, His kindly interest in the workers as well as in the work endeared him to all with whom he came in contact, erecting as it did a monument of memory in the minds and hearts of all who had the good fortune to benefit by his professional or personal counsel; and

Whereas, Not only the City of Boston but the Boston Metropolitan District, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the New England Region have benefited by his advice and assistance in planning work over a period of a quarter of a century; therefore be it

Resolved, That in Mr. Fay's passing the City of Boston has lost a devoted public servant and a loyal public spirited citizen; and be it further

Resolved, That in his death the cause of planning, city, state and regional, has sustained a distinct loss which will be ever felt even as his memory will be ever cherished by those associated with him; and be it further

Resolved, That the Boston City Planning Board in recognition of the rare privilege which it has enjoyed for the last twenty-five years does hereby adopt these resolutions and direct that they shall be spread upon the permanent records of the meeting; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy shall be transmitted to the family as an expression of sympathy in their bereavement and as a mark of the high regard of the members of the Boston City Planning Board for their late and loved associate and friend, Frederic Harold Fay.

Upon the date indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, etc., for labor, supplies, merchandise, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the American Agricultural Chemical Company, 50 Church street, New York, for furnishing and delivering five tons of arsenate of lead to the Park Department at a price of $250 per ton.

Inasmuch as public opening of bids last year had resulted in this company being the only bidder, formal advertising was dispensed with this year and informal quotations were solicited. The only other bidder was Joseph Breck & Sons, representing Corona Chemical Company, which submitted a price of $250 per ton.

The Park Department requests immediate delivery of this material and you are respectfully urged to approve the award without undue delay. The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,150.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Very truly yours,
JOHN A. DONOGHUE, Chairman.

Boston, June 9, 1944.
Mr. John A. Donoghue, Chairman, Board of Street Commissioners.

Dear Sir,—I return herewith communication from Arthur C. Carey, chief clerk, relative to the laying out and construction of Burmah street in the Mattapan section.

The construction of this street has been delayed for many years, chiefly on account of the fact that the plans call for an extension to River street and taking of land from private owners. The owners of said land placed such a price on the land necessary for the proposed extension that it has been passed over. However, it is not absolutely necessary that this street should be extended; it could be constructed as a dead-end street and, if the money is available, I believe it should be seriously considered at this time.

Very truly yours,
WM. J. SULLIVAN, Chief Engineer.

PLEBISCITE ON EXPANSION OF EAST BOSTON AIRPORT.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately arrange for a plebiscite on the matter of expanding the East Boston airport in order that the people of East Boston district may have a chance to vote for the protection of their homes, parks, playgrounds and beaches.

Coun. COFFEY.—Mr. President, this order was introduced by me some four weeks ago and was referred to the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds. Last Monday the committee reported favorably on it, and it came back to the floor here and was passed unanimously by the members of this Body. Last Friday, on the front pages of the Boston Post, I had a paid advertisement asking the Mayor to hold a plebiscite to give the people of East Boston an opportunity to vote for the protection of their homes and their parks and playgrounds and beaches. I know a few years ago a few of the racket boys throughout the city were contemplating opening a dog track out in the Hyde Park district. At that time the Mayor saw fit to hold a plebiscite to see if the people of that district wanted the dog track. The people at the polls repudiated the fact that a dog track was coming out there and, as a result of that, the Mayor didn't grant the license for the dog track. Now, all I am doing is asking the Mayor to hold another plebiscite in East Boston because of the fact that the Mayor told me, in the presence of a member of this Body and the Clerk of Committees, that in his opinion the people of East Boston are in favor of the enlargement of the airport. Now, if he feels so confident that they are, there is no reason whatsoever why he shouldn't hold a plebiscite and give the people a chance to vote for their homes, their parks, their playgrounds and their beaches. I know of what I speak. After I ran the ad in Friday's morning Post, I sent out ten thousand circulars Friday night, so that the people of my district received those circulars on Saturday. Saturday morning I went up to camp, to fix the camp so that my mother and father can go up the latter part of the week. I was away all day Saturday, until late in the evening. Yesterday my home was flooded with letters and also telephone calls asking what part of the district is going to be taken, if their homes are going to be taken, if there is going to be dredging done, if we are going to have the muck and mud and stink and everything else in the enlargement of the airport as when it was developed some years ago. The house was flooded with people and telephone calls, and everybody that contacted me, that lived near the section to be taken by the airport, is definitely opposed to the enlargement of the airport. As I said here in my speech some seven or eight weeks ago, I had asked the Mayor at that time if he had seen the plans of the airport, and he denied it. I made the man out a liar, because he had seen the plans, and his own City Messenger had taken the plans out to his home. That statement of mine was verified by the chairman of the Planning Board. They had been taken to the Mayor's home. Last Wednesday we received a letter from the Governor's office notifying all members of the City Council and other pressure groups, including the press and other office holders from the Executive Council and others who are interested, such as the aviation clique and Joe Casey, who is counsel for one or two new air lines, and others, to take an automobile ride at the expense of the state, in state-owned and city-owned automobiles, and we were to meet in front of the State House at two o'clock last Wednesday. And it says in the letter I received, and no doubt in the letter that you received: "Dear Mr. Coffey, The time has come to show on the ground the plans for the development of the Logan Airport in East Boston." That is the headline. "The time has come to show on the ground the plans for the development of the airport in East Boston." For two long years I have been asking to see those plans. I have been begging to see those plans. We held four meetings of the Committee on Public Lands in this chamber and invited representatives from the Governor's office, Herman McDonald, Public Works Commissioner, and anybody else that might be interested in the enlargement of the airport, to appear before our committee. Other than at the first meeting, nobody showed up for the final three meetings. Then, when we got in front of the State House last Wednesday at two o'clock, we were told to sit in cars 14, 15, 16 and 17, which had been set aside for the members of the Boston City Council. And before we even saw the plans, or before we could settle in that car—and there were four councilors in that car, three besides myself—there were four besides myself, and a chauffeur whom I don't know, that works for the Public Works Department, but whom one of the City Councilors does know, and called by name, before we even started on that trip, before the car even moved an inch, Police Commissioner Sullivan, the fellow that carries the torch for the Governor, came over to our car and looked in the window and said, "Coffey, you are in opposition to the airport because you are not in." Now, that statement can be verified by four members of this Council besides myself and the chauffeur whom we didn't know—at least, one of the councilors did know and the rest didn't know. That is a fine statement coming from the Police Commissioner of Boston. Before we even started on that trip, that man said, "Coffey, you are opposed to the enlargement of the airport because you are not in." For two years, two long years, I fought the expansion of the airport and I told the Mayor to his teeth some ten months ago, although I became friendly with him. I wanted to become informed from time to time as to what was going to take place regarding the airport in East Boston. That came first with me. Friendship or a pat on the back or a meal or a ride mean nothing to me in relation to the enlargement of that airport, when we were going to lose everything we have had over there in the seventy-five years that Wood Island Park has been in existence. And I told the Mayor I definitely would break with him unless I was informed what from time to time was taking place regarding the airport. Now, the first plans I saw, with the exception of some eight or nine months ago in the Public Works Department, when General Hale showed me a sketch outlining what they intended to do in East Boston,—the first plans were given to me last Wednesday, and the date of that plan said, "These plans were made up October, 1943." And still those plans were kept away from me and other members or other office holders in the district, who I say might be, but perhaps are not, interested in the airport steal. Now, to begin with, when we started in the car the chauffeur handed each and every one of us some typewritten sheets of paper, and also the plans for the development and enlargement of the airport, and it goes on to say that—

"The cars will be assembled at 1.30 p. m. along the north side of Beacon street in front of the State House facing east with a police car at the head of the column. Get into the cars as promptly as possible. Each car is numbered."

"Remember the number of your car."

"Note! If your car breaks down, pull out of the line. There are spare cars at the end of the column. One of them will pick you up."

"The column will start promptly at 2.10. The route will be Beacon, left on Tremont, Scollay square, Hanover, Cross, Sumner Tunnel, Porter street to airport."

"After passing over the Boston & Albany tracks, on the left is a view of the land which the department is acquiring for the airport expansion from the present airport to the B. & A. tracks. After passing the General Electric building on the left there is another view of this area. On the right is a city playground which the department will ask the city government to swap for an equal area of land in its rear."

"That, to begin with, is lie No. 1. No vacant land is in back of Amerena Park in East Boston. They can't give us another playground to take the place of Amerena Park, so the pressure group, to begin with, are seeking to confuse people and do anything else they might do to take this land. It is a steal, as I have told them to their teeth, and everybody knows it."

"After crossing the former location of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn Railroad there is a strip of land on both sides of Porter street belonging to the City of Boston which the department is to obtain by purchase."

"Now, who is it they are going to obtain it by purchase from? Who assured them they were going to get this land? I don't think any member of the Council here has assured them in any way they are going to take over this land. Who has assured them? They feel confident enough to put it in writing that the department is going to obtain this land, owned by the city, by purchase. Then the Mayor must have assured them. After Saltonstall leaves the State House on January 1, Mayor Tobin, thinking he is going to go in there—God forbid—must be going to go along with the expansion for these thieves—I can't call them anything else, because anybody that knows anything about construction will tell you that what we saw over there is nothing but a steal. They could have gone and taken any land between Boston and Providence or between Boston and Worcester, or any place in the state, where they could have gotten thousands of acres of land to build a real airport, without dredging the harbor and without taking down islands and homes and parks and beaches, and they could have built the finest airport in the country in six months' to a year's time, and they admit out at the airport it is going to take fully three years; and in one case General Hale—who, I think, if he takes this thing any more seriously than he has been, will end up in a feeble-minded school—they could have taken that land and made an airport instead of waiting, as General Hale says, three years to complete this thing, and in his estimation it will be some ten years before it is finally complete."

"The column will pass the Administration Building without stopping, but its position in the inner corner of the hangar area should be noted so that it can be recognized later from Governors Island."

"The column will proceed along the edge of the airport over the dike to Governors Island and over some difficult roads to the top, where the party will leave the cars and assemble as promptly as possible."

"Now, when we got there, General Hale made a statement that it was going to take some fourteen or fifteen million yards of fill to fill in the area that the dredges and so forth were digging out so that they could make the land level, and the pipes that were draining the water and so forth off the marshes. Do you recall when we were on Governors Island, and many of you were there, that General Hale said, 'At this stop we will not have time for a question and answer period, but we will at other stops.' Then I walked down the hill and asked General Hale to let me have the loud speaker, and let me tell the people assembled there, invited by the Governor, that some 70,000 people were involved in the taking of this land, and their homes and parks, and so forth. And General Hale refused to give me an opportunity to defend the people of that area. I wanted to tell the people that were present there about the 12,000 boys that we have in the service. Every one of them has lived in East Boston. Many of them are on foreign soil, in foreign countries, fighting our fight—I might say the fight of democracy—and when they come back they are going to find this Wood Island Park, the most natural and most beautiful park in the country, is gone,—a park they all grew up in, a park where they played baseball, football and tennis in the six gymnasiums, with its quarter-mile track, where they grew up to be fine specimens of manhood. And most of them are on the other side, all fighting for what? To come back and find out that the Governor and the Mayor and the aviation clique of the Chamber of Commerce and others have stepped in and taken their parks and playgrounds and beaches away from them while they were fighting for God knows what, while these people get rich at home, stealing some $50,000,000 or $60,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. And here in the City Council, although it is Boston land, we are not going to have anything to say about it, because by the typewritten sheets they gave us outside the State House, the Mayor has already agreed they can go ahead and take what they want, do as they please, and he will see, I suppose, the City Council passes it, if we have the privilege of passing anything. They will get what they want. Well, after we got in the cars at Governors Island,—

"After leaving Porter street you are now passing down along the old location of the Narrow Gauge. The land on your left will be purchased from the Boston Port Development Company. This land drains under the bridge you pass over and across the land which belongs to the City which is on your right, and out by the Park. The necessity of caring for the drainage here is obvious."

"They are going to take the McDonald land, this fellow that has owed $446,000 for twelve years and never paid one cent in taxes on that land. That is the same man that engineered the Young's Hotel steal, when the city entered into an agreement with him and made a deal and allowed him to pay a percentage on back taxes he owed, and had the property torn down and let him sell the land over there for a parking space to some syndicate from Chicago. No matter how you look at the Young's Hotel deal, McDonald & Company, who never paid any taxes on it, stepped in and made some money. Out of the check for $396,000 that McDonald received a couple of years ago he agreed to make payments to the City of Boston, and the agreement was that out of the $396,000, on May 15, 1942, he would pay $125,000 down. He made that payment. On November 9, 1942, he made another payment of $40,000 that was due October 1, so that he was over thirty days late in that payment. On August 4, 1943, he made a payment of $50,000 which should have been paid on April 1, 1943. In November of 1943 he should have paid $122,000, and instead he made a payment of $50,000, which brought the total up to $265,000, leaving him owing the city $179,000; which he has not paid. Now, I know that McDonald & Company is to sell that land to the state for $180,000. So that, to begin with, he is going to get his taxes paid for nothing on land that he owes $179,000. And on top of that, in an agreement he made with the city, with the Finance Commissioners and the Corporation Counsel and the Mayor, they agreed that any land that McDonald sold, regardless of who he sold that land to, if the figure was above $50,000 McDonald was to receive 50 per cent abatement, so McDonald will step in and get himself some $90,000, and make an extra dollar and have all his land paid for that he is owing the city for the past twelve years on. Now, the Law Department sent me a letter dated May 29, 1942, and I will just touch on some parts of it. It says: 'Copy of letter from Boston Port Development Company to City Treasurer, May 15, 1942, setting forth the undertakings of the company in addition to the payment of $125,000 in cash on said date.' And 'Copy of letter from the Finance Commission of the City of Boston to his Honor the Mayor, May 15, 1942, further explaining the settlement carried through.' 'The amount of cash paid by Boston Port Development Company on May 15, 1942, $125,000, on account of its agreed total liability at said date was the result of several months' negotiation, carried on against the background of the United States Navy land-taking, about $280,000 damages allocable to the company's land of the overdue mortgage debt of some $160,000 secured by the company's land so taken and some other land'—That, in itself, makes a total of $140,000. Mr. President, will you please ask the press to remain silent? If they don't we are going to have some hell of a good meeting. Nobody will talk in here unless I can get quiet and order. I am not such a clown or fool. I have been in office for twelve years, and they don't return me without a reason. The things I do I have a purpose for doing. The crowds flocking to my house, and the telephone ringing persistently all day prove I am right against these leeches and thieves, taking the taxpayers' money. There is nothing we can do about it, because they have control of the state in their pocket. To continue:—'and of the attachment obtained by the city upon the company's East Boston land, including that taken by the Navy, in a suit at law brought by the city to collect past due taxes. The company has undertaken to pay to the city a further $202,494.59'—that is besides the $125,000 initial payment.—'the agreed balance of taxes due through May 15, 1942, in installments during the next sixteen months. All the company's East Boston land, other than the parcels released in connection with the cash payment, will secure the due payment of this installment balance; the city having a right to foreclose its tax titles thereon, pursuant to Land Court decrees already entered, upon any default by the company in any undertaking set forth in its above-mentioned letter of May 15. The city is thus in a position to receive in full the principal amount of all taxes, Land Court costs, special assessments and committed interest due from the Company for the years 1932-1941, inclusive, and also advance payment of certain 1942 taxes. This arrangement, involving four hundred and twenty tax titles, terminates nearly ten years of litigation between the City and the Company, carried on in the Land Court and the Supreme Judicial Court. The settlement was authorized by the State Tax Commissioner and commended by the Boston Finance Commission.' It should be noted—I want to call your attention to pages 5 and 6. As I have stated previously here, the Boston Port Development Company have failed to live up to their agreement, and it says in the agreement, and I am reading what it says in the agreement: 'For the purpose of securing its undertakings set forth in this letter, and in consideration of the action taken by the City of Boston as herein described, the Company has joined in stipulations filed today in the Land Court as to each parcel shown in the 'Detail Sheets' not redeemed through the application of said payment today of $125,000; a copy of the said form of stipulation being attached hereto. In the case of any breach by the Company of any of its undertakings hereunder, continuing for a period of thirty (30) days, the City shall have the right to move for immediate entry of foreclosure decrees as to any or all then unredeemed parcels, without objection, delay, or hindrance on the part of the Company, and shall be entitled to take such other legal action as may be permitted by law.' And it says 'See attached copy of letter of Corporation Counsel referred to in clause (f) of paragraph 2,' which I read previously. 'In the event that the city shall obtain under this paragraph a decree of foreclosure of any parcel, the company upon request of the city will give to the city a confirmatory deed of the real estate intended to be included in said parcel. Very truly yours, Boston Port Development Company.' Now, the land company themselves when they got that big, fat, juicy $396,000 check from the Federal Government, agreed when they made these payments April 1, 1942, October 1, 1942, April 1, 1943, and October 1, 1943, that they would make payments of $125,000, $40,000, $40,000, and $122,000, and if they didn't make those payments on or within thirty days, they agreed in writing—and that letter comes from the Law Department with the signatures of the Mayor, the Corporation Counsel, the Finance Commissioners and the Boston Port Development Company—that if those payments were not made on time, the Boston Port Development Company would forfeit all its 442 parcels of land throughout the city and would contest the case in court. Now, they have a figure of $179,000 to live up to their agreement. The last payment should have been made in full as of October 1, 1943, and it has not been made, and the city has not taken steps to foreclose. The city, in fact, is letting them bail themselves out by, in turn, selling this land to the state, making a dollar on the deal, have their taxes paid, and, according to the statement given to me by the Law Department, over the signature of the Corporation Counsel, the land company will receive an abatement of 50 per cent on every parcel of land they sell over $50,000. So you can see what we are in for. Now, it says—

"The drainage from the Day Square region now drains into this basin, and flows out across the beach at the Park."

"The Department believes that the City has a definite responsibility to pay at least half of the cost of building a conduit to take care of this drainage, the department to pay the balance."

"Now, the state comes in and tells us we should pay one half the drainage. We, the city, should pay one half the drainage. What is the matter with the aviation clique? What is the matter with the Chamber of Commerce? They are the ones that want this airport. I don't know anybody in Boston who is so farsighted that they can see this airport is going to bring business to Boston, because, before I get through, I will prove it is not going to bring any business to Boston, and I have conclusive proof with me, and I tried to tell them over there, but I was shut off every time. You people remember when I walked down Governors Island hill to get at a microphone, and Police Commissioner Sullivan, who carries the torch for Saltonstall, said to General Hale, 'Here comes Coffey. Shut off the mike.' What the hell right has he to tell anybody to shut off the 'mike'? Who is he? Police Commissioner of one of the rottenest police forces we ever had—half the men in uniform with him were under indictment, and they walked along like generals, and he walked like the dandy he is, after being on the pay roll for God knows how long, and coming over and giving me an argument, and I am arguing for 70,000 people, and I want to be heard. They are going to sell it regardless of what we have to say. I know that, but at least let me have my say. I have the right to talk, I think. General Hale said we would have a question and answer period when we arrived at Wood Island Park. You all saw what took place. He closed himself in the car, and he had three police surrounding the car, with the doors and windows locked, and he wouldn't let me get near the car. I went over like a gentleman and begged the Governor to tell General Hale to let me talk, and he said, "You can have a chance to talk at the next session of the Legislature." What the hell does the Governor think? Does he think he has a mortgage on life? I can "have my say at the next session of the Legislature." And this after what I have said, that on St. Patrick's Day they take Rudy King over to South Boston and have him as a guest speaker. That was St. Patrick's Day, not Orangemen's Day. I think it was Orangemen that were supposed to be over there. When I went up to the State House, Bigelow, the watchdog, said to me, "We used to shut you up in the State House; too bad we can't shut you up in City Hall." And I said, "In the City Hall we have our say. Everything is honest and right, and if anything is to be corrected you always get somebody to get up and expose it, or holler like hell." I told Mr. Bigelow he held secret meetings, and he did hold secret meetings. And Mr. Hopkins, the Corporation Counsel at the time, had McDonald of the Port Development Company at those meetings, and I was told McDonald was in there with Hopkins, and Hopkins was supposed to be protecting the city's rights, and he sold us out—not because he is out of a job—and I told it to him to his teeth—that he had McDonald at those hearings behind closed doors.

"The department wishes to purchase all of this land to use for a new approach road, for hangars, freight buildings, loading platforms, etc."

I want you members to think this over. You members that saw the airport know, to begin with, that it is not a fit place for an airport. I have been saying that right along. I challenge any one of you to go over to any pilot that has ever landed or taken off at the East Boston airport, and he will verify my statement that it is not any place for an airport. It is too dangerous, because of fog. They would rather have an airport inland. And for $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 you can build the best airport in the country. They admit they are going to spend an additional $30,000,000, and you can bet, with the taking of homes, they are going to spend upwards of $80,000,000 of the taxpayers' money. How would you fellows like to have right up in back of your house, wherever you live, freight sheds, terminals, storage houses and warehouses, and the Boston and Maine setting up railroad tracks to run out behind your homes? How would you like it? I don't think you would. I don't like it, and that is why I am making this fight. I know that people are very much concerned about it. They want to know if it is a good time to get rid of their houses now, at any price. Some of those houses over there—some of the boys were amazed when they saw them—cost as high as $25,000 in this section they are taking. There are no better houses than those in the confines of the City of Boston. General Hale admitted months ago they are going to take houses on Neptune road and Prescott street. I pointed out to a group the houses they contemplated taking, and they admitted it was one of the finest sections of houses in the City of Boston. They claim they are going to replace our parks and playgrounds. They haven't got the land. They can't do it. It is impossible. Take Wood Island Park, with eight ball parks, two natural bathing beaches, a quarter-mile track, four tennis courts on one side and four on the other, and one of the finest gymnasiums in the country. They tell us they are going to replace it, and you remember I pointed out where they contemplate replacing those parks and beaches, and you know that the biggest strip of land you saw was 100 to 150 feet. So I ask you, in all fairness, how can they replace it? We haven't got the room. The only land available was taken by the Navy some two years ago. You remember when we got to Wood Island Park I was not allowed to speak. I didn't know it then but I found out later that there were others that wanted to speak.—Sawtelle from the Governor's Council wanted to speak. He is opposed; Maguire, formerly of the Finance Commission,—he wanted to speak. Others that belonged to civic organizations wanted to speak, but nobody was given the opportunity, because General Hale locked himself in his car and surrounded himself with police officers so you couldn't get near it. I hollered. I first asked the Governor in all decency, and he said No. He said, "You can talk when you are up before the Legislature." You remember what happened. You remember the road we went over, the old Narrow Gauge road. The Boston and Maine owns that. And in October, 1943, the plans were drawn up for the enlargement of the airport; the Boston and Maine received $18,000 in abatement on the taxes they owed of $36,000. You can see there is a good dollar in this. I am going to prove my statements are right, and I challenge the Governor or the Mayor or anybody else interested in this to tell me I am not right, because I have the facts in black and white from the Law Department itself, proving that this is nothing but a steal.

"We will now go to Orient Heights section. Please get in the right cars. Our route from here will be along Neptune road with a right turn on Bennington street."

You recall I showed you Bennington street where they anticipate giving us a new playground, a new beach, and I proved to you beyond doubt there is no room for either a playground or a beach or anything else that they might replace that they are going to take away from us. Then we went up Breed's Hill. It didn't do much good there. I hollered so much they immediately got in their cars and said, "Let us get home." The trip was scheduled for three hours and ten minutes. I can tell the members who were not present that the trip only lasted one hour and forty-five minutes. They got back as fast as they could when they saw that they weren't getting the best of it. They piled in their cars, and every time I got near pressure groups they ducked, and there is only one reason a man ducks another man's tongue, and that is because he is doing something wrong, and a man might tell him to his face in the presence of others, and that is something that people don't like. Of course I read the figures off here on the last order, all the tax abatements received by the Boston and Maine, a total of about $18,000 in tax abatements on some $36,000 that they owed. Now, they told us all—do you remember my going over to two high ranking Army officials and a high ranking Navy official and asking them what they were doing there? I didn't get an answer from any of the three gentlemen. All I asked was, "What are you gentlemen doing here?" And I didn't get an answer, and I said, "Of course you know that the Government is not interested in this airport, and the Government has not allocated one nickel for this airport." And last week I told them the Government allocated money for every airport in the United States with the exception of the East Boston airport. They allocated money for an airport at Lawrence, and I have good authority that this airport at East Boston will never get any transatlantic or transoceanic—whatever you call it—charter to run planes from this country to Europe. The Government is interested in an airport outside of Portland, Maine. The Government is going to invest millions of dollars on that airport, and that airport is some 200 miles nearer to Europe than the Boston airport. Well, I was not present here on February 21 when Councilor Kinsella introduced an order which read:

"Resolved, Whereas New England is today being unwittingly discriminated against in the issuance of transcontinental airline certificates; and

Whereas, There does not exist in the entire United States a situation in air transportation comparable to the of New England generally, and Boston in particular; of the five largest metropolitan areas in America—New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Los Angeles and Boston—only Boston is so isolated as to be served by only one transcontinental airline; and

Whereas, Washington, which was also served by but one transcontinental airline, has had its situation rectified by the action of the Civil Aeronautics Board so as to enjoy today the facilities of all the transcontinental airlines; and

Whereas, This situation is working to the detriment of New England's commercial and industrial development; be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston demand that the Civil Aeronautics Board grant permits to competing transcontinental airlines to bring all communities in New England up to an equal footing with all other comparable communities in the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, and to the Congressional delegation of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and to such other persons and bodies as may have the interest and authority to assure Massachusetts of its rightful place in the air world.

The question came on the adoption of the resolution."

And then Councilor Kinsella said: "I filed this resolution at the request of a gentleman very well known to every member of this body"—I want to know who—"and possibly to everyone in this chamber."—"I imagine it was Joe Casey."

"At the time I spoke to him, I believe last Thursday or Friday, he said to me, 'I am leaving tonight for Los Angeles, where I am going to confer with Howard Hughes, and he is going to give me, among others, a preview of an airplane that weighs 440,000 pounds, with eight motors for power, and so forth, which they intend to use on various lines now in operation by this company.' And he said, 'If there is the slightest interest in air traffic after the war, that is the type of traffic we will see if our facilities are developed to such an extent that they can handle the trade they expect.' We do read in the paper of plans that large interests have in developing air terminals all over the country, and we are led to believe that ocean transportation will be almost passé when this war is over. There were several major points about which the gentleman spoke and about which we have heard some talk in here, and the details are very well known to everyone."

Now, get this, this is very interesting to you gentlemen because you passed this order.

"But I would respectfully request of every member present, although it may be a little unusual, the passage of this order. The request is that the members unanimously adopt this resolution and show that they understand what the development has to do with Boston, and forward such a document to the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Washington. It can be readily understood, with approval of the Council and the Mayor, that certainly Boston, in the membership of its Council, the city fathers, is so interested as to approve of the granting of further permits, not to one or two airlines, mind you, but to all of the large competing airlines. I ask suspension of the rule and passage of the order."

We, the city fathers, passed this resolution unanimously. He was sitting here and knowing that I was not sitting here. He sticks that order in when I was not here, knowing that for two long years I fought that airport. You members sat here at four meetings in this room. You sat with me. At the first meeting we had men here. At the second, third and fourth meetings nobody showed up, and I have statements to prove that none showed up. They were afraid. Still, this man had the courage, in my absence, to introduce that order for a good friend of his, who I assume is Joe Casey, who is attorney for a new airline, for the P. W. A., coming into Boston. Where was I that day? At quarter of two I was called by the Mayor and asked to take a ride with him. He was going to talk with me about developments and improvements in my ward. And I got downstairs and went to the Mayor, and we went and sat at the Statler Hotel. He made a speech, and when he got through he did talk and, as a result of that talk, we made a date and he rode over to East Boston, and we picked out spots where he was going to give me improvements. And what I am getting at, while I was there at the Mayor's invitation, that order was sent through. He knew damned well if I was here that order would never get unanimous consent. Regardless of how you men acted on it I would have objected and spoken in opposition to it. I would have told him there were not three people in Charlestown that were ever up in an airplane, and the chances are they never would be. They are not the type of people who take airplane rides. They are the same as the people in my ward. Still, that order was put through while I was absent from this chamber. And the way it was worded you city fathers, members of the City Council, were asked to go along unanimously, stating "We want new airlines to come into East Boston airport." Well, last Thursday or last Wednesday, rather, they were very happy—that is, certain men in Boston—that a few new airlines were allowed to come into East Boston airport. They are going to be allowed to run airlines from Boston to New York, from Boston to Connecticut, from Boston to Maine, and one airline even going to run from Boston down South somewhere. But their happiness was short-lived, because, as I have stated right along, there was a piece in the Boston Post on Friday, June 16, 1944, last Friday:

"Hub Ignored in Air Route Plan. C. A. B. Proposals Fail to Include this Port.

"Disclosures that certain international air routes, suggested by the Civil Aeronautics Board, would neither originate nor terminate in Boston, served to diminish the pleasure of Boston's civic interests in the action of the board Wednesday in authorizing additional airline routes between Boston and the South and West. Henry J. Nichols, president of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, yesterday wrote L. Welch Pogue, chairman of the C. A. B., expressing his concern over the new development. The letter read:

"In the midst of our rejoicing over the recent decision of the Civil Aeronautics Board granting Boston greatly increased air service, we are disconcerted by the news story describing certain international air routes suggested by the board. It would appear that none of these routes would originate or terminate here."

There is no sense in reading further. I think that is enough. That has been my argument right along. This place is not a suitable place for an airport. Their argument is that it is 200 miles nearer Europe than any other airport in the country. All right, for the sake of argument, we will agree. Then if it is 200 miles nearer Europe than any other airport in the country, why didn't the Government step in after Pearl Harbor? Why didn't the Government take over the airport as a government airport? Why didn't the Government allocate some money to fix this up and make a first-class airport? Even after the state has started and spent some millions of dollars and got nowhere yet—they haven't even started—the $6,000,000 is almost gone and they haven't even started the new runway. The work has been going on a year. Why didn't the Government contribute some money to the East Boston airport or to the state for the enlargement of that airport? It is common-sense to say that the Government doesn't want the airport. It is in a bad location. It is in a dangerous location. It is of no value to anybody in the country, and proof of that is that the Government refuses to allocate any money for the enlargement of the East Boston airport. I don't think there is anything more I can say.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MEMORIAL TO WAR VETERANS FROM WHITE FUND.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following: Ordered, That the trustees of the George Robert White Fund be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a suitable memorial in the City of Boston for the veterans of all wars, same to be paid for out of White Fund income.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, the last order I introduced, I introduced here some months ago, was sent to the Committee on Post-War Planning. When we were out in Executive chamber on that, we had some members of the Y. D. present—that is, the former Y. D. 101st Regiment. They had sent us a letter which they admit that if they had known the circumstances before that hearing they never would have sent it. They condemned the members of the Boston City Council and the Mayor for holding secret meetings behind closed doors and spending some millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money without at least giving the veterans of all wars an opportunity to be heard. Now, before we held that meeting I sent a telegram to the Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, chairman of the White Fund Committee, Mr. Charles J. Fox, auditor, Mr. Henry J. Nichols, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Willard B. Luther, president of the Bar Association, Mr. James J. McCarthy, of the treasurer's office, and Mr. George L. Driscoll, secretary of the George Robert White Fund. I told them in that telegram the meeting was to take place the following day at two o'clock, and we respectfully invited them to "attend hearing of Post-War Planning Committee at 2 p. m. tomorrow in City Council Chambers, relative to memorial to be erected in Fens. Over forty Legion and Veteran Posts have been invited to express views at this meeting." Not one member of the George White Fund Trustees showed up,—not one member. I think, in fairness to all veterans of the wars, we ought to hold another meeting, and I am going to ask that we do. I hope we don't have another White Fund scandal. Evidently it will come to that if we don't get some member of the White Fund Trustees to come down, and they don't want to tell the veterans of the different organizations just what memorial they are going to build. If we brought this to court we could beat it. We have a right to know what they are going to spend. We have no control over funds, but we have to maintain the building after it is erected, and I think we should be told in advance because later they are going to come in for an appropriation for upkeep. We will have to appropriate moneys from time to time, this body, for the upkeep of that building. I think, in all fairness to us and the veterans of the various wars, that the Mayor and members of the White Fund Trustees should come down and explain just what they intend to spend this million dollars on and what kind of memorial it is going to be. I ask that this order be referred to the Committee on Post-War Planning.

The order was referred to the Committee on Post-War Planning.

REIMBURSEMENT OF CERTAIN PROPERTY OWNERS, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested, through the Law Department, to take immediate steps to reimburse the owners and tenants of property at 108 and 110 Paris street, East Boston, for damage sustained as a result of the collapse of the wall of the building owned by the City of Boston and used as a municipal gymnasium.

Coun. COFFEY—Last Saturday night, because of the hurricane, the side wall in the upper structure over near the roof of the East Boston Gymnasium, caved in and some hundreds of tons of bricks fell on the three-story wooden structure next to the gymnasium, completely demolishing the roof, the top floor and the second floor. It also did considerable damage to the building next door, 108 Paris street, and crushed in the roof and the top floor. I am asking that this order—of course I know suits will have to be brought by the owner and tenants of the building, but I am asking the city to take steps first, and send somebody from the Law Department over to these families and let them know they have a right to file suits, that it is no fault of theirs, and it was an act of God that these four children, three on the top floor and one child on the second floor, got out safe. It was only a miracle and nothing else that saved their lives. So I ask that his Honor the Mayor see fit to send this order along to the Law Department and they in turn immediately take some action, as these people, the tenants, are going to be without a home. The tenant at 110 is also going to be without a home. And I think the quicker the city reaches some agreement with the owners and tenants of these buildings, the better for all concerned.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LOAN OF $3,000,000 FOR STREET CONSTRUCTION.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN called up No. 2 on the calendar, under unfinished business, viz.:

2. Ordered, That under the provisions of section 5 of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936, and under the provisions of chapter 393 of the Acts of 1906, the sum of three million dollars ($3,000,000) be, and the same is hereby, appropriated, to be expended for the construction of public ways or permanent pavement, and that the City Treasurer be authorized to issue, from time to time, upon request of the Mayor, bonds or certificates of indebtedness of the city to said amount.

On June 5 the foregoing order was read once and passed, yeas 18, nays 4.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, I move that the loan order of $3,000,000 be reduced to $1,500,000.

Coun. HANLEY—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. HANLEY—In the event that the $1,500,000 is adopted, that is the first reading, and another two weeks must pass?

President KERRIGAN—That is true.

The question came on the adoption of the motion reducing the amount from $3,000,000 to $1,500,000 and the motion was defeated, yeas 2, nays 16:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase—2.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Coffey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Keenan, Kelly, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—16.

President KERRIGAN—The question now comes on giving the order a second reading, and the clerk will call the roll.

Yeas—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—16.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer—4.

Coun. TAYLOR—I move reconsideration.

Reconsideration was declared lost.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask for a roll call.

The roll was called, and reconsideration was lost, yeas 4, nays 16:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Chase, Coffey, Dwyer—4.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Feeney, Fish, Hanley, Hannon, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kerrigan, McCormack, Muchnick, Russo, Scannell, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan, Taylor—16.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN, for the Committee on Public Lands, submitted the following:

Report on message of Mayor and order (referred May 8) for release of city's rights in land on Mystic street to Salvation Army—that same ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the question came on the passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—I would like to have the Chairman explain what this is all about.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this is a piece of land in a discontinued street which the Salvation Army has requested the use of to place a swimming pool there for the use of the children of the South End.

Coun. HANLEY—Is that Ward 8, the South End?

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—In Ward 8, yes, councilor.

The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 21, nays 0.

CONFIRMATION OF APPOINTMENT.

President KERRIGAN called up, under unfinished business, No. 1 on the calendar, viz.:

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor June 12, 1944, of Herbert E. Duffill, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Shannon and Russo, and the appointment was confirmed, yeas 21, nays 0.

ERECTION OF BANDSTAND AT HEAD HOUSE, SOUTH BOSTON.

Coun. HANNON, SCANNELL and KERRIGAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Park Commissioner to erect a bandstand at the Head House in South Boston, facing the Thomas J. Fitzgerald square, in accordance with the specifications of the blueprint now on file in the Park Department.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ACCEPTANCE OF CHAPTER 369, ACTS OF 1941.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor and the City Council be requested to accept and approve chapter 369 of the Acts of 1941, extended by chapter 163 of the Acts of 1943, entitled "An Act Providing for the Acquisition by the City of Boston of the Property of the Dedham and Hyde Park Gas and Electric Light Company Located Within the said City and the Lease Thereof to the Boston Consolidated Gas Company."

Coun. FEENEY—I move this order be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

FLYING LEVEL OF PLANES.

Coun. HANNON, KEENAN, FISH, KELLY and MUCHNICK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the military authorities and the Committee on Public Safety to insure that the regulations governing the flying level of planes be observed, particularly in the Dorchester district of Boston.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, in the last few weeks, particularly in our district, there have been many planes that are flying so low they almost come into your house. I don't know what the occasion is or what the reason is, but I think it is something that should be looked into by the proper authorities before we have a catastrophe in Dorchester. Planes are now circling church spires out there, and I am beginning to get complaints that men working in defense plants can't sleep through the daytime because of the roar of the motors. We have certain laws regulating the height of planes, and I think these laws should be lived up to, regardless of who is operating the plane. If it is necessary that they fly low I think they should fly low in places where there are no three-family houses to be molested. I think a stitch in time saves nine, and it would be well to look into this thing now before some catastrophe happens.

Coun. CAREY—I ask that the order be read again.

(The order was read again.)

Coun. CAREY—If there is no objection from the Dorchester district I would like to have the Roxbury district included. It is a very fine order.

Coun. HANNON—We would be happy to accept the amendment.

The order was passed as amended under suspension of the rule.

EXTRA COMPENSATION FOR CERTAIN CUSTODIANS.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to grant proper compensation for the additional working time of the custodian of each public building in which the registration of voters is conducted. Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEANING OF BEACHES.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Park Commissioner to clean up all bathing beaches under the jurisdiction of the Park Department, and to provide for the daily removal of all glass and other debris from the beaches. Passed under suspension of the rule.

COMMITMENT OF JUVENILE OFFENDERS TO PSYCHOPATHIC HOSPITAL.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Corporation Counsel to prepare legislation for presentation to the General Court to control the growing practice of committing juvenile offenders to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation, in all but sex cases.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, this order I am presenting at this time, knowing full well that we might not have any authority upon which to act. But I believe this order might well be referred to some committee, probably the Committee on Rules, and be held there to see what action can be taken on behalf of the youngsters of the City of Boston. There is a growing tendency in this city, Mr. President, to send young fellows, juvenile offenders—and the juvenile offender in the law is a person who has not yet attained the age of seventeen—there is a growing tendency, particularly in one or two of the lower courts, to send these boys to the Psychopathic Hospital where they are apprehended for the commission of some misdemeanor. I go to court probably for as many kids as anybody in here, and I am one fellow who believes that any youngster is apt to go astray. I was no white lily when I was growing up, any more than the rest of us here, and I believe that every kid is entitled to a fair show. The last few weeks and the last few months I have had it brought to my attention five or six times that youngsters have been brought into court because they were riding in stolen automobiles, or because they were hanging around corners, or because, in another case, somebody steals money from his grandmother, and they went together to spend the "dough." And those kids were committed to the Psychopathic Hospital for observation. "Psychopathic" is a big word, but when you simmer it down and analyze it all it means is "nut house." There is supposed to be something wrong with you when you are sent over there. Now, the Psychopathic Hospital has a good purpose, and they probably get good treatment, too. The Psychopathic Hospital was never instituted, never built, to take care of juvenile offenders. These kids are merely kids who transgress the law, and they will probably later be found not guilty, and in most cases dismissed. But if they are sent over to that Psychopathic Hospital they are marked for life. Take these boys of fifteen and sixteen years of age that are committed over there for ten days. They are put in the same room with all sorts of neurotic cases, all sorts of other cases, and probably the only thing these kids did was to spend some money that some other kid stole from a relative. You and I may have done the same thing. I feel, however, the probation officers responsible for these boys going there were probably worse than the kids they have sent over there. But just imagine what happens to those boys that are sixteen or seventeen years of age. In a year or two they may be summoned up for army service or military duty, and they look on their record, and see the word "Committed to the Boston Psychopathic Hospital." What would that mean to you? What would that mean to the man inducting them into the service? It means some question of that lad's mentality, and I say it is not fair. I argued it one day with a judge and he said to me, "Well, I sent him there rather than send him to the Charles Street Jail." But they would be better off in the Charles Street Jail. The Charles Street Jail certainly entails some indignity, but it is no reflection on the character or physical ability of the person incarcerated there. But once they get that on their card, "You were committed to the Psychopathic Hospital," from then on you are a marked man. Take a fellow, even, that gets married later on in life. He will have trouble with his wife. She will check back, and she finds out this boy was in the Psychopathic Hospital. And, sure enough, she will say, "Just as I thought; he is a bit of a nut." Now, I don't think it is fair. If there is sex morality involved, possibly they should be sent there for examination, but if a kid has only committed an ordinary misdemeanor, I can't for the life of me understand why that boy's life should be marked, why his career should be blighted with the stigma that he was once committed to the Psychopathic Hospital. I heard a probation officer in one of the district courts, a fellow who is a real student of juvenile delinquency, a man who enjoys his work and tries to do a good job,—he said to me, "I had occasion the other day, Tom, to go over to the Psychopathic Hospital to see a patient there, a juvenile, and," he said, "it is disgraceful." I myself had occasion, over a matter of a couple of months ago, to go over and see two boys, fourteen and sixteen years of age, and there they were, lying there, being subjected to all sorts of tests, all sorts of indignities, being surrounded by all sorts of characters. And here is a case where they had committed the prank of slipping out of town with some fellow that had a lot of "dough" to spend, and he took that from his grandmother. Now, when we were kids, if some kid had "dough" we would go down to Nantasket Beach and enjoy that "dough." And yet, would we want to be sent to the "nut house" for it, or to the Psychopathic Hospital for it? No, I don't think so. This tendency is growing. One probation officer a month or so ago, in an article in the Traveler, said that thirty to forty per cent of juvenile offenders were mentally deficient. He might be right. I haven't the figures and can't make up the percentages, but I too have studied juvenile delinquency, and I was on a commission and we went all over the country studying offenders in juvenile delinquency, and we found out that most of these people who claim these fellows are mentally deficient, they themselves are mentally deficient. And we recommended legislation that these juveniles be kept away from doctors and the like until it was certain there was something wrong with them, mentally or morally. These should be checked. If there is an attorney in court with those kids, nine times out of ten you can protect them. They won't be sent to the Psychopathic Hospital. But if they are brought in there first without calling a lawyer, then when a lawyer finds out what is what, he is notified they are at the Psychopathic Hospital for observation, and they try to give you that soft soap that it won't do them any harm. It certainly doesn't do them any good, and I honestly believe if they took any one of us and sent us to the Psychopathic Hospital they would put us through so many tests and maneuvers over there that if you were all right when you went in, God knows what condition you would be in when you came out. Those same kids, as the councilor from East Boston has well pointed out—those kids who transgress the law, nine times out of ten, have good stuff in them. You remember when we were kids. If somebody was going to do something you had to join with them. If you didn't do it you were yellow; you were a coward. And in every group of boys there is always one or two who dominate, always one or two who are the leaders. And yet, if they get into trouble when they are sixteen or seventeen years of age, when the call for battle comes, those same kids, those same leaders drop off their clothes, put on the khaki or the blue, and go out there and fight for you and me. Those kids have "guts." Those kids have courage, and those kids, though they raise the devil around here, are the same kids that are now raising the devil with the Nazis and the Japs. Let us stop putting a scar or putting a scourge on those kids who unfortunately transgress the law and are picked up. Do you know a group of kids were arrested for standing on the corner? They can't go to a playground, because they can't play ball. And they can't stand on the corner because an officer will tell them to move. They are driving them into taverns, driving them into drinking places, driving them into trouble. It is about time we took some action as to what they are doing to our boys of fifteen, sixteen and seventeen. I don't say they are angels, but I do say this, they are no worse than we were in our day, and they are entitled to the same opportunities and the same chances. Anybody here, or anybody within hearing of my voice, would never want any boy of his to go into the Psychopathic Hospital merely because he made a slight transgression of the law. We ought to do something to stop that practice, and I hope, Mr. President, by referring this to some committee we might be able to obtain some action. At least the word will go forth that the members of the Boston City Council are in favor, certainly, of curbing juvenile delinquency, but they are also in favor of being on the level with these boys and not putting upon them the curse of the Psychopathic Hospital unless there is something off in their conduct which really tends to show they are mentally deficient.

The order was referred to the Committee on Legislative Matters.

SYMPATHY FOR McGRATH FAMILY.

Coun. RUSSO and FISH offered the following: Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Boston, in meeting assembled, expresses its most profound regret and deepest sympathy to former City Councilor John J. McGrath, Mrs. McGrath and the McGrath family, because of the untimely death of Frances McGrath, an innocent victim of an atrocious crime which has shocked the entire community, and which calls for rapid apprehension and long incarceration for all known sex offenders.

The resolution was passed by a unanimous rising vote.

CITY EMPLOYEES JOINING BLUE CROSS.

Coun. CAREY offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer immediately with the City Auditor with reference to making weekly deductions from the pay of those city employees who are desirous of joining the Blue Cross.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, I have filed that order at the request of several city employees, and I think that the request made therein is deserving of considerable attention. It might be said that this is a private matter, one the city should have no interest in, but I am informed that many of the large business houses throughout this city have made a practice of making deductions from the pay of employees each week, who desire to join the Blue Cross. We all know that it very often happens that insurance premiums or payments of premiums are allowed to lapse, and in a great many cases because the matter is entirely forgotten. I think if the city cooperates in this matter it will prove very beneficial to the city, and of course to the city employees. There is no doubt many employees of the city from time to time need some medical attention or hospitalization they cannot afford. They are not as a consequence able to do their work well under the circumstances. Then if they have the provision made for that medical care or that hospitalization, they could have the necessary attention given to them and often be in better condition to perform their duties. It, of course, would cost the city a little, or perhaps the necessity for having an extra employee to handle the deductions made from the pay of the city employees, but I certainly think it would be well worth it. We have all heard a great deal about the very beneficial results that have been obtained through participation in the Blue Cross, and I hope this order will be given the attention that the employees themselves who asked it be submitted feel that it deserves, and I personally feel it deserves. I therefore ask suspension of the rule and passage of the order.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

STATEMENT BY COUNCILOR COFFEY.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, may I ask unanimous consent to have incorporated in the minutes of the meeting my thanks to the Boston Globe and the Boston Herald for the fair treatment they gave me on the airport trip of last Wednesday?

President KERRIGAN—If there are no objections it will be in the record.

DEFERMENT FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following: Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, request the Massachusetts delegation in both houses of Congress to initiate immediately legislative steps to amend the "Selective Service Law" to include a deferment status to persons qualified to enter and attending pre-medical and medical schools, and thus allow the creation of future physicians to care for the mounting needs of our civilian population and to augment, bolster and replenish our fast dwindling supply of doctors, a dire condition brought about by the entrance of this profession into the armed forces; overwork on the part of doctors attending civilians; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded immediately to the Massachusetts delegation in both houses of Congress and thus prevent a tragedy and a re-enactment of the terrible scourge and epidemic that prevailed in our country in 1917-1918.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, this past week the leading newspapers of Boston brought out in adequate terms the selective service law passed by Congress and signed and sealed by the President of the United States. There are various classifications in the selective service law that allow a man in industry to be precluded from the draft. There are men in the clergy also precluded, but there is no status whatsoever, from the writings of these eminent newspaper men, that allows young boys of seventeen and eighteen years of age and upwards to attend medical and pre-medical school for the purpose of some day becoming a physician or a surgeon. Boston is known throughout the world as the city of learning and culture, and the embryo of surgeons and physicians, and I believe at this time that the Boston City Council, composed of twenty-two segments that go to make up the corporate limits of Boston, should go on record in favor of a change or amendment to the selective service law that will allow young men to enter into, say, pre-medical and medical schools, so that some day they may prolong the life of humanity and also mitigate the suffering humanity sometimes endures. It was brought out last week that an epidemic prevailed in our naval forces, an epidemic that, if it continued, would take the life of every man in the United States Navy. It was stopped by the introduction of that great drug called penicillin. If we have no physicians or surgeons attending our civilians, not only our community but our entire country is jeopardized. I was only a small boy in the epidemic of 1917 and 1918, but I well remember in my own family and in my own neighbors' families the number of deaths skyrocketed beyond all proportions, with the result that even the grave-diggers couldn't keep up with the work. A man in the medical profession is really a talented and a gifted man. You can't streamline the education of a physician or a surgeon. If you do, you won't produce a physician or a surgeon. You produce a quack. And I ask you, Mr. President, for suspension of the rule and passage of the resolution so that immediate enactment can take place with the support of our Massachusetts delegation in both houses of Congress.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rule.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN, for the Committee on Claims, submitted the following:

ODD ITEMS FOR WAR PRODUCTION.

Many an unusual item has crept into the shopping lists of automobile purchasing agents as a result of war production needs.

Toothpicks, dish mops, pure mutton tallow, dry ice, canvas foot covers, police whistles and razor blades are just a few of such implements being used by one company in its production of aircraft engines and combat vehicles. Toothpicks are used by the first-aid departments for medical dressings.

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT IN MASSACHUSETTS, NOVEMBER 3, 1936.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000 and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

AIRCRAFT MATERIAL PRODUCTION 41 PER CENT OF TOTAL AUTOMOTIVE WAR JOB.

Behind current attempts to knock Germany out of the war by means of airpower, stands the teamwork of the automotive industry, which has done much to get bombers in the air over Hitler's domain.

The motor industry, starting as a scrub team in the aircraft field a year before Pearl Harbor has since attained major league stature.

In the two years since December 7, 1941, the industry's output of bombers and fighters has constantly soared. Measured in dollar volume, it rose from $400,000,000 annual rate of production on the day of the Japs' assault to $4,300,000,000 on the second anniversary of that "day of infamy."

The same upward spiral took place in deliveries of all forms of war materials by automotive plants. When Pearl Harbor news struck, they had reached an annual production rate of $1,777,000,000 for all forms of military requirements: aircraft, military vehicles, tanks, guns, ammunition, marine engines and other equipment. Today the annual production rate tops the $10,000,000,000 mark.

1943 GREAT LAKES COAL AND GRAIN TRAFFIC.

For the 1943 season of navigation, through December 4, coal forwarded to Great Lakes docks from American ports on Lake Erie totaled 45,518,603 tons, according to a report by Solid Fuel Administrator Ickes. This was 1,858,604 tons less than in 1942, the report said. Lake navigation began a month later than it did in 1942 and strikes in the coal producing areas in May and June and in October and November temporarily reduced the flow of coal toward the Lake Erie ports. Coal received at American docks on Lake Superior, according to the report, totaled 11,111,625 tons in the 1943 season of navigation, 15 per cent above the 9,828,000 tons received there in 1942. The 1943 total, it said, exceeded the season's quota by more than 300,000 tons.

War Food Administration officials expressed the opinion that final figures would show a total of 190,000,000 bushels of grain moved via the Great Lakes to northeast ports for domestic consumption in 1943. This was greatly in excess of the 135,000,000 bushels set as the year's quota. The War Shipping Administration said that the larger quota had been set in view of added facilities to be available in 1944. These included thirteen vessels returned to the Great Lakes from ocean service by the W. S. A. and the completion by November 30, 1943, of sixteen new ore carriers for the Maritime Commission, all of which would be available for Great Lakes transportation in 1944.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, JULY 8, 1944.

No. 28

NO NATION CAN SURVIVE THE INTERNAL PERSECUTION OF ITS OWN CITIZENS — SENATOR FRANCIS MALONEY OF CONNECTICUT, AS INDEPENDENCE DAY ORATOR AT FANEUIL HALL, SCORES INTOLERANCE AND PERSECUTION OF SMALL MINORITIES BECAUSE OF RACE OR CREED — SAYS WORLD LEADERSHIP ESTABLISHED BY COURAGE, VISION AND BLOOD OF FOUNDING FATHERS MUST BE MAINTAINED AND EXERCISED WITH LOVE FOR NEIGHBORS AND CONFIDENCE IN EACH OTHER AND SEE TO IT THAT TYRANTS CANNOT AGAIN RISE TO TORMENT OR TORTURE MEN AND NATIONS.

The following is the address delivered by Senator Francis Maloney at Faneuil Hall, in Boston, on July Fourth, 1944:

No son of New England could remain unmoved after an invitation to join in the commemorative ceremonies at this noble shrine of New England's decisive role in the struggle for American liberty. No American could be other than thrilled by the opportunity to join that long line of distinguished speakers who have annually come upon this rostrum since before the birth of the Republic. No son of Connecticut could conceal his pride for the privilege to speak in Faneuil Hall.

This is the place where the courageous spokesmen of our forefathers sounded the keynote of a new nation. This is the tribune from which staunch patriots dared to utter the challenge of free men in a new world. Here in this very hall the men of New England gathered to hear the words and to learn the principles of freedom, for which they were prepared to fight and to die. We from the outer parts of New England envy the citizens of Boston in their possession of the historic places which mean so much to all Americans.

A city is indeed fair which holds within its precincts the sacred monuments of a nation's glory. But we would remind you that these treasures of our history belong in a larger sense to all New Englanders and, indeed, to all Americans. The shots from the muskets at Lexington and Concord may have been "heard round the world," but they were heard first by the men of New England. From Connecticut, from Rhode Island, from the upper regions of New England's mountains, as well as from the farms of Massachusetts, sturdy patriots assembled on the fields of Cambridge, and in their wake came, no less sturdy and no less courageous, the sons of New York, New Jersey, Virginia and the others of the Thirteen Colonies.

Custodians for America.

Thus, on the banks of the River Charles, in the old Colony, and in New England, was the first American Army formed, and a common struggle joined, out of which was born the Republic we celebrate today. And so, I say to you that in preserving and cherishing these places where our history was made the citizens of Boston and of the great Commonwealth of Massachusetts are in fact custodians for all the people of America.

I have referred to the gathering of patriots in Cambridge in 1775, out of which the first American Army came into being. Consider for a moment what that army was; and compare it with the mighty legions of America today. In the beginning it consisted of no more than a few thousand men, who literally had left their ploughs in the field, and their shops unclosed, to being aid to the embattled men of Massachusetts. They were untrained and unorganized. They had neither uniforms nor equipment, save what each patriot himself could supply. They lingered for months without plan or strategy, save the undying spirit to fight for freedom.

Yet, out of that motley array was moulded, under the genius of Washington and his able officers, many of them from New England, an army which was able to wage seven years of relentless war — to the final victory at Yorktown. What was the key to that miracle? Certainly it was not previous training, or a war-like disposition of the settlers in America. They were men of peace. They braved the hardships of a new and unexplored land in search of peace. They were men of peaceful pursuits. Their muskets were weapons for home defense and implements for securing food from the forests. How then could they have been transformed into a disciplined military organization capable of out-maneuvering, out-marching, and out-fighting the best trained professional soldiers of Europe?

Product of American Spirit.

There is only one answer. The First American Army, established on the fields of Cambridge, Massachusetts, like the great American Army of today, was the product of the American spirit. Then, as now, it was an army of citizens; then, as now, it was an army of free men; then, as now, it was an army of men who knew why they fought, and who knew the awful consequences if they failed. It was their resolute purpose to maintain their new country as a free country that compelled them to go about the business of creating an army and waging victorious war.

That same Continental Army marches on today with the millions of Americans in Europe, and in Asia and through the enemy infested islands of the Pacific. Those who then sailed the seas with Barry and Jones sail again with the lads of our Navy and Coast Guard on all of the perilous seven seas. New weapons are at hand. The scale of warfare is broader; and the fields of battle are more far-flung — but it is the same American spirit — the same will to win — and the same understanding of what is at stake — that gives to our men in battle today the strength and the courage to vanquish the hordes of Nazis and Japs who until lately believed themselves unconquerable.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

MAYOR TOBIN APPEALS TO RELATIVES OF MEN AND WOMEN IN MILITARY SERVICE TO SEE THAT ALL SUCH HAVE AN OPPORTUNITY TO VOTE IN COMING ELECTION—TO DO THIS WILL ENABLE THOSE AWAY TO FEEL THEY ARE NOT FORGOTTEN AND KEEP THEM INTERESTED IN HOME AFFAIRS.

The following are remarks by Mayor Maurice J. Tobin in a broadcast over radion station WNAC on Thursday, June 29:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

For just a few moments I would like to talk to those who have someone near and dear to them in the armed forces of the United States. How long must be your days and nights, how lonesome the hours between letters and visits, how often your thoughts must go out each day to that member of the Army, Navy, Marines or Coast Guard you miss so much.

Here at home just now we are all buying War Bonds to guarantee that our boys in the service may have sufficient food, sufficient care, and sufficient equipment for their needs.

However, some may have overlooked such things as elections, or political campaigns, as related to servicemen, on the assumption that members of the armed forces, being away from home, are automatically cut off from such civic affairs. That is why I want to speak on this subject for a moment. Thousands of servicemen and women do want to vote, and they can do so. However, they may need your help. A serviceman himself, of course, can address a written request for an absent ballot to the Election Commissioners, if a Boston resident, or to his city or town clerk, if his home is elsewhere. He need not be a registered voter at the present time to do this. If he is going to become twenty-one years of age before November, he can make his own request. That is all there is to it. The election officials will do the rest—mailing the ballot in time for use, and receiving it for counting at election time.

Here is how you may be able to help. Any relative of a serviceman may apply for an absent voting ballot to the Election Commissioners of the city, or Town Clerk, where the serviceman is entitled to vote, making application on behalf of the serviceman or woman.

By relative is meant, not only fathers, mothers, grandfathers, grandmothers, brothers and sisters, but, also, aunts, uncles, nieces and nephews.

The word "serviceman," of course, includes women in its meaning, and also various members of civilian branches attached to and actually serving with the armed forces, such as the Merchant Marine, the Red Cross, Society of Friends, the U. S. O., organizations serving with the armed forces, and all veterans of the present World War. Today there are over 475,000 men and women away from home in the service. Some of them will be voting when election time comes around, and how pleasing it will be to all who receive an absentee ballot to know that someone at home has remembered them—by making proper arrangements for their participation in the election.

It will be another welcome voice from home. It is up to the mothers, the daughters, the sisters, the aunts, the nieces, the ladies of the household, this time. Sixty per cent of the vote cast in the Primary Election on July 11 will be by women. For the first time in history women are in the majority—the responsibility is chiefly theirs now—to vote themselves, and to see to it that the absent members of their family can vote. So I am going to repeat these directions regarding voting by servicemen in an effort to help all who are listening today.

1. The serviceman, whether he is a registered voter or not, may write for and receive an absent voting ballot. That is what it is called, an absent voting ballot. The Election Department, or the city or town clerk, to whom the request is presented will do the rest.

2. Any relative of a serviceman, or woman, may apply for an absent voting ballot to the Election Commissioners of the city, or the Town Clerk, where the serviceman is entitled to vote. These officials will see that the serviceman receives a ballot. It is as simple as that—either a written request by the serviceman, or a request in person by a relative of the serviceman. Thank you very much for listening. This is Maurice Tobin bidding you good day!

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Baker & Co. have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for sheet asphalt pavement in Brookline avenue and Stuart street, dated November 8, 1943, from June 15, 1944, to August 1, 1944. This extension is requested for the reason that the contractor has been delayed by slow delivery of materials necessary to do the work.

W. H. Ellis & Son Company have been granted an extension of the time of completion of the contract for repairs to the draw pier at Chelsea North Bridge to August 1, 1944. This extension is requested because the contractor was delayed in the performance of the work, due to delays in the delivery of piling and the continuous openings of the drawbridge for ship movements through the channel-way.

BOSTON, June 20, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The Public Works Department is reconstructing Kilmarnock street in the Back Bay district. The new grade established in this reconstruction work necessitates certain work in the yard of the Martin Milmore School, also located on Kilmarnock street.

The work needed on the school property follows: Remove the existing wrought-iron fence a distance of approximately 130 feet (this includes one large driveway gate and one small gate). Demolish and remove the present concrete wall which has sunken below grade. Furnish and construct a new concrete wall, the entire length having a depth of 3½ feet below grade and extending above grade approximately 2 feet at one end and tapering to 4 inches at the other end. Re-erect the iron fence to the new grade. Break up the present sunken asphalt pavement in the school yard, approximately 175 square yards. Break out existing concrete driveway slab where necessary. Furnish and roll sufficient gravel to bring school yard to new grade. Furnish and place approximately 362 square feet of new concrete driveway. Furnish and place approximately 175 square yards of sheet asphalt surface.

I feel that the best interests of the City of Boston will be maintained if Baker & Co., 1335 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park, the contractor performing the reconstruction work on Kilmarnock street, is allowed to perform the work on the school property. All quantities and measurements have been checked by the Civil Engineering Division of this department and they are correct.

In view of the foregoing, I respectfully request your Honor's approval of an expenditure to Baker & Co. in an amount not to exceed $1,235. Upon completion of the work, itemized bills will be furnished by the contractor and thoroughly checked for accuracy before release for payment.

Respectfully yours,

INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 15, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On May 24 of this year your Honor approved the contract with B. F. Smith & Co., Inc., 79 Milk street, Boston, in the amount of $4,935, for the making of test borings at the site of the Long Island viaduct, Boston Harbor. On page 16 of this contract, Item B, the provision for property damage insurance was not waived and no property damage insurance provided for.

The only property involved in this operation by B. F. Smith & Co. was a barrel raft and a rowboat of approximately fourteen feet. I am informed by Mr. Thomas McGovern, engineer, that the work will be finished before the expiration of the present week without incident of any kind.

It is felt by the City Auditor's office that in order to properly execute this contract permission to waive said Item B on page 16 involving property damage insurance should be approved in writing by your Honor, since the job is practically completed. I am, therefore, respectfully requesting this permission for waiver.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—For the past six years your Honor has approved the purchasing of fruits and vegetables daily, and meats, poultry, butter, cheese and eggs weekly, instead of on a monthly basis as was this department's practice prior to 1938.

In the past, as a result of more frequent purchasing of these perishable commodities, the city has been able to take advantage of price decreases; and under present emergency conditions—aside from the fact that most concerns would be hesitant about entering into a contract for a specified length of time and calling for a more or less definite quantity—daily and weekly buying are most practical in view of uncertain supply and market conditions.

Your permission is, therefore, respectfully requested to continue the daily and weekly purchasing of the foods listed above for a period of one year from July 1, 1944.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

$50,000,000 WATER-SUPPLY PROJECT IN CALIFORNIA.

The city of San Jose has entered into contract with the Water Properties Company, Ltd., of San Francisco, to provide the city water from the head waters of the American river in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe. The agreement is for thirty years, during which time the municipality will acquire title to the local distribution system and receive a proportionate share of the production and transmission systems.

FOURTH OF JULY ADDRESS, DELIVERED BY SENATOR FRANCIS MALONEY OF CON- NECTICUT, AT FANEUIL HALL.

It is well, on this Day of Independence, that we celebrate the immortal quality of this Spirit of America. It is well, too, that we whose racial heritage may not reach back to the Colonial days on this side of the water join in that celebration. We also are partakers of the American spirit. We love the rocks and rills of this, our country, because we too have sought and found our freedom here. Our sons fight for that freedom with the same purpose and the same resolve as the direct descendants of the minutemen of the Old Colony.

The Yankee Division today is no less patriotic, no less American, no less dedicated to a final victory for freedom in this great country than was the Continental Army that camped on the Charles in 1775.

TRIBUTE TO PATRIOTS.

It is right, therefore, that we pay tribute not only to the patriots of the Revolution, who in this setting struck the first blow for America, but also to our own sons, the flesh and blood of this generation, who fight all over the world for the same free country.

The Continental Army achieved its first great victory in the liberation of Boston. The American Army today is also the liberator of cities. The world was amazed when the proud regiments of George the Third evacuated this prize port of the new world, rather than endure a siege laid by the farmers of New England. The world today is equally thrilled by the liberation of Rome—the first city of all Christendom—through the triumphant marches of an American Army in Italy.

It must have been with fervent prayers of thanksgiving that the people of the Eternal City watched the banners of the new world, many of them carried by Italian-American doughboys, as they passed through the historic arches of that ancient citadel. The liberation of Rome by American troops this year means what the winning of Boston meant in the Revolution. It means that American freedom is on the march, carrying with it the blessings of liberty. It means that other great cities now in the hands of aggressors shall also fall. It means that victory and peace, for all liberty-loving peoples, are near at hand.

But Independence Day is not a day for the celebration only of victories in battle. On this day in 1776 our forefathers, while in the midst of battle, proclaimed to the world the basic principles of political freedom as conceived by men who had undertaken to hew a new nation out of the forests of an unexplored continent. The Declaration of Independence was an inevitable proclamation, because it gave expression to the very hearts of the Colonists. It was also a timely document, because while war was still waged, and the outcome still in doubt, it gave direction and inspiration to the men on the battle line. They knew why they fought, but they needed to know that all the people of the Colonies were dedicated to the same high purpose.

NATIONAL UNITY BORN.

And so, when the couriers galloped away from Philadelphia, bringing news to all the Colonies, north and south, of the final, irrevocable and unanimous decision that the fight was for a new nation—based upon the eternal principles of freedom—national unity in the new world was born. In this respect, and at this hour, we present-day Americans might well give renewed strength to our men in arms by evidence of a greater unity here behind the lines.

Today we still hold firmly to the doctrines of that eighteenth-century declaration. As our forefathers arraigned George the Third for his indefensible acts of aggression in America—so do we charge our enemies with crimes against freedom. As our forefathers—for the right to be self-governed, and free from the aggression of tyrants—pledged to each other their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor, so do we, today, dedicate all that we are, and all that we have, for triumph of the just cause we defend.

"Total war" is thought to be a new concept. No one who reads the Declaration of Independence, and who knows of the unqualified and unanimous support which that declaration received from the patriots in every colony, can doubt that total war, total effort, and total sacrifice were pledged by the people of America as they created and sought to defend a new nation on this continent.

Today the world marvels at the speed, the efficiency, and the success with which the United States has been mobilized and transformed into the most powerful war machine on earth. But I say to you that the totality of our war effort today is no more remarkable than the totality of the war effort of those patriots who, surrounded by the institutions, the garrisons, and the vested interests of a despotic royal system, dared to rebel and to fight up and down this Atlantic seaboard until victory was theirs.

PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." These are the inalienable, God-given rights for which this nation was made and for which it still fights. When we recite this hallowed phrase we dwell most often upon "liberty," and too little upon "pursuit of happiness." We are ever vigilant for the protection of that institutional liberty which is based upon a democratic form of government. Let us not be forgetful of the God-given right to pursue happiness under any form of government.

Happiness as visualized by the authors of the Declaration was that sublime state in which individuals would be at peace with their God and at peace with their neighbors. It did not imply reckless mirth or license or any of the outward signs of earthly pleasure. Men may know happiness in hardship, privation and suffering, if they are good and charitable men, and true sons of God.

But oppression by a tyrant is the denial of the right to happiness, because it is a challenge to the dignity of one who is created in the image of God—and that, in essence, was the charge made against George the Third.

If we are true to the Declaration of Independence, we are obliged, as patriotic Americans, to insist upon the observance of the inalienable rights of men from all quarters—both within and without our country. And if we fight today to preserve a system of free government that is based upon the dignity of man, as we do, we must be careful that our own actions, within our own country, are consistent with our war aims.

It is lamentable indeed, in this hour of great national crisis, that we should have to admit that the pursuit of happiness seems threatened even within our own borders. While we send our sons beyond the seas, to wage war against the aggressor of mankind, we permit to thrive among our own citizenry the cancerous growth of intolerance. While we proclaim to the world our national adherence to the inalienable rights of man, and our irrevocable dedication to the civil and religious guarantees of our own American constitution, we are blind to the insidious spread of racial and religious persecutions—even in neighborhoods where the initial battles for American freedom were fought.

No nation, however strong, however clothed with the outward symbol of liberty, can survive the internal persecution of its own citizens—even though the persecution be aimed at a small minority. The greatness of America might quickly be dissolved if this became a land where the deserving humble people of other parts of the world might no longer find protection. The proud banner of our Republic will be forever sullied if we allow rampant intolerance to strike down defenseless persons because of their race or creed. There are those of us who still believe that the blessings which have been showered upon this land flow from a God who gives His grace to those who observe the basic virtues of good men.

By and large, the American people have been a charitable people. In the past, waves of ignorance and intolerance have beaten in vain against the strong and open heart of America. Let us in this hour, by our individual and collective rededication to the principles of our Declaration of Independence, resolve that the heart of America shall once more take unto her protection and care all those of our fellow citizens who are threatened with the cursed affliction of persecution.

It was one hundred sixty-eight years ago today that a group of heroic Americans affixed their names to the Declaration of Independence. Among the charges which they made against George the Third was that he had "excited domestic insurrection" amongst the colonists. The signers representing the Massachusetts Bay Colony were Samuel and John Adams and Robert Treat Paine and Elbridge Gerry. They were not unmindful of the dangers to follow. They knew, oh, so well, the consequences of failure. They were, as well, confident in "the protection of Divine Providence," as they pledged to each other their "lives, . . . fortunes, and (their) sacred honor."

By this great Declaration they set forth on a great adventure—an adventure resulting finally in the establishment of the richest and most powerful nation in the world. Down through the years since that time, from generation to generation, has come the heritage which is now in our hands—and which is now being defended by our sons—our sons who are fighting on land and sea, and under the sea and in the air, all over the world. Largely through them we shall preserve the heritage, untarnished, for those generations yet to come.

Many of our sons will die—as men died in this neighborhood a long time ago—and to fully keep faith with them, we must, this time, be certain of the role in which we are cast. They have met the enemy. They have suffered the weight and fullness of his brutality. They have seen the whites of his eyes, and have felt his steel, and they now know, as we do, that in God's good time victory on the battlefield will be ours. When that victory comes—and God speed the day—and our enemies lay down their arms, our task is not yet finished. We must insist—under God's further guidance, upon a peace that will be lasting. We must stay at that task, and it may be a difficult task, until confident that tyrants cannot again rise to torment and torture men and nations.

The world leadership established by the courage, and the vision, and the blood of the founders, must be maintained and exercised. We must renew our love for our neighbor, and our confidence in each other here at home.

Those who lighted the flame so many years ago, just yonder at Concord Bridge, showed us the way, and we must keep that torch aglow, and held so high as to give light to the world.

On occasions during the passing years there have been mistakes, but there must not be a mistake this time.

Our loyal legions press forward, building battle monuments all over the globe—monuments in the form of restored freedom and peace—and we here at home, whose hearts beat with theirs, ask God's help as we seek to make certain that that peace shall endure.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

This sum of $16,000,000 covers all expenditures for maintenance under the control of the School Committee, but excludes the item, "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures" for which an appropriation of $804,125 has been previously made by the School Committee to be expended by the Department of School Buildings.

Respectfully submitted,
(signed) Alexander M. Sullivan,
Business Manager.

In connection with the foregoing appropriation order, the Business Manager presented the following statement which was ordered spread upon the records:

The budget for maintenance of the Boston Public Schools for the year 1944 submitted by the Business Manager at this meeting, calls for appropriations to cover expenditures under the control of the School Committee, totalling $16,000,000.

The cost of annual increments for the year 1944 for teachers and other employees on sliding scales is $163,000.

In addition to the total of $16,000,000.00 covering all expenditures controlled by the School Committee and expended through the office of the Business Manager, appropriations have been made at a previous meeting for "Alterations, Repairs, Furniture and Fixtures" amounting to $804,125 to be expended by the Department of School Buildings.

The total of the estimated appropriations for the year 1944 for all items of maintenance is $16,804,125 ($16,000,000 + $804,125). The term "maintenance" does not include lands, plans and construction of school buildings or rent of hired school accommodations.

The School Committee has also appropriated at a previous meeting $17,040.69 to be expended by the Department of School Buildings for rent of hired accommodations. No appropriations are being made for the construction of new buildings or the replacement of old buildings.

The appropriations previously referred to for the year 1944 for maintenance and for rent of hired school accommodations total $16,821,165.69 ($16,000,000 + $804,125 + $17,040.69). The appropriations for the same purposes last year amounted to $17,045,985—a decrease in 1944 of $224,819.

The amount to be raised by taxation for 1944 will be $403,504 less than the amount raised by taxation in 1943. The amount raised by taxation in 1943 was $15,622,370 and the amount to be raised by taxation in 1944 is $15,218,866, or a decrease as stated of $403,504.

SCHOOL LUNCHES

On motion, the following letter was ordered spread upon the records:

BOSTON HEALTH LEAGUE, INC., 261 Franklin Street, Boston, Massachusetts, May 19, 1944.

Dr. Patrick J. Foley, Chairman
Boston School Committee
15 Beacon Street
Boston, Mass.

Dear Dr. Foley:

At the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Boston Health League on Thursday, May 18, it was voted that I express to the Boston School Committee our hearty approval of the action which was taken by the School Committee on Tuesday, May 9, when it was voted to turn over to Miss Eleanor Upham for management the sixteen lunch rooms of the schools which have been operated by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union.

As you are aware, the Health League has been concerned with the establishment of an adequate school lunch program throughout the city and feels that a splendid start has been made through the appointment of Miss Upham as Director of School Lunches and the taking over of the lunch rooms formerly operated by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union.

Yours sincerely,

(Signed) George C. Shattuck.
President.

The Committee adjourned.

Attest:

MASSACHUSETTS BAY COLONY.

The first chartered colony in New England, charter granted by Charles I on March 4, 1629. About a year before, a patent had been granted to six prominent men of Dorchester, west of England, among whom was Capt. John Endicott. He sailed in June, 1628, with a party of fifty or sixty persons, arriving in September and settling at Naumkeag, afterward named Salem. In the spring of 1629, the Bay Company fitted out three ships conveying about four hundred persons and arriving at Salem in June. Endicott sent a small party to effect a settlement on the Bay in Mishawum, afterward named by the settlers Charlestown, the first town in New England to assume the town policy, Plymouth and Salem being governed by a governor and council. Endicott was appointed in London as the first resident governor on April 30, 1629. The Massachusetts Bay Company was reorganized in London on October 20, 1629, when John Winthrop was chosen as governor. He arrived at Salem on June 12, 1630, soon proceeded to Charlestown with a large following and finding that place unsuitable, finally settled in Boston. Winthrop served thirteen years as governor in four different periods ending in 1649 and Endicott fifteen years at various times ending in 1665. Other governors were Thomas Dudley, Richard Bellingham, John Haynes, Henry Vane, John Leverett and Simon Bradstreet, the latter serving twelve years until 1692 when the Bay Colony and the Plymouth Colony were merged, becoming the Royal Province of Massachusetts Bay, which existed eighty-two years to 1774, the governors being appointed by the King.

The name, Massachusetts, is Indian and signifies "near the big hills."

BOSTON AS A TOWN.

From its foundation until 1755, or a period of 125 years, Boston was not only the most outstanding but the most populous town in the American colonies. In 1760, Philadelphia's population was ahead, viz., 18,756, Boston's then being 15,631 and New York's about 14,000. In the last year of town government, viz., 1821, Boston's population was about 45,000 and its public debt $100,000, all incurred for new county buildings.

The history of Boston as a town during a period of nearly two centuries surpasses in civic interest that of Boston as a city because of the untiring zeal and successful efforts of its townsmen to realize more of true democracy than had ever been attained before. Their obligations were held as sacred as their liberties.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first shipboard takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, JULY 15, 1944.

No. 29

BUILDING OPERATIONS IN BOSTON FOR FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1944 SHOW IMPROVEMENT OVER 1943 DESPITE DIFFICULTIES OF OBTAINING PRIORITIES, ACCORDING TO FIGURES COMPILED BY THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT AND MADE PUBLIC BY COMMISSIONER JAMES H. MOONEY—REVENUE BROUGHT INTO DEPARTMENT AS RESULT OF LICENSE FEES, ETC., AMOUNTS TO $16,723, WHICH COMPARES WELL WITH OTHER YEARS SINCE 1940.

Building operations in the City of Boston for the half-year ending in June showed a slight improvement in matter of revenue for the Building Department, according to figures compiled and presented by Building Commissioner James H. Mooney. This is shown despite the operations of priorities and the difficulty of obtaining material for construction work.

The total cost of structural construction for the first six months was $1,831,220 for a total of 2,099 pieces of work, including new work, alterations and repairs. In addition to this, there were 3,018 other operations, such as plumbing, steamfitting, installation of heaters, elevators and the like and other minor work, such as installing sprinklers, etc., that brought the total up to 5,117 items. These, added to the structural construction, made a total valuation for work done of $2,363,668.

By the levy of fees, in accordance with the ordinances and regulations governing such, the department revenue amounted to $16,723. By comparison with other years this sum was more than $10,000 less than the revenue received by the department in the peak year of 1941, which was $26,138.85. For the year 1940 the sum collected was $23,523.40, for 1942 it was $18,757.50 and for 1943 the sum was $15,656.50.

In point of valuation the sums for the respective years were: 1940, $6,833,261; 1941, $10,168,248; 1942, $9,329,772; 1943, $7,647,301; and 1944, $2,353,668.

MAYOR TOBIN APPROVES SCHEDULE OF INCREASES IN BASE PAY OF LABORERS, CHAUFFEURS AND MECHANICS FOLLOWING ADVICES OF COMMITTEE WITH MUNICIPAL EMPLOYEES UNION REPRESENTATIVES — 1,290 LABORERS AND 850 CHAUFFEURS AND MECHANICS TO BE BENEFITED, AS WELL AS 134 DRAWTENDERS AND METER READERS.

As a result of several conferences between representatives of the Massachusetts State, County and Municipal Employees Union, A. F. of L., and a committee consisting of Budget Commissioner Herman L. Bush, City Auditor Charles J. Fox, and Superintendent of Supplies Francis X. Lang, appointed by Mayor Tobin, a schedule of increases in the base pay of city laborers, chauffeurs and mechanics was recommended and approved by Mayor Tobin.

The effect of this increase in base pay from $5 to $5.50 per day for laborers, and from $5.50 to $6 per day for chauffeurs and mechanics will give permanent status to a portion of their present income. The city laborer now getting $30 per week plus $3.83 Emergency Compensation will receive $33 per week plus $1.92 Emergency Compensation, or $34.92 as against $33.83. However, a further benefit will accrue to him by virtue of an increase in his retirement fund. No deductions are made for retirement out of the temporary emergency compensation.

About 1,290 laborers and approximately 850 chauffeurs and mechanics are expected to benefit. Some 134 drawtenders and assistant drawtenders and also 32 meter readers were given a flat $100 per year increase in order to adjust their status proportionately. The total additional cost to the city for the balance of the year from June 28 will approximate $57,000, which will be supplied from surpluses developed as a result of deaths, retirements and resignations.

"It is a great honor to have been chosen by my fellow Democrats of Massachusetts to lead our party to victory in November. I am grateful to the many thousands of men and women of my party who worked and voted for me yesterday, and likewise appreciate the sincerity of my fellow Democrats who voted for my opponent. I am certain that when the real issues of this campaign are disclosed there will be a united Democracy in November.

"The issues in the coming campaign hinge on state government, its proper administration, and the type of administration, which is best for the welfare of all the people.

"I know my victory was achieved on my record of accomplishment in the City of Boston, together with the indisputable fact that I have always been a supporter of Democratic ideals and principles.

diture on these windows for more frequent cleaning. The total contract now would be fourteen hundred dollars ($1,400). This will provide for cleaning of all windows, with the exception of well windows, every sixty days, and the windows on the first floor twice a month.

In view of the present labor conditions due to the war, I sincerely feel that I am obtaining the best possible figure and service for this type of work. I can see no advantage for the city to advertise for bids, because we have been dealing with this particular firm for the past year and have found them very satisfactory.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL M. DRISCOLL,
Chairman.—
BOSTON, June 30, 1944.HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

MY DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Your permission is respectfully requested to award, without advertising, a contract to the Federal National Linen Service Company of Boston for the furnishing of cloth towels to the Government employees in the Houghton and Dutton building, as agreed in our lease, in lieu of paper towels which were originally furnished but discontinued because of the paper shortage in the interest of the war effort; also, we found them very wasteful and more expensive.

This contract also includes the furnishing of porter's suits. The approximate cost will be twenty-four hundred dollars ($2,400), and will vary with the increase or decrease of the tenancy of the building.

I have received written proposals from the Bell Linen Service, Inc., of Boston, and the Suffolk Linen Service, Inc., of Boston, who would agree to furnish the towels at four and one half cents apiece. The present firm that we are doing business with, Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., are furnishing the towels at three and one half cents apiece.

In view of the present satisfactory service being rendered and the bids of the other two companies, I feel that it is in the best interests of the city that this present service be continued and, therefore, respectfully request your approval without further advertising for the reasons we have outlined above.

Very truly yours,

DANIEL M. DRISCOLL,
Chairman.

PUBLIC CELEBRATIONS.

Upon July 5 the Mayor approved a contract with P. L. Burns Company in accordance with the following communication of request:

BOSTON, June 29, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Authority is requested to use the service of the P. L. Burns Company, caterers, at 1167 Tremont street, Boston, Mass., without advertising, for supplying and distributing ice cream (Hoodsies, etc.) to the children in the various wards in Boston on July 4, 1944, in connection with the Independence Day celebration in the following amounts:

Ward 8, $450; Ward 9, $458.40; Ward 11, $457.20; Ward 13, $450; Ward 15, $450; Ward 19, $450; Ward 20, $450. Total, $3,165.60.

In view of the fact that no advantage would accrue to the City of Boston by advertising, as the price for this commodity is uniform, I respectfully request that P. L. Burns Company be awarded a contract for the above mentioned sum.

Respectfully,

LAWRENCE McCABE,
Acting Director of Public Celebrations.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 5, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of May 31, 1941, the Supply Department advertised for bids for furnishing gasoline to various city departments for the period from July 15, 1941, to December 31, 1941, with the customary provision of extension to July 31, 1942. The Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., was the only bidder, submitting a price of one quarter cent per gallon from the prevailing tank wagon price, and your Honor approved the awarding of a contract to this company under date of July 7, 1941. Subsequent extension of this contract under the same terms and conditions was carried out to July 31, 1942.

Under dates of July 6, 1942, and June 9, 1943, permission was further requested and granted, under your approvals of July 13, 1942, and July 6, 1943, respectively, to renew the contract with the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company under the same terms and conditions for the respective periods from July 31, 1942, to December 31, 1942, with the privilege of extension until July 31, 1943, and from July 31, 1943, to December 31, 1943, with the privilege of extension until July 31, 1944.

The experience of our public bid of 1941—together with the recognition of Executive Order No. 27, issued by his Excellency the Governor on July 7, 1942, granting dispensation to cities, towns, counties and districts from the regular procedure of law relative to purchasing of fuel, and authorizing these governmental units to disregard the customary statutory requirements relative thereto whenever practical to their best interests—substantiates our earlier action in the matter. This procedure is further confirmed by opinion of local officials of the Office of Price Administration, whose Limitation Order No. 70 of the War Production Board tends to facilitate operations of existing contractors as contrasted to the effect if the supplier were a new contractor.

The Supply Department is now concerned with contracting for gasoline for the coming year and in view of the fact that the procurement situation of this product remains substantially the same—if not more acute than heretofore—it would be advisable to again renew our existing contract with the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., under the same favorable terms and conditions.

Therefore, your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the Socony-Vacuum Oil Company, Inc., for furnishing gasoline to various city departments for the period from August 1, 1944, to December 31, 1944, with the privilege of extension to July 31, 1945, at the present contract price of one quarter cent per gallon under seller's tank wagon price at the time of delivery. The approximate amount of the contract will be $96,500.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

BOSTON, June 22, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of April 27, 1944, your Honor approved this department's request for permission to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to Gongras Motors, Inc., for furnishing one new 1942 Lincoln Zephyr four-door sedan, in accordance with specifications, to the Fire Department.

The contractor's original quotation included the Federal excise tax of $104.01—customarily included by out-of-state vendors—and it was our understanding that the tax was to be refunded to the city upon application.

At the time the contracts were drawn up, however, we were informed that it would not be necessary to include such tax in the amount of the award. Your permission is requested, therefore, to revise the original award of $2,690.91, deducting the Federal excise tax of $104.01, making the net amount of the contract $2,586.90.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, June 14, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Proposals for furnishing bituminous and anthracite coal to the various city departments from June 1, 1944, to December 31, 1944, with the privilege of extension reserved to the city to April 30, 1945, were publicly opened and read at this office on May 4, 1944.

The experience of the Supply Department in the solicitation of bids and the response of bidders evidences a continuance of the absence of free marketing which has prevailed generally since the commencement of the war. No bid was received for furnishing bituminous run-of-mine coal to the ferryboats or to the fireboat, and but a single bid was received for the furnishing of this kind of coal for the Public Buildings Department; a single bid for coal for use at the House of Correction, Penal Institutions Department; and but a single bid for the furnishing of coal for use at the Calf Pasture pumping station of the Public Works Department; two bids were received for furnishing coal to the Long Island Hospital, Institutions Department; only one bid was received for furnishing bituminous stoker coal for the Public Buildings Department and only one bid was received for furnishing anthracite coal for the Public Buildings Department.

In the absence of general competition, the department has proceeded in its negotiations for its supply of coal for the indicated term of the contract upon three premises: (1) with a view to establishing such contractual arrangements as would insure to the city the maximum guarantee possible under the circumstances of a continuity of supply; (2) with the purpose in mind of obtaining the best possible price to the city compatible with probability of delivery; and (3) with the idea of recognizing the reciprocal responsibility of the city towards those suppliers who have during the war stringency recognized their responsibility to the municipality as a customer and as an agency of government charged with a definite war-related obligation.

In order that your Honor may be fully cognizant of the conditions which impel the Superintendent of Supplies to enumerate "continuity of supply" of first importance, I present the following facts: Mr. C. J. Potter, Deputy Solid Fuels Administrator, in his address on May 30 at the National Association of Purchasing Agents Convention in New York, stated that the Solid Fuels Administration for War estimated that solid fuel production will be 30,000,000 tons less than consumptive requirements. He further stated that anthracite production would be 8,000,000 tons less than anthracite consumptive requirements. A press release of June 7, 1944, of the bulletin of the National Association of Purchasing Agents has the following to say concerning the coal situation:

"The nation is facing its 'greatest coal shortage' in history. Supplies now on hand are sufficient for only thirty days with demand so large that the indicated shortage this winter may reach 30,000,000 tons of bituminous. Moreover, there is no ground to expect improvement in the petroleum picture. Supplies of gasoline and fuel oil will continue tight."

Guided by the three considerations mentioned, the Supply Department has entered into negotiations with suppliers of former years on the matter of procuring contracts for the delivery of the city coal requirements for the contract period, and the results of such negotiations are herewith presented.

Although the City Fuel Company made no bid for the furnishing of coal to the ferryboats, Public Works Department, or to the fireboat, it has informally proposed to furnish the tonnage required for the ferryboats at a price of $9.79 per net ton and has agreed to furnish the tonnage required for the fireboat at a price of $9.09 per net ton, the current contract price.

The bid of the White Fuel Company of $9.60 per net ton of bituminous run-of-mine coal to the Public Buildings Department for 11,000 net tons of coal was nine cents per ton less than the bid of the past contract, and as such, in view of all the circumstances, is acceptable to the Superintendent of Supplies.

The City Fuel Company, our present supplier of fuel at the Deer Island House of Correction, has offered to supply the required tonnage at this location at $9.59 per ton. This offer is based in part on the combined award of this tonnage plus that needed for the fire and ferryboats, which I have already referred to and which I deem they can competently supply.

The Stetson Fuel Company, our present supplier of coal at the Calf Pasture pumping station, has offered to enter into a contract for the current season under the same terms, conditions and specifications of the present contract. Because the Calf Pasture has availed itself of the surplus available in the stockpile built up under the previous year's storage contracts, the amount furnished under the current contract was approximately 9 per cent less than the aggregate of the contract itself. In view of the small amounts requisitioned by the city under the expiring contract, and the willingness of the Stetson Fuel Company to execute a current contract at the same price as last year, in the judgment of the superintendent the best interests of the city will be served by accepting the offer of the Stetson Fuel Company.

Two bids were forthcoming for the meeting of the requirements of the Long Island institution: the lower at the rate of $9.00 per ton, the other at the rate of $10.39 per ton. The supplier under the present contract has offered to execute a contract for the delivery of this tonnage at the same price as last year of $10.04 per ton. For the reasons already mentioned, it is the judgment of the Superintendent of Supplies that both bids submitted be rejected and that a contract be awarded without further advertising to the White Fuel Corporation, the present contractor.

The supplier of bituminous stoker coal to the Public Buildings Department under the present contract was the sole bidder at the same price as the prevailing contract price. Because of satisfactory performance currently, it is the recommendation of the superintendent that the bid of this contractor, the White Fuel Corporation, be accepted.

Similarly, the Everett Fuel Company, the present supplier of anthracite coal to the various city departments, was the sole bidder for the furnishing of coal in this category. The bid on egg coal was 31 cents per ton above the prevailing contract price; on stove coal, 31 cents per ton above the prevailing contract price; and on buckwheat coal, 34 cents per ton above the prevailing contract price. In view of satisfactory performance under the present contract, it is the opinion of the superintendent that the best interests of the city will be served by accepting the offer of the Everett Fuel Company, dispensing with further advertising.

Your approval is requested for permission to enter into contracts for the furnishing of anthracite and bituminous coal for city departments to the following suppliers for the tonnage, at the prices, and to the departments as may appear in the following schedule; accepting such bids as may have been made by the particular supplier indicated, rejecting all other bids, dispensing with further advertising; and, in all instances where, as a matter of record, no bids were forthcoming, entering into the requisite contracts with the suppliers listed without further advertising.

White Fuel Corporation: 11,000 tons run-of-mine bituminous coal for the Public Buildings Department at $9.50 per ton, $104,500; 3,000 tons bituminous stoker coal for the Public Buildings Department at $9.34 per ton, $28,020; 9,000 tons run-of-mine bituminous coal for Long Island Hospital, Institutions Department, at $10.04 per ton, $90,360—$222,880. Discount, one half of 1 per cent, fifteen days.

Everett Fuel Company: 1,200 tons egg (anthracite) coal for the Public Buildings Department at $15.30 per ton, $18,360; 3,500 tons stove (anthracite) coal for the Public Buildings Department at $15.30 per ton, $53,550; 2,000 tons buckwheat (anthracite) coal for the Public Buildings Department at $11.60 per ton, $23,200—$95,110.

City Fuel Company: 4,000 tons run-of-mine bituminous coal for the ferryboats, Public Works Department, at $9.79 per ton, $39,160; 3,000 tons run-of-mine bituminous coal for the House of Correction, Penal Institutions Department, at $9.59 per ton, $28,770; 1,000 tons of run-of-mine bituminous coal for the fireboat, Fire Department, at $9.00 per ton, $9,000—$77,020.

Stetson Fuel Company: 4,500 tons run-of-mine bituminous coal for the Calf Pasture pumping station, Public Works Department, at $8.97 per ton, $40,365. Discount, 1 per cent, ten days.

It is the judgment of the Superintendent of Supplies that the best interests of the city will be served by such awards and procedures.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, June 28, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the American LaFrance-Foamite Corporation, 26 Brighton avenue, Boston, for furnishing the following equipment to the Fire Department:

Three six-cylinder motors, complete, with single 17-inch pump drive shaft, two spark battery distributors, fifteen spark plugs, at $2,025 each. Price f. o. b. Elmyra, New York. Freight allowed to destination.

Inasmuch as the American LaFrance-Foamite Corporation is the manufacturer of these motors, no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete barges; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

AIRCRAFT MATERIAL PRODUCTION 41
PER CENT OF TOTAL AUTOMOTIVE
WAR JOB.

Behind current attempts to knock Germany out of the war by means of airpower, stands the teamwork of the automotive industry, which has done much to get bombers in the air over Hitler's domain.

The motor industry, starting as a scrub team in the aircraft field a year before Pearl Harbor has since attained major league stature.

In the two years since December 7, 1941, the industry's output of bombers and fighters has constantly soared. Measured in dollar volume, it rose from $400,000,000 annual rate of production on the day of the Japs' assault to $4,300,000,000 on the second anniversary of that "day of infamy."

The same upward spiral took place in deliveries of all forms of war materials by automotive plants. When Pearl Harbor news struck, they had reached an annual production rate of $1,777,000,000 for all forms of military requirements: aircraft, military vehicles, tanks, guns, ammunition, marine engines and other equipment. Today the annual production rate tops the $10,000,000,000 mark.

From George G. Hyland, Commissioner, Public Works Department.

Subject: Glenwood Avenue Footbridge, Hyde Park. Referring to your letter of June 14, 1944, requesting consideration and report on repairs to Glenwood Avenue Footbridge.

In order to put the bridge over the railroad in proper repair there will be required new steel floor beams, perhaps fifteen new stair risers, many stair tread straps and considerable repairs to structural members of the trusses, towers and steps. All wooden stringers, the whole of the bridge floor and all stair treads must be renewed. New hand rails on the stairs and the bridge must be installed to a proper height above the existing fences. Upon completion of these repairs all steel work must be thoroughly cleaned and painted with at least three coats of paint.

Part of this footway, from the Hyde Park avenue approach to the bridge over the railroad, consists of a bridge over the Neponset river. This latter bridge will require a complete new wooden floor system and the repainting, cleaning and painting of the steel girders.

The total cost of repairs as outlined above will be not less than $12,000. However, no money is available in the budget of the department to do this work this year.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SANDING OF MALIBU BEACH.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, June 26, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Metropolitan District Commission regarding your order of June 5, 1944, relative to sanding the unsanded section of Malibu Beach, Dorchester.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts,
Metropolitan District Commission,
20 Somerset Street, Boston, Mass.,
June 16, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston,
Attention Mr. Arthur C. Carey, Chief Clerk.

Dear Sir,—The commission acknowledges the receipt of your memorandum of June 7 with the accompanying copy of an order of your Honorable Council in which the commission is requested to consider further sanding at Malibu Beach, Dorchester.

The commission had some money available last year and sanded about three-quarters of the beach on the westerly side of Old Colony Parkway, which added considerable improvement to the beach on that side of the road.

The easterly side will require at least 10,000 cubic yards of sand to put it in a reasonably good condition at an estimated cost by our superintendent of $6,500. The commission, however, has no allowances in its present budget for such purposes, and until such time as money is available there is little we can do in the matter. Our budgeting authorities have shown a strong disinclination towards appropriating funds for such improvements until after the war, and the commission, therefore, cannot make any definite promises as to the possibility of doing the work before then.

You may be sure, however, that we will make every effort to obtain money for this improvement whenever it may be possible to do so.

Very truly yours,
NELSON CURTIS, Secretary.

Please be informed that this department does not have jurisdiction over all drinking fountains in the city, only those in parks and on the beaches, and these are all in good working order at the present time, except that they are not iced. We cannot ice them.

ADDITIONAL COMPENSATION FOR ACTING MAYOR.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor obtain an opinion from the Law Department as to whether or not the President of the Boston City Council may not be provided with additional compensation for his services as Acting Mayor of the City of Boston.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, some time ago I filed an order requesting that the President of the Boston City Council be given an increased stipend, and I filed it in all sincerity and without any consultation with you, as you well know; and I still believe, Mr. President, that the President of this Body is entitled to more money than the rest of us receive. They tell me that according to law the salaries of the City Councilors are established, but the President of the City Council is more than a presiding officer of this Body. He is Acting Mayor of the City of Boston. This year I think the Acting Mayor is going to be pretty busy, and I know during my tenure as Acting Mayor it cost me a lot more money than it cost me as City Councilor. Of course there is a certain flare that goes with riding around in a Packard, and, of course, there is a certain amount of gusto that goes with having a chauffeur; and there is a certain amount of pride in having this and that person greet you as Acting Mayor, but when it comes to dollars and cents, Mr. President, it costs you "dough." When you are a member of the Council you have to purchase enough tickets, take enough chances and make enough contributions to keep you pretty well in the category of a poor man, but here, despite your many contributions, you can always buy a ticket in the balcony; you can always make a $2 contribution. But, boy, when you get that title of President of the Boston City Council and Acting Mayor of Boston, you can't sit in the balcony. You have to pay for a box seat. You can't take one ticket; you have to take four or five. And, in all sincerity, I think, Mr. President, you are entitled to more "dough." I know that I am speaking for about twenty other fellows. I am the only one, perhaps, who can talk with experience, but next year there will be a President up there, too, and that fellow is going to have to spend the same amount of "dough" as you or I have to spend. You take any elective body, the presiding officer generally receives a stipend in addition to that of the regular members of the body. The President has to give more time, generally, to his position here. He is the refuge of everybody who has an affliction. Anybody that comes in here, and doesn't happen to find the councilor for his own district, seeks out the President of the Body. He is Acting Mayor of the City, and you have a lot of false pride, and you have a lot of hangers-on when you are Mayor, but you don't get anything for it, Mr. President. We all like the honor. There is no one of us that wouldn't grasp it, but, to save time, I think, we should be honest with each other. The President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, they all get extra coin because there are extra duties involved in presiding over a body. Down here, in addition to the extra duties of presiding over the Body, you likewise have the extra duty of carrying on as Mayor of this City, not only during the vacation period, but likewise many times during the course of the year when the Mayor is called out of town. I think in all sincerity—and I say that I filed this order without any consultation with you—I think it holds true with you or any other President, that the President should receive a particular salary for serving as Acting Mayor of the City of Boston. I took this matter up with his Honor, and he agreed with me, but that was months ago. Of course when I was in the chair myself I couldn't file the order. It wouldn't be ethical. I couldn't even talk about it, because that wouldn't be ethical. But now I am out of the chair, and I believe, in all fairness, that anybody who serves in the chair as President of this Body, should receive a larger salary than the rest of us; and if this can't be given to him as a member of the City Council, then ways and means should be found.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I like very much the order and the speech made by the gentleman, but the only one thing I would like to talk on is this: He said, "You are going to be very busy this year." I would just like to add for the record that you will only be busy up until July 11. Of course then you won't be so busy, not after that, because the Mayor will be in Boston, unless he takes his usual eight or nine vacations to Florida that he has been taking yearly.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

REQUEST TO MAKE EMERGENCY ALLOTMENT PERMANENT.

Coun. HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to make permanent the two hundred dollar emergency allotment now being granted to city and county employees.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TRAFFIC SIGNAL LIGHTS ON MASSACHUSETTS AVENUE.

Coun. CHASE and BAYLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Traffic Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately restore to service all traffic signal lights on Massachusetts avenue in Wards 4 and 5.

Coun. CHASE—Mr. President, on Massachusetts avenue, one of the most heavily traveled highways of Boston, in Wards 4 and 5, at the intersection of St. Botolph street and Massachusetts avenue, there are no traffic lights in operation, although we have traffic lights there. The same condition exists at Clearway street and Massachusetts avenue, St. Germain street and Massachusetts avenue, Belvidere street and Massachusetts avenue, and Commonwealth avenue and Massachusetts avenue; also at Marlborough street and Massachusetts avenue. Now, Mr. President, I submit to you that there are very few thorough streets in the City of Boston that have as much traffic flowing through as on Massachusetts avenue. The particular area I have just commented on is over an area where many pedestrians are crossing the street and need assistance and protection of these traffic lights. I think it is false economy to have these lights out, at the risk of injury and loss of life to the citizens of Boston. This particular area is a shopping center for four wards. The Loew's State, one of the largest motion picture houses in Boston, is located near the corner of St. Germain street and Massachusetts avenue. The Fenway Theatre is located at the corner of Boylston street and Massachusetts avenue. Symphony Hall and Horticultural Hall are located at the corner of Huntington avenue and Massachusetts avenue. There are many stores in that center serving people from four or five different wards. It is a very much used thoroughfare, and I can't understand why the Traffic Commissioner has failed to see that these six very important traffic lights are not in commission. I sincerely hope, Mr. President, that his Honor the Mayor will recognize the dangerous condition that exists on Massachusetts avenue in the vicinity that I have just noted, and I am sure that Councilor Bayley and I would deeply appreciate it if you would do everything possible to see that traffic signal service is immediately restored.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROPOSED OPERATION OF TWO AND THREE CAR TRAINS ON SURFACE LINES.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer with the State Public Utilities Commission with a view to prohibiting the use of two and three car trains on the surface lines where only one operator is employed in the first car.

Coun. CAREY—I trust, Mr. President, that as a result of that order, and another order that is being prepared, that the members of this Council will become enlightened relative to certain plans that are being made, being contemplated, at the present time, by the officials of the Boston Elevated Railway System because those plans affect every councilor in this Body. And each councilor has a responsibility to his constituents to do everything he can to show he is opposed to these plans. At the present time the officials of the Boston Elevated Railway Company are contemplating the use of two and three car trains, particularly three-car trains, on the surface lines of the Elevated System; and these plans call for but one operator in the first car, and a conductor in the second car, and a conductor in the third car. Now, Mr. President, mind you, I want to emphasize the fact that these plans are being made regarding surface trains, not elevated or tunnel trains, of the Elevated System. We know, of course, that for many years there has been an operator in the first car of the elevated trains, and a certain number of guards—not enough, as a matter of fact—distributed throughout the train. But in this instance here, the officials of the Elevated want to endanger the lives and the safety of the patrons of the line, want to restrict employment by eliminating the conductor in the first car of those two and three car trains. Now, for the life of me, Mr. President, I can't see where any wise planning will permit the Elevated officials to conclude that the safety of the public is to be protected where those officials ask the operator, the man who operates that train, who is in the front end of the first car, and who is expected to make change for passengers getting on that first car, to open doors, to let passengers in and out, to keep his eyes on the roadway ahead, to answer questions that the patrons very often ask, as to where this or that street is—to do all those multitudinous duties, and then feel that they are giving to the patrons of that line the protection that those patrons are entitled to. The newspapers lately have not acquainted the people with the many accidents that are happening at the present time on the Elevated System—a record that at the present time compares very unfavorably with the splendid record the Elevated had established in years past. The safety of the public, not only of the people riding in the cars, but all pedestrians, all those who are driving automobiles or other motor vehicles, even the man that is driving a horse and wagon along the highway, must be protected, but the responsibility is being placed upon the shoulders of that operator in that first car, and that responsibility is altogether too great, and God help them when something happens. You cannot reasonably expect that operator in that first car to do those multitudinous duties without asking him to take upon his shoulders responsibility that never should be expected of him. The people of this city and those who patronize the entire Elevated System, must become aroused over these plans. Another situation that must be kept in mind, and one that is rightfully important, is that from the standpoint of the employment situation. I feel that the only reason in the minds of the Elevated officials in trying to put this plan across, so to speak, is to eliminate the employment of those so-called extra men, that conductor who would be employed in that first car. In these days or in no other day, should any vitally necessary employment be eliminated by the Elevated officials or anyone else. We hear a great deal nowadays about post-war planning to provide employment for the men in the service when they return home. And here in this instance, we find the Elevated officials doing their bit to contract that employment by eliminating these most vitally necessary jobs. Commonsense reasoning will tell us that there should be a conductor in that first car. Quite often we see these one-man cars, these single units, nowadays, going along the tracks at a high rate of speed, and the reason for it is because the operator is behind his schedule and he is trying to make up lost time. What do these Elevated officials think? It is very hard to try to determine just what they have in mind. The safety of the public comes first, and it isn't for the Elevated officials to discard that safety. There is an absolute necessity that everything be done in these days, particularly, to provide every bit of employment that is possible, chiefly where it is so necessarily vital as it is in this instance here. In connection with that order, Mr. President, I am filing another order asking that the Committee on Public Safety of the Boston City Council hold a meeting, to which the officials of the Elevated and the officers of the Carmen's Union, and anyone else who might care to be heard, be invited. I know the feeling of the men who are operating the surface cars of the Elevated System. They don't want this responsibility. There is no such thing as this manpower shortage in so far as Elevated jobs are concerned. Why, I understand, Mr. President, that in some of the barns throughout the System—the barns, so called,—spare men don't leave that barn for one minute throughout the day excepting to take lunch. The Elevated can get all the help it needs, so that that can't be their excuse for attempting to put such a plan as this into effect. I sincerely hope, therefore, Mr. President, the Mayor will immediately consult with members of the Public Utilities Commission, and that they will refuse to permit the use of these two and three car trains, where but one operator is to be employed in the first car. I likewise hope that the Committee on Public Safety will hold a meeting within the next few days in order that we might find out for ourselves the feeling of the men belonging to the Street Carmen's Union, and that we might hear their objections to this contemplated plan.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council Committee on Public Safety be requested to hold a meeting to which the trustees of the Boston Elevated, President Dana, and representatives of the Carmen's Union are invited to discuss the proposed operation of two and three car trains on surface lines where only one operator is employed in the first car.

Coun. KINSELLA—I just want to say that there will be a meeting at 11 o'clock Friday morning, if we can get a quorum.

Both orders were passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. McCORMACK offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to instruct the Park Commissioners to acquire land in the White City section of Roslindale in the vicinity of the Seaver School in Ward 19, suitable for the construction of a small playground and that such a playground be constructed as quickly as possible and proper equipment installed to provide the children in this district with a badly needed play area.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTECTION FROM SEX PERVERTS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request his Excellency the Governor to take proper and immediate remedial steps in protecting and securing the safety and the welfare of human society from the lustful and murderous designs and attacks of the preying "sex perverts," such as recommending the erection or allocation of a present building for a detention quarters, secluding and isolating this type of moral degenerate from other trespassers of society, and society itself, and also more stringent enforcement of the court's sentence precluding all parole and pardon privileges and to increase the sentences meted out to this depraved individual.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I deliberately held in abeyance this order last week, because I have never had the thought that a man in public life should ever utilize the sorrow of a family to catapult himself into fame. But it has been brought out through the various newspapers of Boston that the State of Massachusetts has been remiss in its duty to society in protecting society itself from a man technically named a sex pervert. A few weeks ago, a former distinguished councilor of Boston—his young girl was desecrated and destroyed, spiritually and corporally, by a sex fiend. Since that time her soul has winged its way up through the eternal tribunal, and is now enjoying the happiness and bliss that is in store for each and everyone. But yet that death resounds not only within the corporate limits of Boston, but within the corporate limits of our state. Nothing has been done, and the apathy and indifference of his Excellency, Governor Leverett Saltonstall, has been brought to the forefront by his going to the Republican Convention without recommending that suitable quarters should be erected, or a site allocated, for the sex fiend. No words of mine can describe a sex pervert. It is not due to environment, it is not due to any hereditary traits. It is due primarily to the individual who preys upon the culpability of the adolescent in order to satisfy an insatiable desire for sex. And yet, we of human society have allowed this man to prowl and to place his gleaming eyes upon the spiritual integrity of a small girl. Laws are made by human beings and they are always based upon the moral law, and laws should be placed upon the statute books to carry out the mandate of the people and the exigencies of human life. But our state has allowed this depraved individual to prowl throughout the length and breadth of our state, and there are no detention quarters for him at the present time. The sorrow of the Frances McGrath death permeates our state at the present time, and particularly the Boston City Council, which at one time had her father as a colleague from the ward in Dorchester, and at that time his little girl was not born. His Excellency, the Governor, has plenary powers bestowed upon him by the Legislature because of war, and because of biennial sessions there will not be a gathering or convention of the Legislature until the beginning of next year. Something must be done. You can never correct or eliminate without trying to solve. It is up to his Excellency the Governor to take initial steps to recommend that the sentence be increased, and to preclude all pardon privileges and parole, and this individual should be isolated from all human society, and from any man or woman that may have trespassed the laws of society. It is up to his Excellency the Governor and I hope that his Honor the Mayor recognizes the potency of this order and so recommends.

Coun. KINSELLA—Of course I am in full accord with everything said by Councilor Hanley. I think the problem right now for the general public is to lay the blame where it properly belongs. A year or so ago I could not have accepted as an ordinary human being the attitude I have today, because in that year's time I have become the parent of a little boy. And it seems as though boys are no more immune to the fiendish attacks that these depraved vermin want to inflict upon them than are little girls. Everybody in here has some child that he dearly loves, no more than any of his other children. As grown people we know that children are born in this world with two strikes on them, to use the slang expression, and why society, because of antiquated laws or because of a mealy-mouthed, sob-sister attitude towards certain types of law breakers, should perpetuate them and keep them in existence, when death should be the penalty of their depravities, their depredations, is beyond me. About a month ago I received a call at home one night that three young married women, mothers of children, wanted me to go to the local court because one of these perverts had been arrested in the act of indecent exposure before little children in the Doherty Heights Park, in Charlestown. Of course I am not a lawyer, and when I came in contact with the women I asked them what they expected me to do, and they said, "We understand he has a very prominent lawyer. We want to see that the children's rights are protected." I went down to court, and after the case, which was handled by one of my fellow-councilors as attorney for the defense, the judge found the defendant guilty and gave him three months in the House of Correction, at Deer Island—and the place is crowded to the doors with men doing as long as six months for being drunk, and others doing a year or a year and a half for stealing. But this scum of the earth was required to serve only ninety days for molesting little children who in no way were able to defend themselves. His attorney then asked the Court, when $500 bail had been set upon, to release him, the defendant, into the lawyer's custody, and that he would produce him in Superior Court when they sent for him. And I asked permission, as a citizen and as a member of this Body, to address the Court. And I pointed out clearly to the Court that the defendant was a transient character in Charlestown, that he had no family other than a wife, that he was living in subsidized housing, and had no anchor in the town. And I went further, Mr. President, and I stated that a man found guilty of this type of offense against law and good morals would think more of $500 cash bail than he would his word to his lawyer, and I insisted that the bail be posted, and the bail was posted. In the meantime, the children of these three young mothers had contracted measles, because the three young mothers are day after day associates of each other. Therefore, their children, who are in their company all the time, contracted measles, one from the other, and they could not appear in court when the case was called in Superior Court. As a result, the case was postponed a week, and in that week's time the McGrath body was found, Friday, June 16, and that afternoon, the dullest day in Superior Court in the summer, the lawyers have this fiend in and they tried to get the Court to accept a plea of guilty, as a result of which his case was to be placed on file, or he was to be given probation—please make the correction—given probation. The prosecutor's office would not stand for it, and set the case down for Monday last, at 11.30 in the morning. And, before a judge who by reputation doesn't like to send anyone to jail, the man was permitted to change his plea. I am sorry I used the term "man," but we will let it go,—the defendant changed his plea and was given one year's probation,—one week ago this morning, when they were burying the McGrath girl,—one week ago today, when she was placed for all time in the cold, damp grave,—a little girl who had every right under the law of God to live and enjoy happiness and good health and family affection, and one of those depraved animals, of a number unknown to anyone, was turned loose almost with the blessing of the Court, by Judge Nelson P. Brown, whose standard of morals, no matter what he is in legal jurisprudence, must be pretty low indeed to turn that worm loose. And, mind you, his attorneys had every right in creation to defend him to the limits of their ability. Nor would I ask a lawyer to shun a case of that description. It is grist to his mill, and he is entitled to any income therefrom. I don't claim there was any corruption of justice. I claim any corruption lay within the heart and consciousness of Judge Brown's interpretation of his duty to decent society. Judge Brown ought to be impeached. And if you think I am being critical about it, I certainly mean to be. One of our Boston papers carried a story the other morning of a case in Federal Court, the Southeastern District of Massachusetts, where a woman had kidnapped a child, took the child to New York, and admitted it, and was placed on trial and found not guilty by a jury, which immediately drew down the wrath of Federal Judge Morton, who said that if there were any sex atrocities in this district in the next fifteen years, "you on the jury will be responsible." The common term to use, the common opinion to offer when one of these little children is taken and violated, and then killed, and her death brought about as a necessary complement to the first act,—the common expression is: "If that was my kid I wouldn't wait for the law." Well, whoever killed the McGrath child had the state on his side. John McGrath asked Governor Saltonstall for the State Guard. The child at that time was presumed to be alive, because he made the request within a couple of days of her disappearance. Yet, according to the reports, the child didn't die until forty-eight hours before Friday, June 16, having been missing a week or ten days, and John McGrath is well within his rights in blaming Governor Saltonstall for contributing to that child's death. Johnnie McGrath had every right in the world, just as we have, to expect that our children and our wives can go along the street and can go in the public parks and, yes, if necessary, go into the darkest holes that can be found, and still come out safe. If they don't, the strictest possible measures should be instituted against those responsible for anything happening to them, and that is not always the immediate criminal. In all too many instances it can be traced, the blame can sit squarely upon the shoulders of our officials who, for no excusable reason, will not cooperate. I want to echo Councilor Hanley's remark in saying that I don't want to climb upon the bier—now the grave—of an unfortunate, unhappy little girl. Before I opened my mouth here today I talked this over with John McGrath, and I told him of the happening that morning up in the Superior Court, one week ago today, and I said I would like to go in there today—I said, "John, I would like to go in there today and tell them what I think of Judge Nelson P. Brown, and all the Nelson P. Browns, but I don't want to be accused of trying to make the papers on the coffin of your little girl." And he said, "I am the kid's father. If there is anything you can say that will concentrate public opinion on the freedom that these people have, you have my permission to say it." I only hope that the little kid is happier than she might have been had she lived.

Coun. MUCHNICK—I had not expected to get into this, Mr. President. It so happens that I was counsel for the defendant of whom Councilor Kinsella has been speaking for the last few minutes. I was associated with Mr. Herbert Callahan in defense of the man who was complained of for a violation of the statutes. Nobody here, nobody in this city, has any more sympathy for Mr. and Mrs. McGrath than I have in their loss. But I was engaged in defending a man who had not been indicted for the murder of the McGrath child, who had not been indicted for abusing little children, but who had been complained of in the lower court for an offense that can happen to any or all of us by accident or mistake as well as by design. That case was tried in the lower court, and, as sentence was about to be pronounced, the judge in the lower court was perfectly willing to levy a fine on the defendant instead of putting him in jail, when the councilor from Charlestown injected himself into the picture and made a vehement plea, so that the fine was not levied. In Superior Court the case was originally on the list for Thursday, a normal day in Superior Court business, when, unknown to Mr. Callahan and myself, it was knocked off the list, and a motion was made on the following day, on Friday, to have it restored to the list. Monday, which is the busiest day in the Superior Court, Judge Nelson Brown, after hearing the story, and getting the man's background and medical history concerning the man in the past and on the particular day in question, very properly ruled, within his rights as a judge and within the law, as he did rule. It seems to me that this particular case has no place here in this Council. No castigation on Judge Brown is necessary or desirable, and the judge did only his duty, as has been done in hundreds of cases in the past. And I feel, where I was concerned in the trial of the case, that the true facts should be made known to this Council and to the people of the city. Judge Brown felt that it was a normal law case of a criminal nature that should be disposed of in a normal fashion, and he didn't wish it to be made a football, as some did desire to have it made, and it seems to me, and I repeat, he should in no way be criticized for doing his duty and doing it well.

Coun. KINSELLA—I wish that Councilor Muchnick would stick to the facts. I am not going to try the case here, but Councilor Muchnick knows that the first decision of the lower court was three months in the House of Correction with $500 bail, on bail. And then—the gentleman was outside when I recounted this—I will refresh his memory, it needs refreshing. He asked that the defendant be released in his custody. I opposed that, and then Councilor Muchnick asked that they post a $200 fine, which the judge very properly ridiculed and insisted on $500 bail. Now, it is rather significant that the defendant said nothing in his own defense, nor was he asked one question, either in the lower court or in the higher court—in the lower court by Councilor Muchnick, or in the higher court by either Councilor Muchnick or Mr. Callahan. It is also significant that when the police arrested him and asked him if he ever did this before, he said, "Yes, twenty years ago, in Seattle,"—is that right, Councilor Muchnick—"twenty years ago, in Seattle. Twenty years ago, in Seattle, he was found guilty in the lower court and appealed to the higher court, and they found him guiltless. I may say that much in an honest record of the facts in Seattle twenty years ago. He had an early start, at the age of twenty-two, and the fiend that killed the McGrath child started that way, and as long as Hermes Hincklyn is on the loose you might expect anything, and any lawyer that needs a fee had enough to defend that vermin can have it. I don't want it, and I don't think anyone else with decent instincts wants it."

Coun. MUCHNICK—As long as the question of fees has come up, I hope the other members of the bar won't be angry about this, but I defended the gentleman without fee.

REQUESTED APPEARANCE OF PARK COMMISSION CHAIRMAN.

Coun. RUSSO, McCORMACK and BAYLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the chairman of the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to appear before the Committee on Parks and Playgrounds to give reasons why money has been spent from the $25,000 appropriation for playground equipment for other purposes.

Coun. RUSSO—Some time ago, the Committee on Playgrounds and Parks had before them an order of $25,000 for additional equipment in the playgrounds of our city, and it is surprising to know that the committee has now been informed that moneys have been spent for other than those purposes. At the time we held the meeting, Commissioner Long was invited to appear before the committee to explain to us what this money was going to be used for. He didn't appear, but he sent one of his representatives, and his representative stated to us that that money was solely for additional equipment on our parks and playgrounds. We find now that moneys had been spent outside of that purpose. We have been informed that his representative had no authorization to make such statements. Mr. President, it is not the intent of this committee to oppose the recreation of the "Gay Nineties," which, as we understand it now, this money was used for. But it is the intent of this committee to live up to the purposes stated at the time that we approved it. I say that they can use other moneys for those functionings, and not take it away from the children of our city. There isn't one of us who is not clamoring every day of the week to have additional equipment in our playgrounds. I understand also, Mr. President, that part of this money was going to be used for the North End Park. I haven't seen anything of it yet. Many playgrounds in my district—and I know it must be so in every district—need additional equipment. Why, for the life of me, they should take this money and use it for other purposes, I can't understand. And I say, Mr. President, now, and always, that whenever this Council requests that the head of a department appear before its committee, that head of department must appear, so that we will have no conflict or no misrepresentation. They are getting paid for it, and they are getting good money, too. So I say, Mr. President, that hereafter his Honor the Mayor should make it his business to instruct all department heads—I know that we have had some up here before us willingly at all times—but I say to all of them, when this Council goes on record as requesting a head of department to appear before them it is their business to appear, and I can say it is not the intent of the committee to oppose any functioning whatsoever, but I believe that we are within our rights that any money that has been presented to us to be spent must be spent for the manner for which it was presented.

Coun. COFFEY—There is only one thing I want to touch on. Of course we have been hollering for playground equipment here for a long, long time. Even before I came into the Council I used to come up as a spectator and listen to Councilor Carey holler for playground equipment. A couple of years ago the former Police Commissioner had billboards advertising himself throughout the city regarding law and order, and so forth, and instead of a policeman's picture on these billboards appeared the picture of the Police Commissioner. As a result, I, and others, have asked the reason as to why his picture appeared there when any ordinary picture of any policeman would have been more effective. Now, I wonder if any of this money is being spent for posters advertising the Mayor, because in several sections of the city I have seen posters which read, "Come along with Mayor Tobin to the 'Gay Nineties'." I don't think it is at all necessary for Mayor Tobin's name to appear on these advertisements. Of course it is only up to July 11, because he won't be a candidate after that day, because he will be eliminated on that day, if I know anything about politics. But I would like to know if the auditor is holding up the paying of those posters. He did hold up the Police Commissioner and wanted the Police Commissioner to pay for the posters, as he was advertising himself. It might be a good thing if the auditor held up paying for those posters, and to have Mayor Tobin pay for those posters, as his name appears on them, because if anybody wants to go to the "Gay Nineties," sure enough, they don't have to go along with Mayor Tobin.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

COLEMAN DISPOSAL COMPANY GETS CONTRACT FOR DISPOSAL OF GARBAGE AND REFUSE AT SPECTACLE ISLAND AND MILE ROAD DUMP AT SAVING TO CITY FOR YEAR OF $360,000 IN TEN COLLECTION DISTRICTS—PRICE IS LESS THAN IN ANY YEAR OF TEN-YEAR PERIOD 1932-1942 AND $7,000 LESS THAN CONTRACT JUST TERMINATED—NEGOTIATIONS COMPLETED BY PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER AFTER SEVERAL CONFERENCES WITH DISPOSAL OFFICIALS.

A new and advantageous contract for removal of garbage and refuse for city districts has been negotiated and approved in accordance with the request of the Public Works Department in the following letter:

BOSTON, June 27, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The current one-year contract with the Coleman Disposal Company for the disposal, at Spectacle Island and the Mile Road dump, of garbage and refuse hauled by city forces and collection contractors working for the city in the following areas will terminate on next Friday, June 30:

South Boston.
Charlestown.
Dorchester (garbage only).
Roxbury.
Elm Hill (garbage only).

South End.
North End.
West End.
Back Bay.
City Proper.

This contract is of vital importance because it is one of a public health nature, and it is absolutely necessary, therefore, to provide for the continuation of the services rendered by the contractor under the provisions of the contract document. This system has been in effect for twenty-two years and is satisfactory — for the time being — in that it is sanitary, adequate and reasonably economical, and it is the only practical system that the city can adopt at this time, because we are precluded — due to wartime conditions — from constructing incinerators and disposing of garbage and refuse by that means.

As the Coleman Disposal Company is the only contractor qualified and able to provide for a continuation of the existing system, I have been negotiating with representatives of that firm for the past several weeks in connection with the executing of a new contract that will become effective at the termination of the present one. Prior to the completing of these negotiations, an audit and examination of the books of the contractor were made, under the direction of the City Auditor, and a copy of the report was made available to me for my conferences with representatives of the Coleman Disposal Company.

Not Excessive.

As a result of the auditor's report and observations made by department representatives during the period of the present contract, it is my unqualified opinion that the price paid to the contractor for performing the work during the fiscal year starting last July 1 was reasonable and did not provide for any excessive profits. The current contract specified that the city would pay $360,000 per year for the work, with the understanding that we would reimburse the contractor up to a limit of $10,000 for 50 per cent of any increases in wages granted to his employees by the War Labor Board. Increases — which were retroactive to last July 1 — were granted by the War Labor Board in January of this year, and the city will be required to pay approximately $7,000 in addition to the above-referenced contract price, because the increases will total approximately $14,000. In view of this, therefore, the present contract will cost the city approximately $367,000.

At the start of the current negotiations, the representatives of the contractor requested that they be granted an increase of approximately 10 per cent over the present contract price, because they felt that they were entitled to some payment for the rental of their plant and equipment. No rental for this plant or equipment has been allowed the contractors heretofore, and I did not feel that we should make any allowances for such an item in the new contract. The conferences that I have had with the contractor have ended satisfactorily and, in my opinion, to the best interests of the city, because we have reached an agreement whereby the Coleman Disposal Company will do the work during the next current year, starting with July 1, for $360,000, with the understanding that the total increase of $14,000 granted by the War Labor Board to the contractor's employees during the term of the present contract will be paid entirely by the contractor during the term of the new contract. In other words, the city's responsibility for paying 50 per cent of the increase will not be extended into the period covered by the new contract.

NEW CONTRACT FOR REMOVAL OF GARBAGE AND REFUSE.

NEW CONTRACT.

The new contract price is approximately $7,000 less than the current price and $18,000 per year less than the average price paid to this contractor on the ten-year contract which started July 1 of 1932 and terminated July 1 of 1942. The ten-year contract was awarded at a time when labor was receiving a maximum of 62½ cents per hour, whereas, at the present time, labor is receiving $1 per hour. Under the circumstances, therefore, I believe that the proposed new contract is a much better contract for the city than the ten-year contract, in so far as contract prices are concerned, and the new contract price of $360,000, in my opinion, is the lowest price that could be obtained to insure a continuation of the present sanitary system of garbage and refuse disposal.

Unquestionably, the Coleman Disposal Company would have submitted a bid if we had publicly advertised for proposals for the work to be done under the new contract, but it is my opinion that the price that was obtained as a result of negotiations is far less than the price that the contractor would have submitted on a public bid; and, aside from this point, no advantage would accrue to the city from publicly advertising for bids, because no other contractor, as pointed out hereinbefore, is qualified to render this important service to the city.

I respectfully request, therefore, your approval to the award of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, to the Coleman Disposal Company of 245 State street, Boston, at an agreed price of $360,000, for a period of one year, for the disposal of garbage and refuse from the districts enumerated hereinbefore, substantially in accordance with the specifications of the existing contract; with the understanding that the contract will be in effect from July 1 to December 31 of the current year, with the option on the part of the city, if agreeable to the contractor, of extending it to June 30, 1945; and with the further understanding that the city will pay — up to a limit of $10,000 for the maximum one-year contract period — one half the cost of any increase in wages granted by the War Labor Board to employees of the contractor working on this contract.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,

Commissioner of Public Works.

"BASTILLE DAY" PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR TOBIN.

Whereas, The fall of the Bastille on July 14, 1789, saw ancient despotism give way to the spirit of freedom and of decent respect for the rights of man in an epochal victory remembered and annually celebrated by the people of France ever since; and

Whereas, Now the great French national holiday, always an occasion of mutual rejoicing here in America, finds hundreds of thousands of the soldiers, sailors and aviators of the United States valiantly fighting to liberate France from Nazi domination and restore the French Republic to her natural place as a champion of peace, freedom and justice throughout the world; now, therefore

I, MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor of the City of Boston, hereby designate and proclaim

Friday, July 14, 1944, as an occasion for special observance by the people of Boston in whatever ways may be suitable to the traditions of Bastille Day—the "French Fourth of July."

Most especially I call upon all citizens to join in prayer to Almighty God that the armed forces of the United Nations and the resolute patriots of France may be granted speedy success in their efforts, so that the people of France may have surcease from suffering and an early return to unfettered sovereignty within their own homeland.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Boston to be affixed.

Done at City Hall, Boston, this thirteenth day of July, in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and forty-four.

MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with mercantile houses, supply places, and contractors for furnishing labor, supplies, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

MAYOR'S OFFICE

BOSTON, June 29, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Authority is requested to use the services of the De-

Mambro Radio Supply Company of 1111 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, Mass., without advertising, for the supplying and installing of sound system and lighting in the various wards and playgrounds in Boston on July 4, 1944, in connection with the Independence Day celebration, in the following amounts:

Ringer Playground, sound, $85; Ringer Playground, lights, $85.75; Ringer Playground, rental of chairs, $55.50; Cleveland Circle, $85; St. Gabriel's Monastery, $85—$396.25; Mary E. Hannon Playground, $85; Kelley square, East Boston, $150; Hampden Street Playground, $75; Smith Playground, Brighton, $85; Old State House and Boston Common, $285; Boys' Club, South Boston, $275. Total, $1,351.25.

In view of the fact that no advantage would accrue to the City of Boston by advertising, as the price for this radio system is uniform, I respectfully request that the DeMambro Radio Supply Company be awarded a contract for the above-mentioned sum.

Respectfully,

LAWRENCE McCABE,
Acting Director of Public Celebrations.

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 27, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—You are hereby requested to approve the award of a contract without publicly advertising for bids to Walter Reed Corporation, 1078 Boylston street, Boston, for the rebuilding of the baseball field at American Legion Playground, East Boston, in the estimated sum of $8,501.

The contract is to be made up on the same basis and the items necessary to carry out the work as a contract awarded to this contractor at other playground locations in Boston. Unit prices in the contract are to be the same as the contract in force except the price for loam and screened loam furnished, spread, and delivered, to be $2.50 per cubic yard instead of $2 per cubic yard. The reason for the higher charge for loam is due to the new location not being as accessible to the loam source as the other locations, resulting in a longer truck haul through more congested sections of the city and tunnel charges.

This contractor is on the job at the other locations with equipment and experienced men doing the same type of work, and it has been decided not to carry out the work at Gibson Playground at this time due to local conditions. In reality, the American Legion Playground is a substitution, very necessary, and can be done now. We feel that nothing can be gained by advertising for bids to do this work.

Respectfully,

WILLIAM P. LONG,
Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 28, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,

A thorough investigation into the market disclosed the impossibility of obtaining new equipment and, since the requisitioning department has been handicapped for sometime by its present equipment, our attention was then directed towards the used car market. The used car market had very little to offer in the line of ambulances, but within the past few weeks we were finally successful in locating a used 1937 LaSalle-Miller ambulance, in excellent condition, with low mileage, and fully equipped for the purposes for which it will be used.

Your permission is requested, therefore, to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the William J. Troy Company, 535 Harvard street, Brookline, for furnishing the following to the Sanatorium Division of the Hospital Department:

One used 1937 LaSalle-Miller ambulance, equipped with spot light, siren and flasher; two attendant seats; one Bomgartner cot assembly with mattress; built-in medicine cabinet; separate rear and front compartment hot water heaters; one 7 by 16 spare tire, mounted; color, steel gray, $2,170; less allowance on 1929 Studebaker ambulance, $170—$2,000.

Aside from the fact that our inquiries over the past two and one half months indicate that this is the only equipment available at this time, in my opinion the purchase of this ambulance will represent an exceptional value at considerable saving to the city.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, July 6, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to

A. Frylink & Sons, Babylon, New York, for furnishing approximately 22,100 dafodil bulbs at a price of $80 per thousand f. o. b. Babylon, to the Park Department.

In order for these bulbs to blossom in the spring of 1945, it is necessary that they be planted within the near future. The Park Department has made inquiry regarding other vendors and informs this office that the Frylink Company is the only concern prepared to supply the particular bulbs desired in the quantity needed.

Inasmuch as this company furnished the bulbs last year and the display in the Public Garden was satisfactory in every detail, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained through publicly advertising for bids. The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,768.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.

thirty-five feet to one of the girls whom he brought to the shore. The girl then informed him that her sister who was in the water with her had disappeared below the surface. Lieutenant Frazel again swam out into the river and diving down recovered the unconscious form of another girl whom he brought to the shore. He performed artificial respiration and restored her to consciousness.

Because of the fact that Lieutenant Frazel was undoubtedly responsible for saving the lives of the two girls and exposed himself to considerable risk in doing so, the Fire Commissioner is pleased to commend him highly and his case is referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

MERCHANT SHIP PRODUCTION.

Merchant vessels built in the United States in 1943 numbered 1,896 with a total deadweight tonnage of 19,239,626, according to a report by Admiral Land, chairman of the Maritime Commission and administrator of the War Shipping Administration. Of these, 208, aggregating 2,044,238 deadweight tons, were completed in December. Of the 1943 production, 1,238 vessels were Liberty ships; 70 C-1 cargo ships, 53 C-2 cargo ships; 39 C-3 cargo ships; 5 C-4 cargo ships; 167 tankers; 28 coastal tankers; 57 Liberty tankers; 3 passenger-cargo vessels; 33 coastal cargo ships, including two concrete ships; 16 ore carriers; 27 concrete barges; 46 seagoing tugs; 114 military types, not transports; 53 special types and a considerable number of smaller types, including tugs, barges, etc. Late in 1943, Admiral Land said 2,900 ships were under control of the War Shipping Administration, operated by some 76 general agents of the W. S. A.

PORT STORAGE IMPORT ORDER.

The Office of Defense Transportation, in an amendment to its general order No. 16, has instituted a permit system for acceptance by railroads or truckers of shipments of domestic or import freight to specified port areas for storage for the account of a government agency in a public warehouse in such area. Growing volume of imports, due to decline in ship losses, the O. D. T. said, was putting added strain on port storage facilities, thus making the institution of a permit system necessary.

The application for the port storage forwarding permit the order says, must be made by the government agency for whose account the freight is to be stored, in accordance with procedures prescribed by the director of the division of storage of the O. D. T., in an administrative order.

The following port areas were named in the order: Baltimore, Bellingham, Wash., Boston, Camden, Everett, Wash., Galveston, Houston, Jacksonville, Los Angeles, Mobile, New Orleans, Newport News, New York, Norfolk, Oakland, Cal., Olympia, Wash., Pensacola, Philadelphia, Portland Ore., Portsmouth, Va., Richmond, Cal., San Francisco, Savannah, Seattle, Tacoma, Tampa, Vancouver.

SEA-GOING DRY DOCKS.

Bigger than a battleship! That's the rough proportion of some of the new Navy floating dry docks which can be towed or self-propelled at speeds sufficient to follow our fleet into action. Indeed, the dry docks are large enough to handle even a mighty battleship when it needs repairs or overhauling.

Never before have floating dry docks been built so large, taken so far. Never before have docks of this character been so mobile. The Navy has spent upward of $300,000,000 on their floating dry dock program and it has been a shrewd investment. Now, instead of damaged warships traveling the thousands of miles from the theaters of action to an American coastal dry dock for repairs, it can be placed in a floating dry dock on the spot in a matter of hours, thus saving precious time.

TRANSPORTATION STATISTICS.

A recent analysis of surface transportation by John A. Beeler, transit engineer and consultant, reveals noteworthy performance by trolley coaches in comparison to other public transportation vehicles. Comparison of results of operation of trolley coaches with those of street cars on four different lines in as many different cities, shows, according to Beeler, that trolley coaches are eight times as good.

The analysis shows that in 1942, 25,449 street cars carried 5,171,000,000 revenue passengers; 3,363 trolley coaches carried 765,000,000; and 42,458 motor coaches carried 5,427,000,000 revenue passengers; the average fare being 6.66 cents, 6.89 cents and 6.72 cents, respectively; and the revenues being $344,600,000, $52,700,000 and $365,000,000, respectively. Average revenue passengers per street car was 203,191; per trolley coach 227,475; and per motor coach 127,820.

AIRCRAFT MATERIAL PRODUCTION 41
PER CENT OF TOTAL AUTOMOTIVE
WAR JOB.

Behind current attempts to knock Germany out of the war by means of airpower, stands the teamwork of the automotive industry, which has done much to get bombers in the air over Hitler's domain.

The motor industry, starting as a scrub team in the aircraft field a year before Pearl Harbor has since attained major league stature.

In the two years since December 7, 1941, the industry's output of bombers and fighters has constantly soared. Measured in dollar volume, it rose from $400,000,000 annual rate of production on the day of the Japs' assault to $4,300,000,000 on the second anniversary of that "day of infamy."

The same upward spiral took place in deliveries of all forms of war materials by automotive plants. When Pearl Harbor news struck, they had reached an annual production rate of $1,777,000,000 for all forms of military requirements: aircraft, military vehicles, tanks, guns, ammunition, marine engines and other equipment. Today the annual production rate tops the $10,000,000,000 mark.

TANKERS DO DOUBLE DUTY.

American shipyards are now making it possible for our tankers to carry extra loads. A scaffold-type extra deck enables a modern tanker to carry a load of extra freight the equivalent of 10 per cent of its normal load capacity. Some tankers now carry, in addition to its load of gasoline, deck loads of ambulances, planes, jeeps and trucks.

SQUARE DEAL IN ASSESSMENTS FOR TAXATION.

Many cities are finding it greatly to their advantage to have their tax valuations periodically overhauled. The first criterion of any assessment is equity. For every citizen who wants through "pull" or however else to get off easy, there are twenty, nay a hundred who want a fair and square deal for all.

The appraisal of city real estate is a highly technical affair.

Few things are more important than the equalization of assessments. Particularly in cities that are cramped by an inflexible debt or tax limit, an honest, full value assessment may be a great boon. Without the slightest raise in the tax rate a substantially greater tax yield may be had.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first shipboard takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

BOSTON SETS NEW RECORD FOR WASTE PAPER AND SCRAP TIN COLLECTIONS BY GATHERING IN 1,502,110 POUNDS OF WASTE PAPER AND 433,300 POUNDS OF TIN DURING JULY DRIVE WHICH ENDED LAST WEEK — HUNDREDS OF HUB'S JUNIOR PAPER TROOPERS AWARDED SERVICE RIBBONS BY RETURNED WAR VETERANS FOR PART THEY PLAYED IN PRODUCING THE RECORDS — PLAYGROUNDS SCENES OF AWARDS.

Boston, for the month of July, broke all previous records for the collection of scrap paper and tin, according to figures compiled and presented to the public by the Salvage Committee under the direction of George Hyland, Chairman. At the end of the collection drive it was shown that 1,502,110 pounds of waste paper and 433,300 pounds of tin cans had been gathered in.

As the result of the work of young people in the various districts, to whom much of the credit must go for the record collections, many of them are wearing ribbons of honor awarded them by returned veterans for the work they had performed. The awards distributed were blue and gold service ribbons. The ceremonies were held in a number of the playgrounds in all sections of the city.

The previous high record for the salvage of waste paper in Boston was established in April, when Hub residents contributed 1,438,235 pounds of newspapers, magazines, cardboard and other miscellaneous paper.

The collections in Wards 19 to 22 yielded 435,190 pounds of waste paper and 100,700 pounds of scrap tin to close the five-day salvage campaign. Ward 20, West Roxbury and Roslindale, again led every section of Boston in the reclamation of waste paper.

Contributors of waste paper in Wards 15 to 18, whose names were drawn as the winners of the war bonds offered for those districts, were Mrs. Stephen Lynch of 55 Ridgewood street, Dorchester; Ann Marie DePesa of Minot street, Dorchester; George C. Halzel of 11 Colonial avenue, Dorchester; and Freddie Tolland of 181 Fairmount avenue, Hyde Park.

Fliers, marines and navy men were among the service men who presented the ribbons to the paper troopers, ranging in age from seven to twelve, who were organized throughout the city a few weeks ago by playground directors, under the supervision of Associate Director of Physical Education Joseph McKenney of the Boston School Department.

In exercises held on the Bunker Hill reservation in Charlestown, more than 200 boy and girl paper troopers were decorated by Corporal Charles Driscoll of Charlestown, a marine who saw action on Guadalcanal.

A corps of Roxbury children received their ribbons at similar exercises at the Roxbury Crossing play area.

Ceremonies of like nature were held at the Bacon School yard on Vernon street, Roxbury; the Nathan Hale School yard on Cedar street, Roxbury; in the Julia Ward Howe School yard on Dale street, Roxbury, and in the Perkins School yard on St. Botolph street, Back Bay, for the Perkins yard and the Everett playground troopers.

During the salvage drive, the paper troopers visited practically all the 160,000 families in Boston.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

CIRCULAR LETTER NO. 12.

CITY OF BOSTON,

MAYOR'S OFFICE, July 14, 1944.

To the Heads of Departments.

GENTLEMEN,—You are hereby directed to grant leave of absence, without loss of pay, to employees in your department who are delegates or alternates of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, to attend the Annual Department Convention to be held in the City of Boston, August 4, 5 and 6, 1944.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 172.

The resignation of Patrolman Michael F. McDonough of Division 10 having been presented while charges against him are pending, it is hereby accepted, to take effect on Saturday, July 22, 1944, at 5.45 o'clock p. m., seven days' notice waived.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

CONTRACTS AWARDED.

Permission to award contracts for work, materials and supplies, in accordance with recommendations of department heads, has been approved by the Mayor.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Upon July 22 the Mayor approved a contract with the S. J. Tomasello Corporation, the lowest bidder, for sheet asphalt pavement in Beach street, Blackstone street, Central street, Federal street, Oak street, State street and Union street, at an estimated cost of $37,878.50. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed December 23, 1944. The following bids were received July 18:

S. J. Tomasello Corporation, $37,878.50; Baker & Co., $38,693; Earl M. Carriere, $39,020; Warren Brothers Roads Company, $40,334.20; M. DeMatteo Construction Company, $43,791.75.

Upon July 22 the Mayor approved a contract with Edward M. Matz, Inc., for sheet asphalt pavement in Pleasant street and East Cottage street, at an estimated cost of $38,780.

A tie bid occurred between Baker & Co. and Edward M. Matz, Inc. These contractors are equally qualified to perform the work required under the provisions of this contract and both firms have done satisfactory work for the department in the past. Baker & Co. is busier at the present time on contract work than Edward M. Matz, Inc., and for this reason, which is agreeable to Mr. Henry Baker of Baker & Co., the contract is awarded as provided above. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed November 30, 1944. The following bids were received July 7:

Edward M. Matz, Inc., $38,780; Baker & Co., $38,780; S. J. Tomasello Corporation, $40,132; Hancock Construction Company, $40,526; Martin J. Kelly Company, Inc., $41,898; Walter Reed Corporation, $39,866.

Upon July 22 the Mayor approved a contract with M. DeMatteo Construction Company, the lowest bidder, for bituminous concrete pavement in Brewer street, Bishop street, Gordon street, Plainfield street, Thomas street, Lochstead avenue and Sherwood street, at an estimated cost of $28,064. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed December 23, 1944. The following bids were received July 17:

Including Concrete Base.—M. DeMatteo Construction Co., $33,711.50; S. J. Tomasello Corporation, $32,650.75; Walter Reed Corporation, $34,387; Charles Capone, $36,783.75; Baker & Co., $37,872.50; Martin J. Kelly Co., Inc., $41,561.

Including Bituminous Macadam Base.—M. DeMatteo Construction Company, $28,064; S. J. Tomasello Corporation, $32,650.75; Walter Reed Corporation, $35,014.50; Charles Capone, $36,156.25; Baker & Co., $38,500; Martin J. Kelly Co., Inc., $41,812.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

Upon June 30 the Mayor approved a contract with bidders for furnishing crushed sand as indicated in the accompanying letter:

BOSTON, June 12, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Under date of March 9, 1944, bids were publicly opened and read in this office on proposals for furnishing crushed stone, screened bank gravel and sand for the Public Works Department until January 31, 1945. On recommendation of the Public Works Commissioner these bids were rejected.

On May 8, 1944, following readvertisement, bids were again publicly opened on crushed stone and sand, it having been decided that there was no necessity at this time to solicit bids on screened bank gravel.

Analysis of the bids received indicated that the prices submitted on crushed stone are, in most instances, higher than those submitted at the previous opening. Your permission is, therefore, respectfully requested to reject all bids received on crushed stone and award contracts only for sand. These awards—to the lowest bidders, as checked on the attached tabulation—will be as follows:

Joseph Columbo & Sons: Districts 1, 6 and 9, 6,000 tons at 65 cents (less 3 per cent), $3,900.

Highland Sand and Gravel Company, Inc.: Districts 2, 3 and 4, 3,000 tons at 85 cents (less 2 per cent), $2,550.

George H. Noone Sand and Gravel Company: Districts 5 and 11, 3,000 tons at 57 cents (less 2 per cent), $1,710; Districts 7 and 8 and Ward Street Sand Hopper, 6,000 tons at 73 cents (less 2 per cent), $4,380—$6,000.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

Bids were as follows:

Districts 1, 6 and 9, South Boston-Dorchester, 6,000 Tons Sand, Per Ton.—Walker Brothers, 80 cents; total, $4,800; Joseph Columbo & Sons, 65 cents*; total, $3,900; George H. Noone Sand and Gravel Company, 69 cents; total, $4,140; Highland Sand and Gravel Company, Inc., 85 cents; total, $5,100.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

the Bethlehem Steel Company was the only one in a position to perform this work. Therefore, since nothing was to be gained by advertising, I am herewith requesting your Honor's permission to dispense with such advertising and for permission to issue a service order in the amount of one thousand five hundred and sixty-one dollars ($1,561) to the above company for the completion of this work.

HUGH J. CAMPBELL,
Commissioner.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, June 29, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—On December 14, 1943, we requested permission to award, without advertising, repair work to the steamer "Michael J. Perkins," in the sum of $5,282.48. Same was approved by your Honor on December 22, 1943.

We were unable to obtain a definite estimate for repairs from the Bethlehem Steel Company until after the work was completed, as the pressure of work on contracts for the Government is so great that it was impossible to give special attention to outside concerns. Repairs which had not been anticipated were discovered after the work progressed, necessitating a much greater expenditure.

I respectfully request that you approve, without advertising, the added amount of $5,471.52 to be awarded the Bethlehem Steel Company, making a total of $10,754 for the contract.

This letter was approved by your Honor on June 19, 1944, but we discovered later that the total for the contract read $10,570 instead of $10,754.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH P. DONAHOE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

Including Concrete Pipe.—Martin J. Kelly Company, Inc., $4,062.50; Baker & Co., $5,219; Angelo Grande, $5,409; Joseph Botti & Son, $6,335.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, etc., for furnishing supplies, labor, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 14, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Subject to your Honor's approval I will award, without advertising, the work of supervising, reorganizing and modernizing the filing system in the Fire Prevention Division of this department to Remington Rand, Inc., 118 Federal street, Boston, for the sum of approximately $1,800. The work will also include the establishing of a visible complaint file of 1,000 records completely set up.

This work is being undertaken in order to provide a modern filing system in place of a system which has been in operation for approximately twenty-five years.

Approximately 100,000 records are involved in the work, including applications for inflammable fluids, inspection reports, licenses, notices to abate fire hazards, etc.

The required time for the work is indefinite, but on the basis that records from 1938 to date may be segregated and set up in a merged active file, it is estimated that two to two and one half months would be spent on this work.

Approximately $300 of the $1,800 total will be spent for the establishment of a control system for complaint records. At the present time the system in operation is not satisfactory and it is very important that pending orders for abatement of fire hazards and menaces be followed through regularly until each case is closed.

The establishment of a modern filing system is to be done in connection with reorganization work in the Fire Prevention Division, involving the appointment of a chief clerk and two permanent filing clerks to supervise future records.

Remington Rand, Inc., is an authority in the field of filing systems, maintaining a special department for installing and reorganizing such systems. Approximately fourteen years ago this company established a personnel system for the Fire Department which has proven to be a model of efficiency in operation. Our experience with the company warrants our confidence in recommending that they be employed again for setting up the proposed record system.

In my opinion, no advantage would be gained by the City of Boston through publicly advertising this work because the final cost depends upon the amount of time required for the accomplishment of the work. Actually, we are employing on a weekly basis, filing authorities who will supervise and work with our own employees. The work can be stopped at any time, but on an estimated period of two to two and one half months it is expected the cost of the work will be $1,800.

Advertising the work would not result in any less cost and it is doubtful that any other company would be able to undertake the work and provide the personnel required at any substantial saving in money or time for the city.

Very truly yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, July 18, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—Permission is respectfully requested to award, without publicly advertising, a contract for a thirty-five-foot cabin power boat, called the Hilda-E, to be purchased from Raymond Arthur Olaski of 84 Sunnyside avenue, Winthrop, at a price of $1,800. This boat has a Van Dierck motor and the Coast Guard Registration Number is A-25.

The Hilda-E has been selected by the Master of the House of Correction as best suited to his needs. This boat will be used to transport prisoners and food from Long Island to Deer Island.

In view of the scarcity of boats of this type during the war, I urge your approval of this request.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

APPROVAL OF SALE OF CERTAIN PROPERTY OF SAMUEL GROSS DAVIS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, May 17, 1944.
To the Honorable the City Council.
Gentlemen,—Samuel Gross Davis, late of Boston, bequeathed to the City of Boston in his will a one-fifth interest in the residuum of his estate after the distribution of specific bequests. This bequest was accepted by the City of Boston by an order passed by your Honorable Body on June 12, 1933, and approved by the Mayor June 13, 1933. Under the terms of the bequest and its order of acceptance there was established the charitable trust known as the City of Boston—Samuel G. Davis School Fund. The New England Trust Company and Edwin C. Clark (now deceased), executors of the Davis estate, have distributed approximately the entire personal estate of the deceased and the City of Boston—Samuel G. Davis School Fund had to its credit at the beginning of this calendar year the sum of $91,742. In addition to the foregoing amount received, the City of Boston as a residuary legatee has a one-fifth interest in certain real estate formerly held by the testator Samuel G. Davis. This real estate is situated in West Falmouth, Massachusetts, and consists of two parcels of vacant and unimproved land: the first of said parcels is situated on the westerly side of Nonamessett street, extending into West Falmouth Harbor, and contains approximately 8.3 acres of wooded upland and 3 acres of marshland; the second of said parcels is situated on the easterly side of Nonamessett street and contains approximately 4 acres of wooded upland.

This property has been on the market for sale during the past eleven years without substantial offer being made therefor. At the present time the New England Trust Company, the remaining executor of the Samuel G. Davis estate, has been negotiating for a sale of the first of said parcels, the parcel containing approximately 11.3 acres of upland and marsh. The New England Trust Company has received a bona fide offer for this parcel in the amount of $10,000.

The office of the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston has inquired into all aspects relative to this property and has had an appraisal valuation made thereon. The pertinent facts relative to the first of said two parcels of property may be briefly summarized as follows: appraisal valuation, $13,950; tax assessment valuation, $15,000; tax rate, 1943, $22.80. The pertinent facts relative to the second of said two parcels of property may be briefly summarized as follows: appraisal valuation, $2,025; tax assessment valuation, $3,000; tax rate, 1943, $22.80. The carrying charges for this property as it is composed entirely of unproductive land consists solely in real estate taxes (1943, $410.40) and liability insurance (1943, $10). The carrying charges for the years 1933–1938 have been paid by the executor and charged to the expenses of administration of this estate. The carrying charges against this property for the years 1939–1943 have been paid by the executor and have been charged against the remaining personal property assets held by the executor for distribution to the residuary legatees. The executor at the present time has in his possession personal property assets in the approximate amount of $570. If this property remains unsold, for any long period of time, the carrying charges against this real estate will exceed the remaining personal property assets and it will be necessary for the City of Boston to contribute as a residuary legatee its proportionate share to pay said charges.

Sharing in this estate together with the City of Boston and in a sum total interest equal to four-fifths thereof are the following residuary legatees: Town of Mashpee, Massachusetts; Town of Brunswick, Maine; Elizabeth Gleason Macdougall, Wellesley, Massachusetts; Mary A. Bridge, Longwood, Florida; Marion Bachelder, Wakefield, Massachusetts; Elmer B. Williams, Bath, Maine; Oscar A. Knight and Oscar D. Knight, Melrose, Massachusetts; Frank L. Knight, Sidney, New York. All of said residuary legatees I am informed have notified the executor of their assent to the pending sale of the first of said parcels of land in the amount of $10,000.

Based upon all the facts, and with due consideration of the City of Boston's interest and with consideration and regard for the rights and interests of others holding title in common with the city, it is my opinion it is to the advantage of the city that this property be sold at the present time and the outstanding offer of $10,000 for the first and larger of said two parcels of property be accepted by the executor, the New England Trust Company.

I transmit to you herewith an order whereby your Honorable Body may authorize the sale and conveyance of the City of Boston's interest in this property, and I recommend passage thereof.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Whereas, Samuel Gross Davis, late of Boston, Massachusetts, in his will bequeathed in the residuary clause therein:

"one fifth to the City of Boston, Mass., the income thereof only to be used by the Boston School Committee or their successors in giving cash prizes, in the Roxbury District only, of five and multiples of five dollars each to two girls and two boys, or to four scholars if a school is for one sex, in each class of every high school and grammar school, for kind good manners without consideration of clothing worn. A medal may also be given to the leading one of the prize scholars of each class, (My ancestor William Davies or Davis was one of the first settlers of Roxbury)."

Whereas, The will of Samuel Gross Davis was allowed in the Probate Court of the County of Suffolk, December 22, 1932, and the bequest to the City of Boston was accepted by an order passed in City Council June 12, 1933, and approved by the Mayor of Boston June 13, 1933; and

Whereas, The City of Boston as a residuary legatee under the will of Samuel Gross Davis has a one-fifth interest in certain lands situated in the Town of Falmouth, County of Barnstable; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized, in the name and behalf of the City of Boston, to execute an instrument or instruments satisfactory in form to the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston and upon such terms satisfactory to the Mayor whereby the City of Boston may sell, release or convey its one-fifth interest in said lands situated in the Town of Falmouth; and it is hereby further

MAKING PROVISIONAL FIREMEN PERMANENT.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Fire Commissioner to confer with the Civil Service Commission in an effort to have the provisional firemen of the City of Boston made permanent, due to the fact that the city is in dire need of firemen and these provisional men have sacrificed good paying positions in order to insure the city of the necessary protection to the citizens.

Coun. KEENAN—In introducing that order, I had in mind seeing fire engines going through the streets of Boston, some with just a driver on them. I think his Honor the Mayor should do everything in his power to increase the force of the Boston Fire Department, and I hope that this order will be passed.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LAND TAKEN FOR EXPANSION OF EAST BOSTON AIRPORT.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council as to what land owned by the City of Boston and the Boston Port Development Company was taken by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts by eminent domain for the expansion of the East Boston airport.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, a couple of months ago this Body was taken for a ride—and I mean taken for a ride—over to the East Boston airport, and at the time we were under the impression—I think most of the councilors were, the same as myself—that when land-takings were to be taken over there for the expansion of the airport they were going to be taken with the approval of the Mayor and the Boston City Council. The day after nomination, to everybody's amazement in East Boston—I don't know about Boston particularly—but in East Boston we were amazed to find out that the State Department of Public Works stepped in and by eminent domain took these parcels of land owned by the Boston Port Development Company, on which taxes have been owed for the past twelve years, and on which no taxes have been paid. They stepped in and took this land by eminent domain and, according to the newspapers,—that is the only information that has come to my attention,—stated that the price was to be set later. I am also informed there were also taken land there owned by the city that the Mayor has treated the people of East Boston fair and square in taking these two strips of land owned by the city, and I don't think the Law Department or the Finance Commission have played fair with the people of East Boston by allowing McDonald &

Company land to be taken without at least entering a protest, or without at least sending a member of the Law Department up there to protect the city's interests, to make sure that the money that is owed is paid—not after the land is taken by eminent domain but previous to the time the land is taken by eminent domain. I think every one of you councilors are familiar with the facts I brought out, the facts that I have brought out on the floor here for the past two years, about all the moneys that have been owed by this Boston Port Development Company. I think there is something like $179,000 now that remains to be paid. If my information is correct, the state is going to pay the Boston Port Development Company something like $180,000, and, according to the agreement made between the Finance Commission, the Corporation Counsel, McDonald and the Mayor, on any lands sold by the Port Development Company of over $50,000 a 50 per cent abatement would be granted to the Boston Port Development Company. Now, if that is the true picture—and I gather that it is—the Boston Port Development Company will get themselves back something like $90,000, have their taxes paid, and still have plenty of land in East Boston that the city should have foreclosed on for nonpayment of taxes during the past twelve years. Personally, I think that is a rotten deal. They waited for just one thing—one day after nomination—and stepped in and took the land by eminent domain. I want to ask everybody here why we were taken for that ride if the state intended at that time to take the land by eminent domain. Why go to the trouble? They are supposed to be "big shots," close to the Chamber of Commerce, who want this airport—and I might bring out while I am at it that there is going to be something like 278 more airports built within the confines of Massachusetts, but not one nickel has been allocated for the East Boston airport by the Federal Government. As I have said on the floor here time and time again, if that airport was of any importance the Government would have taken it over right after Pearl Harbor. The only screech that the aviation clique make is that it is 200 miles nearer Europe. And I repeat, if it was of any importance to the Government they would have stepped in right after Pearl Harbor and taken that over. Why didn't the order come up from the Mayor requesting us, the members of the Boston City Council, to pass on the taking of this land, not only of McDonald & Company, in view of the fact he still owes taxes on that land, but also on two strips owned by the City of Boston? They didn't send an order up here—I mean the Mayor's office—nor did they bother to send anybody up to the Land Court to contest the taking of this land. I said it was a steal before, and I repeat it now. It is one of the biggest steals that ever happened within the confines of Massachusetts—to go out and spend from $20,000,000 to $35,000,000 on an airport that is not needed. And you can take my word for it that every pilot that has ever driven a plane into that airport has said that it is no place for an airport, that it ought to be inland, because there is too much fog there. And, of course, we are going to have the situation arise in the near future where they are going to take our homes, our parks, our playgrounds and our beaches. As I said before, they will have a hell of a fight although they are all-powerful, but they wouldn't be powerful if there were twelve men in this Body who would stand up in their shoes and say, "You are not going to take anything more in that section of East Boston without getting the consent of the Mayor and the Boston City Council." That is what we are sent up here for. There is no loophole where they can go over our heads, step into court and take this by eminent domain, because I have it in writing that they agreed to pay certain sums of money on certain days. They didn't keep their agreements; they didn't pay that money up to today. That money should have been paid as far back as last October. And I still state that if we stand up in our shoes we can demand the city foreclose—because right here in writing I have it, and I have read it on the floor of the Council time and time again—if they didn't make these payments on the day they were due they would forfeit their land to the City of Boston. I ask that this be referred to the Executive Committee and that we send for the assessors and the Law Department and have them come down here and tell us what land they took that is owned by the Boston Port Development Company, and also explain to us what land they took that the city owned, and if any prices have been agreed on in the past or in the future. I think they owe that to us as members of the Boston City Council. It would be the same thing if they were going to take the land from any part of the City of Boston. I would be just as quick to get up on the floor and screech. This happens to be in my section. We don't want the airport. We proved that beyond doubt. We don't want it, because every precinct surrounding that airport went through in this last contest for a man they never saw—a man that asked, "Is East Boston the place you go through to get to Suffolk Downs?" And that man carried those precincts with a two to one majority. And every one of those precincts went two to one, or better than two to one, against Maurice Tobin for one reason, they don't want that airport there. We don't want to lose our homes, our parks, our playgrounds and our beaches. And the day after nomination the state steps in and by eminent domain takes that land, and it must have been with the consent of the Mayor of the City of Boston. He should know by now that the people of East Boston don't want that airport. There is a district where he carried every one of those precincts; two to one against James Curley when Curley carried the ward two to one, and now every one have reversed themselves and voted two to one against Maurice Tobin. He has thirteen popular prominent people on the City of Boston pay roll and they couldn't carry that precinct for him, and he didn't have one worker opposed to him in that precinct. He has called those people in and expressed amazement that the precinct voted against him, but everyone told him the same story, "We don't want the airport." I hope this is referred to the Executive Committee. The Corporation Counsel has been summoned down today and also the Board of Assessors and, if need be, the gentlemen downstairs in the real estate office, so we will know once and for all what action is to be taken.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reopen the East Boston Relief Station on a 24-hour-a-day basis.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

PURCHASE OF CAPS FOR STREET-CLEANING EMPLOYEES.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to inform the City Council against what item in his budget the purchase of caps for employees of the Street-Cleaning Division is charged, and whether or not it is proposed also to purchase uniforms for these employees.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I have had two groups of people come up to see me in the Council during the past week. They have been ordered to wear striped caps, I guess, by the Public Works Department Commissioner, because they are employees of that department, the street cleaning men. The caps are made by the Tobias Hat and Cap Company, 77 Bedford street. It is a very heavy cap, a striped cap. They resent very much the fact that they have to wear these caps, because they claim they are considered prisoners' caps. They look like prisoners' caps, and it is a very heavy cap to be wearing during the summer time. Some of them went on to say that if they were forced to wear these caps and, in the near future, the uniforms made for them, they would resign from their positions. They would rather wear their old clothes and an old Panama hat to keep the sun off their eyes. I don't know where this order came from. I don't recall any appropriation for it coming up before this Body, asking that money be expended for these caps and uniforms for city employees. If anybody has that information I would like to get it. So I also ask that this be referred to the Executive Committee, and that the Public Works Commissioner and the auditor be sent for to inform us how the Tobias Hat and Cap Company happened to get this contract, and whether there are going to be uniforms made, and under what item this appropriation is coming, and what the expense is, and so forth. I would like to have the order referred to the Executive Committee.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

BOYS' CLUB IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to take up with the trustees of the Hayden Foundation the matter of erecting a boys' club in the East Boston section of the city.

Coun. COFFEY—Just briefly on this. I had a talk with the Mayor. I wasted a whole day riding around East Boston with him, picking out logical spots to give to the East Boston people, and he mentioned that he might get a boys' club from the Hayden Foundation, and now I am hoping that he does.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLEANING OF EAST BOSTON PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately clean up the parks and playgrounds in the East Boston district.

Coun. COFFEY—I can be brief on this also, and just want to say that the parks and playgrounds are in a disgraceful and filthy condition.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

FIRE STATION IN ORIENT HEIGHTS SECTION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to submit to the City Council an appropriation order of sufficient amount to provide for the erection of a fire station in the Orient Heights section of East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I introduced some orders over a year ago—just a year and a half ago we had such a fire there that there were two people burned to death. Right after that I introduced an order that the Mayor take some action with reference to building a fire house up in the Orient Heights section. The nearest fire house is some two miles away, and this section probably has 25,000 to 30,000 inhabitants, and they are without any fire protection at all. I hope that the Mayor will see fit to go through with this order and take some action with regard to this fire house.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

OUTSIDE REGISTRATION OF SERVICE MEN, ETC.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Election Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately arrange for outside registration of service men in all wards of the city for a period of ten days, and also for the purpose of receiving applications for absentee ballots.

Coun. KINSELLA—I understand that Massachusetts is supposed to have the easiest and most workable soldier voting law in the entire Union. It seems to me, Mr. President, that relatives who by state law are entitled to make application for absentee ballots for the boys and girls in the service should not be put to the inconvenience of coming into Boston from remote parts of the city during business hours, which have already been established—from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. every day but Saturday, which is 9 to 12 in the morning. We all know that with the registration drives for new voters they have opened registration places, but they have regular personnel attached to the registration department to function there as registrars, and I think the department might very well adopt the suggestion of the Mayor and order that those registration places be opened at the same hours in the evening as they would be in normal registration drives, to expedite and encourage application by relatives for absentee ballots for service men and women.

Coun. COFFEY—I didn't want to get into this, but from what I see of the Election Department I think this is a splendid order introduced by the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella). Anything that would help take the work from those election commissioners, I am for it. In the first place, there are four down there that could do a hell of a lot better if they stayed out of Purcell's. They spend nine-tenths of their time at Purcell's, and one-tenth in City Hall. When you see anybody looking for them when they are in the Hall, they are in a condition that you couldn't talk to them and you couldn't get an intelligent answer. I have told this to them to their faces more than once. After nomination that place was in such confusion down there that if a person went in to get any information he could not only not find out how many votes a candidate got, but they couldn't tell him who won. And I mean what I say. They didn't know who won, let alone being able to give the complete figure. I am not the only one to complain. I have heard dozens of people, and councilors here and members of the Legislature, complain as to the "slaphappy" way they run that department down there. For example, in the State House, when you go there to withdraw they have a slip, a form all made out. All you have to do is sign your name and say you withdraw from whatever contest you happen to be in. But downstairs you have to do that in longhand, and after you do it they tell you it is done wrong; then they will instruct you and they, themselves, don't know how to do it. And I know what I speak of, because when I went in to protest papers they had no form, and I had to write it out in longhand, and after I wrote it out it was about seven or eight minutes before five, and they said, "That is written wrong." And by the time they showed me it was after five o'clock, but they said, "That is all right; you made your protest before five o'clock, so everything is all right." Then I wrote it out the way they wanted me to and I discovered it was too late. The stamp that they put on it was two minutes past five o'clock, and I lost a case through the Commonwealth because of the ignorance of these so-called election commissioners. There is another case where you can go to the State House if you want to protest a candidate's paper. You usually wait until the last minute if you have any political sense, for the reason that you don't want the candidate to protest your papers, while you have a legitimate "beef" for opposing the candidate. And they have a form that you sign stating you oppose, and you fill in the reasons and sign your name, and you can do it in thirty seconds. But downstairs they haven't that form. And downstairs, after this nomination, and every other nomination as long as I can remember, they refused to give the figures out—not the figures they had, because they didn't compile the figures, but the figures that were compiled and sent over from the precinct wardens, and also every precinct in Boston. They absolutely refused to give those figures out. The men over there are living in fear. The little chairman over there has become a "Hitler." He is telling them what to do and what not to do.

Nobody pays any attention, because they know he hasn't got the guts to fire them or bring up charges, because their counter charges would be so strong he couldn't make a case of theirs. Something should be done with that Election Department. There are four down there that are "beauts." Take an ordinary laborer and let him get sick or knocked out with a rupture or acute appendicitis, maybe the department head tries to cover him, but he can only do it for two weeks. How many months of the year have the election commissioners missed—not days, not weeks, but months? I know one that was out eighteen months and drew $100 a week for eighteen months that he was out. I say it is a rotten deal, but what can we do about it? It isn't what we can do, it is just a case where we won't do anything about it. That is about the size of it, to tell you the God's truth. Go over there to find out anything and you will find that they know less than we do. I saw where a man lost Boston only by seven votes, and they couldn't tell the figure and couldn't tell the man whether he won or lost, and that was three days after the nomination was over, and he was in a quandary, and to protect himself he asked for a recount. He didn't know, because they didn't know, and all they had to do was to look at the book, take the senatorial districts of Boston and tell the man the figures. But they wouldn't do that. Of course there might be favoritism. They knew the man had lost and probably they didn't want him to ask for a recount. So I am in favor of any order that will give some work to those election officers.

The order was passed under a suspension of the rule.

CHANGING NAME OF HIGH STREET, CHARLESTOWN, TO LYONS STREET.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Street Commissioners, through his Honor the Mayor, be instructed to proceed forthwith to changing the name High street, Charlestown, Ward 2, to Lyons street, and that all legal formalities be complied with as soon as possible, so that this change of name if favorably acted upon may be made at the earliest possible legal date.

Coun. KINSELLA—At this late date, Mr. President, I would like to pay my personal tribute to the memory of one of the greatest doctors that Boston has ever produced, Fred L. Lyons, of Charlestown, dead and buried a couple of months ago. Because of the fact that we were in recess for the last three weeks, and because of the fact, further, that I wanted to ascertain the wishes of the family in this matter, I held off action until today, our first day together. My action, from the reading of the order, contemplates the change of the name from High street, Charlestown, to that of Lyons street. About thirty or thirty-five years ago Doctor Lyons was graduated from medical school, and thereafter, until the day he died, he practiced medicine within the limits of Charlestown, and in many cases, outside of the district even, without any fee for his services, at any hour of the day or night he was called to perform functions. On the day that Doctor Lyons was buried it might be of interest to know that one of the largest churches in Boston was packed, not only to overflowing, but out on to the sidewalk, by people, not prominent or famous in the city or state government, as many were, but by poor townspeople who, in many instances, owed their lives to the skill of Doctor Lyons, who practiced on them in their illnesses. To use a street corner expression, which probably sums up Doctor Lyons' qualities better than anything flowery can do, I might say, and let it go at this, that Doctor Lyons was a great guy, one of the finest characters it has ever been anyone's privilege to meet in or out of politics, or in or out of the medical profession. High street is not named for any human character, but for its physically being one of the high points in town, and I don't think that we will encounter any opposition from any body in the town, or any historical society that may be interested in naming streets in the neighborhood of the monument. I would never pass up an opportunity to speak of him as I did speak of him, and I only hope I meet more people in or out of politics, or in or out of the medical profession, of whom I can say the same thing that I said about Doctor Lyons. He was truly a devotee of his art, and he practiced the Hippocratic oath until the day of his death.

HANDLING OF APPLICATIONS FOR ABSENTEE BALLOTS.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the Election Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to make immediate arrangements to put on additional help to handle applications for absentee ballots.

COLLECTION OF GARBAGE IN DORCHESTER.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Public Works Commissioner to see that Coleman Brothers, Inc., live up to the terms of their contract in the collection of garbage during the summer months in the Dorchester district.

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, I am going to ask you to refer that to the Committee on Public Safety that you appointed the first of the year. That committee is still open, because I have yet to make a report of the meetings that I held six months ago, so I am going to ask you to refer that to the same committee.

Coun. COFFEY—Talking on the Coleman Brothers contract, I imagine I can get this in. I notice they have just received a contract from the city. Now, I challenge the legality of that contract, because I think that under our City Charter that contract can only be let out for every ten years, and I know that the Public Works Department and the Finance Commissioners and his Honor the Mayor have been giving this contract out piecemeal—that is, I mean every six months or so they have been renewing the contract for a certain sum of money. I state now that I think it is illegal to do that. I think what should be done is that they either give the contract for ten years or reopen bids on the contract. They claim that Coleman Brothers are the only ones in a position to take this contract. I know that Ellis & Company, in East Boston, if they wanted to take the contract, overnight they could fulfill it as well, if not better, than Coleman Brothers. I hear that Coleman Brothers are dissatisfied in getting this contract on a six months' or yearly basis, so I think when the Committee on Public Health—is that the committee you want that referred to, Councilor Kelly?

Coun. KELLY—The Committee on Public Safety.

Coun. COFFEY—I think when the Committee on Public Safety meets that the Public Works Department, the Finance Commission and the Law Department should be sent for, and we ought to find out once and for all if they are breaking any rules under our City Charter. I say they have to grant this contract for ten years and no less, and that is according to our City Charter. And Coleman Brothers, mind you, don't want it this way, either. They want a ten-year contract or to put their equipment to something else, because they don't know when the city will build an incinerator. I don't think any of us will live to see it, although you will hear talk around election time. There would be more, naturally, in the contract than there would be in the incinerator. So I say when this order of Councilor Kelly's is brought up before the Committee on Public Safety I would like to receive a notice so that I can ask at that time why this contract was granted, why the Finance Commission has stood for it, why the Law Department stood for it, and why the Mayor of the City of Boston stood for it, because I claim it is illegal. It is just a loophole they are getting around, just the same as they are giving a contract they have no right to give for $1,000 or more, and they have the excuse that the Supply Department sent down a request to the Mayor, saying nothing could be gained if bids were open. How do we know nothing could be gained unless bids were open, and then we could find out.

Coun. KINSELLA—As chairman of the Public Safety Committee, I would like to state that at 11 o'clock on Friday morning, next, we will hold a meeting.

Coun. KELLY—I ask that this order be referred to the special committee that you appointed last January. I failed to make a final report, and I did that intentionally. I didn't make any report of this committee as I knew as the year went ahead—

President KERRIGAN—What is the name of the committee?

Coun. KELLY—You appointed a special committee on public safety. I did that intentionally, because I knew that I would hear more—

Coun. KINSELLA—Doesn't the action of the Chair in appointing a Public Safety Committee make that a special committee?

Coun. COFFEY—May I ask the councilor from Ward 15 (Coun. Kelly) if this is a continuance of the old hearings held by his committee?

Coun. KELLY—Mr. President, answering the councilor from Ward 1 (Coun. Coffey), this is still a continuance of the hearings that I was holding last January. I haven't concluded them, as I am going to start in again with them next Thursday, next week.

President KERRIGAN—Referred to the committee headed by Councilor Kelly.

Coun. KINSELLA—I would like to announce my resignation from the Committee on Public Safety.

Coun. KELLY—I don't want the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella) to feel that way. I know he is the chairman of the Committee on Public Safety, but this was a committee appointed by you, a special committee, before the regular committees had been appointed; and I knew that once I made my report back that I wouldn't be able to get any orders before the committee of which I would have the pleasure of being chairman. So I was smart enough not to make a report back. I am going to hold this open for the next year, or the next year, as long as I am in the Council.

President KERRIGAN—Will you accept Councilor Kinsella as a member of that committee?

Coun. KELLY—I will be very glad to.

Coun. KINSELLA—I withdraw my resignation.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will appoint Councilor Kinsella as a member of that committee.

SIDEWALKS ON LINCOLN STREET, WARD 18.

PHILBRICK STREET AS ONE-WAY STREET.

LIGHTING OF MERCHANT MARINE PLAQUE ON COMMON.

Coun. HANLEY and HANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to appropriate a sum sufficient to pay for the installation of lights on "Merchant Marine Plaque" on Boston Common.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, about a month ago an order was passed unanimously by this Honorable Body relative to the installation of lights on the Merchant Marine plaque on Boston Common. Since that time nothing has been done by his Honor the Mayor. Whether it is due to lethargy or indifference, I don't know, but one of the most desolate spots on Boston Common at night is the Merchant Marine plaque. The men who are responsible for the successful prosecution of D-Day, the men who are responsible for bringing the materials of war to our armed forces throughout the length and breadth of our land and beyond the port of Boston, which is No. 1, pre-eminent among the ports of the land for material and men—they have refused to appropriate approximately $200 for the installation of lights! I hope that his Honor the Mayor takes cognizance of this order, once again introduced jointly by Councilor Hannon and myself, and I hope no words of mine again will be uttered in this chamber to force his hand.

$200 TEMPORARY INCREASE.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to remove all discriminatory barriers that are withholding the $200 temporary increase from accruing to all city employees who are classified in the temporary and permanent status.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I don't know whether some of my distinguished colleagues introduced an order prior to my entrance into this hall today, but I know this, that one of the greatest factors utilized by man in setting up different factions is to withhold certain things because of race, creed, color or political affiliation. This Honorable Body passed unanimously a $200 temporary increase to all city employees—not to the permanent, not to the temporary, but to all—and therefore there should be no discrimination, whether that man works for one day, one week or ten years. He is entitled to that temporary increase, and I hope that his Honor the Mayor utilizes his prerogative and the powers imposed upon him to eradicate for all time discrimination against men and women who are hired temporarily during the summer time.

INFORMATION RE SURVEY OF WARD 11 STREETS.

TAX ABATEMENT INFORMATION.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to submit to this Honorable Body "Tax Abatement Information," as requested on many occasions by the Boston City Council.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, once again I must take to my feet and amplify a request that was augmented on many occasions by this Honorable Body. This past week the Finance Commission leveled their guns at his Honor the Mayor because of the tax abatements emanating from the local Board of Tax Assessors. Prior to his nomination as the Democratic nominee on July 11, silence pervaded that department, and has pervaded that department for the past six and a half years, relative to tax abatements. The words that I uttered one year ago, and on the radio programs that I financed myself, were amplified and uttered by the Finance Commission, but they lay their blame upon the tax assessors located in City Hall Annex, but not upon the Tax Appellate Board, the biggest racket scheming affair that has ever been perpetrated or that has ever permeated Massachusetts, particularly in the City of Boston. Now, I don't know whether the Republicans will utilize the Finance Commission as hatchet men. Evidently, from their opening remarks, they plan to. They have access to the records that are closed to you and me, and therefore they are leveling their guns at his Honor the Mayor and the local Board of Tax Assessors. I have no love whatsoever for his Honor the Mayor, but I don't intend to sit idly by and allow the Finance Commission to divert and circumvent this chamber and to procure and obtain information that you and I should obtain. I stated, and I state it again, emphatically, that the Tax Appellate Board is responsible for the financial plight of the City of Boston. Eighty per cent of all their business emanates from the corporate limits of the City of Boston. The tax abatements that are through or emanating from the local Board of Tax Assessors are sometimes due to the intervention of City Councilors, State Representatives, or according to the statutes, but the tax abatements that emanate from the Tax Appellate Board are due primarily only to high-priced counsel. This information has not been given, and yet the illustrious councilor from Ward 1, James S. Coffey, has brought out repeatedly the tax grab and the tax abatement grab in East Boston to a certain firm named—a misnomer, I believe—McDonald. I brought out specific figures; I intend to get an answer. If I don't, then I shall utilize what little talent God has given to me and bring it to the people of Boston, and that may have a political repercussion not only on the second floor but upon Beacon Hill.

FINANCE COMMISSION REPORT ON TAX RATE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, July 12, 1944.
To the Honorable the Mayor and City Council.
Gentlemen,—The Finance Commission considers it timely to place upon the record a presentation of the facts and figures involved in the computations by the Boston Board of Assessors in determining the rate of property taxation in 1944.

Because many taxpayers had been led to believe that the existing rate of expenditure by the city, coupled with the required city contributions toward state and county expenditure, would necessitate a rate of taxation in 1944 which would be at least as high as the $41 per $1,000 rate in 1943, the declaration of a $39.90 per $1,000 rate for 1944 was both a surprise and a relief. Nevertheless some question has arisen as to the propriety of this reduced rate.

In any undertaking of the size and importance of the computation of the tax rate in a large city like Boston, there are so many elements to be considered, the exact determination of which is a matter of individual judgment, that differences of opinion will always arise, even among the experts, as to the final decisions. The following analysis aims to give the facts and figures involved in the computation this year as simply as possible in the conviction that the general public can draw proper conclusions by a careful review of them.

There are three outstanding elements of a tax rate computation. They are:

1. The fixing of the property valuation.
2. The aggregate of the tax warrants and appropriations.
3. The estimate of the revenues receivable (other than taxes).

These three elements will be discussed in that order in the ensuing report.

Naturally, the first consideration is the property valuation fixed by the assessors. Most people understand that the property valuation and the rate of assessment of property have a direct relation to each other. At any time, by the simple expedient of increasing the valuations of taxable property, the tax rate can be reduced. That method provides a larger base on which to apply the cost of government. The converse is equally true. Reduction of the valuation of taxable property, without corresponding reduction in the cost of government, results in a higher rate. The base is smaller.

With respect therefore to fixing valuations, here is what the assessors have done:

The aggregate of the taxable valuations fixed on real estate as of January 1, 1944, was $10,021,200 less than the corresponding total on the corresponding date in 1943. In comparison the reduction on January 1, 1943, from the previous year's total was $15,016,900.

The aggregate of personal property valuations fixed by the assessors as of January 1, 1944, was $6,361,300 higher than the corresponding total on the corresponding date in 1943. In comparison the 1943 total of personal property valuations was $5,453,200 less than the corresponding total for 1942.

Summarizing, real estate valuations were reduced as of January 1, 1944, a smaller amount than in 1943; personal property valuations were increased.

Another view of the 1944 computation is furnished in the following table of total taxable property valuations in the past seven years:

Year.	City Valuation.	Valuation.
1938.....	$1,550,407,500
1939.....	1,524,806,000
1940.....	1,483,234,500
1941.....	1,460,782,900
1942.....	1,466,138,400
1943.....	1,445,668,300
1944.....	1,442,008,400

Assessors' valuations of property in Boston have been questioned for a long time. Notwithstanding that the aggregate of valuations has been reduced from $1,972,148,200 in 1930 to $1,442,008,400 in this year, it is held by many who are well informed in this field that Boston's taxable valuations of real estate are still $200,000,000 too high.

There is much evidence to support this conclusion. Taxpayers in an ever-increasing number are refusing to accept the assessors' valuations. The docket of the Tax Appellate Board, a State agency created to hear taxpayers' complaints of unjustifiable valuations, is clogged with Boston cases. Decisions, after hearing of expert testimony, with regularity are against the assessors' judgments. In addition, there are many other cases in which the assessors and taxpayers agree before trial to substantial reductions in valuation.

The amount of these reductions has already reached alarming proportions. Regularly the city now must supplement by taxation in the succeeding years the generous amount the law allows to be assessed in any year to cover abatements of that year. To illustrate: at the present time the law allows the assessors to add 3 per cent (until 1943, 4 per cent) of the amount of the requirements for city expenditure, after revenues have been deducted, to cover abatements authorized when the taxpayer claims of unjustifiable valuation have been validated. Yet within the requirements for 1944, before the 1944 overlay is added, there is already the sum of $1,901,720.17 marked as "overlay deficits" for the years 1938 to 1941, inclusive. This means that in 1943 abatements to that large extent were granted in excess of the 4 per cent for "overlay" added in those years by law to the requirements of those years. While this large 1944 figure sets a new high mark for "overlay deficits" the amount has been substantial in every recent year. The corresponding figure in 1943 was $902,900.

An explanation of the figure of the "overlay deficit," $1,901,720.17, used by the assessors in the computation seems to be necessary, because it is considerably less than the actual amount of the "overlay deficit" in June when the rate was declared. The $1,901,720.17 figure is the total which had been refunded to January 31, 1944, on account of overassessments in 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941 in excess of the sums included in the tax levies of those years to cover abatements. At that date there still remained unpaid balances in the "overlay" accounts for 1942 and 1943. Between January 31, 1944, and May 31, 1944, the "overlay deficits" in the 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 accounts had increased to $2,508,822.34. Furthermore, the balances in the "overlay" accounts for 1942 and 1943 had been completely abated, and there was a deficit in the accounts of those years amounting to $275,084.81. The total deficit, therefore, in the "overlay" accounts on May 31, 1944, or about the time the tax rate computations were being made, was $2,783,907.14. This is $882,186.97 more than the figure used as "overlay deficit" by the assessors.

The increase in the 1944 "overlay deficit" is in itself significant. It indicates that despite the steady lowering of property valuations by the assessors in recent years, increasingly larger amounts are being refunded each year because the valuations are still too high; and the amount of the refund in itself makes it more difficult each year to maintain the existing level of expenditures and the prevailing rate of taxation.

The insignificance of the amount of the reduction in valuation in 1944 was as surprising as was the lower rate itself. The average annual reduction in the over-all property valuation in Boston since the depression era forced lower figures has been close to $35,000,000. The 1944 reduction of approximately $3,650,000—10 per cent of the fifteen-year average—is in bold contrast. The evident present temporary improvement in real estate sale prices can hardly account for that great discrepancy.

First of all, therefore, the failure in 1944 to maintain the previous pace in bringing valuations down to an acceptable level is one of the elements which have brought about a lower rate in 1944. Had there been a reduction in valuations to correspond with the average amount of reductions in the last decade-and-a-half, which many believe is sustainable, it would have resulted, instead, in an increase in the rate of the assessment.

Warrants and Appropriations.

The following is a comparison of the figures of the Estimated Expenses for Regular Departmental Maintenance, Fixed Charges, and State and Metropolitan Levies, used in computing the tax rate in 1943 and 1944:

Estimated Expense:

Departmental Maintenance:

City Departments:

	1943.	1944.
Welfare and Relief Agencies.....	$9,385,073	$9,104,953
Snow Removal.....	500,000	250,000
Other Departments and Activities.....	27,363,452	27,893,212
County Agencies.....	3,610,481	3,541,627
School Departments.....	15,925,812	15,714,832
Emergency Wage Increases.....	2,718,173	2,759,534
Total.....	$59,502,991	$59,264,158

Fixed Charges:

Pension Fund Contribution.....	$2,180,827	$2,334,924
Debt Service Charges.....	9,680,397	9,394,803
Traffic Tunnel Deficit.....	364,073	315,574
Elevated Assessments.....	283,623	101,349
Overlay Deficiency.....	992,900	1,901,720
Total.....	$13,501,820	$14,048,370

State and Metropolitan Levies:

State Tax.....	$1,108,350	$2,542,573
Miscellaneous State Assessments.....	56,711	41,371
Metropolitan Assessments.....	813,895	753,248
Total.....	$1,978,956	$3,337,192

Grand total.....	$74,983,767	$76,649,720

As may be seen in the above comparison, Regular Departmental Requirements are $238,833 less in 1944 than in 1943; Fixed Charges are $546,550 higher; and State and Metropolitan Assessments are $1,358,236 higher in 1944 than in 1943.

The larger state tax figure in 1944 is due to a change in state bookkeeping methods with respect to apportionment of state income. In 1943 the state applied the Highway Fund income to ordinary state requirements, thereby reducing the state tax assessed to the municipalities. In 1944 this income (gasoline tax payments) is being distributed directly to the municipalities.

The salient facts in the Warrants and Appropriations are therefore:

1. Total City and County Maintenance Requirements and Fixed Charges are $307,717 greater than in 1943. No part of the tax rate reduction is attributable therefore to City and County Requirements.

2. Fixed Charges, despite substantial reduction in Debt Charges and Elevated Assessments, total $453,450 more than in 1943. The large increase in the "Overlay Deficiency" offsets the financial gain in other items.

3. The state tax is $1,434,223 more than in 1943, but this is due simply to a change in bookkeeping. In the following analysis of the Revenue Items it will be seen that the increase in state tax is offset by a substantial sum marked "Highway Fund."

Revenues.

The third important element in the computation of the tax rate is the estimate of the "ways and means, other than taxes."

A comparison of this year's estimate with last year's follows:

	1943.	1944.
Revenue and Loans.
Departmental Revenue:
City.....	$7,898,042	$8,809,828
County.....	360,000	360,000
Schools.....	1,423,614	1,602,299
State-Shared Taxes:
Income Tax.....	3,899,291	3,745,385
Corporation Tax.....	2,118,000	2,679,222
Highway Fund.....	—	1,295,348
Meal Tax.....	111,257	127,693
Miscellaneous Revenue:
Poll Tax.....	502,462	507,348
Motor Vehicle Excise.....	450,000	400,000
Traffic Tunnel Grant.....	100,000	100,000
Elevated Reimbursement.....	—	855,930
Other.....	95,081	321,117
Current Expense Loans:
Welfare and Relief.....	300,000	—
Civilian Defense.....	180,000	—
Total.....	$17,437,747	$20,804,170

Within the annual determination of the estimate of "ways and means, other than taxes" (expected additional revenue) lies an opportunity for raising or lowering the tax rate, or keeping it at a previous level. Tax warrants and appropriations are determined by legislative bodies and are fixed when they reach the assessors, but the assessors themselves determine the amount of the ways and means, other than taxes, within a particular limit. The law provides some check to too great abuse of power in such determination, but it is possible for the assessors arbitrarily to fix a rate anywhere within a few dollars of a careful, scientific and conscientious result. Needless to say, in its arbitrary decision the assessors never fix a rate higher than can be justified. Their decisions always are in the direction of keeping the rate down, even if the valuations have to be raised.

In the above table of revenues there are certain items which come to the assessors certified by one agency or another. Some of these, they must accept as final. Of that class there are the Income Tax, the Corporation Tax, the Meal Tax, the Highway Fund Allotment, and the amount of the Elevated reimbursement which are certified by the State Tax Commissioner; the Welfare and Civilian Defense Loans which are certified by the City Clerk; the Motor Vehicle Excise Taxes which are certified by the Auditor; the Traffic Tunnel Grant which is certified by the Treasurer; and the School Revenues which are certified by the School Committee.

The remaining items, however, are of sizable amount. The law leaves it to the assessors to determine the exact amount of them which shall be used in the tax rate computation. These are the City and County Departmental Revenues and the so-called Miscellaneous Revenues.

To begin the rate computations, the assessors obtain a certificate from the auditor of his estimate of the probable yield in departmental revenues. They also receive a certificate of the amount actually received in the year before. They are not bound to accept the former, and the latter is used simply to provide the figure which they must not exceed.

In fixing the 1944 rate at $39.90 the assessors used the total figure of $9,169,828.02 as the anticipated revenue from "General Government," which in the above table is the "City and County Departmental Revenue." The figure used is less than the actual yield in 1943, which was $9,602,109.28. On the face of it, therefore, the figure used by the assessors was within the limit set by law.

However, some of the items which make up the total are questioned. The outstanding one is the Public Welfare item. The receipts under this item consist of the reimbursement by the state for cases aided by Boston which the State Department of Public Welfare accepts as state charges; plus the receipts of reimbursement by other municipalities in cases where they acknowledged responsibility.

The auditor after investigation and consultation with the Welfare Department estimated the yield in 1944 would be $4,300,000. The yield in 1943 was $5,339,992.68. But the number of cases aided by the Welfare Department has been steadily reducing since the war era. The receipts therefore are steadily decreasing. Hence, the lesser amount anticipated by the auditor in 1944.

Notwithstanding that the auditor's figure had the support of the Welfare Department official estimate, the assessors placed the estimate at $5,062,001. There is a difference in this item of $262,000 in the figures of the auditor and the assessors. It accounts for approximately 53 cents of the tax rate reduction.

Other discrepancies between the auditor's estimate and the assessors' estimate include a $20,000 higher estimate by the assessors in the item known as "Hospital Department Revenue" and $8,000 in the item known as "Liquor License Revenue."

In short, the auditor figured the total of the anticipated yield in the City and County Revenue account to be $8,379,826. The assessors, as stated, used the figure of $9,169,828.42 which is $790,002 more than the auditor's.

Poll Tax Receipts.

Another item in the table of expected receipts which is important is the item known as "Poll Tax Receipts." In the 1944 computation, a yield of $507,348 is anticipated in the assessors' official estimate. The figure used in the 1943 tax rate computations was $502,452. Poll tax receipts are rarely as high as 45 per cent of the assessable total.

The yield in 1943 was as follows:

Poll taxes of 1943.....	$179,548
Poll taxes of other years.....	37,194

Total..... $216,742

Net Requirements.....	$57,546,019	$55,845,548
Overlay, or Reserve for Tax Losses.....	1,726,381	1,690,585
Property Tax Levy.....	$59,272,400	$57,536,135
Assessed Valuation: Real Estate and Personal Property.....	$1,445,668,300	$1,442,008,400
Tax Rate.....	$41.00	$39.90

Summary.

To summarize the points made in the foregoing analysis of the tax rate computations, they are as follows:

1. The total taxable property valuations used by the assessors in determining the tax rate are only slightly less in 1944 than in 1943. It is far from the average reduction of the past fifteen years and far less than many expected.
2. Regular governmental costs were not reduced, the total of Warrants and Appropriations being greater in 1944 than in 1943.
3. The estimated receipts of regular departmental revenue are within the limit fixed by the statute, but the detailed estimates by departments have been disputed in certain particulars.
4. The estimate of the yield from poll taxes is twice as much as is ordinarily received.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
ALEXANDER WHEELER,
Chairman.

Placed on file.

Coun. HANLEY—Evidently the Finance Commission heard my voice.

WACHUSETT STREET PLAYGROUND.

Coun. McCORMACK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Department be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to level the surface of the Wachusett Street Playground in the Forest Hills section of Ward 19.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

APPOINTMENT OF DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested not to appoint any city employee as Democratic State Chairman.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I couldn't help introducing an order like this when I read in the newspapers that one or two, if I am not mistaken, city employees might be appointed as State Chairman of the Democratic party. We know that the candidate for Governor, the Democratic candidate, has the power to appoint the State Chairman. I am not telling him who to appoint. I don't care who he appoints. I am just asking him not to appoint—do you want to be appointed, Councilor Hurley?

Coun. HURLEY—Can I answer "No"?

Coun. COFFEY—The only thing I am asking in the order is that he not appoint a city employee. I think two newspapers carried the names of two men on the city pay roll, and I think it would be wise for his Honor the Mayor not to appoint them.

President KERRIGAN—Will we refer the order to the Executive Committee?

Coun. COFFEY—There won't be any quarrel—well, as the average fellow would say in my place, I haven't anything against either one of them—I like hell I haven't. I don't want to see either one appointed. It is only natural, I think, if the Mayor is wise politically—he hasn't been up to now—that he will appoint somebody else other than the two men who were defeated and who

In respect to the annual amount received from poll taxes, the yield in 1943 might be said to be the average as the following table shows:

Year.	Received.	Assessed.
1940.....	$220,967	$501,506
1941.....	219,989	509,276
1942.....	196,106	508,040
1943.....	216,742	502,462

In all the years listed, collections bore approximately the same relation to the amount assessed.

Net Requirements.

The total warrants and appropriations have been shown in the foregoing to have been:

1943.	1944.
$74,983,767.33	$76,649,719.80 and the Revenue and Loans used in the tax rate computation:
1943.	1944.
$17,437,747.63	$20,296,823.53

This resulted in the following totals of net requirements and the tax rate determination:

1943.	1944.
$57,546,019	$55,845,548
1,726,381	1,690,585
$59,272,400	$57,536,135
$1,445,668,300	$1,442,008,400
$41.00	$39.90

are out of office, and who are on the city pay roll, and naturally couldn't be as independent as somebody else that is not on the city pay roll. I hope the Mayor will see the wisdom of this and not appoint a city employee to this position. Referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.45 p. m., on motion of Coun. HANNON, to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 3.45 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on communication from the Police Commissioner re basic salaries of certain employees in House of Detention,—recommending passage of following order:

Ordered, That the City Council hereby approves and concurs in the establishing by the Police Commissioner of annual basic salaries of employees of the House of Detention of the Police Department, effective as of June 28, 1944, viz.:

Chief Matron.....	$1,900
Assistant Chief Matron.....	1,700
Assistant Matron.....	1,600
Permanent Substitute Assistant Matron, 1,600

Report accepted; said order passed.

2. Report on message of the Mayor and orders for transfers of certain appropriations—that same ought to pass.

Coun. DWYER—I would like to have the orders read. I didn't understand the various orders were passed. I thought we passed just one order.

Before the clerk completed the reading of the orders, Coun. HANLEY said: Before further reading, in answer to Councilor Dwyer, the only transfer passed by the Executive Committee was relative to Ward 18, contractual services for sidewalk construction. That other item I don't believe I read in there, but if it was appended to the original order I didn't see it at the time. But the transfer order of $850 was passed by the Executive Committee.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Dwyer moves that the other two orders remain in the Executive Committee.

The question came on the passage of the order for the transfer of $870 from the Fire Department, Contractual Services, to appropriation for Sidewalks, Construction and Reconstruction of, and the order was passed, yeas 13, nays 0.

APPROPRIATION FOR TEMPORARY WAR MEMORIAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 24, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I submit herewith an order providing for an additional appropriation of $1,500 to be expended by the Park Department in the extension and improvement of the temporary memorial erected on Boston Common to commemorate the services of Boston citizens who have or will have made the supreme sacrifice during the present World War. This appropriation is to cover the erection of additional sections on the memorial. I respectfully recommend adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That an additional sum of $1,500 be, and hereby is, appropriated, to be expended by the Park Department, for the extension and improvement of the temporary memorial erected on Boston Common in commemoration of all residents of the City of Boston who have or will have made the supreme sacrifice while in the service of their country during the present World War, said sum to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, there is one point I had in mind in connection with that request there. I have visited the memorial up there at the Common and noted the last time I was there that the walks approaching the memorial are gravel and dirt, and I am wondering what the cost would be to have granolithic approaches to that memorial, and, if possible, to have those granolithic walks constructed out of that $1,500.

Coun. HANNON—As chairman of the committee in charge of the memorial plaque, we took up the matter of having the concrete walks there and the Park Commissioner—I don't know that he convinced us, but at least he persuaded us—the Park Commissioner told us that the temporary gravel or crushed stone walks are best because of their absorbent nature. The granolithic tends to bring kids roller skating. The crushed stone absorbs moisture, and he convinced us that the crushed stone was best for the time being. Now, the purpose of this $1,500 is to provide for the filling of the vacant spaces there. When this plaque was agreed upon we agreed to pay 50 cents for each plaque and 50 cents additional for each name inscribed, and since D-Day the names have become far more numerous, as everybody might expect. A week or so ago the City Messenger went with Mr. Foss up there and changed the names all around, filling in the spaces on the empty plaques, or whatever you call it—all names of those who had made the supreme sacrifice. At that time the question was as to the maritime plaque. You men in the Council were good enough a month or so ago to grant us $1,000 additional for more names, and we understood at that time that $600 of that was to be paid, approximately, for the maritime plaque. We are advised that the maritime plaque has not as yet been paid for. Now, Councilor Hanley has filed an order today that lights be erected over this maritime plaque. That is the purpose of this $1,500. That is the reason we are asking for it today. I, myself, in conjunction with the City Messenger, just went to the telephone a few minutes ago to find out and make certain that we needed this money and I, myself, thought that granolithic walks should be substituted there. I am one of the committee of seven, and the Park Commissioner, being one of the members of the committee, persuaded the committee at that time that crushed stone was best. However, I will find out more definitely why we haven't granolithic walks there. And I would like to move at this time that this matter be acted on at the present moment, if possible.

The rules were suspended, and the question came on the passage of the order. The roll was called and the order was passed, yeas 15, nays 0.

Adjourned, on motion of Coun. KEENAN, at 3.55 p. m., to meet on Monday, July 31, 1944, at 2 p. m.

TANKERS DO DOUBLE DUTY.

American shipyards are now making it possible for our tankers to carry extra loads. A scaffold-type extra deck enables a modern tanker to carry a load of extra freight the equivalent of 10 per cent of its normal load capacity. Some tankers now carry, in addition to its load of gasoline, deck loads of ambulances, planes, jeeps and trucks.

MAYOR TOBIN ISSUES STATEMENT TO TAXPAYERS ON MATTER OF LEVY FOR 1944 — POINTS TO FACT ASSESSMENT IS $1.10 LESS FOR THIS YEAR THAN FOR 1943 AND IS LOWEST SINCE 1929 — ALSO EXPLAINS PURPOSES OF ADMINISTRATION IN EFFECTING ECONOMIES IN CITY MANAGEMENT AIMED TO BRING ABOUT THE LOWERING OF THE TAX BURDEN — POINTS WITH PRIDE TO THE COOPERATION GIVEN OFFICIALS BY CITIZENS TO MAKE ACCOMPLISHMENT A FACT.

Along with the tax bills being sent out to the citizens of Boston by City Collector Merritt Thompson is a statement from Mayor Tobin explaining the tax situation as it affects the citizens. The statement calls attention to the fact that the tax rate has been lowered for this year and explains not only the aims of the administration for the relief of the tax burden but how, by practicing economies, this was accomplished. There is an additional statement attached listing the stations in the various districts to which taxpayers may repair for the payment of their dues without having to come into the main office.

The communications are as follows:

To the Taxpayers of Boston:

Your tax bill for 1944 is enclosed. As you will note, the tax rate is $1.10 less than last year. I naturally am pleased that despite general high taxes arising out of the war effort it has been possible to accomplish this reduction. I feel you will be interested in knowing that the total levy on real and personal property for 1944 is the lowest since 1929.

It has been the aim of the present municipal administration to conduct the city government in such a manner as to insure its sound and healthy financial condition. Operating expenses have been maintained at reasonable levels, material reductions in the outstanding debt of the City have been secured and the financial credit of the City has been re-established on a sound basis. To substantiate this statement, I may state that the latest temporary borrowing of the City was made at a 0.38 interest rate. This is the lowest rate the City has borrowed money in the past three years and represents a material reduction from the 1.58 per cent rate paid on the first temporary loan negotiated by the present administration in 1938.

Last year 87½ per cent of the levy was collected before the close of the year. This is the best collection record in the last two decades of the City's financial history. Prompt payment of taxes constitutes a distinct contribution to the sound financial operation of the City. I am hopeful that last year's experience in this respect will be repeated in 1944. I compliment you for your unwavering support of your municipal government during these most critical days, and I bespeak your continued cooperation in this phase of the City's operations.

Respectfully,

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

OVERSEERS OF PUBLIC WELFARE ELECT MRS. MARGARET J. GOOKIN CHAIRMAN OF BOARD—WOMAN HOLDS POSITION OF HONOR FOR FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF DEPARTMENT—MISS SOPHIE M. FRIEDMAN MADE VICE CHAIRMAN—BOTH LONG AND PROMINENTLY KNOWN IN SOCIAL SERVICE WORK.

At the adjourned annual meeting of the Overseers of the Public Welfare in the City of Boston held August 7, 1944, the following officers of the Board were elected for the term ending May 7, 1945: Mrs. Margaret J. Gookin of 356 Seaver street, Dorchester, was elected Chairman; Miss Sophie M. Friedman of 206 Bay State road, Boston, was elected Vice Chairman; Mr. Edward H. Willey of 701 Broadway, South Boston, was elected Treasurer; and Mr. William G. O'Hare of 21 Bartlett street, Charlestown, was elected Secretary.

The members individually expressed their regrets because Professor Joseph H. Sasserno felt that he could no longer serve as Chairman due to the varied pressing interests which he has beyond his work as a member of the Board of Overseers. Each member complimented Mr. Sasserno on his outstanding leadership as Chairman and on his splendid record of service in all civic matters.

The new Chairman, Mrs. Margaret J. Gookin, was first appointed to the Board of Overseers May 1, 1903, and is the first woman to have been honored by election as Chairman of the Board. In addition to her continued efforts on behalf of the less fortunate in Boston on its Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare, Mrs. Gookin is also a member of the National Conference of Catholic Charities in which she has had continuous membership since January, 1911. She is on the Board of Directors of the Greater Boston Community Council, is a Director of the Travelers' Aid Society, and a member of the Board of Managers of the Cooperative Workshops, Inc., of Boston. She is regarded as most outstanding in her knowledge of social conditions in Boston.

Miss Sophie M. Friedman has been a member of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare since May 1, 1921, and in addition to her services on the Board is a member of the Council of Jewish Women, is a member of the Associated Jewish Charities, and is a Director of the Travelers' Aid Society.

Mr. Edward H. Willey has been a member of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare since December 8, 1926, and has served continuously as Treasurer of the Board since August 5, 1931.

STREET CLEANERS' UNIFORMS ARE UNION MADE.

The following letter was addressed to George G. Hyland, Public Works Commissioner, by way of explanation concerning the charge that the hats and uniforms newly adopted by the city for the use of the street cleaners are not union made. The letter refutes the charge that the uniforms and outfit were not made by a Union concern:

CENTRAL LABOR UNION OF BOSTON
AND VICINITY.

BOSTON, August 3, 1944.

MR. GEORGE HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DEAR MR. HYLAND,—Upon noticing the street cleaners for the City of Boston in their new caps, I approached one of them for permission to look at the cap and found that there was no Union Label. Upon investigation, I was informed that the Eagle Hat and Cap Company had manufactured the caps, and from the officials of the Hat and Cap Workers' Union I learned that the Eagle Hat and Cap Company were a union shop.

The absence of the label was due to the rush of work and the lack of help, and also at the time the union was unable to furnish labels to this outfit, but I can assure you that the caps were union made.

Thanking you for placing this order and giving the work to people who rightfully deserve it, and appreciating the work you have done, I remain,

Very truly yours,

HARRY P. GRAGES,
Secretary-Treasurer, Central Labor
Union of Boston and Vicinity.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor has approved the awarding of a contract as requested in the following letter:

BOSTON, July 19, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—At the present time a so-called Water Waste Survey is being conducted in the East Boston and Roxbury districts by The Pitometer Company, 50 Church street, New York City.

The above-referenced contractor has been doing work of this nature for the department in other sections of the city since 1941 and many large underground leaks have been uncovered in addition to the locating of under-registration in large size meters. The sealing of these underground leaks and the repairing of the meters that were under-registering have resulted in substantial savings for the department.

The work that is being done on the present contract, which was approved by your Honor under date of May 4 of the current year, is proceeding very satisfactorily and will be completed sometime this summer.

In view of the benefits that have accrued to the department as a result of these Water Waste Surveys, it is my unqualified opinion that the surveys should eventually be extended to cover the entire water system, and I recommend at this time that a Water Waste Survey be conducted in the so-called Dorchester High Service district upon the completion of the present survey which is being conducted in the East Boston and Roxbury districts.

I am in receipt of a proposal from The Pitometer Company to the effect that they will conduct a survey in the Dorchester district under the same conditions that the previous surveys have been conducted and limiting the city's obligation to $7,000, with the understanding that the city will pay only for water waste actually located.

There would be no advantage in publicly advertising for work of this kind because it is of a highly specialized and technical nature and the price submitted would not be an important factor in considering the awarding of a contract.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that you approve the awarding of a contract without publicly advertising for bids, in the amount of $7,000, to The Pitometer Company, 50 Church street, New York City, for conducting a Pitometer Water Waste Survey in so-called Section 6, Dorchester High Service.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

INCREASED WATTAGE OF ELECTRIC LIGHTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of May 8, 1944, regarding the increasing of the wattage of the three electric lights on Metropolitan avenue, Hyde Park, near the junction of Dale street, in the interest of public safety.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
July 5, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council: "Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to increase the wattage of the three electric lights on Metropolitan avenue, Hyde Park, near the junction of Dale street, in the interest of public safety."

The above-referenced street lights are of a candle power which is considered as standard for residential street lighting and, in fact, there are in excess of 8,000 of these lights located in the various residential streets of the city.

In view of the circumstances, therefore, the department cannot change its long-standing policy by installing higher candle power lights at the above-referenced intersection.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
School Committee, June 14, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—At the conference of the School Committee held on June 9, 1944, the order of the City Council passed on May 8, 1944, was received, requesting your Honor "to consider the advisability of conferring with the Boston School Committee relative to canceling their contract with the Women's Educational and Industrial Union who serve lunches in the various schools in the city on the ground that they are incompetent, they do not serve the best of food, and they do not have enough food to take care of the children in the second lunch period, and thereby save the taxpayers twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) a year which the city has to pay them for their services in the form of a subsidy."

The School Committee would respectfully report that at a conference held on May 11 the School Committee agreed to assume operation, beginning September 1, 1944, of the school lunch rooms now operated by the Women's Educational and Industrial Union. The lunch rooms will be operated by the School Department under the direction of Miss Eleanor Upham, Director of School Lunches. The Women's Educational and Industrial Union have been notified of this action of the Committee.

Respectfully yours,
LOUISE KANE, Secretary.

RESURFACING ROADWAY USED BY BOSTON ELEVATED.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the president of the Boston Elevated Railway relative to your order of May 22, 1944, regarding the resetting and resurfacing with smooth paving of the section of the roadway used by the Boston Elevated on West Broadway, from Dorchester street to Dorchester avenue.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Boston Elevated Railway,
June 23, 1944.

Mr. Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—We have considered the request contained in order of the City Council received with your letter of May 24 that the Railway reset and resurface with smooth paving that section of the roadway used by it on West Broadway, from Dorchester street to Dorchester avenue.

We have agreed to perform certain track work in connection with plans of Mr. Hyland, Commissioner of Public Works, for resurfacing of streets this year.

The section of West Broadway referred to in order of the City Council is on our tentative list of other work, but considering the limited amount of material and small number of men available to the Railway to perform such work, it is possible that we may not be able to do the work in West Broadway this year.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD DANA,
President and General Manager.

USE OF CITY-OWNED LOTS IN WARD 7 AS PLAY AREAS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the chairman of the Board of Real Estate Commissioners relative to your order of May 15, 1944, regarding the advisability of using all city-owned lots in Ward 7 as play areas for the children of the district.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Board of Real Estate Commissioners,
June 28, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Attention Mr. Arthur C. Carey, Chief Clerk.
My dear Mr. Mayor,—I am in receipt of your memorandum of May 17, 1944, with City Council order of May 15, 1944, regarding the use of all city-owned lots in Ward 7 as play areas for the children of the district.

In reply I wish to state that many of the lots in Ward 7 are not practical for play areas because they are located in industrial areas. However, if somebody who is familiar with the child population in the various districts of this ward would confer with this department, we would be able to select areas that would be practical for this use.

Very truly yours,
DANIEL M. DRISCOLL,
Chairman.

INSTALLATION OF SEWER PIPE IN AUSTIN STREET EXTENSION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 5, 1944, requesting the installation of a sewer pipe in Austin street extension, Hyde Park district of Ward 18.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
July 18, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Sir,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council: "Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a sewer pipe in Austin street extension, in the Hyde Park district of Ward 18."

At the present time, there are eight houses on Austin street that have cesspools and which would be serviced if the sewer referred to in the above order were installed.

I find, however, that it will require an expenditure of approximately $60,000 to provide a proper outlet for the sewer that will have to be built in Austin street and its vicinity to service this area in a sanitary manner. The department has no appropriation to undertake such a project at this time, but we have included it in our post-war sewerage program.

Under the circumstances, therefore, this project will have to be deferred until after the war.

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,

To Arthur C. Carey, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

I return herewith order in City Council that the Commissioner of Public Works resurface with smooth paving and construct new sidewalks on the following streets in the Ward 19 section of Boston, and this will advise you as follows:

CLOSING OF ALLSTON BRIDGE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 12, 1944, regarding the closing of the Allston Bridge to all vehicular and foot traffic until such time as the conditions of the bridge will afford and warrant safe travel to the above-stated traffic.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
June 22, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of June 12:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to close the Allston Bridge to all vehicular and foot traffic until such time as the conditions of the bridge will afford and warrant safe travel to the above-stated traffic."

I accompanied two engineers of the Bridge Division of this department to the above-referenced structure for the purpose of making an examination of it to determine the necessity of complying with the provisions of the above-referenced order.

As a result of this examination it is our opinion that the bridge is not in such a condition as to require the closing of it to vehicular and foot traffic, although we are of the opinion that repairs to the structure should be effected as soon as possible after an appropriation has been provided to pay for the cost of the work.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of May 8, 1944, regarding the installation of suitable electric lights on Lewis street, in the Hyde Park section of Ward 18.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
July 5, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council: "Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor to have suitable electric lights installed on Lewis street, in the Hyde Park section of Ward 18."

Upon investigation I find that the above-referenced street has been developed by the erection of single-family houses, all of which are occupied. In view of the circumstances, therefore, it is my opinion that electric street lights should be installed in the interests of public safety, and it is my intention to write to the Boston Edison Company to this effect and request that they obtain the approval of the War Production Board to the installation of lights on this street.

DESIGNATION OF JEWETT STREET A ONE-WAY STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of June 12, 1944, regarding the designating of Jewett street in the Mount Hope section of Roslindale, Ward 18, as a one-way street.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Traffic Commission, July 6, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—This will acknowledge receipt of Council order dated June 12, 1944, which reads as follows:

"Ordered, That the Traffic Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to designate Jewett street, in the Mount Hope section of Roslindale, Ward 18, as a one-way street."

At a meeting held June 29, 1944, this commission voted to make Jewett street and Philbrick street one-way streets.

While the Council order was only concerned with Jewett street it was felt that the adoption of the one-way rule in opposite directions in these two streets would make a more effective traffic pattern.

These rules will become effective July 17, 1944, for a trial period of sixty days. Observation will be made of the operation of the rules and if they prove effective they will be presented to the commission for permanent status.

Very truly yours,
WILLIAM P. HICKY, Commissioner.

CLEANING DRAINAGE DITCHES IN HAZELWOOD SECTION OF WARD 18.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, July 25, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Health Commissioner relative to your order of June 5, 1944, requesting the owner or owners of property in the swamp land in the Hazelwood section of Ward 18 to deepen and clear out the drainage ditches.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
June 26, 1944.

To Hon. Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor, Mayor's Office.
From G. Lynde Gately, M. D., Commissioner, Health Department.

Subject: Ordered, That the Health Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately order the owner or owners of property to deepen and clear out the drainage ditches in the swamp land bordered by Austin street and the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad, in the Hazelwood section of Ward 18, which constitutes a bad breeding place for malaria-carrying mosquitoes, resulting in a serious health menace.

The land this order refers to is a large tract and is opposite premises numbered 212 to 254 Austin street, Hyde Park.

Several factors are responsible for the present condition prevailing at this location.

Some years ago dwellings were erected at 212, 232, 234, 236, 238, 240, 242, 244, 246, 248, 250, 252 and 254 Austin street and cesspools were installed to care for the sewage produced by these properties. According to our records these cesspools were installed without the approval of the Health Department.

The overflow pipes from these cesspools are laid underground, passing under Austin street and terminate in the vacant lot referred to in the City Council order. This right of use of the vacant lot was evidently granted to present owners by previous owner of this lot. Under normal conditions the absorption of this waste is satisfactory.

Within the past year the Hazelwood Realty Company, Carl V. Wolsey, trustee, has excavated a large amount of the top soil of this vacant lot, exposing the discharge end of several of these overflow pipes as well as creating an excavation where the combination of surfacing drainage from these cesspools and natural run-off of surface water gathers.

This department has been in contact with Mr. Wolsey and he has agreed to fill and grade this area to remove nuisance created. In addition, Mr. Wolsey is also a defendant in an action taken by this department to abate a nuisance on adjoining vacant land, which action will come up for trial in the West Roxbury Court July 11, 1944, having been continued by the Court to that date on the agreement by Mr. Wolsey to have area holding stagnant water filled in.

On numerous occasions in the past this department had to act against the owners of the premises 212 to 254 Austin street, due to nuisances created by overflowing cesspools, and we strongly feel that the only permanent remedy is the installation of a public sewer in Austin street to which these premises should be connected. This would permit better absorption of the normal surface run-off which finds its way into the vacant lot as well as overcome the nuisance from overflowing cesspools.

Examination of the lateral drains at the lower end of this vacant land, which were placed there during a previous mosquito control program carried on by this department, reveal that they are in working condition and it is our opinion that with the factors referred to above, filling and grading of the excavated area, sufficient drainage will be provided to overcome mosquito-breeding places developing.

Respectfully,
G. LYNDE GATELY, M. D., M. P. H.,
Health Commissioner.

ABOLISHMENT OF OFFICE OF CIVILIAN DEFENSE.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately abolish the office of Civilian Defense and to instruct the City Auditor to disapprove any further payments from this appropriation.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I introduced this same order on June 12, 1944, and received no reply whatsoever from the gentleman down on the second floor. I cannot see any reason for this civilian defense outfit still operating. According to the news commentators and those high up in authority, Germany should crack within the near future, still we go on paying this Mr. Walsh, the head of the Civilian Defense, some $7,500 a year in salary, and if the information that I receive is correct, he has some other county or city or state employee working as his secretary who also draws an additional $1,500 salary from the City of Boston. I think that this thing should be abolished now and come to an end. There is no need for it. We are not going to be invaded and we are not going to be bombed. We are almost all certain and feel cocksure of that, so I don't see why the city's money should be wasted. The last time I talked on this I was told there remained something like $194,800 of the fund and I think that those funds should be turned back to the city and that they should not be wasted as they are now being wasted on salaries. I suppose they will be looking for new outfits for those fellows,—some way of getting rid of the money so somebody can get a ten, fifteen or twenty per cent cut or kick-back, whichever you call it. That is supposed to be it, isn't it? I am going to ask that the order be referred to the Executive Committee in order that Fox be brought up here and find out who is on the pay roll and how much money is left in this fund and see if we cannot get the auditor to stop all future payments and return this money to the city where it belongs and then, I suppose, the Mayor will see fit to give John Walsh another position,—whether $7,500 or not does not matter, should not enter into it, but it will be taken care of so he won't have too much to worry about.

Referred to Executive Committee.

ERECTION OF FENCE AT SUMNER STREET AND NORTH FERRY.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Commissioner of Public Works to immediately arrange for the erection of a fence on Sumner street at the North Ferry.

Coun. COFFEY—This is the fourth order, Mr. President, that I have introduced regarding this fence on Sumner street. Commissioner Hyland told me they were going to put a fence up there. It is a dangerous hazard and some three children in the past have fallen overboard. The last time I spoke on this order I told how they were dredging and had divers looking for a young boy whom they thought had fallen overboard. Yesterday the same thing occurred again,—a three-year-old boy was missing during the storm and the parents' first thought was that the boy had wandered into the Atlantic Ocean because you can walk right off the sidewalk on Sumner street into the Atlantic Ocean. The Public Works Commissioner has promised to put this fence up. The Mayor has promised to put the fence up and nothing has been done as yet. We have the fourth child. Two children have fallen in and were rescued by their parents, and then two children who disappeared and the parents were anxious, and when they had been missing for three or four hours they got in touch with the Police and Fire Departments who got in touch with divers and had divers looking for the bodies of the boys who were supposedly in the Atlantic Ocean. I say that something should be done and I cannot see why the Mayor or the Public Works Commissioner are so niggardly that they won't go to the expense of putting up a fence that would cost $100 or $125.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

TERMINATION OF PRACTICE OF YOUNG CHILDREN FROM PLAYGROUNDS PARTICIPATING IN WASTE PAPER COLLECTIONS.

Coun. BAYLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to give immediate consideration to the termination of the practice of enlisting young children from playgrounds and other sources to assist in the collection of paper and salvage purposes, and thus eliminate possibilities of serious harm or moral risks which such young children must run in the pursuance of this otherwise worthy objective.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, all patriotic Americans are behind the war effort of our great country and all of us here want to have this war end as quickly as possible, so that our boys may come back and we may build America. We want to get behind everything that will promote and shorten the war,—all the great drives, such as the War Loan drives, the Scrap Metal drives, the Paper Salvage drives. But in a drive like the recent one for paper salvage, we must be sure not to radically interfere with the health or safety of our people and of our children on whom the future of America depends. I was surprised to read in the City Record on July 29 and in various Boston newspapers, and to confirm by personal investigation, that many small children ranging in age from seven to twelve, were organized throughout the city a few weeks ago by playground directors under the supervision of the Associate Director of Physical Education of the Boston School Department, and that these children visited practically all of the 160,000 families in the City of Boston. Nor was seven the youngest age of these Paper-troopers. I have here a picture from the Christian Science Monitor of Tuesday, July 18, showing two paper Paratroopers who were aged five and six, respectively. Mr. President, I believe that a boy or girl of five, six or seven is too young to be taken from a playground and sent to strange houses and into tenements. The dangers are well explained in various communications that I have received on this subject from those who know of the keen interest I have taken in the playgrounds and the children of Boston. The first communication is from the Citizens' Committee on Playgrounds and Recreation. This committee, composed of many prominent citizens, was formed at the express request of the School Committee and has been visiting all the playgrounds under the School Committee and advising them how they can be improved. This year the School Committee commended them for the fine work and asked that they continue for at least another year and keep up the same service. The communication reads as follows:

"By a unanimous vote on July 25, 1944, the Boston Citizens' Committee on Playgrounds and Recreation respectfully desires to set before you the following motion:

'The Boston Citizens' Committee on Playgrounds and Recreation desires to record itself in disapproval of any activity which takes small and young children from playgrounds to enter tenement houses where they must go through various halls to reach the residents. This action is taken in view of recent happenings. We believe that such activity is liable to endanger the safety of children. It is not conducive to their best health. Our great interest for these children is that they may be made happy, their health improved, and their safety assured by every facility that the playgrounds can give them. For these reasons we wish them to remain in the playgrounds under the supervision of the trained workers, to join in activities with other children rather than run the extreme risk of exposure and unfortunate disaster.'

Very truly yours,

AGNES W. GRETSCH,
Secretary."

I also have letters from two settlement houses in my district, the directors of which are in constant touch with the people in that district and from whom have come numerous complaints on this subject. I have a letter from the Lincoln House Association which reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. Bayley,—Pursuant to the conversation regarding little children being used to distribute salvage fliers in the homes, I am writing to register with you Mr. Kingman's and my disapproval of little children circulating through the tenements of our district with fliers.

Naturally we are in thorough sympathy with salvage drives but know there is a real probability of danger in little children being used as messengers in the tenement district. Most of the people living in the tenements around Lincoln House and Hale House are honest, hard working householders, but weaving in and out of the tenements are some depraved and abnormal men. From time to time parents come to us and to the police with stories of little girls being attacked by such men. It is with this probability that we have to concern ourselves, so we are writing to ask you, as our councilman, to bring what influence you can toward preventing a repetition of children being asked to take any part in the salvage drive which necessitates their going into the tenement houses and knocking on people's doors.

Sincerely yours,

GRACE T. WILLS,
Director in Charge."

I also have a communication from Ellis Memorial which reads as follows:

"Dear Mr. Bayley,—I know how interested you are in the welfare of children. Your work with the Scouts and your interest in playgrounds would also give you an insight into what was good or might be dangerous for them, so I know you will understand when I tell you I have been very much troubled at learning that children on playgrounds in Boston have been sent around into houses to collect salvage. This is not safe. There are many excellent homes where it is quite safe for children to go, but in every neighborhood there are some which are not safe.

Here in the South End we have our quota of houses where it would be unsafe to send children; therefore, I was greatly disturbed to be told that children from the Tobin Playground had gone around collecting salvage.

Is there any way there could be a city ordinance against using children in this way? Even for a good purpose children should not be exploited.

I hope you will not think me over-anxious, and with confidence that you will do all you can to protect children.

Faithfully yours,

JANE R. McCRAID."

Mr. President, these dangers outlined in these letters are evident and real and we should do our share here to see that the children are not subjected to them. I believe that the proper place for young children during the day is on the playground where the little boy or girl can play under watchful supervision. Parents send their children to the playgrounds because they feel they will be safe there and will have healthy exercise. They do not expect the teacher to send the child to a neighborhood where she cannot keep a watchful eye on them. A few weeks ago we appropriated $25,000 for playground equipment for Boston playgrounds. The Council's Committee on Parks and Playgrounds, of which I have the honor to be chairman, has been working hard to see that the money appropriated has been used for such purpose alone; I might say that I have received a communication from the Park Department outlining how so much of the $25,000 appropriated has been spent and outlining how the rest of it will be spent for equipment, and I am also pleased to say that I understand that the appropriation for the "Gay Nineties" program, to which our committee objected, will be taken out of some other fund, so the $25,000 may be used for the equipment for which we appropriated the money. What good does it do to put equipment on the playgrounds if it is not to be used by the children, if the children who come to use it are to be shunted off? I have here a typical flier signed by the Mayor of Boston in a prominent place. I understand that many mothers have refused to send their children to the playgrounds until they can be sure that the children will remain on them. Mr. President, I believe that the best interests of the children are being disregarded in this case by the office of physical education of the Boston School Department. I have tried to contact the School Committee on this matter, but that committee has not held a meeting for some time. Mr. President, we all want to give 100 per cent support to the war effort, and waste paper is necessary, but is it so necessary that we must risk the health, the safety, even the lives of little children? I say to you that there are other ways in which these paper salvage drives may be advertised, other than with little hands or feet, and I feel we are not being real and true Americans if the only way we can think of is to take small children off the playgrounds where they belong to do this work. I say to you again, Mr. President, that a child of five, six or seven is too young to be sent into crowded tenements where all sorts of people lurk. All of us were shocked a few weeks ago over the murder of Frances McGrath and perhaps the murderer is lurking in one of these places. Must we wait for another McGrath case to awaken us to the dangers, or will we act now to protect the safety and health of the children on which the future of America depends? For these children and for their parents I ask suspension of the rules and passage of the order.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I just got one of these fliers which were distributed by these youngsters, as the councilor so well stated. At its heading it says: "Your waste paper is badly needed at the front." I cannot see for the life of me why any flier should be distributed. There is something in the newspapers, nearly every edition of every paper throughout the entire state, telling us how badly waste paper is needed. The only purpose I can see why this flier was given out is because at the bottom of it says: "Yours for victory, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor." Well, if he has gone so far, I don't see why he shouldn't add, "for Governor, Maurice J. Tobin, Mayor." I don't see why the city should have to pay for fliers that are going to be distributed by the Mayor with his name on them and on the bottom what we should know how the collections are made from ward to ward. We get that every day in the newspapers, every edition of the newspapers. And at the bottom it tells you to get prepared next month and when the collections are to be made in Wards 1 to 5, and so forth, and on the bottom of this second part of the circular it is signed by the Boston Salvage Committee. I should think that it should have been one circular instead of two parts of the one circular, with Mayor Tobin appearing on one part and the Boston Salvage Committee appearing on the other part. It was the same thing with the "Gay Nineties" show that has been run for a number of years. This year because the Mayor happened to be a candidate for Governor he has on the bill posters that the city had to pay for: "Come along to the 'Gay Nineties' with Mayor Tobin." There was no need of his name being on the "Gay Nineties" circular. I can give you fifty-seven reasons, but one I think is sufficient. Who in hell has seen the Mayor in the last eight weeks to go to the "Gay Nineties" with him? Where has he been? No councilor has had an audience with him in the last eight weeks. If they did, it was not in City Hall. Nobody knows where he is now. He will make a fine Governor if he spends as much time out of the state. I think he spends two thirds of his time in Florida. As I say I don't know why the city has to pay for a circular advertising Mayor Tobin for Governor. There was no need for it; just advertising himself and nothing else. The Boston Salvage Committee was enough to have sent out these fliers if they thought it was so needed.

INSTRUCTION OF PRECINCT OFFICERS.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN offered the following: Ordered, That the Election Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to instruct all precinct officers in the coming election the proper procedure relative to the rules and regulations of the department, due to the fact that they haven't been instructed in the last few years and there have been a large number of new officers appointed.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, the reason for this order is because the last several years there has been a large turnover in the precinct officers that work in the election precincts throughout the city on election day. Last year in the regular city election the Election Commissioner himself came out into my ward and took just two minutes to swear in the new precinct officers along with the old ones. The majority of those sworn in that day, 90 per cent of them, were new workers, never having worked in the polls before. There were all types of mistakes as a result of that, through no fault of the precinct workers, made on election day. The same conditions existed just a couple of weeks ago in the primaries. Additional new workers were placed in those. I feel that the Election Commissioner can at least go out once a year, a week or two before the election and instruct all the precinct workers just what has to be done relative to opening and closing the polls and the way the ballots should be counted. He should instruct them what offices are to be counted first and the returns made and then how to count the balance of the ticket. As happened in the primaries here the head of the ticket was supposed to be counted and returns made immediately. That was done in some precincts and in others they just started at the head of the ticket and went through the ticket in counting. The workers were not even instructed how to make the marks on their tally sheets. Some precincts they worked it as in the law. The law calls for four workers at each table, fifty ballots counted at one time. In some precincts you only have two at a table and two tables counting at the same time. I believe that if the workers were properly instructed they would get quicker and better results on election day and I hope the election commissioners will take some action on this matter in this coming election and all future elections.

PURCHASE OF CATCH-BASIN CLEANING EQUIPMENT.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to ascertain whether or not it is at present possible to purchase equipment necessary for the cleaning of catch-basins; and be it further Ordered, That if it is possible to purchase catch-basin cleaning equipment at the present time that arrangements be made to purchase an adequate amount of it at the earliest possible moment.

Coun. CAREY—Mr. President, just a word or two on that order. I have noticed several sections of the city recently, after some of the heavy rain storms have an accumulation of water that has been played in by the young children and then for several days later on there was a very distasteful odor in the neighborhood. I have also noticed in going about the city that this distasteful odor was coming out of catch-basins and I have had some complaints not only in my ward but in other sections of the city that there are rats, dead rats, in some of these catch-basins and I am not finding any fault with the division engineer of the Sewer Division because I think he is and always has done a splendid job. I don't think he has sufficient equipment to work with. If my information is correct, there is not a catch-basin cleaning machine assigned to each yard in the city. I think there should be at least one catch-basin cleaning machine in each district. We should have more than one, of course, but there should certainly be at least one provided. Now this matter of keeping these catch-basins clean is, as we all know, very important. In some cases where requests have been made to clear them, attempts have been made to blow them up which had not done the job properly. They need more equipment to dig the dirt and filth out of the basins and I hope an effort will be made to find out if cleaning equipment can be purchased and if so, that it will be done immediately.

ROPING OFF DARTMOUTH STREET.

Coun. CHASE and BAYLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and hereby is, authorized to rope off Dartmouth street in front of the Boston Public Library for a block party on Thursday, August 3, 1944, the expense to be charged to the City Council appropriation for Ropes, Stakes and Flags.

PRINTING OF BOOKS "BOSTON STREETS."

Coun. DWYER offered the following:

Ordered, That the Superintendent of Printing be authorized and directed to print 200 cloth bound copies of the book entitled "Boston's Streets," with the precinct changes, if any, made by the Election Commissioners to December 31, 1943, and the list of streets, etc., added to and corrected by the Board of Street Commissioners up to the date of publication, said copies to be distributed under the direction of the Committee on Printing and the expense to be charged to the Contingent Fund.

IMPROVEMENTS AT COTILLO PLAYGROUND.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the Park Commissioner to place the Cotillo Playground in first-class condition and to supply modern playground facilities.

Coun. RUSSO—I believe this is about the twentieth order that I have put in since I have been a member of the Council. I don't know the reason why the commissioner shouldn't take any action so far as these playgrounds are concerned. It seems the excuse always is that children will break the equipment. I am only wondering on account of growing old if he forgets when he was a child. It is the common thing and it is expected when you are dealing with children, that you are bound to have something broken and that is the reason why you should replace equipment and I feel he should replace this equipment every time it is needed in any playground throughout the City of Boston. There was $25,000 appropriated some time ago and it was the intention at that time of the Council, —that is the only reason we passed upon it,— that these playgrounds were going to be improved. I know in particular when I asked the question so far as North End Park was concerned, about having some grass planted in the North End Park, he said that he made a try about twenty years ago and grass would not grow. Well, I ask you, Mr. President, if you put in the proper seed and pay the proper attention to the piece of earth, you will find that grass will grow, especially in a playground which is exposed to the sun that has a natural effect of making grass grow. I read here that he sent a communication to the chairman of the Park Committee in regard to the $25,000 which has been appropriated and it has down there they bought 5,000 pounds of grass seed mixture at a price of 34 cents per pound at $2,185. I haven't seen any of that in the North End Park, which he promised at that time he would do something about it. Not only that, Mr. President, I feel it is about time the Council gets a little bit hard headed, if you want to call it so, and makes sure when we request that a commissioner of any department appear before any of this Body that they ought to appear in person. I, as a member of the Park Committee, have asked that the Commissioner appear before us,—before our committee. As I understand it, he also promised to the chairman of that committee that he will personally send in a statement signed by him, when he refused to appear personally and still he has the same gentleman, Mr. O'Keefe, sign this report, the same individual that he sent up to us and who made statements that the chairman of the Park Department did not substantiate. Are we going to take this particular report not signed by the commissioner and have something else come up? I say it is high time, Mr. President, that the Council ought to do something about it and I believe it is their duty regardless of who the head of the department may be that when the Council passes an order, they should appear; that they should be present in order to give to the Council a full explanation; that they do not have to go around here and there in order to try and get some information that they are entitled to. And I hope that on this particular playground that he does something about it, and any other playground throughout the City of Boston. I maintain the playgrounds are not being properly supervised. Go into any of those public playgrounds and there is no supervision whatsoever. We try so hard to have playgrounds, small as they are, and then you are not only not given the right facilities for them, but no supervision. How do you expect children who use playgrounds and use their facilities not to break them without any supervision? Something ought to be done, and done darned fast. I hope my order will pass.

Coun. BAYLEY—Mr. President, as chairman of the Parks and Playgrounds Committee, I would like to back up what the distinguished councilor from Ward 3 has said. The Park Commissioner told me over the phone that he would not, I understand, ever appear before our committee, but would be glad to send a representative as he has in the past. I asked him if he would send a statement signed by him saying how any of the $25,000 appropriated had been spent and with an outline of how the remainder would be spent, and he agreed to do so. Now that was four and one half weeks ago, and I have been communicating with him every week to get that statement which was promised within a few days. I don't think he has kept his promise that he would send down a statement signed by him, and I don't believe that statement outlines how the remainder of the unexpended $25,000 is to be spent. I think we as the City Council having appropriated that money have a right to know where every cent has been spent and how the remainder will be spent, and I understood as chairman that this money was to be spent largely for equipment which was to be spread all over the playgrounds of the city. That is what I told you as chairman we were appropriating the money for. I am not too well pleased with this money being spent for grass seed and other purposes. I have a subsequent letter which shows $2,000 is to be used for work on the Eustis Playground on Eustis street. Well, I think that is probably all right, but I would like to see the money spread around to actual equipment, bats, balls, swings and the like, spread to all of our playgrounds. I believe that $92.50 of this money has already been spent to the Libbie Printing Company for posters of the "Gay Nineties" show which the councilor from Ward 1 has said say, "Go along with Mayor Tobin." But I am pleased to see that it appears now that the remaining money which has been estimated to be about $2,000, and which threatens to become an additional $1,500 being spread around the city has not been charged to our $25,000 appropriation and will be taken from some other fund. I think the failure to take it from the $25,000 was due to the prompt action by your committee which went to the newspapers and refused to let it be taken from the $25,000. I might say in my section the "Gay Nineties" program was on for three weeks and the result was that it had hurt the grass so much we have had the playground closed off for a minimum of two months. The Fens Stadium should be in use by the children but by the show it has been held back in the estimation of experts over two months and we don't know if we will be able to open it. I am opposed to it when it ruins the grass on playgrounds where we have worked to have grass for quite a while.

RESURFACING PERCIVAL STREET.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to resurface Percival street and Fox street, Ward 15. Passed under suspension of the rule.

RECESS.

The Council voted at 3.05 p. m., on motion of Coun. HANNON, to take a recess, subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 4.30 p. m.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

Report on order (referred May 22) introduced by Coun. D. F. Sullivan that the trustees of the Boston City Hospital be instructed by his Honor the Mayor to inform the City Council what action, if any, has been taken by them to grant the employees of the City Hospital in the Mattapan Sanatorium pay increase—that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; said order passed.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON LICENSES.

Coun. COFFEY, for the Committee on Licenses, submitted the following:

Report on the petition of Boston Elevated Railway Company (referred this day) for license to operate motor vehicles between the junction of West Roxbury Parkway and Anawan avenue and the junction of West Roxbury Parkway and Woodard road, West Roxbury, over Anawan avenue, Park street and Woodard road—that license be granted.

Report accepted and permit granted.

REPAIRS TO BATH HOUSE ON CHARLES RIVER ESPLANADE.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the Park Commissioner to make needed repairs to the bath house on the Charles River Esplanade to place this bath house in first-class condition.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I have had many complaints in the last few weeks so far as this bath house on the Esplanade is concerned. I have talked with the commissioner, and he informs me that there is no sense of doing any repairing while the White Fund is going to place there a new bath house and solarium. However, that has been under consideration for quite some time and due to the war erection of that new bath house has not taken place as yet and we don't know how long this war is going to continue and I do hope that the commissioner sees fit to do some fixing in there which he agrees ought to be fixed. After all, if you go down there in the condition it is in, it is really a disgraceful thing even to go near the place and now that it is summer time there are some disgraceful sights and I do hope that he will do something there very soon on it and see that that place is taken care of.

REPAIRS TO ALLSTON BRIDGE.

Coun. DWYER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor arrange for an appropriation by transfer of available funds to pay for the necessary repairs to the Allston Bridge.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I filed that order as a result of a communication that was received in the Council today. This communication is dated July 25, 1944, and it says: "Gentlemen, I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of June 12, 1944, regarding the closing of the Allston Bridge to all vehicular and foot traffic until such time as the conditions of the bridge will afford and warrant safe travel to the above stated traffic." Attached to that is a communication dated June 22, 1944, from the Public Works Commissioner to Arthur C. Carey, Chief Clerk, Office of the Mayor:

"Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of June 12:

'Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to close the Allston Bridge to all vehicular and foot traffic until such time as the conditions of the bridge will afford and warrant safe travel to the above stated traffic.'

I accompanied two engineers of the Bridge Division of this department to the above-referenced structure for the purpose of making an examination of it to determine the necessity of complying with the provisions of the above-referenced order.

As a result of this examination, it is our opinion that the bridge is not in such a condition as to require the closing of it to vehicular and foot traffic, although we are of the opinion that repairs to the structure should be effected as soon as possible after an appropriation has been provided to pay for the cost of the work.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works."

Now, Mr. President, this Allston Bridge is an old story. Everybody in this Council, Mr. President, is familiar with it. You all know that the first time it came to the attention of any member of the Council, myself included, was at the budget hearings before your Committee on Appropriations when the Commissioner of Public Works personally stated that the first bridge in his opinion, a No. 1 project, in need of repairs, in the entire City of Boston, was the Allston Bridge. This Council in its wisdom, a short while after the Committee on Appropriations had reported the budget and there being no funds available to make repairs on bridges because the Budget Commissioner and the Mayor slashed the appropriation so badly that there wasn't and isn't at the present time any money for bridge repairs, this Council in its wisdom voted for a loan order and gave it one reading and then again at a later date when it should take two weeks later, a second reading, which almost passed and lacked one vote, it received fourteen votes and some members who voted originally were not there that day. There is no question but what the bridge is badly in need of repairs. The Acting Commissioner of Bridges will tell you it is in very bad condition. Commissioner Hyland says that when he has the money in his opinion repairs should be effected as soon as possible. In my opinion he doesn't know too much about bridges. I don't know as he knows too much about anything except how to award contracts without bidding or holding public bids. Mr. President, in the local papers out there some time after this Council passed this order to close this bridge, Commissioner Hyland put a statement in the papers saying that in the following meeting of the Council on the following Monday, his Honor the Mayor would send a transfer order to the Council requesting an appropriation of $50,000 to be transferred from funds available to the Bridge Department to make these repairs. Now that is over five or six weeks ago, Mr. President, and there has been no action whatsoever, and if the bridge was in bad repair last December or November when this budget was made up, surely there is no question but what it must be in a much worse condition at the present time. So I hope, Mr. President, that this Council will vote for this order and that his Honor the Mayor will immediately make these necessary funds available to protect the lives and the safety of the people of Boston.

ENFORCEMENT OF CHAPTER 4, ORDINANCES OF 1941.

Coun. CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the Police Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to issue orders to the police captains of the various divisions to fully enforce chapter 4 of the Ordinances of 1941, which were enacted by the City Council for the purpose of preventing unnecessary noise and nuisance to the general public.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Election Commissioners to provide suitable accommodations in Ward 11 for the procurement of "absentee ballots" by the relatives of the members of the armed forces, preferably Precincts 4 and 15.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, briefly, last week the Boston City Council passed a similar order introduced by Councilor Kinsella and simultaneously with that the Mayor opened up offices in the Office of Price Control which happens to be over in the Mission Church parish for Wards 9, 10 and 11. Now I don't know what they mean by circumventing various offices that are always allocated for voting and registering in Ward 11, but I know this, that there is really too much OPA in our form of government today and we don't want them where the ballot is concerned, the ballot that destroys or creates a man in public life and the only weapon that we as a free people have today for destroying those who would destroy our form of government. I want every man, whether he is in continental United States or outside of the United States, to vote. I want the Merchant Marine, the Army and Navy, the Coast Guard and the Marines, to vote in the coming election, but we want convenience for the absentee ballots on the part of those who cannot procure them and I only hope his Honor the Mayor sets up in Precinct 4 and Precinct 15, in Ward 11, and allows the relatives of the members of the armed forces to procure absentee ballots. This is specifically for my constituents in Ward 11.

Coun. CAREY—I ask that the order be read again.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order.

The order was read.

Coun. CAREY—I understand from Councilor Hanley that in both those precincts registration is usually carried on where ward registration is made available and I heartily agree with the councilor's request, and I am sorry to see that nothing has been done up to this time regarding the order Councilor Kinsella introduced last Monday. Councilor Hanley is quite correct in the objection that he raises here this afternoon. There has been no provision made for the people in Ward 11 to effect registration of the service men. Likewise, there has been no provision for people in Ward 9, because they, too, have to come over to Ward 10 to do their registering. That same condition is existing throughout the City of Boston. The hours that registration is now available are between 9 in the morning and 5 in the afternoon and there are altogether too many people who cannot visit those registration places during those hours. It has been found necessary for years to have night registration of voters at convenient points in each ward. In my district we have had it in the Mission Hill section, Ward 10, and later on in the Jamaica Plain side of the district during the evening hours. I say there are people in the city—the mothers and fathers of the boys in the service in this city are not being given ample and sufficient opportunity to register those young men and who if I know what is going on want to vote because I have had several letters from men in the service asking how they can make sure that their name is on the list and they will receive a ballot and each and every one of those letters have come from thousands of miles away from home. These service men are not being given the right opportunity to vote this year. That opportunity can only be given through better facilities, spread throughout the twenty-two wards of this city and I hope that there having been no attention paid to the order of last week, that there will be attention paid now to this order this week and at the same time the request of last week be resurrected and within the next few days registration will be made available in every ward of the city by including the evening hours as well as the hours 9 to 5 during the day-time.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, this order is a very good order, even if it does apply to Ward 11. I would like to amend the order to read that it cover the entire twenty-two wards and held at the various registration places. When the Mayor announced at the dinner at the Parker House relative to these outside applications for service men, absentee ballots, I made an oral suggestion to the chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners that he engage the same men in the twenty-two wards that handle registration and they are sworn in as assistant registrars and they have the right to give oath to anyone making an application for a man in service. They should have taken in my ward for so many evenings in one section and so many evenings in the other location they have. That condition would have existed in the twenty-two wards but now the same as everything else, the department heads don't want to take the recommendations from the councilors who know the districts and know the city a damn sight better than a lot of the darned department heads who are in the city here now. The Mayor would do a damned sight better if he got a tipcart and put some of the darned department heads he has in, and put them down in the scow and dumped them in there. Here they come out last week and appoint and designate eleven locations throughout the city. They are looking for the absentee votes of the service men and they expect the people to come from Forest Hills into Roxbury to make application. If they think the people are going to do that, when they don't even go out on primary day to vote, how do they expect them to come and make application for a ballot all the way from Forest Hills into Roxbury Crossing. Why the department heads do it I don't know, and I guess I never will, but I would like to amend the order to read that the locations be maintained for applications for service men's ballots throughout the forty-four locations in the City of Boston.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I am not too familiar with the order, but I would like to give a little information to some of the previous speakers that I myself secured last week. Last week I went to the Election Department and much to my amazement I saw a lot of young ladies working in the Election Department, so I asked for the chairman of the Election Department, Mr. William Motley. Mr. Motley came out and I said to him: "I see you have a lot of additional employees here, a lot of additional help." Mr. Motley said, yes, he did. I asked him where he got the funds and where the money was coming from to pay for it and Mr. Motley said he was coming up to the Council this week and get the money. Well, I said, "That may be." He said that they all needed a job. I said to him, "Where did you get the help? Are they from the civil service list? Are they people who have worked before on this particular type of work?" He said, "No." He said that the Mayor appointed them; that the Mayor's office gave him the list. Well, I said, "Who have you got working out in my ward?" And after a great deal of time he submitted the list of who was working in my ward and then I asked him for the list of who were working in every ward in the city; what their addresses were and what public enrollment they were in. I haven't received that information from Mr. Motley as yet, but I intend to try and get it, Mr. President, before the week is out and I will probably have something to say about this next week and I think that people who are familiar with this type of work should be doing it and not relatives of the election commissioners. One of the commissioners had his daughter in there, one of the candidates for Secretary of State, his daughter has just gone in there, so on down the line. So, Mr. President, I think that this Council should have a little information with regard to who and why and where money is coming from with regard to some of this help who are going into their particular wards and know absolutely nothing about registering voters. They have had no experience on it. As a matter of fact, they have men training them who are paid employees of the department, not for one day but for several days, and I saw a piece in a prominent Boston newspaper yesterday saying that this help was going to work Wednesday of this week. I find that some of them have already been working over a week. I know of no appropriation of moneys allocated in the budget for this type of work at any time and I for one in my district would like to know who is going to do this type of work and what their qualifications are and why the Mayor's office should submit to the chairman of the Election Department a list of who shall do this work. I hope the councilor's order from Ward 11 passes.

President KERRIGAN—Does Councilor Hanley agree to the amendment offered?

Coun. HANLEY—Yes, I agree with Councilor D. F. Sullivan on the twenty-two wards in Boston, so each and every one of the armed forces can have an absentee ballot.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order as amended.

The order was read by the clerk as follows: "Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Election Commissioners to provide suitable accommodations in Ward 11 for the procurement of absentee ballots by the relatives of the members of the armed forces, preferably Precincts 4 and 15, and in such other wards of the city where conditions are not sufficient, there be provided full coverage in each precinct."

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—My amendment is calling for them to use the same location where the people are acquainted with and going there to register. In the outside registration they have six nights in one location in each ward, making a total of twenty-two locations the first part of the outside registration and then in the second half they have another location in another section of the ward, making it a grand total of forty-four places for outside registration. In other words, to use the same places for these absentee ballots as they use for registration.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order as amended.

The clerk read the order as follows:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Election Commissioners to provide suitable accommodations in Ward 11 for the procurement of absentee ballots by the relatives of members of the armed forces, preferably in Precincts 4 and 15, and in such other wards of city accommodations be provided in the forty-four locations used for registration purposes."

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, I will be very brief, as the hour is late and it is hot and the boys want to get home. All I want to say is that the remarks that were made by Councilor Dwyer, I have no doubt they are true because he was talking about the Election Commissioners. I am more than amazed to think that the Election Commissioners are playing politics.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, on a point of information. Is it within the province of the President of this Body to appoint a committee such as called the Election Committee or what have you? Since I have been in here in my four and one half years, order after order has been coming in here relative to the Election Department. Not very long ago I put one in myself asking for the removal of the chairman. I think we should have a committee. We had a committee to investigate the hospitals, welfare, but nothing in the Election Department. We should have another one to investigate the Public Works Department. Do you want that in the form of an order, or is it in the province of the Chair to appoint these committees?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair can appoint special committees, councilor.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Well, I so move that you appoint a special committee comprising five members of this Body, one committee for the Public Works Department and the other one on the Election Department.

President KERRIGAN—The question is now on the adoption of the motion.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, a point of information. Is it within your power to make these committees permanent committees? Can they be made permanent the same as any other committee we have?

President KERRIGAN—By an amendment of the rules; yes.

Coun. COFFEY—How will we go about amending the rules so you can appoint these committees and make them regular committees?

President KERRIGAN—By a two-thirds vote of the members present.

Coun. COFFEY—Will we take the vote now?

President KERRIGAN—With all the members present.

Coun. COFFEY—That is not so when the Mayor wants something.

President KERRIGAN—The question is on Councilor Sullivan's motion.

The motion was carried.

INCREASED PAY FOR ELECTION OFFICIALS.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to consider the advisability of increasing the pay of election officials assigned to precinct poll duties at primary and regular elections, as follows:

Election inspectors from the present $11 per day to $13 per day.

Wardens and clerks from the present $13 per day to $15 per day.

Coun. FEENEY—Mr. President, there is a serious shortage of qualified poll workers in Boston at this time. In my honest judgment steps should be taken now to avert a possible break-down of the election machinery in Boston on November 7. These one-day jobs in my opinion, should be made more attractive with higher wages as an added inducement if the proper kind of workers in sufficient quantities are to be found to man the polls this year. Many of the precincts throughout the city will be still tabulating votes after 6 a. m. on the 7th day of November, the next day, and some others will be working up to noontime, it being a Presidential year with contests for all national and state officers. The older and more experienced precinct workers know this and many of them who hold outside jobs, knowing they are going to lose two days' pay, won't report for work that day. There is a strong likelihood we will lose many of them. Even with this proposed increase, Mr. President, keeping in mind the long hours that these precinct officials work, their hourly pay will only be about 50 cents an hour for the inspectors and 55 cents for the clerks and the wardens. We are all aware of the confusion that existed in the various departments in the last primary date. The results were not available to the candidates for local office or state office in the primary contest until the afternoon of the third day and that third day was the last day for filing recount petitions. Now that is all as a direct result of the lack of qualified workers in the numbers that the city needs. We have got to try to do something to alleviate this condition. It is not fair to the candidates and it is not fair to the precinct officers and certainly it is not fair to the public. I don't think that this order necessarily is a cure-all for the trouble of tabulating these votes in proper time, but I do think it is a proper and intelligent step in the right direction to give this city a proper and intelligent election day set-up.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CONVENIENT POLLING PLACES FOR VOTERS IN PRECINCT 6, WARD 10.

Coun. CAREY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Election Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to provide a more convenient polling place for the voters in Precinct 6 of Ward 10.

Coun. CAREY—Just a word or two on that order, Mr. President. Some three or four years ago the Election Commissioners deprived the voters in Precinct 6 of Ward 10 of a convenient polling place through the removal of one of the portable voting booths. In that particular precinct the residents live high up on Mission Hill and are now forced to come down off that hill down to the library on Tremont street to vote. I say they are being deprived unfairly of that franchise which is forced through not having a more convenient polling place available. Now the election is approaching again and I have had complaints from people who say they have not voted for three or four years because they do not feel they should be obliged to come down off Mission Hill in order to vote. Up to three or four years ago convenient facilities were always found. It is a precinct immediately near my own home and in defense of those people I ask in that order that they be given a more convenient polling place and I hope that request I have made on more than one occasion be granted the voters in that section of my ward in the coming election on November 7.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first ship-board takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

VOL. 36.

No. 34

INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED TO ALL EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS IN CITY BY HEALTH COMMISSIONER, DR. G. LYNDE GATELY, SEEK TO PREVENT POSSIBLE DISEASE SPREAD AND TO PRESERVE THE HEALTH OF BOSTON CITIZENS—PLACED IN PROMINENT PLACE IN ALL ESTABLISHMENTS WHERE FOOD AND DRINK OR EITHER ARE SERVED—ALL ARE BASED ON LEGALITY, AND PROSECUTIONS MAY FOLLOW INFRACTIONS.

Health Commissioner Dr. G. Lynde Gately has prepared and issued a set of sanitary instructions for the operation of eating and drinking establishments in the City of Boston, looking to the prevention of possible disease spread and the preservation of the health of the eating public. The instructions are based on regulations adopted by the city and in legal effect, so that prosecutions may follow any disregard of them.

The full list of the instructions, which are distributed and placed in prominent place in the eating and drinking places of the city, are as follows:

1. All personnel must be clean and neat at all times and must be free of communicable disease. If you are sick, stay at home and call a doctor.
2. All food and drink served must be clean, wholesome and safe for human consumption. Milk and cream must be pasteurized and must be kept cold at all times.
3. All foods must be protected against contamination from dust, vermin, flies and rodents. All perishable foods must be properly refrigerated at all times. The temperature of refrigeration for most foods should be 40 degrees F. Meats and foods containing meat should be refrigerated at 34 degrees F.

Dishes, Etc., Sterilized.

4. All dishes, glasses, spoons, forks and knives must be thoroughly washed and sterilized after becoming soiled. Soiled dishes should first be rinsed in running warm water and the soil should be removed with the aid of a dish mop, brush or other suitable mechanical device and allowed to flow directly to the sewer.

Another acceptable method of preliminary cleansing consists in soaking all soiled dishes in clean water containing a detergent at 110 degrees to 120 degrees F. and washing thoroughly before they are allowed to enter the dishwashing machine.

After this preliminary cleansing, wash the dishes in clean water at 120 degrees F., or higher, which contains 0.1-0.3 per cent by weight of soap or a suitable alkali powder or detergent. Wash for 3 minutes. Glasses and silverware should be washed separately. After washing, the dishes must be sterilized by immersion in clean water at 170 degrees F. for 2 minutes. Remove and allow the dishes to dry in the air. Glasses and silverware may be polished with the aid of clean, dry, lintless towels.

5. Where mechanical dishwashing is used, the washing and rinsing must be adequately controlled by suitable timing devices. There must also be a thermometer on the wash water line and one on the rinse water line.

6. An adequate supply of hot water must be available at all times. The temperature of the water on delivery must not be less than 170 degrees F.

7. At least two sinks must be available for washing and sterilizing eating and drinking utensils. One should be used for washing purposes and the other for sterilizing the dishes and the utensils. Where only one sink is available and a second cannot be obtained at present, the washing should be done in a dish pan and the sink reserved for sterilization.

8. All pressure tumbler rinsers must be disconnected. Their use is prohibited in Boston. As soon as possible, the pressure tumbler rinser should be removed entirely. Ice cream scoops must be washed in pure running water. There must be no physical connection between the inlet and the water in the scoop sink, and the outlet must be lower than the inlet.

9. All empty milk and cream bottles must be thoroughly rinsed before being discarded for return delivery. This will help to control the fly, vermin and rodent nuisances.

Care for Garbage.

10. Garbage receptacles must be adequate in size, made of metal, in good condition and must be kept covered. All garbage shall be removed at least once a day. Garbage receptacles must be thoroughly washed after being emptied.

HEALTH INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED TO EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS.

11. Cleanliness is essential to adequate public health protection. The counter, shelves, floor and all equipment must be kept clean at all times. Store clean and sterile glasses high above the floor and in a manner to protect them against all forms of contamination.

12. All eating and drinking establishments must provide clean, decent, comfortable toilet facilities for employees. Suitable hand-washing facilities, including running hot and cold water mixed in a combination faucet must be provided and made available near the toilet. Clean soap, individual towels and a receptacle for used towels must also be provided.

13. Employees must practice proper hand hygiene at all times, especially after using the toilet, after contaminating the hands by coughing or sneezing into them and after soiling them in any other way. Remove the dirt from under the fingernails. Never start handling or preparing food without washing the hands. Remember that the hands are not shovels, scoops or paddles. Do not contaminate foods with the hands unnecessarily.

14. Avoid giving the food or drink that is served a salivary shower. Do not cough or sneeze over food. Catch the cough or sneeze in a clean handkerchief. Then wash your hands.

15. Combat rats, vermin and flies at all times. Do not leave any exposed food around. Cover or fill in all existing rat holes. Screen all windows and doors from April 1st to October 1st. Keep your place clean at all times. Clean up before closing up for the night. Do not leave soiled dishes for cleaning tomorrow. Be careful not to let rat poison or vermin poison come in contact with food or with eating and drinking utensils or with pans, pots, chopping boards, etc.

16. Do not insert fingers in glasses or cups or handle silverware by those parts that enter the mouth. Arrange all silverware uniformly in narrow boxes.

17. Avoid nesting of cups, bowls, trays, pans, etc., after cleaning and sterilizing. Give them a chance to dry rapidly in the air.

18. Provide a thermometer in every refrigerator.

19. Don't keep any food, raw or cooked, uncovered or out of a refrigerator any longer than is absolutely necessary. Remember that food spoilage goes on all the time and that temperatures above 50 degrees F. favor rapid food spoilage and food poisoning.

20. Keep all hoods and the area around fat fryers as free of grease as possible. Clean up and remove all accumulated grease daily. Then the situation will never get out of hand.

21. All cutting, grinding, filling and chopping machines must be thoroughly cleaned immediately after use. This is necessary in order to protect foods that subsequently come in contact with these machines from becoming badly contaminated.

22. As far as possible use one piece ladles, mixing spoons and paddles. They are easier to keep clean. Avoid cracks and crevices of all sorts. All utensils should be made of non-corrosive materials.

23. Store all food stuffs at least 1 foot off the floor and keep the floor clear of accumulated materials. Keep the floor clean all the time.

24. Meat chopping blocks must be kept smooth and clean at all times.

25. Proprietors of all eating and drinking establishments must provide suitable equipment and facilities essential for sanitation. It is also their responsibility to instruct and supervise all help properly. Post these instructions in suitable places and make sure each employee reads and understands them.

Help protect the health of your customer. He is helping you to earn a living. A sanitary establishment is one of the best ways to advertise your business.

G. LYNDE GATELY, M. D., M. P. H.,
Health Commissioner.

REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON STREET PAVING.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, August 2, 1944.

Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.
Honorable Sir,—The Finance Commission desires to bring to your attention some important observations in relation to street paving work. These observations have great significance at the present time. The Public Works Department now has before it the immense and unusual task of creating and executing a program to spend more than $3,000,000 for street paving.

This is the largest amount ever made available at one time for general new street construction. It comes at a time when labor is scarce and, such as is obtainable for this work, is more expensive than ever before; when equipment, due to the war, is not only limited in volume, but limited to a small number of contractors; and when not only the cost of the necessary materials is at the peak, but the steady flow of them is questionable, even with the removal of Federal restrictions.

The city has already asked for bids for a $1,000,000 portion of an authorized bond issue of $3,000,000 for street construction. In addition, there was this year an appropriation from taxes of $148,748 and $50,000 more specifically for sidewalks. Furthermore, from January 1 to July there were total balances of $163,912 in the accounts for street construction, constituting the portion of 1943 appropriation which the Public Works Department had been unable to spend. Adding these sums gives a total in authorized accounts of more than $3,350,000.

Boston uses a "precise" specification in its paving contracts. That means that an exactness in quality and quantity is required. That is what the contractors bid upon. This exactness naturally adds to the contract cost. To give assurance that the city is receiving this exactness in quality and quantity, inspection must be constant on every job.

The "paving" job usually means the pavement between gutters, the gutters, the curbstones and the sidewalks.

It is evident that it is the intention to award contracts this summer and fall to cost well over $1,000,000. Contracts approximating $750,000 have already been awarded or advertised. If this amount of work can be done before snow flies the coming winter, it will be distinctly contrary to the experience of many years past and it will place a severe load on the inspection force.

Conscientious inspection of street construction and enforcement of contract requirements are always a necessity. The lack of reliable inspection in recent years has resulted in absolute waste of a substantial expenditure. Whether or not the present inspection force is adequate for the volume of work required in such spending is a serious question.

At the present time the city has only fourteen paving inspectors available. When this planned program is fully under way and miles of construction work are being done at one and the same time, such a number of inspectors cannot possibly give the city the protection required by the form of specifications used.

Repeatedly in recent years the Finance Commission has been forced to protest the acceptance of paving work by the current group of paving contractors. The commission's inspectors often observed absolute disregard of specifications in the contract performance. Much of the paving work done was, as a result, below the required quality. The commission found that at times inspectors were not present while pavement was being laid; at other times that some who were detailed to inspection did not have copies of the specifications or know the requirements.

It even found some who claimed to know the requirements but made no effort to enforce requirements. This situation is the more remarkable because the volume of street paving by contract in recent years has been greatly less than normal.

To put the present ambitious plan in proper perspective, an understanding of recent paving history is necessary. In the earlier years of the depression period paving by contract was completely eliminated. The necessity for finding jobs for the unemployed resulted in large grants for street construction work by the Federal Government. Under the terms of the grants the money was paid directly to workers hired under W. P. A. auspices. This meant day and labor work and no contracts. During most of this period municipal contractors received only what they could obtain for the rental of equipment. In the latter part of the period, because of dissatisfaction with W. P. A. execution, contractors were given the work of laying only the top surface of the paving job. The streets had been constructed to that point by W. P. A. workers.

As the city emerged from the unemployment situation in the 1930's, paving by contract again became the vogue. However, because of the manpower, equipment, and material shortages which followed United States entry into the war, the volume of paving work was kept to a very small amount in comparison with that of a normal year. In the year 1942 the city reached the lowest figure in many years in yardage of new pavement—63,525 yards. In comparison, for instance, the 1939 volume was 665,583 yards.

Notwithstanding that through the largess of W. P. A. vast sums of Federal money were spent on street work in the 1930's, the condition of many of them has been rapidly deteriorating. In considering, therefore, the amount authorized for paving this year, it is of interest to review the following figures of the cost of the work contracted for in the recent years:

Year.	Roadway Construction.	Sidewalk Construction.
1941.....	$293,116 73	—
1942.....	194,013 37	$31,477 22
1943.....	381,378 74	53,533 84

The contrast in this volume of work performed by contractors in 1941 to 1943, inclusive, with the new $3,000,000 loan authorization for 1944 is striking.

Originally, the plan in 1944 was to spend $1,000,000. The presumption was that it would take two years to complete the program. The Public Works Commissioner on April 10 requested an appropriation of $1,000,000. Later, on April 24, he increased the amount of his request to $1,500,000. Subsequently the City Council rejected the $1,500,000 loan.

The Council's rejection of the $1,500,000 authorization was followed by a new and reduced program to cost $1,000,000. It was while this program was before the Council that, on the initiative of a few members, the amount of the authorization was tripled. There was, and is, no program planned for a $3,000,000 expenditure. Yet, rather than risk defeat of any loan by another vote in the City Council, the $3,000,000 order was allowed to become operative.

In the bidding for the 1944 contracts to this date it appears that contractors whose work the Finance Commission has complained of in the past two years are among the small number competing. Some of them have already secured awards. Yet the commission has found in a July, 1944, inspection of streets constructed by them in recent years, particularly in 1941, that they have not yet fulfilled their past obligations to the city.

By requirement of the paving contracts, the contractor must give bond against defects for five years. The commission has found that routine notice was given several contractors early in the spring of 1944 of scores of defects to be corrected. To this date these notices have been ignored, yet no penalizing action has resulted. There still remains, therefore, much of the work paid for in 1941, 1942 and 1943 to be cleared up. The following is the report of a Finance Commission inspector who has just completed an examination of the street work of recent years:

Timing of Construction.

The number of streets involved in the present program of construction is not ascertainable at the present time. It will depend to some extent on the rapidity with which plans can be prepared and bids obtained, and to some extent on the prices bid. However, it is the intention, apparently, to let a contract, at least, for as many as the available funds will provide for.

The commission has already pointed out that there is a limited field of bidders, a scarcity of labor, and a limited amount of equipment. In such a situation it is bound to happen that each of a very few contractors will obtain awards for a large number of streets. One has already been awarded contracts to cost well over $100,000. Some of these jobs are of very great length and require several weeks of work before completion.

At the time of writing one contractor has been unable to start construction on several streets which were awarded to him in June, the reason being lack of equipment and lack of sufficient manpower. In the pooling of the equipment available this particular contractor's turn to receive some simply has not yet arrived.

It is quite likely therefore that, if the usual practice is followed, the work on some streets will be started late in the fall. In such circumstances there is always a race between the contractor and the weather, and very often in the past the weather has won the race.

Streets built under such conditions rarely give satisfactory service. In the rush to beat the frost, there is often poor workmanship; and poor workmanship is not intended to be tolerated under the form of contract made. Frost coming before pavement is firmly set results in a poor pavement. Much of the trouble with the streets laid in the last few years has been caused by the rush of the work late in the fall.

In another respect good results are difficult when streets are built under such pressure as is now necessary because of the suddenness of the decision to attempt such a large program of construction. Openings for public service connections are likely to come after rather than before the pavement is laid. The repavement of such openings usually comes long after the cut has been made and the public is inconvenienced to that extent. The patch is always noticeable in wear as well as in appearance.

An instance of this type of result is now visible on Kilmarnock street, Ward 5. The work of resurfacing was completed about July 21. The City Water Department has already made an opening in the street.

In the past the answer to such criticism has been that "the bond protects the city." The report of the Finance Commission inspector's recent examination of 1941, 1942 and 1943 streets furnishes ample evidence that the bond furnishes little protection because it is rarely that the bondsman is called upon to make good defective pavement. Too often, as in the case of many of the streets reported upon, though first-class pavement has been paid for, actually much of it is dangerous to travel.

The conclusion from the foregoing is obvious. No street work should be contracted for unless it can be completed before the approach of winter compels a race between the contractor and the elements of the weather.

The data related above shows conclusively the truth of the principles repeatedly laid down by the Finance Commission in its criticism of the method of performance and in its prediction of the probable result of failure to adhere to specifications. Failure to secure conformity to specifications in performance, it was pointed out, arose from the inadequate and ineffective inspection.

The fears expressed in 1941 for the stability of the work are thus shown to have been fully justified. Inspections made in each year since 1941 demonstrate that much of the 1941 work could not withstand normal wear and normal winter weather. This deterioration also characterized the sidewalk paving of 1942 and 1943, and, to a lesser extent, the roadway pavement of those years.

Moreover, contractors who performed the work in 1941 were given a clean bill for presumably having remedied all defects before final pavement. Nevertheless, even the process of defect correction was defective in many cases. Either replacement of originally defective work was unsatisfactory, or the attempt to correct was superficial.

Conclusion.

The data, and the principles and the inference to be drawn from it, point up two important matters which confront the city now. These matters are (1) the approaching expiration of the period within which the city must exercise its right to invoke the bonded five-year guarantee on paving work, and (2) the extensive paving program on which the city is currently embarked.

The application of the data to the first matter is clear. Steps should be taken to compel the contractors to make good the defective work before it is too late. In many instances sidewalks are a great potential cause of accidents, and consequent lawsuits against the city.

The application of the data to the second matter is that

(a) the defects noted arose from a failure to observe specifications of performance; that the failure was permitted to develop was due to a lapse of adequate inspection during the progress of the work;

(b) a pretentious program of street work has been approved; unless strict adherence to performance and material specifications is guaranteed by adequate inspection, the city may confidently expect a repetition of the history of the 1941 work.

Hence, it behooves the city to carefully program all such work, gearing the speed of the work to the slow tempo which the precision character of the specifications and the efforts of a limited inspectional staff require. If such an extensive program is not stretched over a relatively long period of time, the city is inviting a repetition of the previous work.

Finally, immediate steps should be taken to recruit, organize and educate a sufficient staff of inspectors. Trusting to the honor of contractors to comply with specifications without compulsion of city inspectors has been tried and found wanting.

Procuring a sufficient staff is not necessarily a drain upon the labor market. The city is now paying many engineers and inspectors of various kinds who are not adequately employed in their present assignments. They can be drawn upon to furnish the inspection of street work. Additional hirings are distinctly not necessary.

The commission which was created in 1942 to study the possibilities of the adjustment of the manpower of the city departments should be in a position to aid the Public Works Department in locating employees who are qualified to assist in the street inspection work. The Legislature and the Civil Service Commission have adopted enabling laws and rules for this purpose.

Placed on file.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, a point of information.

Chairman KEENAN—State your point of information.

Coun. COFFEY—On that report of the Finance Commissioners, what is the procedure when a report of this nature comes in?

Chairman KEENAN—It is placed on file, councilor.

Coun. COFFEY—Can't we have that referred to the Executive Committee?

Chairman KEENAN—If the councilor so requests.

Coun. COFFEY—Well, I would like to file an order so it will read in conjunction with the report sent to us by the Finance Commission. Can I file the order now?

Chairman KEENAN—We will receive the order. Coun. COFFEY—I want to put an order in now in conjunction with the report of the Finance Commission.

Chairman KEENAN—Does the councilor want the order to go to the Executive Committee?

Coun. COFFEY—Yes.

INFORMATION RE CONTRACTORS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Finance Commissioners to appear before the Executive Committee of the City Council and give the names of the contractors who have done work for the city and who have failed to live up to the agreements in the contract.

Coun. COFFEY—As this, I hope, will be referred to the Executive Committee, all I want to read is just one paragraph of this lengthy statement sent to us by the Finance Commissioners. I might say at the outset that the Finance Commission usually sends these reports to the newspapers before they send them to the Body where they should go, namely, the City Council. [Reading.] "In the bidding for the 1944 contracts to the date, it appears that contractors whose work the Finance Commission has complained of in the past two years are among the small number competing. Some of them have already secured awards. Yet the commission has found in a July, 1944, inspection of streets constructed by them in recent years, particularly in 1941, that they have not yet fulfilled their past obligations to the city." I think it is time the Finance Commissioners stopped getting themselves publicity in the newspapers and appeared before us and told us who these contractors were. If there are any obligations they owe the city I think it is the duty of the Finance Commissioners to bring these facts before the proper authorities. If they don't, then I think we should take action and do it. If it is a case of bringing these contractors to court and forcing them to fulfill the contracts and the Finance Commission won't do it, I think we, as City Councilors, should do it. I ask that this matter be referred to the Executive Committee and that the members of the Finance Commission be invited to attend the meeting of the Executive Committee this afternoon.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

CONDUCT OF ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor instruct the Election Commissioners to keep any person out of the Election Department who is not an employee of the department.

Coun. COFFEY—It came to my attention this morning when I entered City Hall, through several different people, that on Saturday afternoon last there were some thirty people working in the Election Department. I don't mean employees; I mean so-called volunteer workers. And their purpose in there is beyond me. They say it is of a voluntary nature, and they were supposed to be getting out cards, or ballots, for absentee voters. Now, if that information is correct, and I have no doubt but what it is, because the source of the information was a very good one and it came from people who know what they are talking about, and, mind you, this information from these fellows that informed me of this happening on Saturday afternoon, and they insisted it was so, was that not one of these people who were in the Election Department all of Saturday afternoon and yesterday were employees of the department. Now, I, for one, want to know what they are doing there. I want to know why they are in there. Now, we recall here just a few short years ago, in the Charlestown district of Boston, that we found illegal voters on the voting list, and the number ranged anywhere from something like 400 to 1,400 illegally registered voters on the Charlestown voting list; and when they were checked and investigated they found out these so-called "mattress" voters were registered in empty lots and vacant buildings. That statement that I just made nobody here can dispute. That is a true statement. Now, I have information in my possession where illegal registration was allowed just previous to this last nomination. I have photostatic copies of cards that were made out by assistant registrars, and it said on top of those cards: "Person cannot read. Not eligible to vote. Put on voting list per order William J. Motley, Chairman." Now, Mr. Motley has no right to order an assistant registrar to register a person who can't read, but still he did that. And, as I said here two short weeks ago, he has used dictator tactics in that Election Department. I have the evidence and if the Finance Commission want it they are welcome to it. I can prove the statement. I have the photostatic copy of the card, which reads: "Person cannot read. Not eligible to vote. Put on voting list per order William J. Motley, Chairman." And I still, again, insist that William J. Motley has no right to tell any assistant registrar to put a person on the voting list if that person cannot read or write. In this particular case the assistant registrar had the courage to sign his initials and to do it in writing, in long-hand, in his own writing,—that he was forced to put that person and other people on the voting list because, even though they couldn't read, that is illegal registration. That investigation should be so thorough that Mr. Motley should not only be removed from his job, but he should face court proceedings. Charges should be made against him for allowing illegal registration. Now, if they are taking thirty-odd volunteer workers, so called, and bringing them in on Saturday afternoon or Sunday, God knows what they can't do to that voting list down there. They can put people on the voting list ten, twenty and thirty times if they want to and have them repeat in every ward throughout the entire city. I think some action should be taken, and I am going to ask this order be taken to Executive or laid on the table until next week, and we will notify the chairman of the Election Commission, and also members of the Finance Commission, who should investigate this. If there is illegal registration going on in Boston we should be the first to know about it. If it is true, Mr. Motley should be brought up on charges and, if necessary, brought into court and faced with those charges. And I ought to know what I am talking about because I have the evidence, and if the Finance Commission has the guts I am willing to produce the evidence and show that illegal registration has taken place here prior to nomination; and the chances are it will take place prior to the coming election. If they think they can steal this election they are making a mistake. I want to know why anyone is allowed in that Election Department on Saturday or Sunday unless they are employees of the department. And even if they are employees of the department I would still like to know why they are working Saturday afternoon and Sunday. They are not so busy with the registration of absentee voters that they have to work on Saturday afternoon or Sunday. If they were they could open up—just as the councilor spoke of last week, regarding the forty-four voting places throughout the city—they could open them up both morning, noon and night, and all that work could be taken right out of the hands of the Election Commissioners and placed in the hands of the clerks and assistant clerks throughout the entire forty-four registration places in Boston. I ask that this order be placed on the table and that next week it be referred to the Executive Committee, or I ask that the order be referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—May I have the clerk read the order, please?

The order was read by the clerk.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, I rise to a point of information. I would like to ask the clerk if the President has appointed the Election Committee which I requested last week?

Chairman KEENAN—The clerk has not been notified of any appointments.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I wonder if it would be in order now to take a short recess and adjourn to the Election Department and investigate these charges? I think it would be a good idea if all present went down there. There were charges made last week and in the weeks before. We are coming into another election, and I would like to have this election on the level. I think it would be a good idea if this Council took a short recess and all members present adjourned to the Election Department and questioned these workers down there and tried to find out who put them in there, what their duties are, and what pay roll they are on. If the motion is in order I would like to have it go through.

Chairman KEENAN—Councilor, your motion is out of order. The order will be referred to Executive.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—How is my motion out of order?

Chairman KEENAN—The Council has no power to investigate.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—The Council has the power to appropriate the money. We weren't told the first of the year when the budget was here and we had the hearings that they were going to put on additional workers. The people hold us responsible. If we can't investigate them,—if we can't get them up here, if we can't get the Finance Commissioners over here, we will go to them. We might as well rip the thing wide open.

Chairman KEENAN—Councilor, the City Charter provides that there can be no investigation by the City Council.

Coun. COFFEY—I rise to a point of information. Chairman KEENAN—State your point of information.

Coun. COFFEY—Can the Finance Commission investigate the Election Department?

Chairman KEENAN—The Finance Commission can investigate any department, councilor.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask that the order be amended to read: "That the Finance Commission be requested to investigate the doings of the Election Department."

The order as read was amended.

Coun. HANLEY—Speaking on Councilor Coffey's order, prior to the entrance of William A. Motley into the Election Department it was non-partisan, non-political, non-religious and non-racial. It was set up by statute and it was provided that the two ranking political parties would be on the ball. But since that gentleman—and I use the word advisedly—catapulted to fame he has utilized it as a hatchet man for any person or group of persons who is at odds with the administration. In my last campaign he utilized his power and prestige—what little prestige he had—to defeat me, and there is an order at the present time in the Executive Committee asking for his discharge. Councilor Daniel Sullivan a few years ago, prior to my entrance into public life, was at odds with him when he utilized the Election Department for Henry Parkman, in order to defeat our senior senator, David I. Walsh. This is happening too often. It is time to get rid of William A. Motley and bring back to the Election Department the prestige and the honesty that it was intended to have in its creation. If Councilor James S. Coffey has a photostatic copy as evidence, then it is the duty of his Honor the Mayor to eliminate William A. Motley from the Election Department and allow clean and honest campaigns to come back once again in the City of Boston, and allow the people to choose their representatives in public life by the voluntary use of the ballot. And I hope, Mr. Chairman, that this order of Councilor James S. Coffey will come up before the Executive Committee next week and that William A. Motley will be brought up, either physically or voluntarily.

Coun. DWYER—Mr. President, I would like to ask to have invited also to the hearing next Monday before the Executive Committee the President of the Democratic City Committee, or a representative of his; and also the President of the Republican City Committee, or a representative of his, so that both those leaders of their respective parties shall know something of the goings on in the Election Department. I hope, Mr. Chairman, there is no objection from the Council to that.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. Chairman, I rise to another point of information.

Chairman KEENAN—State your point of information.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Why is it the Committee on Welfare, the Committee on Hospitals, or committees already appointed, go into these departments?

Chairman KEENAN—The Chair states that no committees have the power to investigate, councilor.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Is it on the books that the Committee on Prisons make a report twice a year and inspect the Charles Street Jail and Deer Island?

Chairman KEENAN—The law requires that, councilor.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Just on that committee only?

Chairman KEENAN—Yes; just on that committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first shipboard takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

MAYOR TOBIN LEADS BOSTON CITIZENS IN CELEBRATING FREEDOM OF PARIS FROM NAZI RULE—JOINS VAST THROG AT PARKMAN BANDSTAND IN PRAISING FRANCE AND FRENCHMEN FOR ACHIEVEMENT AND THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF ALLIED NATIONS SINCE FIRST LANDINGS OF TROOPS ON NORMANDY BEACHES SEVENTY DAYS AGO—HAILS GENERAL DE GAULLE AS GREAT MAN WHO, IN DARKEST HOUR OF NATION'S AGONY, NEVER LOST FAITH OR COURAGE OR HOPE THAT HIS COUNTRY WOULD ONCE AGAIN BE FREE OF THE INVADERS' HEEL.

At the exercises celebrating the liberation of Paris at the Parkman Bandstand, on Boston Common, at noon, Thursday, August 24, 1944, Mayor Tobin spoke as follows:

We celebrate today an event without equal in the course of all history. Never before, in a single war, has Paris been taken and then again set free.

Always before, when Paris has fallen, all France has been forced to surrender—and stay surrendered—to the will of her conquerors. There has been no reprieve, until another generation, and another war, came to bring liberation.

Now, in a single world-rending struggle, after years of bitter defeat, we have lived to see, with our own eyes, the tides of battle turned. The glorious capital of France—Paris, the City of Light—has rejoined the capital of Christendom—Rome, the City Eternal—in freedom from Nazi and pagan dominion. And this freedom, please God, will never again be cast down, within the life span of any man, woman or child now dwelling in Boston or anywhere on the earth's surface today.

Achievement in Seventy Days.

Such is the victory which has come to pass in seventy days since the American and Allied troops made their perilous landing on the French coast. Under the brilliant command of General Eisenhower, a narrow foothold along the surf-swept beaches of Normandy was swiftly broadened to include all of Brittany. The Nazi commanders were absolutely determined to pin down the armies of the United Nations and deny them the freedom of movement necessary for a daring war of maneuver. But all the knowledge and skill of the German General Staff—supposedly comprising the best military minds in the world, even as they have certainly been the longest and most thoroughly trained in the arts of war—have proved utterly unable thus far to hold back the onrush of the fighting commanders and the fighting sons of democracy.

The men of the United Nations, trained in the ways of freedom, have given a first-class shel-lacking to the Nazi troops, accustomed from childhood to the goose-step and to the cold, impersonal ways of the German military machine. As matters are going today, it seems certain that within the next week—or at most in a fortnight—the tables in France will have been turned completely about. It is the Nazis who will be fighting with their backs to the sea. Within three months after the first Allied landings in Normandy, the proud German commanders will be found making their last stand along the Picardy coast, striving to defend Boulogne and Calais from the re-conquest which will surely be achieved before long.

Acclaim Liberation of Paris.

But this is not the time or place to spend long words in praise of the immense service which we all know has been rendered by the United Nations for the liberation of France.

We are assembled on Boston Common to acclaim, and to give thanks to God for, an achievement without precedent in all history—the great, outstanding, undoubtable fact that it is the people of Paris who directly accomplished on August 23, 1944, the liberation of the capital of the French Republic.

How utterly impossible Adolf Hitler and his crew supposed this mighty uprising to be! Certainly such an outcome seemed extremely remote and unlikely on June 14, 1940, when the Nazi armies marched into Paris. Still more impossible the recovery seemed—in any cold, material estimate—when the Nazi occupation of the French capital had continued through more than four years. In that period of time it appeared that the cruel ruthlessness and the efficient dictatorial methods of the Nazi invaders would have been able to crush every breath of initiative out of the lungs of the hard-driven, half-starved population of Paris. Wherever a patriot leader so much as lifted his hand in resistance, the Gestapo cut him down, either by death or imprisonment.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

REPORT OF DENNIS C. HALEY, ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT, ON ATTENDANCE AT 47TH ANNUAL CONVENTION OF EASTERN COMMERCIAL TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION AT PHILADELPHIA, APRIL 5 TO 8, INCLUSIVE.

The following is the report of Dennis C. Haley, Assistant Superintendent, on Commercial Teachers' Convention as presented to the School Committee:

BOSTON, June 12, 1944.

MR. ARTHUR L. GOULD,

Superintendent of Public Schools, Boston.

DEAR MR. GOULD,— I wish to submit a report on my attendance at the Forty-seventh Annual Convention of the Eastern Commercial Teachers' Association held in Philadelphia, Penn., from April 5 to April 8, 1944, inclusive.

Because the present military victories point definitely to eventual Allied success in the war, the importance of post-war planning is imperative. With this definite thought in the minds of the officers of this association, the general theme selected for the convention was "Post-War Planning in Business Education."

The convention program opened with a general meeting which was addressed by an outstanding public school administrator, a college president and a business executive.

On the following days of the convention, the sectional meetings were addressed by leaders in the fields of education and business. Following the addresses, there was a general discussion of the topics under consideration. Post-war planning was considered and discussed in connection with the following subjects:

- | | |
|--|--------------------------|
| 1. Contacts with the Federal Government. | 7. Shorthand. |
| 2. Typewriting. | 8. Consumer Education. |
| 3. Guidance. | 9. Cooperative Training. |
| 4. Distributive Education. | 10. Visual Aids. |
| 5. Office Practice. | 11. Geography (Global). |
| 6. Bookkeeping. | 12. Economics. |

A great amount of the information I acquired will be very helpful to me in connection with the supervision of commercial education in our high schools. I have referred to the Commercial Council several problems on post-war planning, such as:

1. Training of returned soldiers interested in commercial education.
2. Retraining and refresher courses for war production workers who wish to return to business.
3. Training of physically handicapped veterans.

In connection with our program for next year, I propose:

1. Plans for the improvement in the methods and techniques of teaching typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping and office practice.
2. A study of the value of cooperative training in commercial education.
3. A study of the value of work experience.
4. The holding of an annual Institute for the teachers of commercial subjects. This Institute would serve as a clearing house for all progressive ideas in the field of education.

Very truly yours,

DENNIS C. HALEY,
Assistant Superintendent.

MAYOR TOBIN LEADS BOSTON
CITIZENS IN CELEBRATING FREEDOM OF PARIS FROM NAZI RULE.

PARIS HAS RISEN.

And yet, after all these hard years of the most tyrannical rule and repression ever known since the dawn of the Christian Era, Paris has risen again. The necessary equipment of guns and arms has been husbanded in cellars and attics, awaiting the moment when the people of Paris could prove once more that the spirit of freedom, and of decent respect for the rights of mankind under God, is in truth the most powerful force after all. It expresses a law of creation greater and higher than the faith of the Nazi gangsters that only might makes right.

The man of our time who best symbolizes the all-conquering faith of the people of Paris we hail today in all his rightful honor. He is General de Gaulle—that truly great man who, even in the darkest hour of his nation's agony, declared boldly that "France will rise again" and began at once, in 1940, the organization of the almost impossible task of resistance which is now nearing its time of full triumph.

Commander Gillii, I have never been happier in all my service as Mayor than to have the honor of welcoming and saluting you on Boston Common in this historic hour—you who directly represent, with all your brave staff and crew of a French naval combat-ship, the fighting forces of Free France and the organized authority of the French National Committee of Liberation.

ABUNDANT REJOICING.

General George Washington himself certainly would have considered it a privilege, and an occasion of the most abundant rejoicing, to be present here today, and to congratulate you, sir, and all the representatives of Free France, both military and civilian, who are now gathered here on this day of triumph.

But, in the altogether extraordinary spirit shown by the people of Paris—in the altogether wonderful uprising of the forces of democracy and of justice which has now come to pass—I think we must all turn in reverent gratitude and humility to a Power higher and greater than that of any single human being or agency. I speak of the Almighty, who sustained Joan of Arc in her vision of the true greatness of Christian France. Even as the maid of Orleans was inspired by God, so we do see now, in the miracle of Paris, the all-controlling, omnipotent work of God.

At this time of rejoicing let us, more than all else, pray to God that the forces of right and of justice may prevail in our hearts for the making of a truly Christian peace—worthy of the sacrifices of millions of precious lives offered up for the cause of the United Nations.

BUILDINGS RAZED.

The Mayor has approved the request of the Building Commissioner to raze the following structures as fire menaces or nuisances:

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 3 Williams street and 70 and 72 Call street, Ward 11, to enter the premises and remove the building.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 10 Downing street, Ward 9, to enter the premises and remove the building.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 559 East Second street, Ward 6, to enter the premises and remove the building.

On May 3, 1944, a contract was awarded to the City Building Wrecking Company, 185 Somerville avenue, Somerville, to raze the building at 109 Warwick street, Ward 9. It was found necessary to stop razing operations because of the unsafe and dangerous condition of the front and rear walls of the adjoining building, 107 Warwick street, Ward 9. Therefore, to provide for the safety of the public, the City Building Wrecking Company, 185 Somerville avenue, Somerville, was ordered to tie in the front and rear walls of the structure. Work has been completed and a bill in the amount of $98 has been approved.

On June 30, 1944, the supervisor of construction reported that the building at 8 South Quincy place, Ward 2, was in such an unsafe and dangerous condition as to require immediate action by this department to provide for the safety of the public. 964 Parker street and $50 for razing 966 Parker street, Ward 10, have been approved.

The district building inspector reported that the outside 4 inches of brickwork on side wall of building at 23 Essex street, Ward 2, had bulged and pulled away from the backing-up, causing the said wall to be unsafe and dangerous to the lives and safety of the public. Therefore the City Building Wrecking Company, 185 Somerville avenue, Somerville, was ordered to enter the premises and tie in the side wall. Work has been completed and a bill in the amount of $179 approved.

Due to the structurally unsafe condition of the building at 30 Baxter street, Ward 6, which endangered the lives and safety of the public, on June 1, 1944, the City Building Wrecking Company, 185 Somerville avenue, Somerville, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the building. Demolition operations have been completed and a bill in the amount of $147 approved for work performed.

During the electrical storm of June 16, 1944, the building at 108 Paris street, Ward 1, was damaged by falling of westerly wall of Paris Street Gymnasium; falling brickwork pierced roof and was deposited upon the third floor of building. Roof joists were broken and third floor joists and framing broken and sprung, leaving the building in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Due to failure of the owner to act, on June 22, 1944, the Daniel Marr & Son Company, Inc., 384 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the debris to provide for the safety of the public. Work has been completed to the satisfaction of the Building Department and a bill in the amount of $124.29 approved.

During the electrical storm of June 16, 1944, the building at 110 Paris street, Ward 1, was damaged by falling of westerly wall of Paris Street Gymnasium; the third story and part of the second story were demolished and a great weight of bricks and debris were deposited upon the second floor, leaving the remaining portion of building in an unsafe and dangerous condition. Due to failure of the owner to act, on June 22, 1944, the Daniel Marr & Son Co., Inc., 384 Dorchester avenue, South Boston, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the debris to prevent collapse of the structure and to provide for the safety of the public. Work has been completed to the satisfaction of the Building Department and a bill in the amount of $1,157.98 approved.

On June 8, 1944, it was reported to me that the wooden piazzas on rear of block of brick buildings at 19, 21, 23, and 25 Rockford street, Ward 8, were in a very unsafe and dangerous condition. Pending completion of legal proceedings which had been instituted to raze the structures, the New England Building Wrecking Company, 31 State street, Boston, was ordered to enter the premises and remove the piazzas. Work has been completed and a bill in the amount of $38.70 approved.

Based on approval of request for permission to raze the building at 138 Terrace street, Ward 10, an agreement was made with the City Building Wrecking Company, 185 Somerville avenue, Somerville. This contract was awarded without advertising to the City Building Wrecking Company for the following reason: The building at 138 Terrace street, Roxbury, is one of five buildings built in block. A contract was awarded by the Board of Real Estate Commissioners to the City Building Wrecking Company to take down four buildings, at a price of $90 per building, which would leave one building in the block remaining. Inasmuch as the said building was structurally unsafe and the subject of complaint, a contract was awarded to the City Building Wrecking Company to raze it for the sum of $90.

Permission was granted to raze the building at 1473, 1475 and 1477 Tremont street, Ward 10, by agreement with the Beacon Building Wrecking Company, 75 First street, Cambridge.

Based on approval of request for permission to raze the building at 116 Russell street, Ward 2, an agreement was made with the New England Building Wrecking Company, 31 State street, Boston.

Laid over one week under the law.

TRANSFER FOR VETERANS' HEADQUARTERS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—Subsequent to the formulation of the original plan for the establishment of the Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Center, it was decided to transfer the Soldiers' Relief Department from City Hall to quarters adjacent to the Center. To carry out this decision it was necessary to perform remodeling work at the old Houghton and Dutton building, over and beyond that originally contemplated in connection with the Center itself. This additional expense, having been charged against the appropriation authorized by your Honorable Body last February for the Center, has reduced the available balance within the appropriation below the amount which it is estimated will be required for the operation and administration of the Center for the balance of the year. The contract for the extra remodeling work previously mentioned was $5,685.37. The attached order provides for a transfer of $5,000 from the Reserve Fund, which makes it apparent that but for the transfer of the Soldiers' Relief Department to the Center the original appropriation would have been sufficient for the conduct of Center activities. I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That under authority of section 3B of chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941 the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer from the appropriation for Reserve Fund $5,000 to the appropriation for Boston Veterans' Reception and Information Center, $5,000.
Referred to the Executive Committee.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO BLUE CROSS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the City Auditor relative to your order of June 19, 1944, regarding weekly deductions from the pay of those city employees who are desirous of joining the Blue Cross.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
City Auditor's Office, July 31, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—I have given consideration to the following order adopted by the City Council:

"Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to confer immediately with the City Auditor with reference to making weekly deductions from the pay of those city employees who are desirous of joining the Blue Cross."

Under the provisions of chapter 424 of the Acts of 1943, "deductions on payroll schedules may be made from the salary of any . . . municipal employee . . . of the amount payable by such an employee under a contract issued to him as a subscriber by a non-profit hospital service corporation." It is evident from this language that the deduction authority granted by the Legislature is permissive rather than mandatory. In view of this fact, the basic question to be decided is whether under existing procedure and conditions Blue Cross deductions may be readily and easily incorporated as a feature of departmental pay rolls. I have discussed this question with the City Treasurer, whose office would naturally bear the brunt of any additional work involved in such deductions. I am in agreement with the treasurer's conclusion that under the present decentralized manually-prepared pay roll procedure of the city, that the handling of Blue Cross deductions would complicate our present procedure to such an extent as to cause interference in the treasurer's office with the present schedule of departmental pay roll payments.

According to an estimate of a Blue Cross official, 70 per cent of city employees might be expected to join this organization. This would mean that the treasurer's office would be called upon to maintain records of deductions for, roughly, 14,000 employees. From experience in connection with Federal bond deductions, a force of at least fifteen persons would be required, together with a substantial investment in cards, forms and filing equipment. It is my understanding that this added expense would have to be borne entirely by the city. The maintenance on a manual basis of this extensive system of individual records would be a major task which it is questionable could be readily assumed by the treasurer's office in the light of existing manpower shortages.

For the time being, therefore, both the treasurer and myself feel that it is inadvisable to incorporate Blue Cross deductions in the pay roll procedure of the city.

Very truly yours,
CHARLES J. FOX, City Auditor.

STATUS OF PROVISIONAL FIREMEN.

The following was received:

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Fire Commissioner relative to your order of July 24, 1944, regarding the possibility of having provisional firemen of the City of Boston made permanent.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, August 4, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor,—In response to your communication dated July 29, 1944, concerning the City Council order of July 24, 1944, requesting that the Fire Commissioner meet with the Civil Service Commission in an effort to have the provisional firemen of the City of Boston made permanent, I wish to report that this is a matter over which the Fire Commissioner, of course, has no jurisdiction.

The Civil Service Laws of the Commonwealth apply in such cases and any modification of the present laws would in all probability be state-wide and in conjunction with proper legislation.

However, I shall be glad to confer on this subject with the Director of the Civil Service Commission.

At the present time it should be remembered that these men are given an opportunity to pass the civil service examination which automatically qualifies them for permanent appointment if they pass. If men fail to pass the civil service examination, a problem then arises as to the wisdom of appointing men who have actually failed to qualify for the fire service in a written examination.

Very truly yours,
W. A. REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

Arthur C. Carey,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
Dear Sir,—I have your memorandum of July 29, with inclosure, order from the City Council requesting the leveling of the surface of the Wachusett Street Playground, Forest Hills district.

The Francis Parkman Playground, situated on Wachusett street, Forest Hills, is a comparatively flat area, approximately 310 feet long and 175 feet wide. The remainder of the area of this small playground is mainly slopes constructed about fifteen-odd years ago with the distinct purpose of making a small children's playground and be able to flood the area in the winter time.

In order to lower the entire grade of the playground approximately three feet down to the top of the wall on Wachusett street would require the excavation of three feet of material over the entire flat area, the lowering of the drainage system and the stripping of the top soil and putting it back to new grades. This would increase the area of the flat portion of the playground, but would not allow of skating, and this is one of the most popular little skating areas we have in the West Roxbury and Forest Hills district. Furthermore, it would not warrant the large expenditure of money that would be necessary to do this job.

Dear Sir,—We have this day received your communication of July 29 with attached City Council order in reference to ward registration of voters and the establishment of ward offices for the receipt of applications for absentee service men.

May we explain that the Board believes its present arrangement of using eleven locations through the city for registration of voters and qualification of service men (in addition to the Central Office in City Hall) is proving adequate at the present time. We anticipate using other locations in the wards for future periods of registration and qualification. REPORT OF FINANCE COMMISSION ON DISPOSAL OF REFUSE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Finance Commission, August 9, 1944.
The Honorable the Mayor and City Council.

Gentlemen,—The disposal of refuse, garbage and general rubbish—in an efficient, economical and modern manner—continues to be the most neglected function of the city administration. It costs approximately $2,000,000 per year to carry on the city's collection and disposal of house and store and other commercial offal. This great cost is nearly twice as much as it would be if modern, efficient methods of collection and disposal had displaced the archaic methods adopted generations ago which are still in use.

In the major portion of the inner or downtown city, collection is by city labor and city trucks. In the remainder of the city, collection service and disposal is provided by district contracts, of which there are thirteen, divided among nine contractors. In addition, there is a constantly varying number of contractors acting under city license who give collection service to commercial houses by private arrangement. Sometimes the number of these licensed collectors reaches well over 150 persons or firms.

This private collection of refuse not only multiplies the number of vehicles rendering collection service in the city, but its competition has cost the city corporation the loss of many tens of thousands of dollars each year. It flourishes because private collectors can and do give to owners of commercial establishments, who must pay for disposal of their refuse anyway, a more reliable service than the city provides, and charge their clients a smaller fee for each barrelful collected than the city would exact by the system of fees established.

The final destination of the collections of these numerous agencies depends upon the arrangement each contractor can make to dispose of his collections either at the best profit or at the least expense. Generally, rubbish and ashes are used as land fill and each individual contractor must find a dump for it. Garbage, except that collected in the downtown area and in Dorchester, usually is sold to farmers for hog or other animal food.

Areas where dumping is permissible are not numerous in and around Boston. There is little vacant land in the city itself where dumps can be maintained without strenuous objections of nearby residents. Officials and residents of adjoining municipalities as forcefully resent the cartage of offal of any kind from Boston through their streets or to depositing places within their limits. There is one Boston contractor who has been unable to obtain a dump location within the city. He has a permit to dump in another municipality, but its validity is constantly being questioned. He scarcely knows from one month to another whether he has a place to dump or not. At more or less regular intervals he has to pay the nearest residents to the dump he is now using for such work as repainting houses. They claim that the rubbish he deposits when mixed with stagnant water in the pits of which his dump consists, creates a gas which destroys the paint on their outside walls. Of course, through his contract price the contractor passes this form of tribute along to the City of Boston.

Disposal of the refuse collected in the downtown section of the city is a major problem in itself.

The antiquated practice, begun in 1910, of carting refuse collected in the area from Charlestown to Dorchester, and as far inland as Roxbury and Jamaica Plain, to an Atlantic avenue or Dorchester wharf, and then transporting it in scows through the main ship channel to Spectacle Island, is still the method of disposal in vogue here. It bids fair to be the method in use for a long time to come, unless action can be started to provide another. The Finance Commission has repeatedly revealed the expensiveness of the existing process, the inefficiency of it, and particularly the inability, by this method, to accomplish what many other cities big and little have done with refuse collections, i. e., turn them into profitable production.

In a report made in 1941 the commission made out such a strong case for a change in the method of disposal that it prompted the Public Works Commissioner to call on a leading engineering firm for advice. The reply, after extensive study, was that incineration of combustible refuse was the only feasible method of disposal in Boston; and that, as the Finance Commission had recommended, the first and most important incinerator should be located on land owned by the city on Albany street, South End, where the heat produced in the burning of it could be utilized to provide steam, light and power for the City Hospital and the extensive Public Works Department shops and garage located nearby. A second incinerator was proposed to be located at Fort Hill Wharf on Atlantic avenue, which is the point to which the collections of downtown refuse is now carted to be taken by scow to Spectacle Island. Notwithstanding the fact that the city paid $3,500 for this advice, and that it was given almost three years ago, nothing much has been accomplished yet to bring about the improved method recommended. Naturally, the first step is to make an appropriation available for the procuring of a detailed plan.

Boston is the only big city which has failed to take advantage of modern practice in refuse disposal. There are several methods in general use, with land dumping the most popular. In many of the big cities where land dump possibilities are rare, incineration has been in successful use. In Boston, because of the great scarcity of suitable dumping area, the city has little choice.

Incineration of refuse in modern plants in New York and Cincinnati was viewed by representatives of the city and the Finance Commission. In both, incinerators were found in efficient operation in which the only fuel used was the refuse as it was picked up in paper or wood containers in the city streets. A varied assortment of rubbish in vast volume was daily consumed in fire without odor or other nuisance; and the great heat produced, when harnessed to boilers and dynamos and pipe lines, saved those cities hundreds of thousands of dollars in heat, light and power bills of other city structures.

Boston's method of disposal has frequently irritated the people in the adjacent cities. Formerly, when the garbage part of it was treated by a reduction process on Spectacle Island, people in shore front homes complained of the odor and of the other effects of the gases emitted. Now that most of it is used for land fill, but on an island which every ship entering or leaving Boston Harbor must pass, the method of its disposition is hardly less provocative. Every once in a while there is the rumor that the Federal Government intends either to prevent dumping on Spectacle Island, or is going to take the island for Government purposes. There are many who would like to prevent dumping on Mile Road in Dorchester, also. Great fires belching smoke and ashes into residential areas are frequent. However, it is the expense of the present method, and the constant danger that, either willingly or unwillingly, the one contractor who is equipped to dispose of the downtown collections may give it up, which continues to give those officials who must carry on under it the greatest concern.

In 1942 the city broke away from the old practice of awarding a ten-year contract for disposal of the refuse collected in the downtown section. That was a step in the right direction, but the present practice of trying to obtain a satisfactory contract price for one year at a time is not without its worries. The method of disposal has not changed. The refuse must still be carted to Fort Hill Wharf and there taken by scow to Spectacle Island. One firm is entrenched for this contract by long and large investment. Now, particularly, there is no possibility of any other entering competition, because any other firm would have difficulty obtaining either dumping site or equipment.

Therefore, while the contractor is in some doubt as to where he stands, because of the uncertainty as to the length of time the present method can continue, as long as the practice continues to dump at Spectacle Island the city is at his mercy. His price must be the price the city pays. It is minus to the credit of the Public Works Commissioner that the price of the contracts made in 1943 and 1944, which were in each case for one year, were even less than the average year's price under the ten-year contract.

Dumping rubbish on a shore front, whether it be on an island in the harbor or on the mainland, is regarded as a menace to good health.

Dumping in pits or swamps which usually contain stagnant water is no less objectionable, unless methods of coverage which are expensive are included.

The engineers hired by the Public Works Commissioner stated:

"It should be pointed out in connection with dumping on waterfront property that the dumping of refuse material into the harbor without a permit is contrary to Federal law. On the other hand, it has often been possible in the past to obtain such a permit under certain restrictions, one of which calls for preventing refuse materials from floating away from the dump. Nevertheless, in view of the objectionable character of the liquid seeping from a fill containing garbage, as shown above, such liquids should not be permitted to flow into the harbor waters."

Again, regarding the cost of the present method, the engineers stated:

"Under the existing method of refuse disposal for the 'ten-year contract' area, namely, dumping at Mile Road and Spectacle Island for all except a small part of the refuse—the total cost to the city is excessive. This cost is made up of two items: (1) the present contract price, which includes the cost of operation and maintenance of floating equipment and the cost of rehandling and transporting the refuse at Spectacle Island, and (2) the cost of maintenance and operation of the receiving stations. In addition to the cost of the cooking process and dumping, the contract price covers the cost of disposal of a small amount of garbage by the fermentation process. As the amount of garbage disposed of in that manner is not known, the entire contract price is used. On this basis, the average cost for one year of disposal by dumping under the present contract, applied to the refuse from the 'ten-year contract' area, including a reasonable allowance for maintenance, depreciation and operation of the receiving stations, is as follows:

Present contract price, average for one year (maximum, $400,000; minimum, $320,000).....	$378,000
Cost of maintaining and operating receiving stations.....	40,000

Average annual cost of disposal by present method..... $418,000

It is estimated that, during the year 1940, the contractor disposed of 732,000 cubic yards of refuse. Thus the average cost of disposal by dumping under the present contract is about $0.57 per cubic yard or, roughly, $2.40 per ton."

In arguing for the abandonment of the present method and for disposal by incineration, the engineers recommended the construction of two plants, one at Fort Hill Wharf to dispose of the refuse of Charlestown and the inner city; and one near the City Hospital to dispose of refuse collected in the South End, Roxbury and other adjacent sections of the city.

Regarding the cost of these plants, the report stated:

"The cost of construction of the two incinerator plants recommended to be built is estimated to be $1,700,000.

The gross annual cost of operation of the two plants is estimated to be $260,000, decreased by a saving of $95,000 in the cost of steam and electricity, for use at the City Hospital and adjacent city shops and buildings, to a net cost of $165,000.

The total annual cost, including operating expenses and fixed charges, based on twenty-year serial bonds at 24 per cent interest, is estimated to be $272,000, after taking credit for the saving in cost of steam and electricity referred to above.

The annual cost of disposal under the existing contract, including operation and an allowance for maintenance and depreciation of wharves, is now $360,000 and has averaged $416,000 during the life of the ten-year contract.

Under the recommended plan, after the incinerators have been placed in operation, it is estimated that there will be an annual saving of $142,000, in comparison with the average yearly cost of the present system of disposal. This makes allowance for garbage from a small section of the present 'ten-year contract' area which it is not planned to deliver to the incinerators."

When, two years ago, the Finance Commission recommended that the incineration method be started by the erection of the first incinerator on Albany street, the excuse for temporary deferment was "the war," and consequent "inability to obtain material." Even if that excuse holds today it is not reasonable to defer the detailed planning of the structure until after the war. The city should be all ready to build one incinerator, or two incinerators, the instant material is available. Hence, the necessity of having detailed plans for construction ready.

The excuse that materials are not available now is open to question. An incinerator is usually made of brick and mortar. If these materials are available for streets and sidewalks, for which the city government has recently authorized a $3,000,000 loan, and the Public Works Department is planning to rush the spending of more than $1,000,000 of it this fall, they must be available for an incinerator. Certainly, under the conditions portrayed in the foregoing pages, an incinerator is as important as new streets.

If at least one plant were built now, leaving to the future, if necessary, the equipment of it to provide light, heat and power, and leaving to the future also additional incinerators, the city would be relieved of the worry caused by the fact that, for the vast and important job of disposing of the rubbish collected in a large area of the city, it is dependent on one contractor. But whether the materials to build are available or not now, the detailed plan can and should be made now by a capable engineering firm which has had experience in this line. The city should be ready to rid itself of the dangers of the present method at the earliest opportunity.

The Finance Commission believes that efficient and regular collection and disposal of refuse in a city like Boston is of paramount importance. The present cost, almost $2,000,000, is on its face much greater than should be necessary. Chopping up the area within the city into fourteen or fifteen districts with a different collecting agency in each, and each agent being allowed to find his own means of disposal, and, in addition, having 150 or more private collectors competing for clients, cannot be regarded otherwise than unscientific, inefficient and unduly expensive.

This problem has plagued the people for generations. Now it is an administrative negligence that a plan for its solution is gathering dust in the files of the Public Works Department. The executives of this department are most anxious to be rid of the difficulties of the present method. The Finance Commission believes that action upon the matter is long overdue.

Respectfully submitted,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION,
ALEXANDER WHEELER, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PARKMAN FUND.

Coun. DWYER, for the Committee on Parkman Fund, submitted the following:

Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred July 24) for the appropriation of $38,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, that same ought to pass.

Coun. DWYER—May I have that letter, please, Mr. President, accompanying this order. Accompanying this order is a letter from the Park Department, and in the last paragraph the Park Department say in their letter to the Mayor, "When making up the budget estimates for the year 1944 a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1944, to be transferred as it occurred from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Park Department. Respectfully, W. P. Long, Chairman." Now, Mr. President, in addition to this letter that accompanies this letter of July 24 from the Mayor, at the hearings before the Committee on Appropriations, when they were taking up the matter of the budget for the year 1944, the Park Commissioner stated that the sum of $225,000, the amount, the approximate total amount of interest that occurs every year on the Parkman Fund, was deducted from their A-1, Permanent Employees, by the Budget Commissioner, with the understanding that that money for pay rolls would be made up from this Parkman Fund money. They say it was agreed, Mr. Chairman. Now, Mr. Chairman, I am chairman, and you appointed me chairman, of the Parkman Fund Committee, and when they made up this budget the Parkman Fund Committee, sir, that you appointed had not been organized or appointed by you. And I can assure you, Mr. President and the members of this Council, and all within the hearing of my voice, the Park Commissioner included, and his Honor the Mayor, that I never agreed to give this Parkman Fund money or interest as it occurs to make up the amount that is needed for the A-1 Item in the budget for permanent employees. I think, Mr. President, that as far as I am concerned this is the last item, or last order, I will allow to go through like this. I propose, Mr. President, that any other orders that come before this Body and before the Committee on the Parkman Fund that I have the honor of being chairman over we will hold a hearing on and look into the matter very thoroughly to find out whether or not, Mr. President, this interest that occurs from the Parkman Fund is being spent as Mr. Parkman intended it to be spent under the will that he left. I don't think it is, Mr. President; and I think, Mr. President, it is high time that the trickster we have as Budget Commissioner—the man, who, instead of being Budget Commissioner, should be known as a juggler of figures, with no rhyme or no system whatsoever, who cuts budgets for no reason, budgets of permanent employees of the City of Boston, and gets it wherever he can,—gets it out of a hat,—I say it is time he is halted. I serve notice on all who are involved, whether the trickster, so-called Budget Commissioner, or whoever it may affect in future orders of this type. I, for one, propose to fight to the utmost of my ability to see if some of this money, at least, can't be spent as Mr. Parkman intended it to be spent.

Report accepted. The order failed of passage, twelve votes being required, yeas 11, nays 0.

Yeas: Coun. Bayley, Carey, Dwyer, Hannon, Hurley, Kerrigan, Kelly, Keenan, Kinsella, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—11.

RECESS.

On motion of Coun. HANNON the Council voted at 2.30 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 3.10.

INVESTIGATION OF ILLEGAL REGISTRATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor request the State Ballot Law Commission to make an immediate investigation of the illegal registration of voters by the Election Commission of the City of Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—I want to say this, that it is a fact that Motley and the Finance Commission were invited to attend a meeting in the executive chamber today and failed to show up. It is the only other body I can turn to in an investigation pertaining to illegal registration, which I claim took place in the last primary.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—The purpose of the Ballot Law Commission is for passing on names on the ballot, and not for registration.

Coun. COFFEY—I was informed this order, the way it is written, is a request on the Mayor to contact the Ballot Law Commission and request them to make the investigation; that it can be done.

The question came on the passage of the order, and it was so ordered. Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN doubted the vote and asked for a roll call.

Coun. KINSELLA—Before the roll is called, may I ask the clerk if this is the proper authority and, if not, to specify the proper authority so that it may appear in the corrected order?

President KERRIGAN—The clerk does not think that the Ballot Law Commission has any authority in the matter. However, it is only a request.

Coun. COFFEY—I hope the gentleman from Ward 22 will realize the seriousness of these charges, because on my person now I have photostatic copies where illegal registration had taken place in the Election Department by order of William A. Motley, Chairman of the Election Department.

The question again came on the passage of the order, and it was so ordered, yeas 5, nays 3.

Yeas: Coun. Bayley, Coffey, Dwyer, Hanley, D. F. Sullivan—5.

Nays: Coun. Hurley, Kinsella, M. H. Sullivan—3.

MUNICIPAL GYMNASIUM IN EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to reopen the municipal gymnasium on Paris street, East Boston, in order that defense workers and other residents may avail themselves of the shower bath facilities.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORTS.

Coun. HANLEY, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

On order referred May 22, 1944, requesting that his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to draw up an ordinance empowering proper authorities to compel the construction of a suitable fence around property wherein the safety of the public is endangered, especially around razed property, railroad property, and the elimination of "spite fences" that have a deteriorating effect on adjacent properties—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed.

Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred today) for transfer of $10,000 of Reserve Fund to the Park Department for repairs to Paris Street Gymnasium—recommending that same ought to pass.

Report accepted; order passed, yeas 16, nays 0.

WATERING STREETS IN WARD 3.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to arrange to water the streets of Ward 3 whenever the temperature is above 80 degrees.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, I have been informed by the Fire Chief that they are unable to water the streets as they used to do in years gone by. I can recall when I was a youngster that the Fire Department, on every hot day, would come down to every street and play the hose there, and it was a recreation for the children, and, not only that, but they used to clean the streets and it was refreshing. Now, I understand they are unable to do that, due to the fact that they are short of manpower. I wonder how long must we, the City of Boston, wait to have the streets of our city watered? Must we wait until the good Lord gives us some rain? We have made—and when I say "we" I mean the city—we have made money through our Water Department, which I don't approve of. However, I feel that the Public Works Commissioner ought to send out sprinklers or flushers on warm days, not only in the Ward 3 district, but in the entire City of Boston. You go to any city outside of Boston and you will find that the streets are watered every day, and even twice a day, and here in the City of Boston the people, at least I know where I come from, are not rich, they are working people, and God only knows how many of them can afford to go out on hot days. They have to stay there. I feel this will be a health program that the Public Works Commissioner can carry out on the warm days, because it will clean our streets and will refresh the people that are forced to stay in the city on warm days.

The order was passed.

NEXT MEETING.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—I move when we adjourn we adjourn until the Monday after Labor Day.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor?

Coun. BAYLEY—I believe there are some matters pending before Executive to be taken up next week, and should we adjourn at this time?

President KERRIGAN—The Council has a right to adjourn. The question comes on the motion. All those in favor? It is a vote.

Coun. COFFEY—I doubt the vote and ask for a roll call. We have had a month's vacation, Mr. President, this year. I suppose everyone has used that same speech I made when I ran for office: I will serve the people 365 days in the year, except when I have sickness, and so forth. We have had a month's vacation. We only meet on Mondays. I don't think it will be hard to come.

The motion was carried, yeas 9, nays 6.

Yeas—Coun. Dwyer, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Russo, Shannon, M. H. Sullivan—9.

Nays—Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Hanley, D. F. Sullivan—6.

Coun. COFFEY—I ask for reconsideration. After all, we are a city functioning body here—or so some people think. Those that like to be the "Yes boys" for the Mayor don't think so. The Mayor has had eleven weeks' vacation. The first time he has been in City Hall is today. Eleven long weeks! God knows where he has been. Some say he has been to Canada. He has looked for all kinds of excuses to get out of the city. I think we ought to introduce an order while he is out of the city that you, President Kerrigan, should receive his pay. I don't think we should take this extended absence. A lot of important things will happen between now and next Labor Day. I was told today some five fire engines were bought without bids. That is one important matter to look into. Other moneys spent on the Houghton and Dutton building we know nothing about until the work is done. Then they come to us for an appropriation to foot the bill. I was told some thirty employees had been put to work by the Mayor's office in the Election Department. There is no money appropriated for that as yet. I don't know where they are getting their money. I know that no appropriation has been sent to the City Council to ask us to foot the bill. I don't think there is enough money in the Election Department as it is, so the money must be coming from somewhere. We were not informed thirty new employees have gone to work there. We haven't any of us been asked to give a name downstairs, but we are told all thirty have been placed to work by the Mayor. I don't think we should take a vacation. We have had a month off; that is enough for us. It seems to me the Mayor wanted this leave so we couldn't get up and have our say. He probably wants another vacation. If he does, let him take it. We don't have to take one with him. I don't think it is necessary, and that is why I insist on putting the Council on roll call on these occasions. Don't forget it might react on some of you. I know one person used it on me very effectively, until I had to get a piece in the local newspaper explaining that my boy was dying at the City Hospital and that is the reason I missed three Monday meetings. And it was effective, and it may be effective not only against me, but against other members in the Council. I don't think we should take any vacation at this time. The weather is hot. That might be a little bother, but a week from today we might be wearing topcoats. We should get wise to ourselves and get twelve months lined up here.

Coun. KINSELLA—I disagree with much that Councilor Coffey has said, because I have come in here every time during the time we were in recess and I have seen them out in the Executive room writing and answering letters, making phone calls, and so forth, so that after all we don't get much vacation. I know because of the fact that I have seen Councilor Coffey there so much that my statement applies to him also. Coming in here Monday is of minor importance, in one manner of speaking. We still have them come into our homes at night—I know I do—and I can't get away, and I don't think that Councilor Coffey can, and others here can't get away. And we are saddled with the burden of our senators and representatives, who long since in prorogation have been given two years' salary and slide out nicely, saying, "The House is not in session; I can't do anything for you." Now, our health is of primary importance, regardless of any interest Mayor Tobin may have in our sitting or not sitting. Surely no one has ever heard me complain about sitting, because the proof is I come here every Monday and very seldom miss, and if I go out during sessions it is because by prior arrangement I agree to go out. We are in the midst of one of the worst heat spells in the memory of the oldest inhabitant, and it hasn't yet broken. We don't get any extensive vacation. Monday night they are at your home; Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday they are at your home. They are in my town. If we don't look out for our health they certainly won't. They will pile it on to you. At the risk of being repetitious, I say that our representatives and senators are never seen in here. They are in here when it suits their convenience. We are here, and should be here, every day of the week, and I have seen some pretty faithful attendance by fellows that might be other places. I don't think we are avoiding any civic responsibility in looking out for ourselves for a change.

Coun. HURLEY—Mr. President, I think it is a year and a half since I stood on the floor to speak for or against any order. I really think that we are entitled to a recess until after Labor Day. I agree with a lot that James Coffey has said, and even what Councilor Kinsella has said,—that we are on call every day and every night, and I think the poorer the ward the more service you are called upon to render. I know that my duties for the people who elected me are primarily for social service work. They expect me to meet them every night and every morning at my home, and be here every noontime. I know of a lot of work I could be doing for my constituents right now in the city here without being confined to the City Council. Probably there are some important measures coming up, but I think that the city as a whole can dispense with our services in the City Council and that by the city as a whole dispensing with our services our constituents, the people in our districts, can get far greater service if we recess for three weeks.

Coun. DWYER—Much as I dislike voting against those who don't wish to adjourn, I feel that I cannot vote for reconsideration on this matter, for the simple reason, Mr. President, I think I am entitled to a vacation. I haven't had one; I haven't been anywhere, and I had hopes of getting away for a couple of weeks. Mr. President, as one who has never missed a meeting since I have been elected to this Council, and one who attends committee meetings faithfully, and who is here practically every day of the week. I am going to vote so that those who wish a vacation and haven't had one may have one this year, I am against reconsideration.

Coun. BAYLEY—May I remind the councilors that we have already adjourned this year for one month,—that is, four weeks. That is more than the normal city employee or the employee of a private concern receives. We have had four weeks' adjournment. I don't think we are faithful to our trust if we take another three weeks, which will become seven weeks in all. Just because Mayor Tobin desires to take excessive vacations, we don't have to follow in his footsteps, and this year is campaign year. Our boys have the duty of fighting 365 days of the year, and we can sacrifice that vacation and sit here in this crucial year, and I don't think we should take any vacation.

Coun. CAREY—I would just like to clear the record a little. To hear some of the councilors talk of adjourning for two or three weeks you would think we were adjourning each day for that two or three weeks. No word here in the record would indicate that. I have voted against adjourning and will continue to do. We are members of the City Council and we are going to serve 365 days of the year, and I have always been against adjourning and I think that this Council can at least stay in session for only one day, giving three or four hours of that day. We are an important part of the city government. I don't know whether the city can get along without the City Council. I don't believe it can. I think it is one of the greatest things that has been done, to have a City Council. I rise only from the fact that I want to have the record clear, to indicate that to adjourn two or three weeks means we are going away for a vacation. I haven't had a vacation—I am here to serve the people who sent me here and to serve them well.

The question came on reconsideration and the motion was not carried, yeas 7, nays 8.

Yeas: Coun. Bayley, Carey, Chase, Coffey, Hanley, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—7.

Nays: Coun. Dwyer, Hurley, Keenan, Kerrigan, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, M. H. Sullivan—8.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will announce that if any matter of importance comes up the President can call a special meeting.

PUBLIC CELEBRATIONS APPROPRIATION.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, August 14, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In order to meet the obligations for Public Celebrations for the remainder of the year, an additional appropriation of $10,000 will be necessary.

I submit herewith an order transferring this sum from the Reserve Fund, and recommend adoption by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $10,000, to the appropriation for Public Celebrations, $10,000.

Referred to Executive Committee.

BLOCK PARTY ON DARTMOUTH STREET.

Coun. BAYLEY and CHASE offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Messenger be, and hereby is, authorized to rope off Dartmouth street in front of the Boston Public Library for a block party on Thursday, August 17, 1944, the expense of same to be charged to the City Council appropriation for Ropes, Stakes and Flags.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

IMPROVEMENT OF HAVY BEACH.

Coun. CAREY and SHANNON offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to immediately confer with the Metropolitan District Commission with a view to eliminating drownings at Havy Beach, West Roxbury, by leveling off the beach, removing eelgrass, and taking whatever other necessary steps which, in their opinion, will bring about this result.

Coun. CAREY—Havy Beach in West Roxbury isn't in my Council district, and I am not attempting to interfere in Councilor Shannon's district, but I introduced that order because in the last two weeks a young lady in my district was drowned at Havy Beach. There are several people that go daily from Ward 10 to Havy Beach to enjoy the bathing facilities there. And, looking into the matter, I am informed there is a decided drop to the beach, and that some leveling off is decidedly necessary in order to have the beach made safe for the children and others who go there to enjoy the facilities of the beach. Furthermore, the eelgrass is very deceiving and the children don't realize the hazards they are getting into in it. I hope, therefore, to protect the children of my district, and of the West Roxbury district, that something will be done to eliminate the hazards.

Coun. SHANNON—May I ask permission of Councilor Carey to amend this order and make it a joint order?

Coun. CAREY—I will be very happy to do so.

CLEANING MONUMENT AT FORT AVENUE, ROXBURY.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Art Commission be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to expend the necessary funds out of the recent appropriation granted by the City Council, from the Phillips Street Fund, for the cleaning and general improvement of the monument at Fort avenue, Roxbury, which commemorates the historical siege of Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CLOSING OF SCHOOLS.

Coun. HANLEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Boston School Committee to report back to the City Council what schools, if any, they contemplate closing in Ward 11 and the other wards of the city, and what accommodations they plan in conveying the pupils of the "closed school area" to an "open school area."

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, one of the most startling announcements in the history of school education in Boston was sounded a fortnight ago. It was sounded by an eminent member of the Boston School Committee, and later reiterated over a local radio station by another member. It was, in effect, that approximately twenty-five schools were to be closed in Boston because of the shortage of enrollment. Now, I don't know whether they contemplate closing schools in Ward 11, or in the wards adjacent to my ward, or wards in the entire city, but I believe when a school is closed teachers are no longer required, and the pupils who formerly went to that school must go to another institution that might be quite a distance away. Now, you members of the Boston City Council can vote to amend that order to include the entire city if you care to. But I know this, that some day you will be the target of future campaignists for your office if you allow the schools to be closed in your district. Now, the Boston School Committee is at the present time the target of the newspapers, from various individuals, from teachers down and up to the superintendent. Some people are arguing that they should receive a salary so they will not allow that office to be used for political increment. A few months ago the Boston City Council on a memorandum from his Honor the Mayor, sponsored by the Finance Commission, asked an appropriation of $75,000 for a survey of our educational system. It was passed, not unanimously, by the Boston City Council, by required vote. Now, I don't know whether the School Committee has access to what the survey has accomplished at the present time, but I do know that I will not sit idly by and allow the School Committee or the Finance Commission or his Honor the Mayor to jeopardize the educational facilities of our constituents in Ward 11, and I will allow you, the members of the Boston City Council, to amend my order by including all of the City of Boston.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—I move to amend the order to include the entire City of Boston.

The question came on the passage of the order as amended and the order was passed.

STREET SIGN ON WINTON STREET.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a street sign on Winton street, in the Roslindale section of Ward 18.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

OVERTIME PAY FOR ELECTION EMPLOYEES.

Coun. KEENAN offered the following:

Ordered, That the Board of Election Commissioners be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to pay employees at the rate of $1.00 per hour for overtime work.

Coun. KEENAN—Mr. President, I have been informed by employees of the Election Department that they are working nights from six to half-past ten, and all they are getting is $2.00 for four or five hours a night. I think it is only fitting that his Honor the Mayor should reimburse the employees working overtime and give them time and a half for overtime.

The order was passed.

PURCHASE OF FIRE APPARATUS.

Coun. DWYER offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor direct the Fire Commissioner to make no purchases of fire apparatus without holding competitive bids for same.

Coun. DWYER—I filed this order, Mr. President, as a result of strong rumors, from talk I have heard in the last few days throughout the City Hall. I understand, Mr. President, that the Supply Department asked for bids that were supposed to close last week on five different pumers. Mr. President, in order that I might be able to give this Council the true facts on this story, I tried to contact Mr. Lang. It is true I didn't get his office until after noontime today, but I was informed that Mr. Lang, the Superintendent of Supplies, was not available this afternoon. I also tried to contact Mr. Thornton. Mr. Thornton was gone for the afternoon. I contacted Mr. Ryan in the Supply Department. Mr. Ryan informed me he wasn't handling the matter and had been away and had just got back, but he would look it up for me. Some few hours later I was called out of the Executive room and he told me that Mr. Enright was handling this matter, and he understands, in Mr. Enright's absence, it was true, the story on the advertised bids. I wouldn't be alarmed at that, Mr. President, but the rumors go farther, and they say that three of these engines, or pumps, are going to be bought without bids from a private concern that most of the apparatus in the city is being bought of, at a very exorbitant price. And in the meantime, Mr. President, I contacted, or tried to contact, Mr. Fox, the City Auditor. I was unable to get Mr. Fox, but I did get Mr. Falvey, and Mr. Falvey has no record of this proposed purchase or of any money set aside for it without bids. Now, Mr. President, if the Fire Commissioner or the Purchasing Agent plans to buy this apparatus and it is needed, well and good, but I do think that it should be thrown open to public bidding and all of the big companies allowed to bid on it. So, therefore, Mr. President, I filed this order, in the event that his Honor the Mayor didn't know what was going on,—that he would have sufficient time to notify the Fire Commissioner not to purchase this apparatus without holding comparative bids for same.

The order was passed.

ABSENTEE VOTING.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, will you please have the clerk read that communication from William A. Motley, relative to the forty-four registration places?

The letter of August 7, 1944, from William A. Motley to Chief Clerk Arthur C. Carey, was read by the clerk.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, on that communication, I never entered into the City Council to be instructed by a nincompoop of an Election Commissioner like William A. Motley. The order was amended by Councilor Daniel F. Sullivan to include every ward in the city, including the forty-four registration places. It was passed unanimously by the Boston City Council. That simply meant that the entire twenty-two members concurred in the order. It was merely introduced by Councilor Hanley, but it was passed unanimously by the twenty-two members of the Boston City Council. Now, I know, and you know, that it is a State statute that those registration places must be open prior to an election or a primary. We are not asking for that. We are asking they be opened up at the present time so that the relatives of the men in the armed services can procure absentee ballots and send them to their loved ones in the far-flung posts of the world. At the present time Boston has been remiss in its duty to the armed forces. My people, my constituents, must go over to the Mission Hill project or the OPA in order to procure absentee ballots. I ask that my constituents be provided with absentee ballots in Precinct 4 and Precinct 15. According to an assistant of the Secretary of State, 450,000 absentee ballots were printed for the use of our armed forces and they state that if 10 per cent vote it will be a great thing. Ten per cent of the men and women who are responsible for perpetuating and retaining our form of government are given the chance of using the absentee ballot by forwarding it by their relatives. I know that the Federal ballot doesn't allow distinguished and illustrious members of the Boston City Council, such as William A. Carey, to be elected to the Congress of the United States except by Federal ballot only. It allows for the President and the Vice President. Now, William A. Motley,—I don't know who he thinks he is "kidding," but he should look in a mirror sometime and find out. William A. Motley is a barnacle attached to the Election Commissioner's office, and he should be removed by his Honor the Mayor. Absentee ballots should be procured and sent to the men in the armed forces so that they can elect by absentee ballot the men who will perpetuate our form of government, and not allow a burlesque of democracy, as was perpetrated in Chicago a month ago. I hope, Mr. President, that William A. Motley will at least read the communication from this Honorable Body and not interpret.

Coun. CAREY—Just one correction that I want to make. My name was mentioned by the good councilor from Ward 11 (Coun. Hanley) as being overlooked on the ballot. The President, Vice President and Congressmen are made part of that ballot. But I heartily agree with what the councilor had to say about the delay in opening registration places in the twenty-two wards in the city. I have had a number of people who have been in touch with me ask me to see what could be done to have those registration places available in the usual spots where they know registration is held, and also have them open during the evening hours. I can't understand why some action hasn't been taken. Perhaps it will be an expense. I don't want to see the taxpayers' money wasted but I feel that money has been spent for less worthy purposes in the past. God knows if we ought to give recognition to anybody we ought to give it to the men who have been away from home, in some cases for thirty months. And I know for a fact that many of those men and boys want to vote on November 7. Every opportunity should be given to those men to make sure that they are on the registered voting list and their address given to the Election Commission, in order that a ballot may be sent them, and I sincerely hope immediate recognition will be taken of the order of Councilor Hanley.

RESOLUTION ON DEATH OF JOSEPH P. KENNEDY, JR.

Coun. FEENEY offered the following:

Resolved, that the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, hereby extends its heartfelt sympathy to the Honorable Joseph P. Kennedy, former Ambassador to the Court of St. James, and to the members of his family, on the untimely and heroic death of his gallant son, Lieutenant Joseph P. Kennedy, Jr., United States Navy, who gave up his life for his country in the present conflict.

President KERRIGAN—All those in favor of the Resolution please stand. [All stood.] It is a unanimous vote.

Coun. SHANNON—I would like unanimous consent to vote Yes on the $10,000 transfer order.

President KERRIGAN—If there is no objection, Councilor Shannon will be so recorded.

Coun. FEENEY—I would also like unanimous consent to vote Yes on that order.

President KERRIGAN—If there is no objection, Councilor Feeney will be so recorded.

Coun. McCORMACK—I would also like to ask unanimous consent to be recorded Yes on that order.

President KERRIGAN—If there is no objection, Councilor McCormack will be so recorded.

Coun. KINSELLA—I move we now adjourn.

Adjourned at 3.55 p. m., on motion of Coun. KINSELLA, to meet on Monday, September 11, 1944, at 2 p. m.

CITY RECORD

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 36.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1944.

NO. 36

MAYOR TOBIN APPEALS TO YOUTH OF CITY TO RETURN TO SCHOOL AND FURTHER THEIR EDUCATION — APPEALS TO FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF BOSTON CHILDREN TO GET THEM BACK TO SCHOOL DESPITE LURE OF INCOME EARNING AT OCCUPATIONAL SERVICES DURING SUMMER VACATION — OVER RADIO HE POINTS TO FACT MATTER OF EDUCATION OF FAR MORE PRESSING IMPORTANCE AND OF FAR DEEPER SIGNIFICANCE TO FUTURE WELFARE OF CITIZENS THAN IMMEDIATE GAINS THAT MIGHT ACCRUE FROM EARNINGS GAINED AT SUCH EXPENSE.

Over Station WNAC on Tuesday evening, August 29, Mayor Tobin made the following appeal for return to schools by pupils engaged in gainful pursuits during summer months:

Ladies and Gentlemen.

I make this talk tonight — a talk directed to the fathers and mothers in our city — in my official capacity as Mayor of Boston. It is not a political talk. On the contrary, it is for the sole purpose of discussion of far more pressing importance and far deeper significance to the future welfare of our citizens than the merits or demerits of any political candidate.

Here in America, we long ago realized that education was the keystone to a worthwhile life, and the cornerstone upon which we could build an enduring nation among the nations of the world. We established free schools and we made it obligatory on our children to attend those schools until a certain period in their lives. Here in Massachusetts, it is compulsory that all children under sixteen years of age attend school, except that, under certain conditions involving physical or economic necessity, this limitation is removed.

Education Right of All.

It is incontrovertible that one of the factors that has made America great — that will keep it great — and that will preserve its greatness for all the generations to come — is the common right and common heritage of all — rich or poor — white or colored — believer or unbeliever — to share in the bountiful stores of knowledge of this, and of all the ages that have gone.

A nation of educated men and women is an enlightened nation — it will be a progressive nation — it will be a liberal-minded nation — it will be a nation that will never succumb to the blandishments and demagoguery of false prophets or self-appointed despots. Knowledge is power — knowledge is the weapon that, more effectively than all else, can be used to drive out the hatreds, the jealousies, and the intolerances that beset the world — and which are nurtured in the workshop of ignorance and in the dark chambers of misunderstanding.

Today, in our country, and in our own City of Boston, we are confronted with a condition that is disturbing to every citizen who realizes the great benefits that flow from proper and sufficient education. Thousands of our young boys and girls between the ages of fourteen and eighteen are employed in positions that, very often, bring them wages that are double those which the head of the family has been accustomed to receive. With excusable shortsightedness, with the impetuosity of youth, and with a red-blooded desire, in some instances, to contribute to the war effort, many of these boys and girls want to continue work rather than return to school.

Appeal to Parents.

In families that are being sorely tried to make both ends meet, the temptation to accede to this weakening of the family's future strength is a great one, but one that I devoutly hope will be rejected. To these parents, torn between doubt, economic necessity, and parental duty, this message is specifically directed. Unless stark necessity leaves no other course open, do not permit your sons and daughters to be deprived of their birthright. Convince them that only through education and knowledge may they meet the competition — the stiff competition — that will prevail when this war is over. It may well be that in some few cases education beyond the grammar grades is of no particular benefit, but, in the great majority of cases, every boy or girl should be equipped with a high school education before entering the business or industrial world. It is the wise father and mother who, willingly facing hardship and sacrifice, will make certain that their children receive the educational advantages that are so essential now, and which will be more essential in the rehabilitation years just ahead. It will be tragic if, for the sake of temporary and all-too-often fleeting gain, a lifetime of economic independence is sacrificed.

During the last war, I was a pupil in high school. The same conditions that exist today existed at that time, to a lesser extent. Many of the boys I knew in high school left school to obtain high wage jobs in war work. Most of them never returned to school. The habit of study once broken is difficult to renew. Many of the boys in my class graduated from school and have gone on to make success of their lives. Many of the boys who left school are now in the low income group, and are convinced, many times over, that too little education is a grave and lasting mistake.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT ORDERS MALDEN BRIDGE OVER MYSTIC RIVER AT SULLIVAN SQUARE CLOSED TO TRAFFIC PENDING REPAIRS FOR SIX DAYS—MACHINERY AND MOTORS FOUND TO BE IN NEED OF ATTENTION TO PREVENT POSSIBLE SERIOUS ACCIDENT—COMMISSIONER GEORGE G. HYLAND ISSUES ORDER AND EXPLANATION—ASKS METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION TO AID IN TRAFFIC CRISIS.

Upon August 30 the Public Works Commissioner issued the following statement:

Due to the necessity of making repairs to the machinery and motors of the Malden Bridge, which crosses the Mystic river in Charlestown, it will be necessary to close that structure to all vehicular and pedestrian traffic for a period of six days, starting at 8 a. m. on Wednesday, September 6, and ending at 5 p. m. on Monday, September 11.

This bridge is located in Alford street, Charlestown, and is the main traffic artery connecting Charlestown with Everett. It is one of the most heavily used highways in Boston, particularly by commercial traffic, but we have no alternative in the matter because we must, of necessity, close it for the above-referenced period in order to make repairs, which will become more serious if they are not taken care of at this time.

We do not know, at the present time, the routes of the detours that the commercial traffic will have to take during the closed period, but we have requested the Metropolitan District Commission to allow this type of traffic to use the Metropolitan District Commission roads that connect Everett with Sullivan square. If the Metropolitan District Commission allows commercial traffic to use these highways, it will eliminate a great deal of inconvenience that will result to commercial operators because of the closing of the bridge, because the use of Metropolitan District Commission roads will save the commercial vehicles many miles of travel during the period of the closing of the structure.

Passenger cars, of course, will be allowed to use existing Metropolitan District Commission park roads in going to and from Everett to Sullivan square during the closed period.

The Traffic Department of this city, and more specifically Assistant Traffic Engineer Joseph O'Connor, will make whatever arrangements are possible with both the city of Everett and the Metropolitan District Commission authorities to provide alternate routes that commercial vehicles will use during the period that the bridge will be closed, and I suggest, therefore, that you take up the matter of alternate routes with him, although he will not be able to give you exact information regarding this matter until the Metropolitan District Commission renders its decision as to whether or not commercial vehicles will be allowed to use their parkways during the time that the bridge will be closed.

MAYOR TOBIN APPEALS TO YOUTH OF CITY TO RETURN TO SCHOOL.

COMPETITIVE STANDARDS HIGH.

During the period between the last war and the present war the total population in Boston has undergone but little change, but, during that same period, the high school population in Boston was increased by one hundred per cent. It can readily be seen that with our total population more or less constant, and with the high school population just before this war double that of twenty-five years ago, the competitive standards in the business world are correspondingly higher. A generation or two ago, a graduate of grade school was acceptable to most employers. After this war is over, the boy or girl who cannot produce a high school diploma will find most gates of opportunity closed and barred.

As Mayor of Boston and, previous to that, a member of the Boston School Committee, I know the value of education, and I earnestly entreat all agencies that come in contact with the boy or girl of high school age to impress upon them that the temporary advantages of today will, in all probability, turn out to be the permanent disadvantages of tomorrow. Educators, members of teachers' associations, the press, the pulpit, the radio, labor leaders, business and industrial employers all have the power to influence our growing sons and daughters in this problem of such vital concern to our family life, and to the future of our city, our state and our nation.

In recent months the fair name of our city has been besmirched because of acts of hoodlumism, vandalism, petty crimes, and one particularly vicious crime. Exhibitions of racial animosities have been all too frequent to pass unnoticed and to be permitted to go unchecked. Whatever is the cause of juvenile delinquency, and there may be many, one chief cause is the lack of control over the growing child by the parents. Even the finest boys and girls may go wrong unless control is exerted over them during the period in their lives when parental influence is most needed.

The new school term is just around the corner. I appeal to all parents to send their children back to school and to insist that those boys and girls remain at home at night in the furtherance of their school work. Impress upon your boys and girls of high school age the compelling necessity of completing their high school education. Acquaint them with your own experiences and your own convictions on the value of education. Remind yourselves that the immature youth receiving high wages will be tempted to assert his independence, and may well demand the same privileges that are usually reserved for those who reach maturity. Let us remember the Biblical admonition—the love of money is the root of all evil—and that easy money in the hands of immature youth can well lead to habits of extravagance not easily overcome—can well lead to companionships and associations that warp and destroy character.

NEW DAY AHEAD.

The world today is just emerging from one of the blackest periods in its long history. Just over the horizon can be seen the light of a new day—the dawn of a new era which many predict will be the most peaceful, the most fruitful, and the most progressive era since the beginning of civilization. The educated boy and girl will have a chance to attain a prominent place in the events to come. The world will be searching for those whose basic education has not been neglected. The world will have little time for those who place temporary financial gain over the true, imperishable wealth that knowledge represents.

No man or woman is ever rich, no matter what his or her material wealth, if knowledge is lacking. It is knowledge that opens wide the door to opportunity. It is knowledge that feeds and nurtures the soul. It is knowledge that brings understanding. It is knowledge that develops God's gifts and enables man to take his rightful place in the world. It is knowledge that will dissipate prejudices and intolerances. It is knowledge that will some day prevent the wars that bring such suffering and misery to the world.

To the parents of Boston, I make this concluding appeal—send your boys and girls back to school. With the proper training and education, the world of tomorrow is theirs. Without it, the world will be unkind, unresponsive, unrelenting.

Here in Boston, over two and a half centuries ago, the first free public school in America was opened. The wise forefathers realized that the future of America depended upon the education of its youth. Let us now, in this twentieth century, pledge anew our faith in the power of knowledge. Knowledge is the torch that lights the way. In the hands of our future citizens, it will make bright the darkness through which those without knowledge all too frequently stumble and fall. Of all the gifts that man or woman can give, there is no gift that can compare with the full and proper education of their children. All else is transitory. Knowledge alone endures.

Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Attached is list of bids on proposals for furnishing anti-skid chains and related equipment for delivery to the various city departments. These bids were publicly opened and read at this office under date of May 25, 1944. I would respectfully request that permission be granted to award contracts to the lowest bidders as indicated on the attached tabulation.

One of the lowest bidders, the Greenlaw Motor Parts Company, submitted a bid which was irregular in that it did not contain, as per specifications, a copy of this company's standard price list. However, on realizing the error, the Greenlaw Company furnished the list within a half an hour after the opening of the bids.

In order that the city may effect a saving by acceptance of the bids submitted by the Greenlaw Motor Parts Company, I would respectfully request that permission be granted to award it the items on which it is low without further advertising.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES B. THORNTON,
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

WITHOUT ADVERTISING.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, and supply institutions for labor, merchandise, supplies, etc. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

PARK DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, May 23, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—The Board of Park Commissioners respectfully request your approval for the award of the refreshment privilege at Carson Beach, Columbus Park, South Boston, for a term of five years beginning June 15, 1944, and ending June 14, 1949, to Daniel E. Hurley, 61 Magazine street, Roxbury, at a rental of $1,500 per year.

Mr. Hurley has operated several restaurants and concessions in Boston for a number of years and appears to us to be the type of individual who would operate a concession in a manner satisfactory to the City of Boston. From investigation by this department, his reputation for conducting concessions and payment of bills is of the highest. The Board of Park Commissioners are interested in obtaining the proper type of person to operate this concession and we are desirous of having a man who we are sure will pay his rent when due.

Mr. Hurley has agreed to post the necessary bond and as we believe that nothing would be gained by advertising, it is respectfully requested that the Board of Park Commissioners be allowed to award this concession without advertising.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 9, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of July 21, 1944, informal quotations were solicited by this department on proposals for furnishing five tons of arsenate of lead for the Franklin Park yard of the Park Department. The following bids were received:

American Agricultural Chemical Company, $230 per ton; Essex County Farming Association, $240 per ton; Joseph Breck & Sons, Inc., no bid.

The arsenate of lead is being purchased at this time in anticipation of an expected critical shortage in 1945 and it has been deemed expedient to take advantage of the market when it can be bought.

Your permission is therefore respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising for bids to the low bidder, the American Agricultural Chemical Company, 50 Church street, New York City, at its bid price of $230 per ton.

The approximate amount of the contract will be $1,148.16, less a cash discount of 1 per cent for payment in thirty days.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES E. THORNTON.
Acting Superintendent of Supplies.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE, SUFFOLK COUNTY.

BOSTON, August 10, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Recently an emergency situation arose on the front of the Suffolk County jail wall. A corner of the wall which is composed of several heavy granite blocks, each of which weighs about 400 pounds, started to tip outward. The inspectors of the City of Boston Building Department, as well as the jail engineer, considered it an extremely hazardous condition in that it might fall without warning and so injure or maim passers-by. Therefore, to forestall any accident I ordered the D'Amore Company, who were on the jail premises digging test pits, to erect a staging and take down the dislocated granite blocks.

This they did; and because I feel that no saving could be effected at this time by asking for competitive bids on the reconstruction of this corner of the wall, I hereby request that I be allowed to award the work of fixing this wall to the D'Amore Company without competitive advertising.

At this time it is impossible to estimate accurately the cost of this work, because the amount of work involved will not be known until the reconstruction of this corner of the wall is actually in progress. However, it is fair to assume that the cost will run slightly under $2,000.

Therefore, I respectfully request that I be allowed to award this work to the D'Amore Company without competitive bidding.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES J. MELLEN,
Special Sheriff.

BOSTON, August 11, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Service order No. 62 (jail improvements) was issued to D'Amore Company, 71 Regent road, Malden, Mass., for digging test pits required to investigate the condition of the foundation of the jail wall on Fruit street. The cost was to be $24 per cubic yard, total cost not to exceed $1,000.

On the 16th of June, 1944, Service Order No. 62 was amended fixing the estimated cost of the work at $750. When the work under Service Order No. 62 was done, the cost was found to be $1,262.40 for 52.6 cubic yards of earth excavation and incidental work at the agreed price of $24 per cubic yard. The agreed quantity was determined by measurements taken by the Sewer Division engineers.

After the Service Order No. 62 had been issued, Inspector Splaine of the Boston Building Department recommended that a test pit be dug to investigate the foundation at a crack in the south jail wall near Charles street. The estimated cost of this work based on the cost of the Fruit street pits is $650, making the cost of $1,912.40 for all test pit work.

This work was not publicly advertised, because it was believed that the cost of the two test pits for the Fruit street wall would be less than $1,000. However, this figure was exceeded, because the excavation had to be carried to a lower depth than estimated, and also the necessity for a test pit near Charles street which was not contemplated originally.

Therefore, I desire to cancel Service Order No. 62 and issue a new order in the amount of $1,912.40 and respectfully request your Honor's approval for this.

I inclose a copy of the preliminary report which I received from the Public Works Department. The two test pits at the Fruit street wall showed that the top of the wooden foundation piles are badly rotted, and it will be necessary to rebuild the wall. The plans and the specifications for this rebuilt wall are now being prepared by the Public Works Department.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES J. MELLEN,
Special Sheriff.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

NO. 37

MAYOR TOBIN ISSUES GO-TO-SCHOOL PROCLAMATION IN HOPE OF GETTING PUPILS BACK INTO CLASSROOMS FOR COMPLETION OF THEIR STUDIES — CALLS ATTENTION OF CITIZENS TO NEED OF EDUCATION AS FOUNDATION OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AS A MEANS OF PRESERVING PRINCIPLES OF DEMOCRACY — PRAISES YOUTH OF CITY AND STATE FOR CONTRIBUTIONS IN WAR EFFORT BUT WARNS THAT FUTURE BENEFITS OUTWEIGH ANY PRESENT EARNING POWER THAT MIGHT TEMPT TO DESERTION OF SCHOOLROOMS.

Mayor Tobin, in the hope of getting the school children of Boston and the State back into their classrooms, has issued an appeal in the form of a proclamation to the families of Boston.

In this proclamation the Mayor calls the attention of the citizens to the heavy price children have had to pay and are paying for the war and its exactions, who, while not experiencing the bombings and other terrors such as those of the invaded countries have, yet are experiencing unusual conditions of living and are undergoing changes in their habits of life.

In his proclamation the Mayor expresses the sentiment of all thoughtful persons interested in the future of the country. He also praises the children for the efforts they have put forward in helping the solution of community problems that have arisen due to war and wartime conditions. The proclamation reads as follows:

GO-TO-SCHOOL PROCLAMATION.

By the Mayor of Boston.

War exacts a heavy price from children. In the United States our children have so far been spared the terrors of bombing and invasion and the horror of starvation. But our children have not been untouched — many are living in strange and new communities under crowded conditions — many are neglected because of the absence of mothers on war jobs — some are already orphaned as war casualties mount. Other children are burdened prematurely with work too heavy for their strength — thousands are laying aside their school books to take full-time jobs.

We Believe that the demands for war production and essential civilian services can be met without exploiting children;

We Believe that children can contribute to the life of their communities in many useful ways, but that it is a shortsighted policy to employ them at hours or under conditions which threaten their physical development and impair their educational opportunities;

We Believe that the protection of children from harmful child labor is a community enterprise of first importance, dependent upon the cooperation of parents, employers, schools and other community agencies; therefore

We Call Upon young people to resist the lure of war wages and to remember that temporary financial gain cannot offset future educational handicaps, and we urge parents to support this view;

We Commend the efforts of all socially minded citizens to urge children of high school age to return to school this fall;

We Urge schools, wherever this is desirable, to develop in cooperation with employers and community agencies well-balanced programs of school and supervised part-time work;

We Urge legislators and government officials to refuse to allow child labor laws to be broken down and to maintain sufficient staffs for their enforcement;

We Call Upon all of the forces in the community — the home, the school, the church, industry and commerce, labor, social and civic agencies — to unite in protecting our children.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean,
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

TRAFFIC DETOURS ORDERED FOR BRIDGE REPAIRS.

Public Works Commissioner George G. Hyland announces that detours have been worked out in cooperation with the Metropolitan District Commission and officials in Malden and Everett for the handling of traffic during the six-day period that the Malden (Alford Street) Bridge is under repair.

The bridge is to be closed from 8 a. m., Wednesday, September 6, until 5 p. m. on Monday, September 11.

Authority has been received from the Metropolitan District Commission for trucks to use certain of its roadways, from which commercial travel customarily is barred, during the period that essential repair work is being done to the Malden Bridge. The only restriction imposed by the Metropolitan District Commission is that the customary tonnage limitations will be enforced on the bridges on the detour routes and that trucks of a greater tonnage than is permitted over the bridges will have to detour by other routes.

Traffic bound from Boston to Everett will be diverted at Sullivan square by way of Main street or by way of Medford street, Charlestown.

Arrangements have been made with Malden officials to intercept Boston-bound traffic on Main street, Malden, at Medford street, and divert it into Medford street so that it may enter Boston by Highland avenue and Somerville.

Arrangements have also been made with Everett officials to intercept Boston-bound traffic on Broadway, Everett, at Ferry street (Glendale square) and divert it through Ferry street into Chelsea and then into Boston.

Signs will be posted along the detours to guide motorists and truck drivers.

Malden Bridge is generally known as Alford Street Bridge, and all detour signs will bear the latter name.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 30, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of June 31, 1943, a contract was awarded to Appel & O'Toole Company, 78 Moreland street, Roxbury, for earth excavation, refilling, etc., in connection with repair work done in the Water Division of this department. A date of December 31 of the current year was specified in the contract document as the date of completion of this contract.

However, the contract sum authorized under the provisions of the contract has been expended, but it will be necessary to have the work provided for in the contract continued for the remainder of the current year. There are only two items involved in the contract, one for the excavating of approximately 3,125 cubic yards of earth at $2.35 per cubic yard, and the other for applying approximately 1,875 square yards of cold patch resurfacing material over the trench areas, at the sum of 50 cents per square yard.

The work of the above-referenced contractor has been most satisfactory and his prices are exceptionally reasonable and are lower than could be obtained if proposals were publicly advertised. In view of this, therefore, no advantage would accrue to the city by publicly advertising for bids, and I recommend, therefore, that a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, be awarded to the firm of Appel & O'Toole Company, 78 Moreland street, Roxbury, for earth excavation, refilling, etc., in the Dorchester Water District, on the basis of 3,125 cubic yards of earth excavation and refilling at $2.35 per cubic yard, and for 1,875 square yards of cold patch resurfacing at 50 cents per square yard, which are the prices, as stated hereinbefore, that are in effect in the current contract.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

BOSTON, August 30, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—The purchase of new water meters in all sizes has been restricted by the War Production Board.

In order to maintain meters on the 100,000 services in operation in this city, it is necessary to do considerable repair work to put old meters in condition for installation on service pipes. The department does not have the necessary parts or sufficient men to repair old and worn-out meters.

After consultation with the Hersey Manufacturing Company of South Boston, a proposal has been received whereby the Hersey Manufacturing Company has agreed to furnish labor and material necessary to repair or rebuild $\frac{5}{8}$ inch meters, $\frac{3}{4}$ inch meters and 1 inch meters at their shop in South Boston. No advantage could accrue to the city to advertise this work as the Hersey Manufacturing Company is the only company in a position to furnish the necessary parts for installation in Hersey meters.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that a contract without publicly advertising for bids, be awarded to the Hersey Manufacturing Company of South Boston, for the repair of:

500 $\frac{5}{8}$ inch Hersey meters at \$5.75 each;
100 $\frac{3}{4}$ inch Hersey meters at \$8.10 each;
100 1 inch Hersey meters at $11.45 each.

The repaired meters are practically the equivalent of new meters and the above-referenced prices for repairing them are about one half the cost of new meters, which, as stated hereinbefore, are not obtainable at the present time.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, August 23, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—We are in receipt of requisition No. 1438 from the Fire Department for the purchase of five 1,000-gallon triple combination pumping engines. Specifications covering these pumpers are identical to those which we publicly advertised for under date of April 20, 1943. We are also in receipt of recommendations covering this requisition from the Fire Commissioner under date of August 1, 1944, a copy of which is attached. Inasmuch as these recommendations of the Fire Department are based upon years of experience with and complete technical knowledge of types of equipment upon which bids were submitted, I am sure that such recommendations are for the best interest of the city and I completely concur with them.

Under the circumstances, I feel that nothing will be gained by public advertising for that part of the order which calls for three American LaFrance pumping engines. This company has shown that it can deliver pumps in a period of approximately six months after the date they receive the order and we have direct evidence that some other companies cannot do as well. By placing the order now for these pumps with the American LaFrance Foamite Corporation we will have the benefits of maximum delivery service.

Since there is still urgent need for additional pumping equipment, we recommend that there be public advertising for the award of a contract for the two remaining 1,000-gallon pumps forthwith, so that we may have additional pumps coming along from any other company which will qualify on the basis of price, comparison and ability to deliver the equipment ordered.

Your permission is therefore respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising to the American LaFrance Foamite Corporation for three "Empire" 1,000-gallon pumping engines at $13,850 each, with a discount of $277 each, making the net price $13,573 each. These prices are f.o.b. factory with freight allowed to destination and include the services of an engineer to instruct in operation and run tests as required by the City of Boston Fire Department.

The total amount of this contract will be $40,719.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

BOSTON, August 1, 1944.

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

DEAR SIR,—For many years the Boston Fire Department standardized on the purchase of American LaFrance fire fighting equipment. It was felt that a benefit would result in the standardization of parts and the familiarity with the characteristics of American LaFrance construction which would ultimately result in higher skill in repair work on the part of our auto mechanics. The American LaFrance Company maintains a depot in Boston with a stock supply of standard parts which, prior to the war, were regularly available on short notice.

The benefits accruing from the existence of the above factors in an organization such as the Fire Department which is primarily planned for emergency work is self-apparent.

In recent years, to offset any impression that other companies might have developed better fire equipment for a lower price, I have made it a practice of recommending the purchase of some pieces other than American LaFrance equipment. By running this other equipment in service alongside of American LaFrance equipment we will have a standard of comparison available based on our own experience.

On July 30, 1943, an order was placed with the American LaFrance Company for two pumps; an order for one pump was placed with the Peter Pirsch Company, and an order for one pump was placed with the Mack Motor Truck Company.

The two pumps ordered from the American LaFrance were received in January, 1944. The pumps ordered from the Pirsch Company and the Mack Company have not yet been delivered and there is no indication that there will be a delivery in the very near future.

When the Pirsch and the Mack equipment is received we will have an opportunity to judge the respective merits of these pumps as manufactured today under wartime conditions. We know what the American LaFrance pump is and we know what it can do.

It appears that the American LaFrance Company can deliver pumps in a period of approximately six months after the date they receive the order. We have no evidence that any other company can do any better and we have evidence that some other companies cannot do as well.

By placing an order now for pumps with the American LaFrance Company there is a likelihood that in the latter part of this winter we will have the benefit of the services of these much needed pieces of equipment.

1,000-gallon pumpers, identical with those delivered by the American LaFrance Company from our order one year ago, are available at the same price that we paid last year and delivery can be made in six months as demonstrated by last year's experience with this company.

There is an urgent need for additional pumping equipment in our Fire Department at the present time to replace obsolete and worn-out pumps.

Accordingly, I recommend that we award to the American LaFrance Company of Elmira, New York, a contract for the delivery of three 1,000-gallon pumps in accordance with the specifications submitted to the Supply Department by me some time ago.

Meanwhile, I recommend that there be public advertising for the award of a contract for two 1,000-gallon pumpers so that as soon as possible after the delivery of the above American LaFrance equipment we may have additional pumps coming along, either from the American LaFrance Company or any other company which qualifies on the basis of price, comparison and the ability to deliver the equipment ordered.

If there are some companies now unknown to us which can make quicker deliveries than can the American LaFrance Company or which can supply the same type of equipment at a lower price, this fact will become known through the publicly advertised bids. However, I am quite certain that it will be demonstrated as it has in the past that there is no product superior to the American LaFrance equipment nor any concern which can accomplish deliveries of equipment more quickly.

The public advertising will serve the purpose of placing a public check on the American LaFrance Company, however, as to price and service available in the current market and thus the public interest will be served, but meanwhile in my opinion the public interest can be best served by securing deliveries of equipment of known and established value at a price which we know to be no higher than that which was quoted in publicly advertised bids last year. I feel that nothing will be gained by the public advertising of this part of our order for new fire equipment this year and therefore I propose that you approve or request the Mayor's approval to award without advertising, the purchase of three 1,000-gallon pumping engines from the American LaFrance Foamite Corporation of Elmira, New York, manufacturers of this equipment. Each piece of apparatus will cost $13,573 net, or a total of $40,719.

Very truly yours, .

WM. A. REILLY,
Fire Commissioner.

THE AIRCRAFT CARRIER—AN AMERICAN IDEA.

No weapon has changed the history of modern times more than the aircraft carrier. America made the first shipboard takeoffs and landings. The first takeoff was by Eugene Ely flying a biplane in November, 1910. The first shipboard landing was made on an improvised deck installed on the U. S. S. Pennsylvania, two months later, January 18, 1911.

Today's modern American aircraft carrier is the largest ship afloat. She is fleet and well provided with hard-hitting anti-aircraft guns. She has both speed and striking power—for an aircraft carrier is the No. 1 objective of enemy bombers and torpedo planes.

No. 38

BOSTON'S SALVAGE DRIVE HAS REALIZED A TOTAL OF $42,283.10, ACCORDING TO REPORT FROM THE AUDITORS TO CHAIRMAN OF THE COMMITTEE GEORGE G. HYLAND, PUBLIC WORKS COMMISSIONER—RECEIPTS FROM SALE OF SALVAGE MATERIALS SINCE JANUARY 19 TO THE END OF JUNE REACHED TOTAL OF $29,298.62—WITH ALL EXPENSES PAID, INCLUDING MONEY FOR BOND PRIZES, COMMITTEE HAS UNEXPENDED BALANCE OF CASH OF $6,201.30.

The Boston Salvage Committee, with Commissioner George G. Hyland, Public Works Commissioner, as chairman, has realized the total sum of $42,283.10 since the drive began, according to the report of the auditors called in to audit the books and records. The auditing was done by the firm of Charles F. Rittenhouse & Company, of 10 Post Office square. According to the report on January 18, of this year, there was a balance of cash from the 1943 drive of $12,907.63. From January 19 to June 30 of this year the committee has realized $29,298.62. After all expenses have been paid, including prizes in bonds that were offered and other items including advertising and pay to city employees for extra work there is still a balance of $6,201.30 remaining.

The summarized report of the auditors, sent to Commissioner Hyland on completion of their studies, reads as follows:

BOSTON, August 8, 1944.

MR. GEORGE G. HYLAND, Chairman,
Boston Salvage Committee.

DEAR SIR,— We have made a detailed audit of the books and records of the Boston Salvage Committee for the period from January 19, 1944, to June 30, 1944, and we submit herewith a statement of cash receipts and disbursements for that period.

The receipts for the period totalled $29,375.47, consisting of sales of salvaged materials amounting to $29,298.62 and $76.85 returned by the Boston Committee on Public Safety, which is the unexpended balance of a contribution of $1,000 previously reported. These, added to the balance of cash on deposit at January 18, 1944, of $12,907.63, makes a total of cash to be accounted for of $42,283.10. Expenses amounted to $13,281.80, of which $4,852.83 was paid to city employees for extra work in connection with waste paper collections, $2,306.25 for war bond prizes, $4,202.48 for advertising, and $1,920.24 for other expenses. Contributions made to various organizations amounted to $22,800, with a resulting cash balance of $6,201.30 on deposit at June 30, 1944.

A detailed audit of all transactions of record was made. Receipts from sales of salvaged materials were compared with statements of brokers and agents handling the salvaged materials and further tested by reference to letters and remittance memoranda from the mills to which the material is shipped. In addition, tests were made of weights reported by railroads and the reports of two division engineers.

A detailed analysis was made of disbursements, and we found invoices, pay roll records, correspondence, or other evidence in support of all expenditures. All contributions made were acknowledged by the recipient organizations. The cash on hand referred to above was reconciled with the bank statement as of June 30, 1944.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. RITTENHOUSE & COMPANY,
Certified Public Accountants.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 6, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR.—The Boston and Maine Railroad is responsible for the maintenance and repair of the Mystic Avenue Bridge, Charlestown, with the exception of the wearing surface, which is under the jurisdiction of this department.

The railroad authorities find it necessary to effect repairs to the structure at this time, and it is their intention to start repair work during the current month. In connection with the repairs to be done by the railroad, it is necessary for this department to remove the existing granite block surface and to replace it when the railroad has completed its steel and timber repairs. For this reason, therefore, the department sent invitation bids to three qualified and representative contractors to perform the work that is under the jurisdiction of this department and which involves, as stated above, the removal of the existing granite block surface and the repaving of the surface with granite blocks subsequent to the completion of the work that is to be done by the railroad.

The bids submitted and the contractors to whom proposals were sent are as follows:

Rufo Construction Company, 1 Allen road, Brighton, $1,387.50; Baker & Co., 1335 Hyde Park avenue, Hyde Park, $1,612.50; Martin J. Kelley Company, Inc., 95 Prince street, Jamaica Plain, $1,650.

In view of the comparatively small amount of the contract and also taking into consideration that invitation bids—as stated above—were sent to three representative contractors who are well qualified to do this work, we did not feel that any advantage would accrue to the city by publicly advertising for bids. Aside from these points, the low bid submitted by the Rufo Construction Company is very reasonable and, in my opinion, a lower bid would not result if publicly advertised proposals were requested.

I respectfully request, therefore, that you approve the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, in the amount of $1,387.50, to the Rufo Construction Company of 1 Allen road, Brighton, for the performing of work in accordance with the department's specifications which will provide, in substance, for the removal of 150 square yards of granite block from the Mystic Avenue Bridge and approaches, and for the

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 190.

The Annual Ball of the Boston Police Relief Association will be held in the Boston Garden, Wednesday evening, December 6, 1944.

The proceeds of the ball, as members of the department know, are added to the funds of the association and are used for the payment of sick and death benefits to members of the association and their families, which funds, at the present time, are insufficient to meet the demands made upon the association.

It is the desire of the Commissioner, the Superintendent and the Board of Directors of the Association that all members of the Force interest themselves and make a special effort to dispose of the tickets for the ball, and thereby make it such a success that the finances of the association will be put on a sound basis, so that the good work accomplished by the association in assisting its members in time of sickness or death since it was organized in 1871 may be continued.

The tickets for the ball will be distributed to each station by the treasurer, Lieut. Harrington B. Wyand, Division 1, who will receive a receipt therefor. Captains of divisions will distribute tickets to their officers and keep a correct list of the number of tickets given to each man. Each officer will make a daily return to his captain of the number of tickets he has sold, together with the name and address of the purchaser, and will return the money received to his captain.

All officers will be held strictly responsible for tickets allotted to them.

Captains will collect each day all money received by officers in the sale of tickets and will forward to the superintendent by morning mail the following day all of such money. A correct list containing the ticket numbers, together with the names and addresses of purchasers of tickets, shall be kept on file at the various divisions. In this way, it is expected that a complete canvass of the city will be made and a substantial increase in the sale of tickets will be accomplished.

Cash received by commanding officers will be converted into a check, made payable to Harrington B. Wyand, Treasurer, B. P. R. A., and forwarded to the Superintendent's Office.

All tickets that remain unsold on December 5, 1944, will be collected by the captain of each division and returned to Lieutenant Wyand, who will furnish a receipt therefor.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

THOMAS F. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

General Order No. 191.

The police officers hereinafter named having performed faithful service in the Police Department for the years stated, and the Medical Board, provided for by section 18, chapter 521, Acts of 1922, having certified that they are incapacitated for useful service on the Police Force of the City of Boston; it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that they be retired from active service in the Police Department, under provisions of chapter 353, Acts of 1892, as amended by chapter 6, Acts of 1920, and chapter 387, Acts of 1930, and that their names be placed upon the department pension roll with pay at the rate set out, said sum being one half of the amount of compensation received by each in the office from which he is retired, to take effect at 7.45 o'clock a. m. Wednesday, September 13, 1944.

MAYOR TOBIN MAKING PLANS FOR POST-WAR PERIOD OF PUBLIC WORKS CONSTRUCTION FOR PROVIDING EMPLOYMENT — EXPENDITURES PLANNED TO REACH TOTAL OF $20,000,000 IN NEXT SIX YEARS — FORWARD-LOOKING ESTIMATES ENVISION STREET CONSTRUCTION AND BUILDING PROJECTS TO INCLUDE TWO REFUSE INCINERATORS, FIRE STATIONS, RECREATION PIER IN SOUTH BOSTON, AND NEW BUILDINGS AT LONG ISLAND, AS WELL AS NEW NURSES' HOME AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Mayor Tobin has given careful consideration to the development of a program of public works for the post-war period. Final details have not yet been effected with regard to financing, but a program has been developed which anticipates a total expenditure of just under $20,000,000 in the next six years. The tentative financial program indicates that approximately two thirds of the money would be made available through bond issues and one third would come directly out of the tax levy.

The projects will include financial allotments each year for certain recurring types of construction, such as new streets, reconstruction of old streets and sidewalks, traffic islands and circles, new sewer construction, the extension and relaying of water mains and reconstruction of elements of the park roadway system.

Among the building projects given an early place in the program are two refuse incinerators, the reconstruction of the Marine Pier and Head House in South Boston, a new fire station in West Roxbury, the remodeling of Ladder 8 fire house, a new women's dormitory and a utility building, as well as new buildings for the women's and male hospitals at Long Island, and a new nurses' home at the City Hospital.

Bridge Projects.

Two important bridge projects are included in the program. The construction of a new Meridian Street Bridge is immediate and must be undertaken at the earliest possible moment. The reconstruction of the Warren Avenue Bridge, and also the Blakemore Street Bridge in Roslindale, is scheduled for the latter part of the six-year period.

A further bridge and highway project of first importance slated for early construction is a viaduct from Long Island to Moon Island, in Squantum, with ample approaches giving direct land connection to the Long Island institution. This project will require legislative authority.

Projects under the jurisdiction of the Park Department involve completion of the traffic oval at Brookline Avenue and Park Drive and the reconstruction of several park roadways, together with an annual program for the development of new playgrounds which are badly needed in many sections of the city and should be an important element in the city's post-war program.

While the school program must be at the moment tentative, additions to the Trade School and Mechanic Arts High School are in the program, as well as the enlargement of the vocational garage at Brighton High School.

Several improvements in ventilation and equipment at the City Hospital have also been included, as have other minor projects elsewhere.

Preliminary Work.

The program as now developed is aimed to serve as a guide for action in 1945 so that the budget will include adequate allowances for the preparation of the plans and specifications needed for the construction of the projects slated for the early years of the program. The city will thus be in a position to take prompt action in arranging contracts and starting work when men and materials become available at the termination of the war. It is not possible to foresee in advance just when this situation will develop, but it is necessary to take, as promptly as possible, the preliminary steps required to get prompt action when the emergency arises.

In recent years it has been impossible to maintain equipment up to standard. The program includes substantial appropriations for equipment in the early years of the program for the Public Works Department and for annual recurring items of major equipment for the Fire Department. The minor recurring items of equipment and materials for all city departments, which amount to about $2,000,000 per year, are provided for in estimates for the operating budget in addition to construction projects covered by this proposed capital budget program.

This program relates only to capital outlays supported by the city's tax levy. Important major thoroughfare improvements now being planned by the state are not a part of this program, as is also the case with proposed expenditures from the George Robert White Fund which are being separately considered.

This program will afford a working basis for authorizations in the six-year period suited to the conditions of the moment. The program is capable of being speeded up or slowed down as conditions warrant.

The program has been developed under Mayor Tobin's direction by the Post-War Public Works Programing Committee composed of —

WILBUR DAVIS, Chief Engineer, Transit Department.

PHILIP T. DESMOND, Chief Engineer, Traffic Commission.

GEORGE G. HYLAND, Commissioner of Public Works.

JAMES J. MAHAR, Superintendent of Construction, School Buildings Department.

FRANK J. MURRAY, Corporation Counsel.

WILLIAM STANLEY PARKER, Chairman, City Planning Board and Chairman of the Post-War Public Works Programing Committee.

MAYOR TOBIN THANKS BOSTON CITIZENS FOR COOPERATION DURING HURRICANE.

Mayor Tobin has issued the following:
I wish to thank the citizens of Boston, and all visitors of the Commonwealth who were in Boston, for their cooperation in our hurricane preparations. I am proud and happy to state that never before has such a wholehearted and willing response been made to warnings of this character.

Fortunately, the brunt of the storm was not felt in our city. We are all most thankful that the damage caused was comparatively slight. The forces of the City of Boston were manned at full peak to care for all emergencies and did not leave their posts of duty until all threats of danger had passed. In my tour of the city, late at night and during the early morning hours, it was evident that our citizens had heeded the warnings which had been given during the day. I want the people to know that I personally and officially appreciate the part they played in a drama that might have been far more serious. It is most gratifying to know that when danger threatens, our citizens can always be relied upon to exhibit courage and good common sense.

MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

ditioning basketball and baseball equipment for Boston public schools on Tuesday, August 8. Bids were received from the following concerns:

Arrow System, Ivory System.

Award was made to the lowest responsible bidder in accordance with specifications and standards and contract executed as follows:— September 7, 1944, Ivory System, $1,461.65.

Upon varying dates as indicated the Mayor approved contracts with firms, contractors, etc., for furnishing labor, supplies and the like. Communications from the heads of the several departments interested were as follows:

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 14, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR SIR,—Your permission is respectfully requested to award a contract without advertising, to build a walkway from the freight shed out into the harbor with a right-angle turn to the North Pier of the South Ferry, as shown on sketch submitted, to W. H. Ellis & Son Company, 479 Meridian street, East Boston; same is estimated to cost $3,000.

The above work will consist of driving approximately fourteen piles with girder caps, stringers, and planking with a rail on both sides, making a substantial connection to the old wharf and cutting the piles in the old pier down to grade as called for.

Sargent's Wharf, where the steamer "Michael J. Perkins" has been temporarily docked, is unsafe and cannot be used by our boat.

Very truly yours,

JOSEPH P. DONAHOE,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

SUPPLY DEPARTMENT.

BOSTON, September 11, 1944.

HON. MAURICE J. TOBIN,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR,—Under date of September 5, 1944, informal quotations were solicited of concerns on the department mailing list on proposals for furnishing traffic signal equipment. Bids were received as follows:

Marshall & Co., Inc., $1,177.36;
Municipal Signal and Supply Company, $1,185.90.

The General Electric Company also submitted prices, but as its bid was incomplete and delivery date extremely indefinite, the bid has been rejected.

The Boston Traffic Commission has informed this department that the traffic signal is to be installed in front of the Holy Name Church at Centre and Colbert streets, West Roxbury, and has urged immediate delivery. Inasmuch as all concerns on the department mailing list prepared to furnish this equipment have been solicited for bids, no advantage would be gained through publicly advertising for bids. Your permission is requested, therefore, to dispense with public advertisement and award a contract to Marshall & Co., Inc., the low bidder, for furnishing traffic signal equipment, in accordance with specifications, for the Boston Traffic Commission at its bid price of $1,177.38.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. LANG,
Superintendent of Supplies.

SLAUGHTERING OF ANIMALS IN BOSTON.

In Boston all slaughtering of animals and dressing of meat must be conducted at the Brighton Abattoir. This establishment, known officially as the Butchers' Slaughtering and Melting Association, was founded in 1870 by an act of the General Court in order to prevent the existence of numerous slaughterhouses within the city limits. Private individuals, if living within six miles of Faneuil Hall, were required to bring their animals to Brighton for slaughter. This step was taken since the very nature of the business frequently gives rise to public health problems, chief of which are noxious odors and rodent control.

In 1876 an inspector of the Board of Health was first stationed at the Abattoir to supervise slaughtering operations and to prevent the use of diseased or under age animals for food purposes. At that time the Abattoir was the main source of meat supply for the entire city, since transportation facilities did not yet permit the shipment of dressed meat for any distance. During 1876 approximately 74,000 cattle, 274,000 sheep and 8,000 calves were slaughtered. In 1942 the Brighton Abattoir handled a total of 149,948 animals.

A NEW POSITIVE WATER-METER TESTER.

The large majority of waterworks, particularly the smaller ones, seldom have accurate or positive means of testing their meters. Often when a meter is repaired, the man making the repairs simply blows through the meter to see if it runs, when it is again put into service with the assumption that it is accurate. Sometimes meters are hooked up in series with a new meter and water is run through to see if the readings check. This is better than the lung-power method, but still is far from accurate or dependable, in that the test meter may be in error by 2 per cent or even more. Several states have regulations governing water utilities, both municipal and private, and require a positive method of testing water meters in every meter shop.—American City Magazine.

BOND SALES.

Labor, farm, school and women's groups were responsible for 1943's greatest sale of E Bonds.

Using the person to person approach, Payroll Savings added two million workers—bringing its ranks to 26.4 million. Payroll Savings allotments jumped from 355 million in December, 1942, to 445 million in October, 1943. Thousands of labor-management War Bond committees were organized.

Farm committees worked intensively through personal solicitation and farmers organizations to convert a large share of the largest farm income in history into War Bonds.

In the schools, the nation's youngest group of Bond buyers is rapidly enlisting every pupil in America.

MODEL FOR BLACKOUT ORDINANCES.

The National Institute of Municipal Law Officers has prepared a blackout ordinance, approved by the Office of Civilian Defense; it delegates reasonable administrative powers to the proper executive officer and contemplates both actual air raid conditions and those of practice blackouts. Several state leagues of municipalities have also prepared model ordinances.

The first city to enact a blackout ordinance was Seattle, Washington, early last year. Many others have done so more recently, the ordinances ranging in character from the type that delegates all authority to the mayor or city manager to those providing no delegation of power but outlining completely the rules for civilian conduct during blackouts. In some cases, at least, the city is declared not liable for damage to persons or property resulting from an authorized blackout.—Municipal Review.

$50,000,000 WATER-SUPPLY PROJECT IN CALIFORNIA.

The city of San Jose has entered into contract with the Water Properties Company, Ltd., of San Francisco, to provide the city water from the head waters of the American river in the vicinity of Lake Tahoe. The agreement is for thirty years, during which time the municipality will acquire title to the local distribution system and receive a proportionate share of the production and transmission systems.

SHIPBUILDING IN 1943.

In 1943 the privately operated shipyards of America came up with another miracle, shattering all world records, producing merchant shipping of approximately 19,000,000 deadweight tons, a volume equal to one fifth of total world shipping at the outbreak of the war and about two and a half times the tonnage built in 1942. Private shipyards also built about 90 per cent of all of the new U. S. Navy ships built during the year. If the man-hours utilized in building naval ships could be translated into merchant ships, the combined volume would be in excess of 40,000,000 deadweight tons. Privately operated ship repair yards repaired and made seaworthy about 23,000 ships in all classes during the year. Total employment generated by the industry is approximately 3,000,000. Private yard and Navy yard 1943 pay rolls, at the prevailing wage rates, are more than $4,300,000,000 paid to labor and shared by almost every state.

SEEKS COMMUNITY AID IN ARMY CAMP CITIES.

The army welcomes the aid of civic organizations in helping to protect soldiers from intemperance and vice when they are away from their duty stations.

The War Department is endeavoring in various ways to protect its personnel from temptations while at military posts and camps. Healthful and wholesome entertainment is furnished. Commissioned officers are charged with the responsibility for the men in their commission. Understanding leaders offer them advice and counsel, and medical officers guard their physical well-being.—American City Magazine.

STATE AID AND LOCAL REVENUE.

Study of the Division of State and Local Government from the Bureau of the Census shows that in 1941 state aid took 29.5 per cent of the revenues of the forty-eight states and amounted to 24.3 per cent of the total revenues of local governments.

The relative importance of state aid to local government varied widely from state to state, however, ranging from a low in Oregon, where only 5.9 per cent of state revenues were turned over to the localities and accounted for only 6.1 per cent of all local revenues, to a high in Colorado, where state aid took 44.5 per cent of all state revenues and accounted for 36.6 per cent of all local revenues. In Delaware state aid accounted for the highest percentage of local revenues—48.8 per cent, but it represented only 33 per cent of the state's revenues. In all, the study shows, state aid to local governments amounted to $1,697,814,000.

TO PROTECT MINORS.

Buffalo is considering an ordinance, similar to the one in effect in New York City, for the protection of minors in theaters. It permits children, unaccompanied by adults, only in theaters licensed as to adequate sanitary and safety provisions, sets aside a certain section for them and requires the presence of a licensed matron.

TRANSFER TO ELECTION DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1944.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen,—There is forwarded herewith an order transferring the sum of $25,000 from the Reserve Fund to the following items in the budget of the Election Department:

A. Personal Service.....	$21,557
B. Contractual Services.....	500
D. Supplies.....	2,943
	$25,000

The major portion of this transfer is made necessary by the additional burden of providing for service men's applications for ballots, which was not in contemplation at the time of preparation of the budget.

I respectfully recommend immediate consideration and adoption of this order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $25,000, to the appropriation for Election Department, A, Personal Service, $21,557; B, Contractual Services, $500; D, Supplies, $2,943.

Coun. COFFEY—I am going to move that this order be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. For the past seven or eight weeks we have been talking about the Mayor appointing some thirty members to the Election Department or some thirty additional workers to the Election Department, that had no right to be there. They knew there was no salary for them. The appropriation should have been sent up the day the appointments were made, or perhaps previous to that. In view of that fact, instead of sending this to the Executive Committee, I ask that it be sent to the Committee on Appropriations so that they can hold a hearing and investigate why these persons were appointed when there were no salaries for them.

Coun. MUCHNICK—As chairman of the Appropriations Committee knowing the need at present for immediate action on this, it seems much more advisable that this be referred to the Executive Committee this afternoon.

Coun. COFFEY—I don't think the gentleman's word happens to carry much weight here, because he happens to be chairman of the Committee on Appropriations. There are other members besides myself that would like to have this order go to the Committee on Appropriations. I think it is about time we sat down on them once and for all. I ask that this be sent to the Appropriations Committee and a real hearing be held on that.

Coun. M. H. SULLIVAN—Since I have been a member of the Council I have never voted for any motion to reduce salaries, and I am not going to vote against any appropriation today. I think it is a patriotic duty, and I think we should encourage any effort to get the soldier vote in. The people down there do their work and they are entitled to their pay. I am against the motion, but I will go along and request a roll call.

Coun. COFFEY—We have to get the flag into the thing always. No matter what conversation comes up the old flag waving has to take place. They always get that word "patriotic" into it. There are some thirty workers that have no right to be there. The Mayor has been the chief executive of this city for the past seven years. He knew when he made those thirty appointments that he himself made them. He didn't consult any of the councilors here as to whether they had anybody living in their district. He didn't ask us if there were any of the boys that had come home from across, disabled or honorably discharged, that would want any of those jobs. He made jobs for thirty pets, because it is election time. We have had some rotten scandals in the past few months in the Election Department. One is the one I showed here, that illegal registration had taken place previous to nomination. I also brought up the fact they were in the Election Department Saturday afternoon and all day Sunday, working under the Election Commissioners, and to my knowledge, the Election Commissioners didn't know they were volunteer workers for Tobin's campaign committee. Let us forget the patriotic side. As a veteran with a kid in the service, I can holler. I am not a pay roll patriot, and I never will be one because I will never sell out to be a pay roll patriot. But maybe I could, and maybe I have had more chances, probably, than anybody else in this chamber, but I am not going to. We know that a rotten condition exists in that Election Department, and it is about time we stopped it. I say that a hearing should be held before the Committee on Appropriations and those in the Election Department should be summoned up here, and somebody from the Mayor's office should be summoned up here, and they should tell us why these thirty appointments should be made when they knew there was no appropriation by the Boston City Council; they knew there were no funds there, and the Election Commissioners had the effrontery to tell this Body that the man himself made the appointments. And, don't forget, not one discharged veteran is on that pay roll. They are now sending up an order to hurry through so they can give them a salary.

Coun. HANLEY—I rise to a point of information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point of information.

Coun. HANLEY—Will you please have the clerk read the order?

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will read the order.

The order was read.

President KERRIGAN—The clerk will call the roll on the motion of Councilor Coffey.

Coun. FEENEY—I rise to a point of parliamentary information.

President KERRIGAN—State your point.

Coun. FEENEY—Could I inquire if these temporary employees have been paid up to date?

President KERRIGAN—The Chair is informed they have not been paid.

Coun. FEENEY—They went to work approximately five weeks ago.

President KERRIGAN—I don't know when they went to work, but I understand they have not been paid. The clerk will call the roll on Councilor Coffey's motion.

Coun. KINSELLA—What is the motion?

President KERRIGAN—To refer to the Appropriations Committee.

The roll was called, and the motion was defeated, yeas 4, nays 10.

Yeas—Coun. Coffey, Dwyer, Russo, Shannon—4.

Nays—Coun. Chase, Feeney, Hurley, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan and Taylor—10.

The order was declared referred to the Executive Committee.

Coun. RUSSO—I move reconsideration.

President KERRIGAN—Councilor Russo moves reconsideration.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President and members, it certainly is something that we are confronted with year in and year out, week in and week out, the same situation, over and over again. I don't believe that we are depriving anyone of their salary, but I do believe that it is fair that each and every one of us representing the City of Boston and the Boston City Council, should be informed when additional help is required, and especially when there is no money appropriated for that purpose. I don't believe that the Boston City Council will not favor, or will reject an order where additional help is required. I don't see any harm in sending this order to the Appropriations Committee so that we may find out what the type of work is that they are doing, when we have put them on the pay roll. I believe that we are all entitled to such information, and I believe that the proper procedure is to give it to the Committee on Appropriations and let it bring in its report. We allow things to go by, and I am not casting any reflections so far as his Honor the Mayor is concerned, or upon the Election Commissioners, or anyone else, and I believe it is our solemn duty to represent the people, and we should be informed, and I for one, will not stand for it, Mr. President, that I, as a City Councilor, should be approached on the outside and asked if anyone is being put in the Election Department or in any other department to work, and I cannot give them an honest answer, because I was not informed by the regular procedure. I think that a start should be made now, once and for all time, to see that the Boston City Council is informed at the right time. I don't think in so far as patriotic sentiments are concerned, that there is any individual more patriotic than another. So let us leave those arguments aside, and for God's sake once and for all time, let us do the thing the right way, the way it is supposed to be done. I hope that this Council will refer it to the Committee on Appropriations.

Coun. DWYER—I hope that reconsideration will prevail for various reasons. First of all, Mr. President, I am one who does not vote against A-1 items on the budget and one who is in favor at all times of city employees receiving a fair wage and a fair recompense for work done and services rendered. But, Mr. President, we have a peculiar case here. We have a case here whereby the election chairman, or the chairman of the Election Department, informed me, sir, when I inquired about this help that they were all given to him by the Mayor's office, that the Mayor gave him a list of names and a great many of them are on the city pay roll in other positions, because I recognized some of them. And I don't want to delay the paying of these salaries if they have earned the money but, Mr. President, under our rules and the rules of the charter it is going to take twelve votes to pass this transfer. I for one won't vote for it unless there is a thorough hearing on the matter, and we have a chance to interrogate the chairman of the Election Department, and if the chairman of the Election Department does not appear before the committee and account to my full satisfaction how and why this money was spent, whether for salaries or for repairs or for printing or stationery, I, for one, will refuse to vote for the transfer. Now, if twelve votes are not given on this matter the transfer won't go through. So I say I think it would be very expedient to vote for reconsideration, to refer the matter to the Committee on Appropriations, allow them to have a hearing, and maybe, sir, the chairman of the Election Commission, or maybe his Honor the Mayor, will appear or send somebody there to explain to us why it was necessary to put this help on and why it is so necessary to rush it through after they have been working for some weeks. Now, Mr. President, I think it is high time that this Council sat up on its hind legs and asserted some of the rights that belong to the Council. It is all right if it only happened once in a while to come before the Council and say, "This is an emergency. People's salaries are being held up. Grant it this time, boys." But, no, that is always the case when they want to cram something through and rush it through. And I say, it is high time the Council stood up on its hind legs and asserted itself and demanded the rights that they are entitled to, and I hope that reconsideration will prevail and that the matter will be referred to the Committee on Appropriations and they will have a hearing and all the Council will be invited and they can get the desired information they want and vote intelligently on this matter.

Coun. TAYLOR—It is rather difficult for me to understand why there should be so much debate or argument on procedure when the procedure has been the same ever since I have been a member of the City Council, for seven years, with the possible exception of during one year. It has always been the procedure that whenever the Mayor requested an appropriation of money that order or request goes before the Committee on Appropriations, and they determine what the decision shall be. But this is only a transfer, and it has always been the custom of the City Council in cases of transfer with the possible exception of one year that a transfer should go to the Executive Committee, and there, in the Executive Committee, if we have a full body, we thrash it out. Now, I don't understand why they want to delay it. We can have a meeting of the Executive Committee this afternoon and there is no reason why the Election Commission can't attend and give the gentleman all the information they require unless for some reason or other they want to delay. It seems to me, Mr. President, that judging by the argument of certain members of the Council, they feel they have no particular part in the appointments of the individuals who secure the job. That seems to be the bone of contention, not whether or not the money is being used for a purpose. Not whether or not there is too much money or if sufficient money. That doesn't seem to be the bone of contention. I am sure they don't argue against the fact that the soldiers from Massachusetts have a right to vote. I am sure they don't argue against the fact that we ought to do something to send them ballots so they can be registered, so they may have an opportunity to vote. They can't argue against that. They give you this circuitous method of sending it to another committee to delay it from time to time. What the purpose is I don't know. It has always been the custom of the Council to send these transfer matters to the Executive Committee. Why change now?

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, I am not motivated by any desire to help the Election Commissioner. In fact, I loathe and despise his principles, and I know, as long as he has that position in the Election Department there will always be hypocrisy, and there will always be dishonesty, and there will always be discrimination. But when the Rules Committee that was appointed by you, Mr. President, brought in the rules of 1944 there was a rule called Rule 32 that has been in parliamentary procedure of the Boston City Council since its inception. And I ask now, Mr. President, without further debate, to invoke Rule 32; and I can guarantee that if the absentee Election Commissioner comes before the Executive Committee he will be the target of the most devastating verbal assault ever witnessed in the Executive Committee, and without his presence I will guarantee, as chairman of that committee, that it will not pass. I ask now, Mr. President, that Rule 32 be read by the clerk of the committee and be invoked by you as the parliamentary chairman.

(Rule 32 was read, as follows: "Rule 32. Every application for an appropriation to be provided for by transfer shall be referred to the executive committee, unless otherwise ordered and no such appropriation shall be made until the said committee has reported thereon.")

President KERRIGAN—The Chair will rule that Councilor Coffey's motion is in order, and the present motion now under consideration is in order.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, so far as I am concerned, I have no motives whatsoever in referring this to the Committee on Appropriations. Neither do I want to have the saying of who the persons who receive the appointments should be. I think those that know me well know that that isn't the motive. But I do repeat again that too many times have we here in the Council been looked upon as a body of "muds" and the only thing that motivated me, Mr. President, is because I believe that each and every one of us has a duty to perform, and that any appropriation should be given to the Appropriations Committee, as well as any transfer, when they have employed individuals when there was no money there. I believe the Council should have the right of being informed and they should not wait four or five weeks and claim now that the individuals have not been paid, which I question. Too many times we have been in Executive and we have been unable to receive the individual in that committee who could give to the Executive Committee the proper information. And that was the only motive I had behind what I have said and I believe that was the motive of the other members also.

Coun. KINSELLA—Mr. President, I hope reconsideration does not prevail. Without any particular motivation I would like to speak very briefly on the fact that when we are elected for a two-year term we are under no compulsion to attend these meetings, and we cannot be impeached unless a certain line of procedure is followed. In brief, we need not attend; we need not be sworn in! And yet we can draw our pay next Saturday when the next payment comes due and we will want it, and we will have a lot to say about it if we don't get our individual pay as councilors. If these people have worked and performed services, delegated to them and have earned the money, let us do something about getting it into their hands.

Coun. CAREY—I missed some of the discussion because I was a little late in arriving. What are we reconsidering?

President KERRIGAN—Reconsideration of Councilor Coffey's motion to refer the order to the Appropriations Committee.

Coun. COFFEY—In answer to the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella) I just wish to say it isn't our lookout if the Mayor appoints some thirty workers to the Election Department that he should be cognizant of the fact that there is no money there waiting for them, and should have the day previous sent in to the Boston City Council to take care of the salaries of those people. If he has made that blunder it is his fault. As the Election Commissioner told the Council he had nothing to do with the appointments, that the thirty names were sent down by the Mayor. And I guarantee that at five o'clock the thirty workers will be over at the Tobin headquarters working for Tobin.

President KERRIGAN—The question comes on reconsideration. The clerk will call the roll.

The roll was called, and the motion to reconsider was defeated, yeas 6, nays 13:

Yeas—Coun. Bayley, Coffey, Dwyer, Russo, Shannon, D. F. Sullivan—6.

Nays—Coun. Carey, Chase, Feeney, Hanley, Hurley, Keenan, Kelly, Kinsella, McCormack, Muchnick, Scannell, M. H. Sullivan, Taylor—13.

President KERRIGAN—The Chair now refers the order to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER FROM PARKMAN FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 11, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I am resubmitting the attached appropriation order and communication from the Board of Park Commissioners, requesting the transfer of the sum of $38,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund for the Maintenance of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

I desire to impress upon the members of your Honorable Body that in accordance with the terms of the will of the late George F. Parkman the income from the trust fund established was to be used for the maintenance and improvement of the Common and parks in existence on the specific date mentioned. Although the work is performed by city laborers, the salaries of city laborers insofar as their labors are directly connected with the work performed, as specified by the will, are charged to the Parkman Fund. This is taken into consideration in the A-1 item of the Park Department budget by a reduction of such item to the extent that the income is available in the ensuing year.

The annual estimated income is in excess of $200,000, and it is necessary to appropriate this income as it accrues to be legally expended for the purpose as specified.

The failure to appropriate these sums as they accrue, and which have been anticipated in the 1944 budget, may result in the laying off and suspension of a large number of Park Department laborers who have been engaged in this work, with consequent hardship to the individuals, and curtailment of the program for the parks now served by this income.

I, therefore, respectfully recommend, and earnestly urge, the immediate passage by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order, and all subsequent transfer appropriations from the Parkman Fund, when submitted to your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Park Department, August 16, 1944.
Hon. Maurice J. Tobin,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir,—By vote of the Board of Park Commissioners, you are respectfully requested to ask the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $38,000, which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Board of Park Commissioners as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of $38,000

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1944, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item A-1, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1944, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Park Department.

Respectfully yours,
WILLIAM P. LONG, Chairman.

Ordered, That the sum of $38,000 be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioners, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of $38,000

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, as long as I have been up here, that is the first time I have ever heard such strong language used for a simple transfer of funds for the Parkman Fund so that city employees could receive their pay. The strange part of all that was that about the fifth or sixth paragraph that the clerk read—whereas, if this transfer is not made, some of the men working in maintenance will be without salaries, some may even be laid off—I think that is the first time that I have ever heard—and I usually pay attention to what the clerk has to say—of that language being used in any message received from the Mayor. The point I am getting at is this, we know the Common is well taken care of. We know there is not another park within the confines of the City of Boston that is taken care of, and I think every councilor here will have to agree with me in that respect.

The order was referred to the Committee on Parkman Fund.

BURIAL OF RELATIVES OF VETERANS IN MOUNT HOPE CEMETERY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 5, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—In June, 1940, your Honorable Body approved an order permitting blood relatives of World War veterans to be buried in the veterans' lot at the Mount Hope Cemetery.

I am of the opinion that similar permission should be granted relatives of Spanish War veterans and in accordance with that opinion I submit to your Honorable Body the accompanying order and recommend passage of the same at your earliest convenience.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Board of Park Commissioners be, and hereby is, authorized to permit burials in the Spanish War veterans' lot in Mount Hope Cemetery of the body of the widow, father, mother or dependent child of a Spanish War veteran on the same terms and conditions as are set forth in the order approved June 19, 1940.

INSTALLATION OF DRINKING FOUNTAINS, WARD 13.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 5, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner, relative to your order of July 31, 1944, regarding the installation of public drinking fountains at Uphams Corner and at the corner of Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue, Ward 13.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
August 18, 1944.

Arthur C. Carey,

Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Carey,—This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council on July 31:

"Ordered, That his Honor, the Mayor, be requested to arrange for the installation of public drinking fountains at Uphams Corner, and at the corner of Savin Hill avenue and Dorchester avenue, Ward 13."

While it is not the intention of the department to eliminate any of the present public drinking fountains located in this city, it is not our policy to install additional ones because we have found from past experience that fountains, as a general rule, constitute an annoyance to abutting property owners and to passers-by, because of the misuse of them by children who are in the habit of playing around them continuously. In fact, in 1943, this department, at the request of the Board of Health, was required to move the drinking fountain that formerly was located at Uphams Corner, because it was considered a health nuisance.

I feel, therefore, that it is inadvisable to take favorable action on the above-referenced order at this time. Even if the department were in favor of installing additional fountains, we would be precluded from doing so at this time, due to the lateness of the season and our inability to obtain the necessary equipment.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

EQUIPMENT FOR CLEANING OF CATCH-BASINS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, September 5, 1944.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen,—I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner relative to your order of July 31, 1944, regarding the purchase of equipment necessary for the cleaning of catch-basins.

Respectfully,
MAURICE J. TOBIN, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
August 10, 1944.

To Arthur C. Carey, Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.
From George G. Hyland, Commissioner, Public Works Department.

Subject: City Council Order July 31, 1944.

"Ordered, That the Public Works Commissioner be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to ascertain whether or not it is at present possible to purchase equipment necessary for the cleaning of catch-basins; and be it further

"Ordered, That if it is possible to purchase catch-basin cleaning equipment at the present time that arrangements be made to purchase an adequate amount of it at the earliest possible moment."

In reply to the above Council order we do not believe that it is possible to purchase catch-basin cleaning equipment at the present time. This opinion is based on informal inquiries made for this purpose previous to submitting the 1944 budget, and as a result of the information received no appropriation was requested for the purchase of catch-basin cleaning equipment in the 1944 budget.

The above opinion is in part substantiated by our difficulties to obtain relative simple repair parts for our present cleaning machines, but fortunately we have been able to obtain sufficient parts to keep four of our five machines in working order.

Our present cleaning machines proper are not worn out although they receive hard usage and require frequent replacement of minor parts which work is done by the operator of the machine. The weakness of our equipment is in the motor vehicles on which the cleaning machines are mounted and the dump trucks that haul the contents of the basins to the dump.

It is our intention to include in our 1945 budget estimate the sum of $50,000 to purchase, when available, three new chasses for cleaning machine purchased in 1938, two new cleaning machines and chasses to replace cleaning machines purchased in 1933, and five new five-ton dump trucks to haul the contents of the basins to the dump.

A catch-basin cleaning contract has been advertised to open today and if favorable prices are received about 1,000 catch-basins will be cleaned by contract this season.

Estimated cost new catch-basin equipment:
Three chasses to mount 1938 cleaners at $3,000, $9,000; five five-ton dump bodies at $6,000, $30,000; two new Healey cleaners at $6,000, $12,000; total, $51,000.

Alternate:
Three new bodies for 1938 cleaners at $3,000, $9,000; three new five-ton dump bodies at $6,000, $18,000; two new combination cleaner and dump trucks at $11,500, $23,000; total, $50,000.

1. Action on appointment submitted by the Mayor August 14, 1944, of Edward D. MacDonald, to be a Weigher of Coal.

The question came on confirmation. Committee, Coun. Coffey and Dwyer. Whole number of ballots 19, yeas 19, and the appointment was confirmed.

EAST BOSTON RELIEF STATION.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Hospital Trustees to immediately open the East Boston Relief Station on a 24-hour per day basis.

Coun. COFFEY—I don't suppose there is any sense in my going into a lengthy debate on this. In the five years I have been up here I have introduced a dozen orders every year asking the Mayor to reopen the relief hospital, and yet he was almost on the verge of reopening it and was afraid it wouldn't help him politically. Anyhow, after the voting he closed it several years ago. I just want to point out the fact, gentlemen, that men and women are being injured, and it takes one and one half hours to get an injured person to the Boston City Hospital from East Boston, whereas if we had the relief hospital open, that person could be taken down to the relief hospital within five minutes from any portion of East Boston. I hope for humanity's sake that the Mayor will see fit now to reopen the relief station.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

MARION STREET FIRE STATION, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Fire Commissioner to reopen the Marion street fire station, East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—We have had several fires up in this location within the past three or four months, and I ask the Mayor, the same as I have asked for the reopening of the relief hospital, to be decent enough to open up this fire house, as I claim, without fear of contradiction, it is in the biggest residential section in the entire City of Boston. We need that fire house, and I hope that the Mayor, in his political wisdom, will take some action upon that fire station before November 7.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PLAY AREAS, EAST BOSTON.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Park Commissioner be directed by his Honor the Mayor to immediately arrange for the construction of two play areas in each section of East Boston and to install suitable playground equipment in each area.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AMOUNT RECEIVED BY CITY FOR AIRPORT LAND-TAKING.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to advise the City Council as to the amount of money received by the city in the land-taking for the extension of the airport in East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—Mr. President, this order I am going to ask, when I get through speaking, be referred to the Executive Committee. All I want to say is that since I have been up here I have been hollering against the airport expansion. To some of you members it doesn't mean too much, but it does to me, having to live in the district in which the expansion is taking place. People in the district cannot understand why some $60,000,000 are going to be spent to dig an ocean to make an airport, especially with all the vacant land between Boston and Providence and between Boston and Worcester, where they can build an airport for two or three million. All our swimming, boating and fishing is gone. The water they used to swim in is nothing but thick clay, mud, muck and debris, caused from the dredging of Boston Harbor, and it is going to get worse as time goes on. I think, as I have said here time and time again, although the Federal Government has contributed handsomely to airports throughout the United States, not one penny has been contributed by them for the expansion of this airport. Now the Mayor, if he wanted to make an honest fight on this, probably could have made the Boston Port Development Company settle for a much smaller sum than $581,000, when they themselves went before the Tax Appeals Board some three years ago, and stated their properties were worth about $100,000, and no more. Still, within the past few weeks, they have received a settlement of $581,000. There are two pieces of property that the city cannot operate on unless they get this land. The McDonald land was of no value to them unless these two strips of city land were given to them, either outright by the Mayor or by his taking it by eminent domain. What I am getting at is the fact that the Mayor didn't instruct the Law Department to fight this seizure, a seizure of these two pieces of land. I ask that this be referred to the Executive Committee.

The order was referred to the Executive Committee.

STREET LIGHT, WARD 1.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to install a street light on the stairs leading to the Franciscan Orphanage, Ward 1.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

ERECTION OF FIRE STATION, ORIENT HEIGHTS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to direct the Fire Commissioner to formulate plans for the immediate erection of a fire station in the Orient Heights section of East Boston.

Coun. COFFEY—This is another section very much in need of a fire house, but I have introduced these orders year after year for a fire house in this section, and the nearest fire apparatus is somewhere near a mile away from this section of East Boston. Mr. President, I hope for the Mayor's sake he will do something for the erection of a fire house in the Orient Heights section.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

LIGHT ON WHITBY STREET, WARD 1.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be directed, through his Honor the Mayor, to erect a street light on Whitby street, Ward 1.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

USE OF ABANDONED SCHOOL BUILDINGS AS CLUBS.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following: Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor and the members of the Boston School Committee be requested to confer relative to opening abandoned school buildings as boys' and girls' clubs.

Coun. COFFEY—I introduced that to take in the entire city. In my district alone there are five closed schools, two closed for a number of years, and three that have just been closed this year. The best part of it is that in our district we have five sections, first, second, third, fourth and fifth sections, and it so happens there is a school closed in each section of the district. It would be a wonderful thing to combat juvenile delinquency if the Mayor did get together with the Boston School Committee and converted these five closed schools into boys' and girls' clubs, with physical instructors there for handball, and so forth. I think it would help combat juvenile delinquency to give these boys and girls a decent place to go and keep them out of these places where they get themselves into trouble. I hope that the Mayor sees the wisdom of this and gets to work immediately and converts these into boys' and girls' clubs so that we can have some place for our children to go.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

AWARDING OF CONTRACTS OVER $1,000.

Coun. COFFEY offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to discontinue the present practice of awarding contracts amounting to more than one thousand dollars without advertising and competitive bidding as required by law.

Coun. COFFEY—The councilor from Ward 21 (Coun. Dwyer) introduced an order here August 14, 1944, asking that his Honor the Mayor direct the Fire Commissioner to make no purchases of fire apparatus without holding competitive bids for same. The councilor from Ward 21 went on to say that he filed the order on information received that some fire apparatus was going to be bought without any bids. We know that under our charter any time a contract is let out for over $1,000 there must be competitive bidding on that contract. There was competitive bidding let out on this particular order of mine for the purchase of some fire apparatus. That was back in the latter part of July, if I am not mistaken. And then the bids were taken off the first week of August. Then, on September 7, at three o'clock, the Mayor sent a letter to the City Auditor authorizing the purchase of fire apparatus without holding public bids. There is something radically wrong when they first hold bids for the purchase of certain pieces of fire apparatus and then do "an about face" and call in the bids, and then the following day, or two days later, send down a letter from the Mayor's office requesting the auditor to allow the purchase of this fire apparatus to go through, as appears in the City Record of September 9, the letter that was sent from Francis X. Lang, Superintendent of Supplies, to his Honor the Mayor, as follows: "Dear Mr. Mayor, We are in receipt of requisition number 1438 from the Fire Department for the purchase of five 1,000-gallon triple combination pumping engines. Specifications covering these pumpers are identical to those which we publicly advertised for under date of April 20, 1943. We are also in receipt of recommendations covering this requisition from the Fire Commissioner under date of August 1, 1944, a copy of which is attached. Inasmuch as these recommendations of the Fire Department are based upon years of experience with and complete technical knowledge of types of equipment upon which bids were submitted, I am sure that such recommendations are for the best interests of the city, and I completely concur with them." I suppose I should read it all, but I might as well state the bottom paragraph: "Your permission is therefore respectfully requested to award a contract without publicly advertising to the American-La France Foamite Corporation for three 'Empire' 1,000-gallon pumping engines at $13,850 each, with a discount of $277 each, making the net price $13,573 each.

These prices are f. o. b. factory with freight allowed to destination and include the services of an engineer to instruct in operation and run tests as required by the City of Boston Fire Department. The total amount of this contract will be $40,719." Well, I suppose I could blow my top off, as I have for the past five years, and not get anywhere. So all I will say is that it is about time we act as Boston City Councilors. It is about time that we got wise to ourselves and ran the city as we are supposed to run it. We are supposed to be city fathers. To the average person in the city that is a joke, and rightly so. Here they let out bids—and this has been going on through every department within the entire city. As soon as the contractor is "in" he doesn't have to go downstairs and make a bid. All he has to do is say, "I want that certain contract," and then the department sends a requisition into the Mayor, stating that he gained nothing by having competitive bidding, as So and So has had experience and done this work for a number of years, and saying, "I submit to you, Mr. Mayor, that you allow this gentleman to have the contract without any bidding whatsoever," and the Mayor, in turn, I suppose, having been talked to by the contractor already, the contractor even approaches the department head for the contract, sends a letter down to the auditor, and the auditor, in turn, being appointed by the Mayor, grants permission to allow that contractor to get his contract. In this particular case it is a case where the Fin. Com. should step in, but from what I have seen of that body they haven't the courage to walk along Court street, let alone step into the City Hall and do any investigating. People have made bids, and the lower bidder hasn't even been considered. Then they withdraw the bid and give the money back to the bidders, and on September 7, as a result of the Mayor receiving a letter from Francis X. Lang, he sends a letter down to the auditor to go ahead and award the contract to the American-La France Company for three pieces of apparatus at $40,719, when we know from hearings we have held here that there are other companies within the confines of the city that are just as capable of supplying the City of Boston with this same equipment and at a lower price, but they don't happen to be in.

Coun. DWYER—I would like, Mr. President, to have that order referred to a committee.

President KERRIGAN—It will be referred to the Executive Committee.

DEATH OF HON. CHARLES S. SULLIVAN, SR.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:
 Resolved, That the Boston City Council offers its condolences to the bereaved family and relatives of Charles S. Sullivan, Sr., late Chief Justice of the Charlestown District Court.
 The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

LIGHTS ON JOHN HARVARD MALL, CHARLESTOWN.

Coun. KINSELLA offered the following:

Ordered, That the chairman of the Boston Park Commission be instructed, through his Honor the Mayor, to proceed at once to the installation of lights in the John Harvard Mall, Charlestown.

Coun. KINSELLA—The John Harvard Mall in Charlestown is the benefaction of an unnamed but not unknown citizen of Boston. I venture to say that it is probably the most beautiful recreational and rest spot of its type in the entire city. It was built on the site of a church of which John Harvard was once pastor. In May of 1943 dedication exercises were held there at which notables of the city and state attended. As a speaker who was invited to speak for the people of the district, I asked at the time that the gratitude of the people of Charlestown be such as to match the benefaction of the donor. And I know what I am saying and about to say, and I know the consequences of my remarks today, because I don't intend to spare anyone for the various acts of vandalism that have been perpetrated in that park. I don't care what they do when next I come before them seeking office of any description. When they are wrong, they are wrong, and I am the one to tell them so. And, now that that has become for all time a part of the records, I will not take back a word of it. Not very long ago, Mr. President, just prior to the 19th of April, a date on which we, with other sections of Boston and Greater Boston, welcomed the rider who impersonates Paul Revere, a monument in the middle of that park, bearing inscriptions on four sides, inscriptions of historical portent, was smeared over with green paint by a fourteen-year-old girl who was caught in the act. And when a lady who lives in a house adjacent to the mall shouted out the window to the girl to stop committing that act of vandalism the girl told her to mind her own business or she would smear her window. Thank God that is not typical of all fourteen-year-olds in my town, but the mere fact that there is one is one too many, and it is a fact that cannot be lightly brushed aside. Now, I am getting altogether too many complaints lately of the conduct of teen-age boys and girls in that mall at night. I am no moralist, and since I have never had anyone tell me how to live, I don't propose to tell them how to live when it is the obligation of their parents. If the parents won't do it, then someone has to speak out about it. I had a young man at my house Saturday night, one of the two nights of the week I ask to be left alone at home, Saturday and Sunday I insist upon having for myself, yet when they call I don't turn them away. And the young man was coldly angry over something that took place beneath his windows the other night in that mall, because of lack of lights. I don't know what the Park Department contemplated for the future when the park was turned over by the unnamed donor to the City of Boston, but I don't think that any talk of priorities now in 1944 ought to be used as any reason or excuse for not installing proper illumination in that mall which, I repeat, is one of the most beautiful of its kind in any place of this city, and it is not the result of the expenditure of city money, but rather of the generosity of a man who wants to perpetuate the memory of John Harvard. I don't know as it is very important to the other members of this Body unless they have a similar condition in the parks in their own districts, but, mind you, the gateways to that park are of such size that gates would not be practical, and because it is now public property there is no earthly reason why gates ought to be installed and locked at night. The place ought to be open twenty-four hours a day to any member of the public that wants to go in and avail himself or herself of the restfulness that can be gotten in there without being subject to conduct on the part of these youngsters that is impossible of description. I cannot make it too strong. I repeat again that I do not care what the consequences are attached to my statement. I beg of you to believe that I don't give a damn what happens. If those persons are wrong, they are wrong. And this person identified, not by name, the ones he saw commit these vile acts of immorality. He knows them, and I don't. I imagine before long I will be asked to go to court for one of them. But my accusation sticks if the parents won't check up on them and get them in their homes before one or two o'clock in the morning. Someone has to do it, and I will speak out against it no matter what they do. They can have this office tomorrow if they want it, but while I am here the decent people have rights that are going to be maintained and respected. And, as a more personal matter, I would like to know who in this chamber, member or guest, would tolerate conduct at which I have only vaguely hinted next to their own home. It isn't the fault of the police there. There is no criticism, and I want this clearly stated in the record,—that the neighbors don't criticize the police for not doing their duty. The police were very attentive, but they are not always present. They can't be there and elsewhere at the same time. There are other portions of the district that must be policed, and they are not at fault. And I want to beg the Park Department to forget all specious objections to the installation of lights. Put them there, or close up the park. That might be said to be the meat of the whole matter. Either install lights, or close the park.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.

PROTECTION OF MEMBERS OF MERCHANT MARINE.

Coun. HANNON and HANLEY offered the following:

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, go on record in favor of Federal legislation for the protection of the members of the Merchant Marine (of both World War I and II) and creative allotments to the dependents of the deceased seamen. A bill that will embrace and provide for medical and hospital attention; institutional care for the mental; domiciliary care for the disabled and the aged; unemployment benefits in the transition period; educational and employment rehabilitation; a loan system for the purchasing of dwellings, farms and their entrance into small business; and the use of our national flag for the burial of the deceased seamen with appropriate honors; and be it further

Resolved, That an exact copy of the above resolution be forwarded to each and every member of the Massachusetts delegation in both houses of Congress, requesting their assistance and cooperation in promoting the passage of such a bill both in the Committee Room and on the floor of Congress.

Coun. HANLEY—Mr. President, my illustrious colleague, Councilor Hannon, and myself have been asked by a delegation of the Merchant Marine to introduce a resolution here today. The illustrious history of our great country has been woven together by the courage and sacrifice, the bravery and the heroism of the Merchant Marine. Since our country became a nation a glowing tribute to the Merchant Marine has never been uttered or ever printed. Today, in the global war that our countries are engaged in, particularly in the United States of America, the saga of the seas has been truly written today by the exploits of the men of the Merchant Marine, and is crying aloud for some one to raise their voice and make articulate and amplify it in the halls of Congress. To me, as a member of the United States Navy and a member of the Boston City Council, it is considered a great honor and privilege to introduce a resolution here today before the members of the Boston City Council, who know the true stations of the people far better than any legislative body in the entire United States. The Boston City Council has been consistent and prominent in raising aloft the banner of the armed forces in the passage of the G I Bill of Rights and the rehabilitation of the various units of our armed forces, at present upon the statute books. The Boston City Council, that has been prominent and the first one to ask for a clearing house for the returning armed forces, had this placed into being approximately seven months ago, and today I have the great honor of bringing into this hallowed chamber members of the Merchant Marine, men who have seen action and know it far better than any commentator or any narrator ever told. I am merely their voice, crying aloud as it may be, using a Biblical quotation, in the land of wilderness. The Merchant Marine have manned the bridges of ships that have brought food and supplies, munitions, tanks and oil to the far corners of the world. They have fought and defied and overcome the natural elements. But, above all, they have overcome the lurking dangers of the Nazi and Nipponese U-boats. Many of them will never again walk the highways or byways of our beautiful land. More than 5,700 have found death. At the opening of our war 55,000 were in the Merchant Marine, and at the present time there are 160,000 officers and men to whom tribute has never been paid. There is a bill pending in Congress at the present time. It is in the committee room and it will be embellished and amended, and the contents of the resolution of Councilor Hannon and myself, I believe, will bring benefits to them that they are entitled to and which they should obtain. For the benefit of the record, that will remain until the consummation of the world, I will give these statistics: 160,000 members now in the United States Merchant Marine; 55,000 prior to our entrance into the war; 100,000, the majority between the ages of 16 and 26; more than 5,700 deaths; more than 500 prisoners of war; an additional thousand disabled and maimed for life; and, as of July 1, 1944, 115,589, or 64 per cent of them in the category of the ages of 18 to 26; and, since April 1, 1944, 15,000 boys between the ages of 16 and 18 have been recruited and trained in the Merchant Marine. Mr. President, I could go on for hours and eulogize in glowing terms the history of the Merchant Marine, and I am going to ask you, Mr. President, to refer this to the Executive Committee and allow these gentlemen to be present and participate in our deliberations. I will not speak again for its passage, but, I ask you members of the Boston City Council, whom I respect and honor,—and I consider it my most cherished dream to participate in the affairs of government with you—I ask you to pass it unanimously, and allow our boys to make articulate and amplify the heroic deeds and heroism of the Merchant Marine in the Congress of the United States.

The resolution was referred to the Executive Committee.

SIDEWALK ON CUSTER STREET.

Coun. HANLEY and McCORMACK offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to install granolithic sidewalks on Custer street.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

AMENDMENT OF SERVICE MEN'S READJUSTMENT ACT.

Coun. RUSSO offered the following:

Resolution re service men's readjustment act of 1944, chapter 268, Public Law 346, Title II, Chapter IV, Education of Veterans, Part VIII.

Whereas, It appears from the context of the above act known as the G. I. Bill of Rights approved by Congress June 22, 1944, to provide for education of honorably discharged World War II veterans who have served 90 days or more "where education or training was impeded, delayed, interrupted or interfered with by reason of their entrance into the service, or who desires a refresher or retraining course and provided further that any such person who was not over 25 years of age at the time he entered the service shall be deemed to have had his education or training impeded, delayed, interrupted or interfered with," appears to give this educational benefit only to veterans under 25 years of age;

Whereas, A veteran who was over 25 years of age at the time of his entrance into the service, should he desire a retraining or refresher course, although he was not in school at the time of his entrance into the service is thereby barred; be it

Resolved, That the City Council of Boston, in meeting assembled, adopt this resolution calling upon Congress to amend this bill to provide that any and all discharged veterans of World War II be entitled to the benefit of a refresher or retraining course without regard or limitation to age at the time he entered the service; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to each Congressman and Senator representing the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Coun. RUSSO—Mr. President, in the last week or so I was fortunate in having the bills of the Senate and Congress, and I was interested to read the so-called G I Bill of Rights. I came across the section that the Assistant City Clerk has just now read. It impressed me so much, and I was trying to have it clear in my mind if I was right or not. After being convinced, I was motivated to put this resolution in the City Council of Boston, knowing that we have thousands upon thousands of individuals who were over the age of twenty-five years at the time of their entering the service of the United States. I don't know whether or not, Mr. President, it was the intent of Congress to give these benefits only to those individuals who were under the age of twenty-five years at the time that they entered into the service, and who were at that time in school receiving their education or training. If that is so, Mr. President, then I cannot see why there is the sentence which reads "or who desire a refresher or retraining course." It is my opinion that that sentence takes care of any individual who was under the age of twenty-five years at the time of induction, and whether or not he was in school does not matter, but that individual is entitled to receive all these benefits. But the individual over twenty-five years of age was barred from receiving these benefits. For example, if two young men left high school at the same age and one entered into the service while he was under twenty-five years of age, he would be entitled to receive all these benefits. The other individual who was inducted into the service after he had reached the age of twenty-five years could not receive, if he so desired, a refresher or retraining course. I say, Mr. President, that the Congress of the United States should give all veterans, regardless of their ages at the time of induction, the same privileges and rights, the same privileges and rights that this great nation of ours can give to any man who is willing to give all, including his very life, for the protection and safety of our country. We all realize that all men, regardless of age, are fighting today in half of the world in order to preserve our free way of life and to be guided and protected under the Constitution of the United States. Therefore, I truly hope and trust that this Body will adopt this resolution, and that a copy be sent to each Congressman and Senator now representing the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, whereby they can take the proper action, the proper steps, to see that the Congress of the United States will amend this law to give all men equal rights. I hope the resolution will pass.

The resolution was passed.

CLEANING OF WARD 15 STREETS.

Coun. KELLY offered the following:

Ordered, That the Commissioner of Public Works be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately clean the streets in Ward 15.

Passed under suspension of the rule.

CURFEW FOR CERTAIN BOSTON DISTRICTS.

Coun. SCANNELL offered the following:

Ordered, That the City Council of Boston hereby determine that in that district of the city bounded by Mattapan square, Blue Hill avenue, Walk Hill street, Hyde Park avenue, to Forest Hills, Arborway, Pond street, to the Brookline line, there is reasonable likelihood that the health and safety of any child under sixteen years of age may be endangered by his or her presence in or on any street, walk, or other public place within the boundaries of said district between the hours of nine o'clock p. m. and five o'clock a. m., unless accompanied by his or her parent, grandparent, legal guardian, or an adult member of such child's household; and in accordance with the ordinance heretofore passed, the presence of any child under sixteen years of age not so accompanied, within the hours and in the district specified, is hereby prohibited, on and after September 20, 1944, and until otherwise determined by the Mayor and City Council.

Coun. SCANNELL—Mr. President, two years ago I presented an order in this Council to the members of this Body, and I believe I had foresight enough to realize some of the conditions that were existing in this city. Before I go into this curfew ordinance as it might be called, I want to commend the councilor from Ward 2 (Coun. Kinsella), the councilor from Charlestown, who can see farther than his nose and see some of the conditions that are there in his district and in my district and in this whole City of Boston. As he stated, the parents have failed to take care of these teen-age children. He has courage enough to come out and say it is in his district, and I have courage enough to come out and say it is in my district, and it is in the district of every other member of this Council. Things have happened in the past two years. The curfew ordinance went through a well known graveyard, yet since then people have been the victims of teen-age children in this city, within the past two years, and if it had been passed at that time I dare say these conditions would not exist today. The parents of the bad children in this city have failed. It is up to the civic officeholders and the law enforcement agencies of this city to get down and face the cold facts that we have a lot of bad children in this city, and we have to take care of them. As the councilor from Charlestown has well said, vandalism and immorality are rampant in this city, and it is up to the public officials of this city to come down and face the facts and to do something about it. About a year ago we had a public hearing in this Body, and we listened to civic-minded people—yes, and people who are being paid by the courts of this Commonwealth—speaking on the curfew ordinance. And most of the probation officers from the district courts of this city came in and said, "There is no need of it; we don't need any curfew or anything that will take the children off the streets and put them in their homes after nine o'clock at night." And a gentleman who, I think, is one of the finest men in this city, and who has the welfare of the children of the city at heart, has come to me and said, "I am disgusted." Mind you, he is a man who has charge of juveniles in a certain section of this city, and the stories that that man told me were disgraceful, and I wouldn't lower myself to make these statements in a public gathering. The probation department of this city—yes, and of this state—should be combed and we should find out what these men are doing, and what some of these social agencies are doing that will help these delinquent children. The mothers and fathers of this city that are not going to take care of their children should be brought into court for contributing to the delinquency of the children, and they should be punished. If the parents have failed in the city, the parents of bad children in the city, then the courts of this Commonwealth should bring them to task. This curfew ordinance designates a part of the city that should not be policed, or where there should not be a curfew. And let me specifically state that I did not take one section that is good and one that is bad, because I realize that, to make this ordinance constitutional, we have to take a certain section in this city. The Police Commissioner of this city said a few weeks ago that this curfew was a lot of hooey, and the Police Commissioner came back and he put it right on the members of the City Council. He said, if there is a curfew ordinance—and I admire him for his courage—he said, "Bring it to me and I will enforce it." There is no need of looking out the window. Things are happening in this city. Let us stop it, and I believe if we have this curfew ordinance in effect for at least three months, to try it out—October, November, December—this may help the child delinquency problem in this city. I come from a section of this city where the greatest number of boys are sent to the priesthood and girls are sent to be nuns, but I say that we have problems in my section of the city. So let us get together, and don't send this into the Committee on Ordinances and let them have another meeting. Let us pass this curfew ordinance. Let us try it out for a couple of months. Social agencies, departments of the court and every other agency have tried something out. Let us, the members of the City Council, who have the pulsations of the people of this city at heart, and who know the conditions in this city, —let us pass this curfew ordinance and let us see if this will help the juvenile delinquency problem.

Coun. KINSELLA—I recall two years ago, in August, when Councilor Scannell first devised the idea of the curfew for Boston. I had two valid objections at that time, but there is nothing that has happened in the meantime to persuade me today. One is that we would be besmirching all kids of the city by throwing a blanket over all by means of the curfew. The other is, in spite of the curfew—not only determined by legal-minded persons—we should not make fish of one section of the city and flesh of another. There are good and bad. I am not prepared to say that children are merely bad; I am prepared to say that some of the children are the most vicious and depraved little tykes that ever came down the pike. Some, and not all of them. To cite a case in point: About three weeks ago I had three young boys, about eighteen years of age, come to my home and ask for a recommendation for work at the Post Office Department, some work given out there. I asked if they were over sixteen years of age, and they said, "Yes, eighteen." They were small for eighteen. I didn't bother them to ask them what their draft classification was, because something told me the kids were bad. So I said, "Do you fellows want the three names on one letter, or do you want three letters, in case you go in separately?" They said, "No, we are going in together." I said, "It has never been my experience that you go in a group, because if one quits, you all do, and if one is troublesome, it reflects on all." I said, "If they want you or not, if they think you are in cahoots to be troublesome, they will not take you as a group." They insisted that they go in together and wanted the names on one letter. As I say to everybody under these circumstances, I said, "Some of you call me up tonight and let me know how you make out." I never heard from the boys until five days later, when two of the three were arrested at one o'clock in the morning, having brutally beaten a man three times their age in the Harvard Mall, the place about which I just spoke. I suppose under other conditions it could have been another Prunty. But I think a good deal of the blame and I am speaking broadly and generally—devolves upon those of us who are adults, as contrasted with those who in the future are going to succeed us, just as we were contumacious and troublesome in our youth. I don't think anybody here—I make no exceptions because of any high or low estate he may occupy—I don't think there is a person in this building that wouldn't have been sent to a reform school when he was anywhere from ten to fifteen years of age. And, while I recall a curfew in Boston something like thirty years ago, I also recall some of my own playmates getting caught at things that I was lucky enough to escape being caught at. If we are going to be hard-headed and practical about it, let us also be a little sentimental. I don't oppose Councilor Scannell, whose sincerity no man can question. I do question the efficacy of anything of this description. I am not going to bludgeon a good boy with the same stick I use on a bad boy, nor am I going to place a stigma on the reputation of a decent girl when I would not be inclined to stigmatize an unfortunate young girl. It is a problem for people who are God-fearing, and others, to be threshed out within the confines of their own homes and to decide for themselves whether the children are going to rule them or whether they are going to rule the children. If I am properly informed, parents are obliged by law to supply five fundamentals to minor children, those five being education, food, clothing, shelter and medical attention. They are obliged to furnish those by the law of God and the law of man, and not one blessed word is said about moral training, the lack of which is the cause of all this trouble and all these long-winded debates. When the question of moral upbringing is raised, lo and behold, a certain type of unfit parent wants us to do their work for them, or the police, or the social agencies. And yet they will fight tooth and nail to have your carcass if you chastise a little boy you catch in the act of jumping on a street car. "Lay a hand on my boy and I will have your life." No, I will never vote for any curfew, in spite of my fondness for the sponsor, that does not cover the entire City of Boston. I will bore you to this extent for a moment longer, gentlemen. The law says it is a crime to steal. The law says it is a crime under certain conditions to take human life. That is an arbitrary opinion that we call law. Let that same arbitrary opinion say that it is not a crime to steal, nor is it a crime ever to take human life. Why can't you say it is constitutional to stigmatize the entire city, just as it is constitutional to blanket a portion of the city? If you restrict the application of the curfew terms to a certain prescribed area of the City of Boston, I tell you in September of 1944, as I said in August of 1942, that some boy or girl otherwise subject to the terms of the curfew law might come into a district where the terms do not apply, commit his or her depredation, and then be out of the district, over into the neutral zone, let us say, when the curfew rings. There is a side observation. This is one of the many times when I cannot see much sense in what the lawyers do. I am not up in the laws or the law profession, but I cannot see whether there is other than a conflict between the two positions. You can malign a certain part of the city, but you must not assume for one moment that certain other parts of the city have not the same conditions. And I don't think even the councilor from the unaffected area would dare say that he has perfection in the juvenile problem or condition in his district. I want to applaud the councilor for his public spiritedness. He knows I mean it, just as I know I mean it, but if he were my own brother I couldn't support the contention that the condition does not exist all over Boston.

Coun. HANNON—Mr. President, I, too, want first to congratulate the councilor from the Sixth Suffolk District (Coun. Scannell), but I, too, like the gentleman from Charlestown (Coun. Kinsella), would certainly not vote for any curfew unless it included the whole city. Whether or not I will vote for it I am not at the present time prepared to state. I think we are all satisfied that we are faced with a tremendous problem concerning juvenile delinquency. I think each and every one of us would be happy and pleased if we could put the slightest touch upon any remedy or any cure. I think we all must admit there is no remedy or there is no known cure. Those of us who go into the courts know full well that while the problem might not be growing numerically, might not mean any more cases of juvenile delinquency, the fact does face us that these cases now before the courts are far more serious than those we used to contend with. A couple of years ago I voted against the curfew. I voted against it because it was not applicable to the whole city. Unless this amendment is made, I will definitely vote against it again. If it is made applicable to the whole city I would be inclined to vote for it if I can be shown that it can in any way bring about a remedy of present conditions. I don't think, however, that any curfew is going to cure juvenile delinquency. I still believe that the trouble primarily exists in the home. And it rests primarily on the mother and the father, and, if any choice be made, it rests, between the two of them, upon the mother. And, sad to relate, if you go into court nowadays, where before it was a rare occurrence to see a lady before the bar, it was a rare occurrence to see any type of woman there, and it was a particularly rare occurrence to see a mother there—it is unusual nowadays to go into any district court and not find eight or nine women being prosecuted there, and of the eight or nine women, probably three or four of them are mothers. Why, only the other day, out in Roxbury Court, there was a lady out there, as fine as you would want to see, a lady of middle age, and an officer told me she was the mother of five children and maintained a respectable home, and yet that lady had been arrested at five o'clock in the morning for trimming a colored sailor of his money after drinking and carousing with him throughout the night. Those are the conditions we are facing. It is all right to blame the kids, it is all right to say, if you bring the kids in the house there won't be any crime. Those kids will sneak out, but the problem is this: When are the mothers and fathers going to check up on those kids? You and I were kids, the same as they, and we all got into trouble, the same as they do nowadays, but if we were out late, our parents knew where we were, or we were called to account for it. The same thing is not true nowadays. You can go visiting and be there yourself at twelve o'clock at night, and the kids are out. Once in a while they might be to the movies, but more often than not they don't even know where they are, or they try to tell you they are visiting some girl friend's house. Can you imagine girls of fifteen and sixteen years of age spending the night at some other girl's house? They don't even know if the other girl exists; they don't even know who is at the house, but they simply tell the parents, so the parents tell us, that they are going to spend the night at Mary Jones' house, and it is all right, and they are out all night. Why, you and I might be out all night when we were thirty or thirty-five years of age and the mother or father would say, "All right, old boy, if you are going to stay out all night, go ahead and get a suite at a hotel. This is still a home, and if you are going to stay here you are going to be here every night, or we will know the reason why." Can you imagine kids of sixteen or seventeen out carousing all night long? They carry around birth certificates and go in and drink, and because the birth certificate says they are twenty years old it is O. K., they can drink. Why, half the time I think we would be better off if we got back to the old bar room where nobody could drink but the old man. If a mother or wife or daughter wanted a drink, she waited until dad brought home a bottle of beer. Now it is the girls and women who support these places, and that is where they start. This case I told you about the other day had its beginning in a restaurant on Columbus avenue, by Massachusetts avenue. They go in there and pick up a fellow and take him some place, give him a couple of drinks, and, he says, "Then she makes the third one and after that I found myself in the street or with my dough gone." And that lady was supposed to be the mother of a household of five children. A curfew might benefit a condition such as that, but I don't think so. I don't think a curfew would amount to anything. How are you going to enforce the curfew if you can't keep the mother home to check up on the kids? No, we have got to get back to normal. In the old days, the secret of family life was mutual dependency. The mother depended on the old man to work. She depended upon him to bring home his dough, and he in turn depended upon her to take care of the house and to take care of the children. But we have gotten away from that now. We have gone into another world. Nowadays there are two independent spirits in half the homes in the city. The wife, the mother, works and the father works, and half the time the kids are left to themselves. There is no mutual dependency. Why, half the time home nowadays doesn't amount to anything more than a boarding house or a rooming house, and half the time the roomers and the boarders who are absent are not the parents but the children. We have got to do something. There is no doubt about that. If a curfew will remedy or even help to remedy this condition, I would be for it, but I think the primary requisite, the first move, is to get back to normal. Let us have a reassertion of authority. Why, look what has happened in the schools. Now they cannot rattle a child; they cannot punish a child. They have to call the head master and have a witness there and make a public spectacle of it, and the result is there is a lack of discipline. Kids don't care. They are not punished. They can't be punished, or if they are, their parents are in town, they are running to somebody in authority and complaining. The same thing has happened to the police. You remember when you or I were doing anything out of the way, shooting crap on the corner or playing cards in a doorway, and a cop came along, we would run. If we didn't run, he would give us a boot, but he would take out the leather on the end of his billy and hit us on the backside with it, and the next time we saw the cop we beat it, we got out of the way. We knew that we were doing wrong and we respected his authority. But nowadays that can't happen. The cop doesn't dare give you a slight tap, like that, and the result is, I think honestly, that half the time the cops themselves are sore because they can't do that to you, and sometimes I think the next poor soul they pick up they take it out on him and go to the other extreme. But we have got to come back to normal, back to that point where we respect authority, and the first authority is the authority of God, and the next authority is the authority of the home. When we do that, and the proper way of doing it is by restoring womanhood to the home where she belongs—let her be, if she must, subservient to the man, and let the children know they have got to honor and respect their mothers and fathers. They don't have to be in at nine o'clock if it is proper for them to be out after that, but they do have to be obedient to their mothers and fathers. They have to be obedient to a properly constituted authority. The solution of it does not rest with us; it rests with every citizen of this city, with every citizen of the Commonwealth, and with every citizen of the country. Kids will do wrong as long as kids exist, but if we can show them that there is authority and they are going to be punished, we can show them by a proper light, and those kids are going to learn, just as we did, and all are going to get back again to normal.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Mr. President, if an ordinance that was referred to the committee last year, is that proper now to be called from the committee?

President KERRIGAN—That is dead, councilor.

Coun. D. F. SULLIVAN—Last year, Mr. President, I submitted a substitute order, which was last year and not two years ago, and curfew orders were introduced into the Council, and at that time I introduced an order which would cover the entire area of the city, and also between the hours of 11 p. m. and 5 a. m. The "hour of 11" could be stricken out and "9" inserted, and also put amendments on it relative to how the ordinance could be carried out. We are all afraid,—of course, of punishing the good children with the bad children. We don't want to put an ordinance on the books, or into effect, that is going to hurt the good children. My ordinance called for the first time that the child under sixteen was to be picked up on the street after nine o'clock. A child was to be taken to the police station and the parents or legal guardian of that particular child were to be sent for and reprimanded. Upon the second time of the child being picked up after nine o'clock that child's name should be forwarded to the probation officer in that particular district, and the parents again sent for and reprimanded. And the third time the child was picked up on the street after nine o'clock, the parents of that particular child or the legal guardian should be taken into court and be prosecuted as contributing to juvenile delinquency or the delinquency of a minor. We don't want to give children under sixteen years of age a court record, and I believe, as it has been stated here, the trouble all lies within the parents. I don't feel as though I can vote for the ordinance proposed here eliminating one portion of the city, when the sponsor of the order himself states that the same conditions exist throughout the city. The whole trouble is in interpreting the law as it states here in the ordinance and we, as members of the Boston City Council, can interpret the area as including the entire City of Boston. I feel that there should be a curfew ordinance go on the books but it should include the entire city and not leave out one portion of it. I am going to redraw a substitute order and am going to introduce it here this afternoon, covering the entire city and the hours from 9 p. m. to 5 a. m., along with the three other ordinances,

President KERRIGAN—We can send this order to Executive and then send it out on a new draft if it is the will of the Council.

The ordinance was referred to the Executive Committee.

The Council voted at 4.45 p. m. to take a recess subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled and were called to order by President KERRIGAN at 7.35 p. m.

Ordered, That the trustees of the Boston Public Library be requested, through his Honor the Mayor, to immediately reopen the Tyler Street Branch Library for the education of the people of the district and the City of Boston.

Coun. RUSSO—I don't know how many orders I have put in in this regard in the past five years, but I can't help but fight for the reopening of this branch library on Tyler street, in the South End section of Boston. I can't see for the life of me why the trustees of the Public Library don't see fit to reopen this branch, to give the people of that district the same rights that all the people of any section of Boston are entitled to and that they are now receiving. We have in that section of the South End all races, colors and creeds, and I hate to use this word, Mr. President, because time and time again I have taken my seat because I hate that word, and that is "discrimination." I can't help but be convinced of the fact that if it is not discrimination there is too much favoritism. And, therefore, I hope that the Mayor will exercise the power that has been invested by the title of Mayor of the City of Boston, and we know that if he wants to he can—to make sure that he reopens this library and gives those people the same treatment as anyone else in the City of Boston, to give them an opportunity to go in and receive their education.

The order was passed under suspension of the rule.
